TURNBEZIRK TO MEET IN CITY

FESTIVITIES AND GYMNAS- TIC EVENTS TO LAST FOR TWO DAYS.

HUNDREDS OF ACTIVE TURNERS ARE EXPECTED TO PARTICIPATE.

July 4 and 5 have been set as the dates for the annual gymnastic tournament of the Minnesota Turnbezirk, to be held in this city. It is exactly five years since the last tournament of the Bezirk was held in this city. The event in 1915 will be remembered by many as one of the most enjoyable affairs of this kind it is expected that this year's Turnfest will surpass the last one in many respects. The Commercial Club has given its assurance to assist the committee in charge of preparations in getting matters in shape. A committee has been appointed to help in the disposing of badges. The owner of a badge will be admitted to the exercises and other functions of the celebration.

Reception Night.

Saturday, July 3, will be reception night. The visitors from the Twin Cities will arrive in a special train and a band or bands will meet them at the depot when the train arrives to escort them to Turner Hall. The St. Paul and Minneapolis delegations will be several hundred strong and from the moment of their arrival there will be something doing all the time.

Gymnastic Contests.

The full program was arranged at a meeting last Wednesday evening when Prof. A. F. Schintz of St. Paul was present. Mr. Schintz is instructor of the St. Paul Turner Society and for a number of years he has taken active interests in the annual tournaments of the Bezirk, as state gymnastic director.

The gymnastic contests will be held on Sunday, July 4th, in the afternoon many classes of the affiliated societies participating. Gymnastic exercises and field events will feature the performance. In the evening, a band concert will be held at Turner Hall to furnish entertainment for the visitors as well as local people. Hofmeister's band has been engaged for the whole occasion.

Parade on Monday.

Several features have been scheduled for the Monday program. A big parade will be held early in the afternoon. It will start at the Monument on Center street at 1 p. m. sharp and later on disband at Turner Hall where a big gymnastic exhibition will be held. All the local turner classes, including the ladies and juniors, will participate in this exhibition. Broad and high jumping, rope climbing, discus throwing, running, apparatus work, etc. will be features of this event.

The celebration will close with a dance at Turner Hall on Monday evening. The visitors will leave New Ulm on a special train, Tuesday morning, July 6.

EQUITY PICNIC SUNDAY.

The annual picnic of the Essig Local, American Society of Equity, will be held at the Anton Henle grove, eight miles west of New Ulm and three miles north of Essig. A concert has been arranged for all day, good music being assured, and there will be a dance at John Berg's barn, just across the street from the picnic grounds, in the evening. As announced elsewhere in this issue of the Review, Lester P. Barlow, national chairman of the World War Veterans, will deliver a stirring address on the big issues before the American people today. Among the other prominent men who will speak are H. A. Fuller, "The Equity Man", of Mankato, and Fred Osborne of the Equity Exchange. People attending this picnic may bring their picnic dinners with them but lunch and refreshments will be served on the grounds. The public is cordially invited to attend and have a good time with the Equity members and their families.

Miss Patrick Mogan and two little children, Patricia and Eleanor, who were guests of New Ulm relatives during the past winter, departed for their home at Fairbanks, Alaska, Saturday afternoon. Mr. Mogan will meet them at Seattle, Wash., and accompany them home. Mrs. Mogan was formerly Miss Elizabeth Tastel. She and her little daughters enjoyed their stay in New Ulm very much.

NONPARTISAN CONVENTION AT NEW ULM NEXT SATURDAY

Farmer Members of County to Meet at Creamery Hall for Important Discussions.

A county convention of Brown county members of the Nonpartisan league has been called for next Saturday, June 26, by Emil A. Bengtson, county manager for the League. Mr. Bengtson has been working in the interest of the League for the last two months. When the county organization was started he was appointed manager and since then he has been active in a number of places to increase the membership of the organization in the county, with considerable success.

The convention will start at 2:30 p. m. and it is imperative that as many members as possible be present since the program calls for the transaction of very important business.

W. F. Huevelmann is assistant cashier now at the Citizen's State Bank taking the place of W. E. Engelbert, who left the city last week to make his home in southern California. Edwin Stelljes is the new bookkeeper at the bank. He formerly held a similar position at the Farmers and Merchants bank.

