I SUFFERED THREE YEARS

Finally was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lowell, Mass.—I was all run down and had an awful pain in my right side, was persistently constipated and had very dizzy spells. I suffered for three years and was perfectly miserable until a friend was telling me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I found it a wonderful medicine. I can now do twice as much work and I recommend the Vegetable Compound to other women. You can use these facts as a testimonial.—Mrs. M. TRICALI BESSEY, 46 Chestnut St., Lowell, Mass.

A full report of the work of the committee will be given out about Aug. 1.

Funeral Services For B. F. Moore

Funeral services were held Friday afternoon for B. F. Moore, who died Tuesday night as a result of a paralytic stroke which he suffered Sunday evening. The services were held at 2 o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal church preceded by a brief service of prayer at his late home on Green Place and was attended by large numbers of business associated and personal friends both in this city and out town.

The bearers were Dr. L. H. McIver, L. O. Drew, D. W. Dwinell and F. M. Sherman. The interment was in the family lot in Pine Grove cemetery.

Rev. E. W. Sharpe, district superintendent of St. Johnsbury, a close personal friend of the deceased, was in charge of the services, assisted by Rev. H. T. Coontz, pastor of the Methodist church. Mr. Coontz read his scripture from the 15th chapter 1st Corinthians, beginning with the 41st verse. Dr. Sharpe took his text from 1st Samuel 15th, chapter 20th.

"Tomorrow is the new moon and thou shalt be missed because thy seat will be empty," Dr. Sharpe paid a glowing tribute to the man who has been his friend for many years. To his faithfulness, his integrity and the many courtesies which have endeared him to the whole community. Mr. Moore's only son, Everett L. Moore, of Los Angeles was unable to be present.

There were many beautiful floral tributes from friends in Newport and elsewhere. Among the out of town friends present were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Applebe, Island Pond; Mrs. Roy Hall of Holland, Ponds; Mrs. Hopsop of Island Pond, B. J. Cox of Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lewis of Morgan, Mrs. A. J. Tripp of Lyndonville, Mrs. L. F. Jenne of Derby, Frank Jenne of Derby, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bartlett of Newport Center and Mrs. S. B. Vail and daughter, Miss Vail of Corinth, N. Y.

PROBATIONERS IN VERMONT ON THE DECREASE

The report of the Board of Charities and Probation covering the month of June is a very interesting and human document. In the probation department 34 new cases were received during the month and 41 terminated, leaving the total number upon probation and parole 658 or about 100 less than three years ago.

In the early days, probationers and parolees made their reports on a printed form. They are now required to write personal letters one each month and during the month of June 178 or nearly one-third of the entire number were personally visited by a representative of the Board.

In the child care department is found many very interesting items. During the month eight dependent children were committed to the Board two were committed to Brandon upon the Board's recommendation; 12 defective children were investigated for surgical care, 13 were approved for hospital treatment, 12 entered hospitals, 16 were discharged from hospitals, two children were sent to Pittsburg Sanitarium, one to Preventorium at Essex Center and one to Waterbury. Mothers' Aid was granted involving nine children.

During the month 353.56 were received for the Graham Fund for crippled and defective children who have not been committed to the Board.

This feature of the Charities Board work has been highly approved by the public generally. More than 150 little defectives have been made physically well through the generosity of the public, there being no State funds available for this department of their work. There are about 40 children now needing hospital treatment, but the department is wholly without funds for their care until such time as generously disposed persons come to their assistance.

VOCATIONAL PLAN GETS O. K.

National Headquarters Receives Many Expressions of Approval of the Work Accomplished.

Remarkable tributes to the success of the American Legion's plan of co-operation with the Federal Board for Vocational Education...

G. J. MURPHY, Head of Service Division.

The system was announced a few weeks ago. Probably the most significant instance of efficiency under the new arrangement comes from Oshkosh, Wis. Oshkosh post, No. 70, located 80 men who had put in claims for training, but had been unable to obtain a decision on their cases.

