Frank Behnke and his mother, Mrs. Esther Behnke left last Tuesday to spend Thanksgiving at the home of the latter's brother, Frank Tuttle in the Town of Home. They returned Monday after a very lively week. Mr. Behnke says the Town of Home is the place to live if one likes lots of fun and excitement. After arriving at their destination, they formed part of a wedding celebration party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Martine that evening. Wednesday, 125 of the friends of Mrs. Tuttle appeared suddenly to remind her that it was her birthday anniversary. Thursday was Thanksgiving day and Friday a neighbor, Andrew Lebert shot a big wolf near his home and wounded it in the jaw and neck so that the animal fell and appeared to be dead. Mr. Lebert sent his sons out with the dogs to bring the wolf in. When they arrived where it had been left they found that it was not dead but they dragged it quite a distance across the field and then the wolf began to show signs of fight. It got on its feet and fell again, but again got up on its feet and finally ran off and left its tormentors looking after it without any way of catching it again. This sounds like quite a story, but Mr. Behnke says it was not due to what he had had for Thanksgiving.

They are now at San Francisco, California. Paul met Frank Hollister, formerly of Minneapolis, a special representative for the Lanston Monotype Machine company, who is employed in a large printing concern there, and thru Mr. Hollister secured a good position with the same concern.

Well now look at that. They sure have put "me" in Merry this Merry Christmas!

It's great to think I can be sincere in my "Thank You's" to every one. Looks as though the "Safe and Sane" Committee had found time for something beside Fourth of July.

If you want to make a man happy at Christmas time, forget the nick nacks and gee gaws and give him things that will appeal to his practical nature—something to wear.