BARLOW SPEAKS HERE SATURDAY

LARGE MEETING PLANNED FOR TURNER HALL PARK IN THE EVENING.

WILL ALSO ADDRESS EQUITY PICNIC AT ANT. HENLE'S GROVE IN MILFORD.

Lester P. Barlow, national chairman of the World War Veterans and one of the most intrepid champions of the Constitutional right of free speech, a free press and peaceful assemblage, will deliver one of his able addresses at Turner Hall Park, Saturday evening of this week. Mr. Barlow comes here at this time under the auspices of the New Ulm Post, World War Veterans. While speaking in the interests of Senator Robert M. La Follette for presidential candidate of the National Service Party, Mr. Barlow's address will also deal with his observations while attending the National Republican Convention at Chicago recently. This will make his speech all the more interesting.

Engaged for Equity Picnic. Arrangements have also been made with Mr. Barlow to deliver a stirring address at the Equity picnic to be held at the Anton Henle grove in the town of Milford the following day, Sunday. The subject of his speech there has not been announced, but that it will be equal to the occasion is assured, as he has a vital message to deliver to his audiences wherever he talks.

Arrested at Mason City. Mr. Barlow passed through New Ulm, Monday, enroute from Mason City, Iowa, to Renville, Minn., where he was scheduled to speak last evening. In a brief interview with a representative of the Review, Mr. Barlow stated that he was forbidden to speak at Mason City, Sunday, and that, when he insisted upon his Constitutional right to do so, his arrest followed. He was taken to police headquarters in a patrol, but immediately a large number of influential citizens and farmers gathered there and offered to furnish cash bail for him in any amount required. Upon seeing the overwhelming public sentiment in favor of Mr. Barlow, the authorities quickly released him and he was allowed to address a meeting of several thousand people that evening. Mr. Barlow told the Review representative that this was his first experience at being arrested during the many months he has been speaking in all parts of the country on the restoration of civil law and rights. He was refused permission to speak at Mason City in the interests of the World War Veterans last winter, but public opinion there, as elsewhere, is becoming more and more favorable to this organization and its principles.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Gedosch and little son, David, of Paynesville, arrived here Saturday afternoon for a brief visit with Mrs. Gedosch's mother, Mrs. Emma Hoffmann, residing on South Broadway, and other New Ulm relatives. They returned to Paynesville, yesterday, accompanied by Lillian, Ronald and Louise Eyrich, who will spend a few weeks at their home.

FLOOD CONTROL IS PARAMOUNT

PRESIDENT A. B. KAERCHER OF TRI-STATE ASS'N. SENDS LETTER.

ENTIRE WATERSHED TO BE INCORPORATED INTO ONE DISTRICT.

In a letter to the press, President A. B. Kaercher of the Tri-State Flood Control Association, urges immediate action in forming a single district for the entire Minnesota Valley so far as it is affected by the spring floods. Mr. Kaercher has been active in the flood control movement for a number of years. He lives at Ortonville, Minnesota. During the course of the year, he attended a number of meetings here in New Ulm in the interest of this important movement.

His communication reads: "We fear many, who are the most vitally interested, in saving the rich lands of the Minnesota river valley from almost annual inundation and the consequent damage as well as to the public highways, connecting the towns and cities along, and territory tributary to, the Minnesota river, do not fully appreciate the necessity of immediate, united, and persistent action, and perhaps they do not fully appreciate the immense benefits that may be derived from a valley-wide improvement including the entire watershed of the Minnesota river.

Entire Watershed. "Individually or in small districts we can accomplish but little, therefore it is proposed to incorporate the entire watershed into a single flood control and conservancy district—with all the powers of a municipal corporation under the regulation, control and management of a board of directors consisting of a member from each county affected and all under the direction of the district courts of the territory embraced in the district.

"The first step is to organize the district which is done by petition to the district court, and the filing of a bond for $2,000 to cover the expense of publishing the necessary notice of the time and place of hearing on the petition giving the boundaries of the proposed district. All of the judges of the district courts in the territory embraced would sit at this hearing.

Preliminary Survey. "The next step is to make a preliminary survey and develop a plan for the improvement of the entire watershed as an harmonious whole.

"When this is done petitions may be filed with the district court for any improvement desired and proceed in harmony with the general plan to improve any particular division of the work under proceedings similar to those used in judicial ditch proceedings.

