PRELATE'S ADVICE

Willibald Eibner accompanied the graceful steps of the various dancing groups at the piano. A lovely picture of color and symmetric beauty was produced at the end of each movement. Twenty-four girls dressed in white, green, pink and yellow took part in this number and all of them acted their parts well.

This was followed by the three act play, which received its name from one of Ecuador's presidents in the seventies of the last century. Moreno was killed by a fanatic who was not satisfied with the handling of the state's affairs by the president. He belonged to a group of conspirators who decided that he should take the life of Moreno. The play is remarkably well written and was staged in a manner creditable to all those who took part in it. From the dignified figure of the President himself, for which a suitable actor was found in Jos. Groebner down to the humble personality of Pedro, a clerk, played by Wenzel Kral, all the players showed an ability of stage acting that was remarkable for amateurs. Special mention must be made, however, of Mathilda Schwendinger who played the part of a woman journalist to the delight of everybody present.

The first number of the program for the evening was a salutation and song by a group of school children. Two small tots, Norbert Henle and Margaret Theisan, greeted the archbishop with their little voices and descended on the stage to offer him a beautiful flower basket.

Pontifical Highmass

In the morning at half past ten o'clock the Archbishop sang a Pontifical highmass to celebrate the jubilee day, at the close of which he spoke briefly about the achievements of the parish in the last fifty years. He was bringing the greeting and best wishes of the diocese of St. Paul, he said. Congratulating the priests and the laity upon their achievements of the past he referred to the struggles, the devotion, the fortitude, the labors and the sacrifices of the early settlers in the parish. They stood the test of the trials and hardships of life, he remarked, and guarded well the faith of their forefathers. Pointing to the splendid buildings, he spoke of the heroic labors and the true conviction in those who were instrumental in the erection of these monuments of worship and learning. They give testimony of the harmony that prevailed between the pastors and the people, he said.

After referring to the mission just closed the Archbishop asked his hearers to turn their eyes toward the future, the day of tomorrow when those who now are not old enough to grasp the significance of the day with its memory of the past will have to take up the work so successfully carried on by their forefathers. Their tasks may even be greater and harder than those of the present and past, he said. Proper training in the parochial school, however, gives him sufficient assurance that they will be able to fulfill their duties. They are to be reared in an American atmosphere so as to make them understand the needs of their church as well as those of their country. To make good Catholics and good Americans out of them should be the first aim of their parents, concluded the Prelate.

CATHOLIC SCHOOLHOUSE

BACK TO NORMAL POST RATES

Instructions received by postmaster Fred Pfander from the postoffice department at Washington contain the following rules regulating the new post rates effective July 1:

Effective on July 1, 1919, and thereafter the rate of postage on all mail matter of the first class shall be the same as the rate in force on October 2, 1917. This means that the first class rate of postage will be two cents an ounce or fraction thereof and the rate on government issued postal cards will be one cent, beginning July 1, 1919.

Postmasters are instructed to discontinue the sale of two cent single domestic and domestic four cent reply postal cards and of three cent stamped envelopes at the close of business on June 30, 1919.

Postmasters are instructed to redeem from the public all unused and undamaged two cent single and four cent double domestic postal cards and three cent stamped envelopes, printed or unprinted at full value, provided they are presented for redemption by the original purchasers of same and at the office of purchase. An original purchaser is the person who bought the postal cards or envelopes at the post office.

The public will be allowed one month from July 1, 1919 in which to present these envelopes and postal cards.

Three cent adhesive postage stamps will not be redeemed from the public.

The Misses Mable and Constance Quandt from Winthrop are enjoying a visit at the Fred Klossner, Sr., home.

Paul Wiedenman and Chas. Palmer from Sleepy Eye were in New Ulm the latter part of last week attending to business matters. The latter attended a meeting of the County Board.

Wm. Hansen made a business visit in Sleepy Eye during the week.

Leslie Albrecht was on special business at Searles Sunday evening.

Emil Yanke who left last week to visit with his parents returned the latter part of this week.

The Klossner Creamery Company shipped 200 boxes of butter from here last week.

Mrs. George Puchner and children from Springfield are in New Ulm visiting with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Schleif are visiting at the home of the former's brother and family in Comfrey.

Miss Hannah O'Brien visited at the homes of her brothers Henry and William at St. Peter last week.

H. Langmack and Jos. Reinertson from Springfield were business visitors in New Ulm during the week.

Mrs. Henry Wentzlaff and children from Nicollet were guests at the J. W. Berger home several days.

The Mothers' Society met yesterday afternoon at the Harry Bingham home, with Mrs. Carl Stone as leader.

G. A. Buzzette has returned to his home in this city after spending the past week in the Twin Cities attending to business matters.

We regret exceedingly that an error was made in stating the cause of death in writing of the decease of Mrs. Henrietta Weschke. The cause of her demise was uremic poisoning and it was so reported by the editor but a typographical error eliminated the word "uremic" and gave a most unfortunate meaning which was entirely at variance with facts. We are deeply concerned and we hope that the error will be corrected by anyone who hears it repeated.

NIELSEN ENTERS NEW BUSINESS.

S. P. Nielsen, for some time a member of the firm Nielsen & Grussendorf, bought the garage and automobile business which was conducted the past nine years by Mueller & Aab, on North Broadway. Mr. Nielsen purchased the entire equipment and will continue the business at the same place on North Broadway. The building is still owned by Mueller & Aab, Mr. Nielsen taking a lease for five years. It is his intention, however, to buy the building later on.

