

JESUIT COLLEGE.

The Magnificent Educational Building to be Erected in Las Vegas.

A few weeks ago we published a description of the new front of the Jesuit College that it was proposed to erect at once. When the plans had been completed Charles Wheelock, the architect, was commissioned to prepare a new set of drawings for a much larger and finer structure. He has nearly completed the new plans, and has been asked by the President of the College to have them ready as soon as possible that work may be begun on the foundation at once.

The plan of erecting a front to the old College buildings has been given up, and instead the new building will be entirely separate from them. It will be built thirty feet from the present College and immediately in front, facing the east. There will be a central building 51 feet front, 90 feet deep and 66 feet high, with a mansard roof. It will be flanked by two wings, each two stories high with a mansard, and will be 58 feet deep. The entire length of the building will be 243 feet. There will be two central towers, each 87 feet high and 18 feet square, and two corner towers 57 feet high and 18 feet square. Entrance will be made through each central tower, opening into corridors thirteen feet wide and communicating with halls twelve feet wide. Entrance to the wings is also made through the corner towers. An eight-foot verandah will run between the towers in front.

The central building will contain the chapel on the first floor, that will be 48x96 feet and 18 1/2 feet high, and the choir gallery will be in front. There will be an entrance on each side, and one at the front and rear. The exhibition hall will be on the second floor and will be 48 by 96 feet, and 24 feet high, with galleries. Both this and the chapel will each have a seating capacity of 800. There will be four entrances to the hall, and in case of fire there can be ten exits. Throughout the building all outside doors are double and swing out, another good precaution in case of fire. The chapel and exhibition hall will be supported by cast iron columns and wrought iron beams and girders.

The first floor of the south wing will contain the following rooms: School room 20 by 34 ft., another 20 by 31, and a third 20 by 28, double parlor 20 by 33, music room 20 by 33 and janitor's room 9 by 20 ft. All the rooms on this floor will be 15 ft. high with a main hall twelve feet wide.

In the second story will be a similar hall and the rooms are to be 14 ft. high. They will include an infirmary 23 by 24 ft. and another 21 by 21, with a kitchen for the infirmary 11 by 21, Vice-President's parlor 19 by 20 ft., President's parlor 20 by 32 ft. and the President's room 16 ft. square; the library 21 by 26 ft., and a recitation room 17 by 21 ft.

The north wing will be similar to the south wing, except in the arrangement of the rooms, and the first floor will have three school rooms, 20 by 44 feet, 20 by 44, and 20 by 28, laboratory 13 by 23, and school of physics 20 by 31 feet.

On the second floor will be a school room 21 by 33, music room 21 by 28, wash room 15 by 21 and a study hall 35 by 56 feet, besides two rooms for the museum, each 16 feet square.

The building will be of brick, with the corners and openings of white sandstone, and will present a fine appearance. It will be, when completed, one of the finest educational buildings in the west. A part of the work will be finished this season and the whole completed before many months.

Friend of New Mexico.

Through mistake Senator P. B. Plumb was made to say, in our interview with him published in yesterday's issue, that the members of the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives would voluntarily come together in the event of President Garfield's death. What we did intend to say, reporting the Senator faithfully, was that should any one attempt to assassinate Vice President Arthur, or his safety be imperiled, the two houses would convene of their own accord. In a subsequent interview with the Senator, while apologizing for the error that was not noticed in season to rectify the mistake, and after the receipt of the alarming news concerning the condition of the President, the Senator referred to the patriotic utterance of Senator Beck a few days ago, and said that in his opinion the democratic Senators would no doubt unite with the Republicans in the election of a conservative Republican as President pro tem of the Senate, who should become acting Vice President in case President Garfield should die. His opinion is that probably Henry B. Anthony, Senator from Rhode Island, would be chosen President pro tem.