"The necessity for immediate action is simply this, under the law as originally passed, a district could not be formed extending further than 40 miles below Big Stone Lake. Such a district was formed and proceedings have been had to such an extent that such district is now ready to petition the court for specific work which would require the drainage of Marsh lake and under the larger or valley-wide plan, Marsh lake would become a part of Lac Qui Parle lake, which would render the work done in draining Marsh lake useless and a complete loss.

"Nothing can be done at the source of the Minnesota river without to some extent affecting the entire river and nothing should be done except in the best interest of the entire valley. Furthermore the entire watershed should be under a single head and control. Therefore, the big district is the only practical plan and we suggest that owing to the present high price of labor and material and the scarcity of money, that further proceedings on the upper Minnesota district be deferred for the present and that an earnest and determined effort be made to organize the large district.

For The Common Good.

"We would be prepared then to work in harmony in a common cause to a common purpose for the common good. Such a district would have weight with the state legislature and with congress. We will really not be in working condition until we get such an organization. Let us organize the entire valley, and then wait until the legislature convenes and ask for the necessary assistance to work out a definite practical plan that will be successful beyond any question of doubt before entailing a large outlay of money. We may also later on be able

TWO NEW ULM FAMILIES GO TO SOUTHERN CLIMATE

W. E. Engelbert and G. A. Ottomeyer Will Make Their Home in California.

The W. E. Engelbert and G. A. Ottomeyer families are no longer residents of this city. They left New Ulm last Thursday, accompanied by Mrs. Katherine Arhart of this city and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Rieke and three children of Fairfax to make their new home in Southern California. The Ottomeyer family consists of Mr. and Mrs. Ottomeyer and two sons, while Mr. and Mrs. Engelbert have three children.

Both the Engelbert and the Ottomeyer families were well known in this city. Mr. Ottomeyer conducted a dry goods store here for many years, which since March 1, 1918, is owned by A. Schulke. He also was president of the New Ulm Commercial Club for a number of years. Mr. Engelbert resigned his position as assistant cashier at the Citizen's State Bank when he made up his mind to leave for California. He was also secretary of the Brown County Agricultural Society. The Review joins in the wishes of their many friends for a happy and prosperous sojourn in Sunny California.

G. O. P. REMOVE ALL UNCERTAINTY

NEW PARTY CANDIDATE TO BE NOMINATED AT CHICAGO CONVENTION.

CONSTRUCTIVE PROGRAM WILL BE ADOPTED AGAINST SPECIAL PRIVILEGE.

What ever uncertainty existed as to whether there would be a new party candidate for President has been removed by the action of the Republican National Convention, says a communication to the press issued by the Chicago headquarters of the Committee of 48. On July 10th, a convention called by the Committee of Forty-Eight, will meet in the Auditorium Hotel in Chicago and will adopt a platform and nominate Candidates for President and Vice President.

Country Faces Crisis. The country faces a grave emergency which the Republican Convention failed to meet. That Convention ignored most of the serious problems and mentioned them only to reveal its unwillingness to face them honestly. The Republican Party has now driven out of representation in its councils the millions of voters who followed Roosevelt, Johnson and LaFollette. The new party will represent these voters and will present a definite and constructive program.

All Sorts of People. There will be representatives at the new party convention of all sorts of people. Farmers, wage earners, the professional class, the salaried class, the business man and the legitimate investor, all people, in short, who are against special privilege.

The new party movement is taking form very rapidly. It is already organized in more than 30 states and it will be prepared to put its electoral ticket on the ballots in every state.

Millions Pray for Change.

There are millions of people in America who are praying for someone or something to lead them out of the wilderness. There are other millions so full of suppressed wrath that they are aching for a chance to swat the twin organizations that have jointly ruled and despoiled this country since the days when profiteers found the war the golden road to affluence. There are millions of people in this country who have two sets of opinions—one that they talk and another that they think. Thinking is the only thing that's free. People are looking for a ballot box to get even with the delegates who nominated Harding and Coolidge, and they are not looking toward San Francisco.

"We Are With You Now." The following is from another communication issued from the Chicago headquarters of the Committee of Forty-Eight: "Since the Republican convention, people are hunting up our membership blank, which they laid up on the clock shelf for future consideration, and sending it in, saying, 'We are with you now.' It seems that the Johnson campaign made a lot of people think that something different might happen in the Republican convention.