The intention of the Legion, through its national vocational officer at Indianapolis, and co-operating Legionnaires in every department and community throughout the country, to see that this same system is put into universal practice until the last red tape entanglement is swept from the path of every crippled veteran, whether a member of the Legion or not, who is entitled to training under the provisions of the vocational rehabilitation act.

Since the Legion took up this work in Michigan, a total of 2,500 cases have been settled by the Legion and the federal board, working together. Conferences have been held in 15 districts of the state and Legion men, accompanied by representatives of the board, met vocational officers of the local posts and sought out the men whose cases had not been acted upon.

In New Jersey, the Legion and federal board have offices in the same building, and through co-operation the board is brought in touch with every man who has a claim, with the result that immediate action is being obtained in practically every instance.

Four district conferences have been held in Ohio and arrangements have been made to have "flying squadrons" visit the posts as fast as men having claims can be located and gotten together.

In Utah, the Legion is interviewing every ex-service man in the state with reference to any claim he may have. As soon as such a man is located, his case is taken up and settled immediately.

In Wisconsin arrangements have been made to hold a vocational conference as a part of the state convention of the Legion at Green Bay, as a final determined effort to wind up any and all cases that may still be pending at that time.

Similar reports, all attesting great success for the co-operative plan have come in from California, Arkansas and Alabama.

GIRL WHO HAS TRICK MEMORY

Miss Tillie Turk Knows Names and Addresses of Scores of the Legion Boys.

There is a young woman in New York who knows "by heart" the names and addresses of more mere men she has never seen and who are members of the American Legion than anyone in America.

Her trick memory is one of the things that enables her to hold down the responsible position of head of the mailing department of the American Legion Weekly, the Legion's official magazine. Her name is Miss Tillie Turk and her address, as stated, is New York City.

Foiled the Recruiting Officer. Omar Miller, a member of the Wyoming (Ill.) post of the American Legion, has a good claim to being the youngest "job" in the American naval establishment during the war, according to a recent issue of The American Legion Weekly. "He enlisted," says the official Legion publication, "July 5, 1918, soon after his fourteenth birthday, fooling the recruiting officer by putting on his first pair of long trousers the day he signed up. He served on board the New Jersey. His father, Dr. Herbert Miller, served four years in the medical department of the First Illinois cavalry."

None of the publishers who have been unable to get any news print paper, is reported to be opposing the idea of starting an independent paper-making plant.

PAID-UP MEMBERSHIP COUNTS

Delegates to Conventions Are Chosen on the Basis of Number in Good Standing.

Figures at National headquarters of the American Legion show a vast number of posts throughout the country have enrolled considerably in excess of their present actual paid-up membership. Delegates from posts to the state conventions, and from states to the national convention are chosen on the basis of paid-up membership, without regard to enrollment.

The state legislature of Massachusetts has enacted a law prohibiting the wearing of the Legion insignia by any save actual bona fide members of the organization, which is construed as barring those whose membership has been allowed to lapse, from enjoying this privilege. Individual Legionnaires are being urged to assist in preventing the wearing of the Legion button by persons who are not paid-up Legion members.

A few state conventions already have been held. The dates of the others, and places where held, are given in the following list:

- Indiana, at Vincennes, June 28 and 29.
- Montana, at Livingston, June 28 and 29.
- Wisconsin, at Green Bay, June 29 and 30.
- Nevada, at Lovelock, July 3.
- Rhode Island at Newport, July 23 and 24.

FRIENDS AMAZED AT HER RECOVERY

Suffered Fifteen Years from Indigestion But Feels Fine Since Taking Tanlac

"All my friends have been expressing surprise at my wonderful improvement in health, and when they ask me how I account for it I tell them it is entirely due to Tanlac," said Mrs. Anna Moran, of 377 Hayward street, Manchester, N. H.

