

Insist Upon Pure Pennsylvania Oils

The value of crude oils necessarily depends upon the value of the finished product that can be obtained from them. Market prices for the various crude oils, (per barrel of 42 gallons) at the wells Jan. 1, 1919, were as follows: Pennsylvania crude $4.00, Ohio crude $2.38, Illinois crude $2.42, Kansas and Oklahoma crude $2.25, Texas crude $2.25, Louisiana crude $1.55, California crude, $1.32.

Pennsylvania Crude the Highest Price and Best

It will be observed that the price of PENNSYLVANIA crude oils is almost double that of any other product in the United States, and experts agree that it is the finest, purest crude oil product anywhere in the world. The reason for this is that the lubricating oils made from this petroleum, are better and more valuable than those produced from any other crude. You are entitled to know just why this is so.

ENTERTAIN IN HONOR OF MISS CECELIA EIBNER.

Mesdames Charles Brust, A. J. Leo-flier, Albert Paender, H. H. Walters and the Misses Marie and Clara Korbel entertained at the club rooms in Turner Hall, Monday evening in honor of Miss Cecelia Eibner, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. Willibald Eibner, who will be an October bride.

The rooms were handsomely decorated with a profusion of autumn flowers and leaves, which gave the place a very festive appearance when illumined. The guests were a group of some eighty-five lady friends and of the bride to be. They assembled before Miss Eibner appeared and pleasantly surprised her.

Early in the evening a formal musical program was followed thru, in which the Misses Florence Baer, Willibald Eibner, Thelma Rinke, Clara Korbel, Mildred Eibner, Miss Zischka and Josephine Bianchi took part. Various games, among them one of matching different articles which bore relation to each other, such as the needle and the thimble, in order to find dinner partners, formed a delightful diversion for the evening. After Miss Eibner had opened all the gift parcels and revealed the contents to those present she found that she received innumerable valuable and beautiful silver ware, cut glass ware, etc., which will add to the attractiveness of a new home.

A prettily appointed luncheon was served the red and white heart scheme predominating. The party came to a close after a delightful evening.

FREIGHT SERVICE S POOR.

The freight service of the railroads experienced by some of New Ulm's business houses is not far short of a calamity. It does not only affect the local business houses but it is felt by the general public as well. It is responsible for the very serious sugar shortage all over this section of the country and, in some instances makes living harder now than during war times. For several weeks the New Ulm Grocery Company is in possession of bills of lading for large sugar shipments without being able to get the shipments to this point. Even perishable goods are not properly taken care of by the railroads. Last Saturday some boxes with bread and about 15 tubs ice cream shipped by the Willibald Eibner & Son bakery were left standing at one of the local depots for want of space in the freight cars, it is said. This is a deplorable situation which should be speedily looked into by the proper authorities.