People are coming to Chicago on July 10th to nominate a ticket of their own. Those who can't come—and of course that means literally thousands—but who wish they could, are going to be there in spirit."

TYROLESE CLUB MAKES HIT HERE

ST. PAUL AMATEURS PLEASE LARGE AUDIENCES AT TURNER HALL.

PROCEEDS PARTLY TO GO TO SUFFERING CHILDREN IN EUROPE.

Two benefit performances for the suffering children in Central Europe were given by the St. Paul Spassvogel Club at Turner Hall Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon. On both occasions they appeared before large audiences who were well pleased with their novel and original offerings.

The program consisted of a number of solos, quartettes and several humorous sketches, as well as a one-act playlette. The two clubs were ably assisted by Dr. Wilhelm F. Hardt, who rendered a number of solos, accompanied by Franz Bueller at the piano.

Met With Accident.

The entertainment as a whole proved to be a very enjoyable affair for the local patronage, at least Sunday afternoon when the program was given in its entirety. The Saturday evening performance was a kind of patched-up affair due to the late arrival of some of the players who made the trip from St. Paul by the auto route. The performance was supposed to start at 8 o'clock, but it was nearly 10 P. M. when the last car of the visitors drove up to Turner Hall. The passengers in this car told a sad story of how they were delayed on their trip. They narrowly escaped serious injuries near St. Peter, when a few miles out of that town on the way to New Ulm, the car was turned over by the impact with another car which was running ahead of them. According to the story by the New Ulm visitors, this latter car which was driven by Dr. J. M. McIntyre of St. Peter suddenly swerved around to the left without giving any indication of this move. Both cars were going at a rapid pace at the time and the collision resulted in turning over Frank Kussel's car, who was bringing Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dankelmann and Mr. and Mrs. Hermann Zachia to New Ulm. They all received minor bruises, but were able to continue their journey. Mrs. Zachia received the worst injuries, her head and arm being badly bruised. After their arrival in New Ulm Dr. L. A. Fritsche was called on to treat her.

Audience is Good Natured.

The audience Saturday evening was good natured and waited patiently for the arrival of the visitors. Meanwhile those members of the little company who had been more fortunate on their trip did their best to entertain the crowd. Attorney Arthur Schaub, St. Paul manager of the club, explained the reason for the delay and everybody seemed to make the best of it.

As a whole, the performance was commendable, the singing of Louise Saenger and Louise Dankelmann being especially pleasing. German was used exclusively.

TO DISCUSS GOOD ROADS PLAN HERE

PUBLIC MEETING CALLED FOR NEXT FRIDAY, JUNE 25, AT ARMORY.

SENATOR SCHMECHEL, NONPARTISAN, TO SPEAK. FREE MOVING PICTURES.

A special public meeting has been arranged for next Friday, June 25, in the interest of the Babcock Good Roads plan. The meeting will be held at the Armory at 8:15 p. m. and Senator Schmechel, Nonpartisan league member of the upper house of the state legislature from Renville county, will deliver the main address in favor of the project. There will be several other speakers who are well acquainted with the subject, among them State Highway Commissioner M. C. Babcock of St. Paul. Arrange ments also have been made to secure one or two local speakers.

Free Movies.

Another feature of the program is a two-reel motion picture which will be shown free of charge to those who attend the meeting. Several musical numbers will also be rendered during the course of the evening. The program as a whole, no doubt, will prove very interesting in every respect, especially for those who are in favor of building good roads throughout Minnesota.

Ten Reasons.

Those in favor of the Babcock plan enumerate the following ten reasons why the people of Minnesota should vote for this project:

1. Because it will give Minnesota a 7,000-mile Trunk Highway System to care for inter-country and Statewide traffic.
2. Because it will remove from the countries and townships the burden of building and maintaining these expensive highways.
3. Because it will release enough local funds to enable the counties and townships to build 21,850 miles of graveled roads at $5,000 a mile in ten years, if these funds are concentrated on this work.
4. Because this magnificent highway system of 28,850 miles of improved roads will be constructed without increasing general taxes in Minnesota a single penny.
5. Because the motor vehicle owners who pay increased fees will get their money back three-fold through a saving in the cost of operating their cars.
6. Because it will be the first time that Minnesota will be given an opportunity to treat its road building problems in a businesslike way.
7. Because it will make accessible to tourists the beauty spots of the state, turning idle capital into active investments, and thus bring millions of dollars into the state.
8. Because it will add hundreds of millions of dollars to the wealth of the state by reducing marketing costs and developing the agricultural resources of the state.
9. Because it will carry the benefits of good roads to all parts of the state simultaneously without waiting for the slow and wearisome process of road building.
10. Because it will give Minnesota the most wonderful road system possessed by any state in the Union without increasing general taxes a single penny.

