Revised Religion.

Ah, yes there used to be a hell,
A burning, everlasting lake, Where sinners were condemned to well,
It was, thank God a great mistake, What could translators have been at?
But we've revised all that.

Now Hades is the place, you know, A penitential "over the bay," Whither the souls of dead men go;
But, really, I can scarcely say How sinners get their tit for tat, For we've revised all that.

The doctrine of conversion, too, Need not excite your hopes or fears, Though many have believed it true,
And clung to it these many years,
At last we have strained out the gnat,
And have revised all that.

In short, the Calvinistic creeds Are spitted on revision's lance;
No longer can they serve the needs Of error and of ignorance, Or breed a theologic spat Since we've revised all that.

The older books we must revise,
To make them fairly fit the new;
The strange mistakes of centuries,
The false so mingled with the true By men who thought the earth was flat—We must revise all that.

A Defense of Dr. Hewitt.

OFFICE OF
RICH HILL MINING REVIEW, Rich Hill, Mo., Aug. 29, 1881.
EDITOR LAS VEGAS GAZETTE: A large number of late copies of the Optic, of your city, have been received by citizens here about Dr. T. L. Hewitt, lately of this city, now of your Territory.
I received a letter from the city editor of the Optic several weeks ago, enquiring about the doctor and replied in good faith. Having been well and intimately acquainted with Dr. Hewitt for the past five years, I have only known him as a gentleman and a thorough and reliable physician and surgeon, above the average of his profession.
The doctor's record here and in this State has been clean, and when he left was enjoying the respect of our best citizens; while on the other hand a few individuals who had suffered by his better success as a physician, and having scooped the mossback and lower elements of the city in his candidacy for the first Mayor of Rich Hill, and they not daring to meet him face to face, seem to have secured a willing tool to accomplish their dirty work in the Optic of your city. The city editor of the Optic ought to publish the letters received by him from Rich Hill and show his hand. It seems he is as vile and low as the mossback element slanderers and sneaks who, ashamed to do their work openly and above board, and come out under their proper names, have found it more convenient to shoot at long range and use their paid organ, the Optic, in vilifying a man who stands pre-eminently above any of those here who are so systematically furnishing material for the Optic's dirty work. The whole scheme of the Optic, in its attack on the doctor from a Rich Hill stand point, is a fraud and willful and malicious slander, without a fact or scintilla of evidence to back it up. If you desire any corroboration of these statements further I can furnish the notices of the press here from time to time, and the press of Carroll County, both Republican, Democratic and Independent, extending back for five years, speaking in the highest terms of Dr. Hewitt, besides the certificates of the best citizens of this city and of Melrose, Carroll County, Mo., where the doctor resided for four years.

Yours, etc., THOMAS IRISH, Editor and Publisher Mining Review.

A. T. & S. F. HOYS.

What They Are Doing in Texas.

[From our own Correspondent.]

Ft. Worth, Texas, Aug. 27.—There is a little colony of A. T. & S. F. R. R. boys here in Texas, and they are naturally eager to read the GAZETTE in order to learn the news about Las Vegas and the railroad. The Texas & Pacific R. R. has gained many of the old Santa Fe R. R. boys. George S. Sands formerly Train Master at Trinidad is now our Assistant Superintendent.
Frank M. Rains at one time Dispatcher at Topeka is our Train Master at this point. Ed. Tremper of Lawrence has sworn off on telegraphing and is now stenographic clerk for Frank Rains.
D. L. Poole, who was conductor south of Vegas, is night yard master here.
In the Dispatcher's office are to be found W. H. Conway of the Las Vegas dispatching office, Billy Storm of San Marcial, better known at Vegas in connection with W. U. office and "No. 6," and Will Steed who was running baggage with Conductor Harner. Bartlett who ran one of the Moguls on Glorieta Mountain is running an engine on the Western Division. Men in all departments receive good wages and a "square deal" all around. To a man attending to his duties promotion is quick and sure. New men are coming in every day and receiving employment. There is great demand for men in all departments owing to the rapid extension of the road. Any news from Vegas is eagerly hailed by the Santa Fe boys stationed here. X. C. TUFFE.

A Strong Pull All Together.

From our knowledge of the situation we are of the opinion Las Vegas will get the Denver & New Orleans road.
The line marked out seems to be from Pueblo to Trinidad, thence through Long's Canyon via Cimarron to Vegas, thence via the Pecos valley to the Gulf.
The people along this line will do all they can to assist the enterprise, and a splendid line of towns they are, with greater future possibilities in the way of railway traffic than any section of country between the oceans. It does not seem possible that a comparison between the two routes talked of could be entertained for a moment. The plains route is a barren waste, the mountain route extends through agricultural lands, inexhaustible timber and untold mineral wealth of gold, silver, iron, copper, and, indeed, everything that makes a thrifty and prosperous people.
We shall get the D. & N. O. road, simply by the splendid showing the mountain route can make.—Trinidad Times.
