REDPATH CHAUTAUQUA IN NEWPORT

Excellent Program Arranged for Week with Promise of Strong Support

The Redpath Chautauqua is now in town, and started this afternoon with the first of the entertainment programs. On Friday, the crew and tent arrived and the evening saw Brady's Lot on Field Ave., occupied by the large tent in which the performances are to be given. A board walk down the hill has been set up as the main entrance and exit to the grounds. The tent itself is so situated that all the breezes from the lake will ventilate the tent, and a gentle slope from the stage up to the back of the tent makes an almost perfect natural amphitheatre.

The demand for reserved seats at the performance has been far in excess of the supply, and the number of people who have subscribed for seats and have not yet bought them, guarantees that Newport is heartily in support of the Chautauqua idea and that the organizers will be relieved of any responsibility for a deficit. The local association obligingly held many reserved seats upon request until Friday noon, a week more than they were obliged to, and after that time none were kept back but all were sold upon application, regardless of whether claimed by the one to whom promised or not. The association felt that in holding them an extra week they had fulfilled their part of any obligation and that if people hadn't claimed them, they couldn't expect them to be held any longer.

The officers of the Newport Chautauqua Association are E. F. Humphrey, President, Urban S. Livingston, secretary and treasurer, W. W. True, chairman of the grounds committee, and R. D. Howe, chairman of the publicity committee. The superintendent of the crew, which came here from Plattsburg, N. Y., is Dr. Wright of the Redpath bureau.

This evening at nine o'clock came the organization of the Junior Chautauqua. At 2.30 p. m., the first entertainment commenced with a musical prelude by the Mordella Novelty Co., followed by a lecture on "The Man With One Window" by E. T. Hagerman. This evening's program will consist of music by the Mordella Novelty Co., followed by Charles E. Barker's lecture on "How to Live One Hundred Years."

"The Thoughts of Youth."
Little Dolores was quietly eating her lunch one day when all of a sudden she said: "Mother, if I died now, would I get to heaving in time for dinner?"

Liberal Offering.
One Sabbath while at church, there was a special speaker, and the preacher asked for a liberal offering collection. As the plate was being passed I grabbed for a dime, the only piece of money I thought I had. I pulled out a penny and deposited it in the plate. It was not until the gentleman next to me smiled that I noticed my error. —Chicago Tribune.

Peruvian Idea of Dignity.
The mayor of the smallest town in Peru feels that it is incumbent upon him, in order to make the proper display of official dignity, to be accompanied by a band of pipers whenever he appears on any state occasion. These musicians have instruments which consist of a series of reeds strung together and make a weird music.