NOMINATE PREUS IN PRIMARIES?

SHIPSTEAD, APPARENTLY, IS STRONG SECOND IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR.

INDICATIONS POINT TO VICTORY OF REGULAR REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES.

The Progressive Republican Candidates who had been endorsed by the farmer and labor organizations in the state seem to have lost the battle in the state primaries last Monday, according to late reports Tuesday evening. These reports indicate a clean sweep for the regular Republican candidates endorsed by the elimination convention held in St. Paul several weeks ago. Figures are not available at the present time, but telephone inquiries in St. Paul Tuesday afternoon divulged the fact that J. A. O. Preus, state auditor, was leading Dr. Henrik Shipstead, league-farmer candidate for the nomination for governor, by a vote of about 18,000. Thomas Frankson, lieutenant governor, was running a poor third and the other three candidates—Samuel G. Iverson, Franklin F. Ellsworth and Thomas Keefe—received only scattered votes.

Adherents of Dr. Shipstead were claiming, at an early hour Tuesday, he would gain steadily by the incoming returns from outlying districts, but their hopes were shattered during the day when the strength of Preus did not weaken but rather kept on gaining.

Look Lead in Cities.

Preus took a big lead in Minneapolis and St. Paul, and in the country towns. In 195 out of 250 precincts in Hennepin county, Preus had a lead of approximately 6,100 votes over Shipstead. The vote was Preus, 19,401; Shipstead, 13,283; Frankson, 4,873.

In Ramsey county, the Preus lead was estimated at 2,000. The towns of Minnesota gave Preus a large lead. In towns reporting, Preus had a lead of nearly 9,000 votes.

Collins Leads in Hennepin.

Louis L. Collins, "Fighting Corporal of the 151st," showed a big lead in Hennepin county over his Townley opponent, Capt. George H. Mallon. In 171 out of the 250 precincts, the vote was Collins, 19,840; Mallon, 13,816.

Clifford L. Hilton, attorney general, led his Townley opponent by more than 4,000 votes in 145 out of the 250 precincts in Hennepin county. The vote was Hilton, 14,433; Sullivan, 10,055.

Lundeen Defeated.

Former Cong. essman E. Lundeen, apparently, was defeated in the fifth congressional district, Minneapolis, where he ran for the nomination for congress. His strongest opponent, Walter H. Newton, present incumbent, seems to have been renominated by a plurality of several thousand votes. In 99 precincts out of 155 in the Fifth district, the vote was, Newton, 10,2 5; Lundeen, 8,514; Elliott, 1,872.

Brown County For Fuller.

H. A. Fuller, progressive Republican candidate for congress in the second district, showed considerable strength in Brown county where he received a majority of more than 300 votes over his opponent, Judge Frank Clague. But the latter's lead in the other counties seems to have overcome this, according to early reports. Redwood, Blue Earth and Martin counties gave Clague a considerable majority.

County Commissioners.

Primaries were also held in the First Commissioner district of Brown county, comprising Cottonwood and Sigel townships and the First ward of New Ulm. Three candidates—Jos. J. Sperl, J. P. Graff and Fred Hamann were in the field. Tuesday afternoon Sperl was in the lead, with 249 votes, Graff following closely, with 212 votes and Hamann being a poor third, with 107 votes. Sperl and Graff will contest for the position in the November election.

Mrs. A. M. Oswald returned Saturday from Minneapolis, where she attended the commencement exercises of the McPhail School of Music. Her daughter, Miss Bessie, was a member of the graduating class and expects to locate in New Ulm as a teacher of piano.

State maintenance begins at once.

10. Because it will give Minnesota the most wonderful road system possessed by any state in the Union without increasing general taxes a single penny.