The specialty of Mr. Nielsen's garage work has been oxy-acetylene welding and this is to form a large part of his business in the shop just purchased. In addition he will continue to sell motor cars, tires and automobile accessories. Repair work will be done with the same efficiency and durability as before. There can be no doubt that Mr. Nielsen's garage will be able to satisfy all customers.

SHOOT AT HUNTER'S REST.

At last Sunday's shoot at Hunter's Rest, "Sepp" Klaus dropped with a dull thud to the bottom and while in a dazed condition "Schemmel" pinned on the leather medal tickled to death that he was able to get a firm grip on the last ring and thus escape the leather honor himself. It was quite a fall from the score Sepp had made the previous Sunday when he walked off with the gold medal. "Bill" Pfeiffer was in good form Sunday and landed easily in first place. The following scores were made.

	King Stand.
Wm. Pfeiffer	193 55
J. Hauenstein	188 62
Carl Abraham	166
Hy. J. Meyer	156 48
Hugo Gebser	144 60
Jos. Klaus	141 68

RECEIVE THEIR DIPLOMAS.

Commencement Exercises At Dr. Martin Luther College last Friday.

Friday, June 13, in the morning at 9 o'clock, professors and pupils of the Dr. Martin Luther College gathered in the music hall of the institute to take part in the commencement exercises in honor of the departing class of 1919. Eleven students received their diplomas; six having finished their course in the Teachers' seminary and the rest graduated in the classics.

Rev. Buenger, Speaker.

Rev. Carl Buenger of Kenosha, Wis., had been secured to deliver the address to the class. His daughter was one of the graduates. Miss Clara Munding of Bertha, Minn., was valedictorian, while Aug. Dierks of Fulda, Minn., delivered the address of welcome.

The following are the graduates of 1919: Teachers' course: Theo. Boettcher, Hortonville, Wis.; Aug. Dierks, Fulda, Minn.; Martin Garbrecht, New Ulm, Minn.; Erna Albrecht, New Ulm, Minn.; Clara Buenger, Kenosha, Wis.; Clara Munding, Bertha, Minn.

Classic Course: Christian Albrecht, Renville, Minn.; Reuben Marti, Sleepy Eye, Minn.; Roman Palmer, Fairfax, Minn.; Donald Rossin, Ward, S. D.; Gerhard Schuetze, Litchfield, Minn.

Many Enjoy Concert.

The concert given Thursday evening by the musical talent of the college was a real treat for music lovers. Those present enjoyed every number on the program which included ensemble and vocal songs and orchestral numbers. Some numbers were played on the fine organ of the hall.

WILLIAM AAB TO

BE MANUFACTURER

Plant To Be Opened Soon.

Mr. Aab intends to move into some other place soon, conveniently located, and where he has more facilities for the development of his manufacturing plant. For the present he remains at the old garage on South Broadway which has been bought by Mr. Nielsen.

The realization of Mr. Aab's idea, i. e. the erection of a manufacturing plant for his machine offers New Ulm Croesuses, little as well as big, a fine opportunity for a splendid investment. The advantages offered the city of New Ulm in case the new invention is exploited in our midst and Mr. Aab is not forced to move to some other city or sell his invention, are indeed manifold. In a few years New Ulm would be counted among the industrial centers of the automobile world, and a great number of workmen would be attracted to the city bringing with them a rapid growth perhaps never dreamed of before.

MID-JUNE WEDDING.

Murphy-Berg

Tuesday morning at nine o'clock the Catholic church was the scene of a pretty June wedding when Miss Dora Berg, daughter of County Treasurer and Mrs. H. J. Berg, and Wellington Murphy, son of Postmaster and Mrs. Wm. Murphy of Holdingford, Minn., were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Father Rhode. The couple were attended by Miss Frances Kral who acted as maid of honor, Claude Abeln, of Holdingford, who acted as best man and Miss Helen Berg, sister of the bride, who acted as bride's maid.

The young bride looked charmingly pretty in a gown of white satin, with a long panel train and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The maid of honor was attired in white silk net and carried Ophelia roses and daisies while the bride's maid wore a dress of blue satin with silk net and lace and carried roses. Both of the attendants wore large white hats. After the ceremony friends and relatives of the contracting parties assembled at the home of the bride's parents where a reception was held followed by a dinner. The home was attractively decorated for this occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy left the same afternoon on their wedding trip, going to the Twin Cities where they will make a short visit with relatives. They will make their home in Holdingford where the groom is in the drug business.

The bride has spent most of her years in New Ulm and has a large circle of friends who regret that she will not make her future home in their midst. The good wishes of all accompany her. Those from out of town who came to be present at the wedding are Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Murphy, from Holdingford; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Berg and family from Jackson; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Eckstein, from Comfrey and Leo Berg from Jackson.

Rev. and Mrs. Wheeler have the happy news of their son Joseph's release from active service. He has been enjoying a three week's furlough, visiting places made famous in France by the events of the Great War. His last letter was dated from Chateau Thierry and he expected to sail for home before long. His parents expect word daily of his arrival in New York.

Miss Sadie Walter from St. Peter is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rud. Marti.

Victor Schleuder has returned to his home in this city and will assist his father in the local jewelry store. He formerly held a position at a prominent jewelry store at Eureka, N. D. Ernest Schleuder has left for St. Paul, where he has accepted a position with a firm of manufacturing opticians.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Reinhart, residing on North Washington street are the parents of a baby boy born a week ago Saturday.

Miss Agnes Esser and Mrs. Emma Wellmann entertained a group of friends at the home of the former last week. The affair was a parcel shower in honor of Miss Emily James, who was married recently. All present spent a rare evening of enjoyment.
