Send Prisoner to Burlington

Henry Sanderson, who has been detained for several days at Newport in Orleans county jail was taken to Burlington on Thursday by Police Officer George Fraser of that city. Sanderson was taken to the station in the custody of Constable Ora A. Swift, who turned him over to Officer Fraser. No time was lost and the prisoner was taken along on the same train, the Air Line, which brought Officer Fraser to Newport. Acting upon advice from the police authorities at Burlington, Sanderson was arrested at Beebe by the immigration officials, who deported him to Newport. He is wanted in Burlington on a charge of breaking and entering the home of Henry Austin of 82 Battery St., where he is said to have stolen $8 in currency. Hiawatha Shearwater, the full-blooded Sioux Indian, who is imprisoned in Orleans Co. jail, still persists in refusing to admit himself guilty of vagrancy. John B. Cushman, clerk of the Municipal court, has observed the redskin much during the present period of his incarceration in Orleans county jail and characterizes him as "of the account." Mr. Cushman spent 30 years of his life traveling in the West and is an authority on the habits of the Indian.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface of the Eustachian Tube. Halls' Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surface of the ear. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Halls' Catarrh Medicine. NEWSPAPERS ARE BEST EDUCATORS

Wm. H. Walsh, "Veteran" Newspaper Man Talks of Tea

It is always interesting for us to meet a newspaper man, particularly one who has a thorough knowledge of journalism and a wide circle of journalistic acquaintances. William H. Walsh of Boston, though a comparatively young man, is a "veteran" newspaper man. He called upon us today and talked interestingly along various lines, more particularly about the internationally famous beverage, Salada tea. As a representative of the Salada Tea Company he is now making a tour of the United States, visiting the offices of the various newspapers in which his firm advertises. At the outset he declared himself a firm believer in the daily newspaper, as the one best medium for all sorts of advertising. "More than all else," he says, "for it reaches every class and condition of people. There may be others, almost as good" for instance, such as the magazines, billboards, electric signs and street car advertising, but newspapers are the best educators and the very best bet on the market for the American public today.

Concerning the business situation in Massachusetts particularly, he said "It reflects conditions throughout the country generally. It is a period of unrest in the labor market, with over production as a cause, and now an inclination to lower wages as the direct result. In the big manufacturing centers such as Lowell, Lawrence and Manchester, where he visited, he found the mills all closed down temporarily, or at least running on short time, and a general atmosphere of depression pervading. "While there is a general air of pessimism to be noted just at present," said Mr. Walsh, "I do not think it will be lasting. The satisfaction so widespread over the national election and the belief of good times coming with readjustment may look for rising markets and things for the public to take an optimistic view, having in mind the tremendous prosperity, particularly in the great farming districts where the production as you know far exceeds the consumption, and the stupendous wealth behind it all."

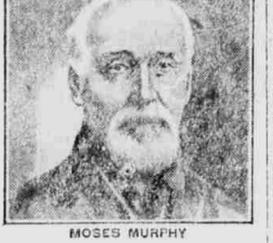

Speaking of the consumption of tea, and the various kinds he said there is more tea consumed in this country now than ever before. This is due to various causes, one of which is the return of so many veterans of the war from the tea drinking countries of Europe. Another of course is prohibition. "It is curious, though," said he, "how little the people in this country know about the tea they drink, whether good, bad or indifferent. Seemingly it makes but little difference to the average consumer and he will as soon purchase tea in bulk as in the sealed, air-tight aluminum packet, although any expert will tell him that the properties of tea cause it to deteriorate very rapidly when exposed to the air. Tea is exactly the same for an illustration in that respect as a box of crackers that has been standing open for any length of time. They are soggy. They have lost their crispness and the flavor is gone. So it is with tea. And Salada tea may be the very best, but it loses all its fragrance and goodness if so exposed. Another thing that all should know is how to brew tea. First of all it is necessary that the water for making tea must be bubbling hot not boiling, merely, but bubbling as well. Tea made with water that is not boiling is not good tea. Then scald out a crockery tea-pot and while it is warm put in a level teaspoonful for every cup. Pour on the freshly bubbling water and allow it to steep for five minutes. Then pour it off the leaves. Follow these directions and you will have perfect tea. "Orange Pekoe, so-called, may be good, but indifferent tea," said he. "It all depends upon the elevation at which it is grown. Orange Pekoe is simply the topmost leaf or flower of the tea and if it grows at the sea level it is the poorest tea, whereas if it grows at an elevation of 6,000 or 7,000 feet, such as Salada, it is the best. There are four grades of tea called Orange Pekoe, Pekoe, Pekoe Souchong and Souchang.

CRITICIZING METHODS OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS GENEVA, Dec. 18.—Charges by H. A. Balfour, one of the British members of the Council of the League of Nations, that attempts were being made in Assembly circles to coerce the Council on the question of mandates were made today. The Assembly eventually adopted a report of the mandate committee which declared that the Council had adopted a policy that made it impossible to present an opportunity for the discussion of the mandates. The report declared against the recruiting of soldiers by the mandatory nations in the territory they were administering; also against the exploitation of the natural resources of such territory for the benefit of the mandatory powers. Lord Robert Cecil, another member of the British delegation, criticized the Council's refusal to communicate to the assembly the text of the mandates for the administration of the former German colonies for the discussion of the mandates. The report expressed dissatisfaction that was felt by the Canadian delegates that no opportunity had been given the Assembly to examine the mandates.