"I suffered so badly from indigestion for 15 years," she continued, "that no matter what I ate it just hurt as though I had swallowed molten lead, and I would bloat up so I could scarcely get my breath. I hardly ever knew what it was to get a good night's sleep and frequently had to sit up for hours in my efforts to get relief. I was subject to frequent headaches that completely prostrated me, and sometimes I got so dizzy that I was in danger of falling. I had intense pains across the small of my back, especially if I attempted to stoop over. I had so little appetite that I seldom went to the table at all, and I became very weak and miserable and discouraged.

"But Tanlac soon changed all that, for it gave me such an appetite that I felt hungry all the time. I found that I could eat whatever I wished without suffering from gas or heartburn or pains in the stomach. I am never troubled with headaches or dizzy spells now and the pains in the back have disappeared altogether. I sleep so well at night that I have to be waked in the mornings and I am feeling stronger than I have for several years."

Tanlac is sold in St. Johnsbury by Landry's Drug Store, and in West Burke, by Chas. H. Coburn. adv.

NEW PLAN OF ENLISTMENTS FOR WEST POINT

New regulations for the selection of enlisted men in the National Guard for appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point have been devised. The candidates will be appointed according to the relative strength of enlistment in each of the States, Territories, and the District of Columbia. The candidates in each of the states and territories will be selected by the governor through a competitive examination of the same scope and nature as that of the regular examination for entrance into the Military Academy.

These examinations will be held annually between December 1 and 15, and will be conducted by the governors.

To be eligible to appointment from the National Guard, an applicant must be an enlisted man of a recognized unit. The previous services of a man in the National Guard or in the army may be taken into consideration in considering his eligibility for appointment, but at the time of designation, he must be a regularly enlisted man of a National Guard organization recognized by the Federal Government. Similarly, service in a National Guard organization, prior to its recognition by the Federal Government may be considered, the date of enlistment of the soldier and not the date of recognition of the organization being the governing date.

The enlisted man selected must, at the date of admission to the Academy year as such, and be between 15 and 22 years of age with the single exception that during 1921, any applicant who served honorably and faithfully not less than one year in the late war with Germany and who possesses other qualifications required by law may be admitted up to the age of 24 years. These requirements are statutory, and cannot be waived. Men interested in the requirements for entrance into the Military Academy should write the Adjutant General of the Army for a copy of a pamphlet containing them. Beginning with the class entering in 1920, the course of study will be for four years.

HAD RUSH OF ORDERS IN MAY

Demand for Memorial Day Supplies Taxed Legion Department; Fourth of July Warning.

"Don't shoot the planst—he's doing the best he can." "Treat the undertaker kindly—you may be buried yourself some day."

These, together with various and sundry kindred admonitions might constitute a seemingly appropriate introduction to this pathetic narrative. It deals with the plight of certain distracted individuals at national headquarters of the American Legion. Aside from Lemuel Bolles, national adjutant, who has been swamped so often that he's getting used to it, this unfortunate had to read and answer more telegrams and letters in May than all other members of the headquarters' staff combined. And the reason is this:

Between May 1 and May 25 the following orders, among others, all for delivery by May 30, poured in like a barrage on the emblem division, of which the hero of our tale has charge:

- 2,158 grave markers.
- 168 silk United States flags.
- 128 wool post flags.
- 90 wool United States flags.

Result, some 3,200 separate and distinct "rush" orders, including almost innumerable demands for buttons, pins, badges, rings, watch-fobs, auto radiator decorations and whatnots.

So, at last in tones that moved his colleagues to tears, the martyr sent out this "S. O. S.":

"Please tell all posts and buddies," he sighed, "that they'll better have to order the stuff they want for July Fourth earlier than they did their Memorial day paraphernalia, or I'll drop dead in the midst of this rush and gum up the whole works. Please tell 'em to have a heart; decide now on what they want and write about it. This will make it possible for the factory to get the orders out on time and save the expenses of 'steep hundred telegrams.'"

What jussy men?

Makes Good Enrollment. The Byron Hook Post, No. 433, of Stockport, O., has enrolled 18 members, which is approximately the number of ex-service persons to draw from in the community.

None of the publishers who have been unable to get any news print paper, is reported to be opposing the idea of starting an independent paper-making plant.
