LAW ENFORCER BREAKS THE LAW

STATE AUTOMOBILE LICENSE INSPECTOR LANDS IN COUNTY JAIL.

Wm. Martin of St. Paul, special auto license inspector, got himself into trouble by his officiousness while in New Ulm last week.

John Regelin of Summit avenue has an old Reo which has reached such a ripe old age that it is "retired". The children have been using it for a playhouse, it is said. Mr. Martin saw in this old car a chance to make use of his law enforcing powers.

Sells "Car" for $5.00. Martin threatened Regelin with arrest for not having a license on the old Reo and induced Regelin to turn over the old machine, whereupon the state law enforcer sold it to the Kretsch Auto Co. for the princely sum of $5.00, putting the money in his own pocket without making report to his department as to his method of enforcing the law. Part of the deal was that Kretsch was to take the inspector to Searles without further charge. The old Reo was evidently not worth much when, including livery to Searles, the inspector received only $5.00.

Police Arrest Inspector. The inspector also told Mr. Kretsch not to mention anything about the "sale" of the old Reo so that Police Chief Harrening would get to know about it. This aroused the suspicions of Mr. Kretsch, who did tell the Chief, who drove to Searles and brought Martin back.

The inspector then weakened considerably, admitted that he was wrong, paid back the $5.00 to Kretsch, paid all costs in connection with his arrest and was released. The last heard of, he was back in St. Paul, probably a wiser and better man. So the Regelin children got their playhouse back again.

The Misses Elsie Radtke and Ella Hamann left yesterday for Walnut Grove to visit for several days with Miss Radtke's sister there.

Mrs. C. A. Miller of St. Peter is a guest at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Miller this week. She will return to her home on Sunday.

Ulrich Lipp and Miss Margaret Hosken of North Redwood were Sunday guests at the E. H. Thiede home on South Minnesota street. They also stayed here to attend the band concert in the evening.

Work was started yesterday on a new bungalow on the vacant lot of the old Reim homestead on North State street. The new home will be occupied by Coach and Mrs. Rollin E. Church of this city when completed.

Prof. Carl Bolle of Watertown, Wisconsin was an over-Sunday visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Reim. Prof. Bolle attended a conference in Southern Minnesota and came here to visit with relatives and friends.

Martin Hose who has been laid up at his home since last week Friday with a severe attack of lumbago, was able to be up for a short while yesterday. Although Mr. Hose may not be able to get to work for some time yet he is feeling considerable better.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

Gladiolus planted now will bloom nicely next fall. Iris may be transplanted late this month or early next fall.

Keep seed pods off all plants if you would have the best development.

A planting of Golden Bantam sweet corn may be made now for fall use.

Early peas may be followed with some late maturing crop like beets or carrots.

String beans, beets, carrots, rutabagas and turnips may be planted now for winter use.

One hundred sixty varieties of iris were shown at the iris society show in St. Paul June 1 and 2.

Stop cutting asparagus now and cultivate and fertilize thoroughly. Your next year's crop will be better for it.

Mildew on roses may be kept in check by spraying with one half ounce sulphate potassium to a gallon of water.

Cut black delphinium as soon as they are through flowering. Fertilize and cultivate and a crop of flowers will come out in the fall.

Hundreds of fruit trees were saved by bridge grafting this year after the rabbits had girdled them. Better protect the trees with wire.

A few good flowers in a plain vase are much more attractive than an expensive vase jammed full of flowers. Exhibit the flowers, not the vase.

Spring flowering shrubs should be pruned as soon as they are through flowering. The purpose is to shape up the plant and encourage the natural growth.

Black Hills and Colorado Blue Spruce are attractive trees not only now but when winter snow is on them. —L. Roy Cady, associate horticulturist, University Farm, St. Paul.