WEAK KIDNEYS MADE STRONG

And Backache Stopped After a Short Treatment with "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MOSES MURPHY

Merctown, Vermont, March 27th, 1918. "I am warranted in having the strongest faith in 'Fruit-a-tives' after receiving such wonderful benefits from them. For years I was a sufferer with Kidney and Liver Complaints. My back ached; my liver was sluggish; and my whole system seemed out of order. 'Fruit-a-tives' was the only remedy to help me. They strengthened the kidneys, made my bowels move regularly and freed me of all the distress caused from the kidney trouble, constipation and indigestion. A few weeks' treatment with 'Fruit-a-tives' made me feel as if I had a new lease on life, and I wanted to make known the great value of these Fruit Liver Tablets." MOSES MURPHY. One a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. Ask dealers or from FRUIT-A-TIVES, Limited, OGLENSBURG, N. Y.

Newport High Wins Classic from Derby Academy

(Continued from page one) Time and again, he would dash in, scoop up the leather sphere, and pass it on to one of his forwards. In shooting throughout the first team Newport was several shades off in shooting throughout the first team contest. The big ball hovered in orange and black territory the most of the time, while it was being passed from Newport to Newport, but the majority of the times went wild of the basket. Captain Savage who was playing a forward game at left guard essayed to make the basket several times in the opening minutes of the contest, but all of his shots were removed off the ring. It remained for Larry Gardner to break the ice. In spite of the fact that he was being subjected to some mighty tight guarding by his green and white adversary, Gardner managed to direct the ball into the basket for Newport's first score. Boyd soon followed with a pretty leave into the ring for Derby. Savage secured a basket from foul in the first period but his opponent Boyd offset this with a duplicate free throw, making the score a 3 to 3 tie at the end of the initial period. The second period got under way, the play was fully as spirited and as hard fought as in the first period, but Newport was wild-very wild, in attempting to drop the ball into the meshes. For every shot that Derby essayed, Newport was able to make twice as many tries, which resulted in far too few baskets. Due to the over-eagerness of the youngsters to win, there was a great dearth of dribbling and too many long and uncertain leaves in the general direction of the basket. Gardner, after a fullide of Border City shots had gone wide of their mark, uncorked a beautiful heave which cleft the meshes, broke the tie, and lent fresh hope to the orange

Ladies' Aid Society Shows Some Progress

Without undue discrimination it would seem that the Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist Episcopal church is the most progressive organization in town. This society is so progressive that a meeting on Tuesday with Mrs. E. A. Hamilton, progressed during the afternoon successively to the homes of Mrs. E. F. Hobson, Mrs. L. O. Drew and Mrs. B. F. Moore, before the motion to adjourn. At 2:30 came the regular business meeting with Mrs. Hamilton. Three o'clock found the party of 25 headed for the home of Mrs. Hobson, where they were met at the door by Santa Claus, who is making an early start to avoid the final rush. After hearty Christmas greetings, Santa presided at a gaily decorated tree which held an attractive gift for each member. At 3:30 the procession led to the home of Mrs. Drew who had prepared a brief musical and literary program. A fun-making feature was a guessing contest, the winner being Mrs. Fred Stevens, and the prize, a handkerchief with tating border. The final rendezvous was at the home of Mrs. Moore, and this proved the most popular, as here was served most delicious raised doughnuts with cocoa. The element of mystery which attended each stage of the proceedings added to the afternoon's enjoyment.

NEWPORT SECONDS VS. DERBY SECONDS

There was no question as to where the mastery lay in the second team contest. Derby was the superior by such a margin, that comparison of the work of the two quintets is impossible, except in the matter of dash, vim, and vigor, of which there were an abundance on both sides. During the first period, the ball was kept almost continually in Derby territory, and the Newport reserves appeared to be at a loss to retrieve the large leather sphere. Grey, for the green and white, was all over the court, and netted five baskets for his team. Rock at right guard, was as solid as his name implies, turning to naught the efforts of the Newport forwards, and helping himself to four pretty shots. Both he and Grey are boys not far behind Varsity material. They seemed fit to take a place on the first team almost any time. Campbell, at center, outplayed his man, and aided in bringing the total of Derby baskets to eleven, which, with Ames' free throw, made the final score 23 to 8. The only basket made by Newport in the first period came from the hands of Victor Borella, who was substituting for Grow Litchfield talked the only other basket from the floor, made by the Newport seconds. The score: Newport Seconds 8 Derby Seconds 23 Ronihan, if if, 23 Grey, Borella, if if, Robbins McPherson, c c, Campbell Litchfield, Hamilton, lg lg, Ames

Good Reading Did you ever stop to think that the advertisements of the home merchants in this newspaper make it a BETTER newspaper? Well, it does. Advertising teaches PROGRESS, ECONOMY—and CONFIDENCE. It teaches progress in keeping you abreast of the times, of all that is new and desirable in foods, clothing, homes, supplies, and comforts of all kinds. It teaches economy through informing you where the best prices may be had—because economy is not only in the mere saving of money but also in the intelligent spending of it. It teaches confidence through the knowledge gained in knowing you live as other folks live; enjoy the things they enjoy—that you have the same advantages. The text book of our worldly comforts is written in the terse lines of our merchandising advertisements—AND IT'S WELL WORTH READING. If we read the advertisements we soon realize that they can work to our advantage just as much as to the merchant with something to sell. Then the HOME-SPENT DOLLAR starts its peppy journey amongst we home folks—every one of whom has the development and growth of this community at heart.