Senator Plumb is greatly agitated over the Indian question, and the last raids of the reds in the Territory. He will greatly interest himself in our behalf, and will see that our interests are looked to. He says that he takes a great interest in New Mexico, as there are many people from his State residing here, and many Kansas people are identified with New Mexico's interests. He has not been idle while rusticiating here but has carefully looked about and gathered information concerning our resources. He left for Springer last night and will be the guest of ex-Senator Dorsey at his ranch at Apache, Colfax county, for several days. The principal object of his visit is to inspect a number of stock ranges in northern New Mexico for friends who wish to make investment. His family remains at the Hot Springs until his return when he will probably go to the Black Range.

The Mora Court.

The court in Mora county was the most important one held in that county for a long time. Both grand and petit juries were exceptionally good and the former found many indictments. The Sheriff had captured three of the persons previously indicted for murder and of these two were tried, one other taking a change of venue to Colfax and a fourth, indicted afterwards, taking a change to Taos.

The old civil case of Samples vs. Samples was tried and resulted in a verdict for the defendant, Frank Samples.

Another old case tried was that of Manuel Romas vs. Candelario Gonzales for forcible entry and detainer. Verdict for plaintiff.

The case of Pendane vs. Chaves was settled.

All these cases were old ones, commenced over four or five years ago.

In Orr & Lindsley vs. R. Romero judgment for $418.

In Watkins & Gilliland vs. Romero, verdict $98.

In cases of same plaintiffs vs. A. L. Mane, the plaintiffs also obtained judgment.

Mack & Bergman vs. Mane, judgment for $190.

A number of the tax suits were settled by payment, and in that against Straat & Bro. judgment was rendered, by default, for $23.

The case of Montoya vs. Samora for the value of two burros occupied a very long time, being fought with a vigor and persistence entirely unproportioned to its intrinsic importance. After nearly a day of trial the jury disagreed.

On the criminal side the case against Jose Manuel Martinez, who was indicted early in 1877, but only lately arrested, was tried. Though the evidence was slight, he was convicted in the fifth degree and sentenced to one year in Nebraska.

Antonio Leon was tried for killing Edward Galladay, and after a long time acquitted.

Santiago Bonney, Jose Chavez and Francisco Romero plead guilty to assault and were respectively fined $100, $75, and $10. Francisco Gonzales plead guilty to petit larceny, and having been in jail for over three months was fined $50.

Owing to information the indictments against Sevieriano Martinez had to be quashed. Juan Jose Hartado was tried for carrying arms and acquitted.

Juan Lucero, well known for years as a chronic stealer of cattle, was tried for taking a horse of Manuel Manzanares and found guilty. This was the most important conviction for a long time. This man and his brother having been notorious as the "Twins" for over a dozen years. The judge gave him the full benefit of the law, imprisonment for five years.

Colonel Breeden acted as Attorney General, Major Sena as interpreter of the court and John Florence as interpreter to the grand jury.

Judge Prince appointed Pedro Valdez of Cebolla, A. J. Calhoun and Justice S. Smith as jury commissioners. The court adjourned Saturday night.

The Indians.

The Indians are reported to be in Old Mexico, but it is said that there is a big trail leading out from that country and they are no doubt heading for this Territory again. The last that was heard from them was in the neighborhood of Willow Springs, twelve miles southeast of the Eureka mining district in the southwestern corner of New Mexico, where there were several brushes with the reds and the troops, in which the former got the best of the regulars. Gentlemen just up from the southern country state that it is reported on what is considered reliable authority that Judge McComas and three miners were killed by the Indians in the Victorio mining district not far from Deming.

We only hope that he may carry out this noble resolve.

One of Lockhart & Co's. teams ran away yesterday in East Las Vegas. A little Mexican boy, who happened to be in the wagon at the time, narrowly escaped being killed. The little fellow showed good grit as he held on to the lines until he was jolted clear back into the rear portion of the box. The horses ran furiously, but luckily for the boy the wagon did not upset. After several squares had been passed a man on horseback succeeded in overtaking the team and stopping it.
