In Time of Peace Prepare for War. Special to the Gazette.]

Santa Fe, October 1.—In reply to a dispatch from the Secretary of War asking whether Governor Sheldon still wanted arms for the Territory, Governor Sheldon telegraphed as follows:

To the Secretary of War: The Territory of New Mexico requires for defense against hostile Indians five hundred rifles, calibre forty-five; five hundred carbines, calibre forty-five; fifty thousand cartridges, calibre forty-five, and one thousand cartridge belts. Arms and ammunition are of the utmost necessity and I hereby make requisition for the same. L. A. SHELDON, Governor of New Mexico.

Although Indian matters are quiet at present, Governor Sheldon believes it is best to prepare, and should these arms be furnished the military companies in the southern part of the Territory will be placed on an effective footing for service against the Indians.

From the Seas of Ice.

San Francisco, October 1.—The whaling schooner, R. B. Handy, Capt. Winants, arrived to-day from the Arctic. She brought down Capt. Gifford and crew of the whaler David Webster, crushed by the ice near Thorsboro.

Captain Gifford confirms the report contained in a cablegram published by the New York Herald September 21st that the natives had seen a wrecked ship far to the eastward, and four white men among the natives. The conversation between Gifford and the natives was conducted principally by signs and it was difficult to understand from the signs made whether these men were dead or sick as the native in speaking of them indicated their condition by placing his head on the ground in an attitude of sleep or death. There is a similarity in the narrative to that of the Siberian Esquimaux relative to the drifting wreck of the Vigilant. The number of bodies correspond but the distance between the two locations is so great as to make it impossible to the minds of whalers that the two stories apply to the same vessel.

Capt. Winants, in a letter to the Bulletin, advances the theory that the Jeannette has sought a north-eastern passage around North America, and mentions the Indian who reported to Capt. Gifford a wreck to eastward. He produced a new brass kettle which he said came from that wreck. The kettle was as new and bright as though just from a store, having on it the maker's name and the place of manufacture, which the Captain thinks was Waterbury, Mass., but has lost his note made of it. No whale ships have been in the vicinity of Point Barrows for the last two years, and it would seem that if the natives obtained such an article in trade from a ship they would have made use of it, for soon after the native brought it to Point Barrows he traded it off, and it was immediately put in use. Capt. Winants states that when he left the Arctic fleet in August, they had the following: Catch steamer Belvidere, six whales. Banks Coral 3, Pacific 6, Frances Palmer 3, Sea Breeze 8, Sappho 2, John Howland 12, Rainbow 13, Northern Light 10, Progress 10, Eliza V. Dawn 7, Abraham Barker 9, Helen Mar 7, Atlantic 6, Fleetwood 7, Hunter 10, and the brig Hidalgo 3. The season was open but weather unusually stormy.

Cook Colored.

Pueblo, Col., Oct. 1.—The outlaw M. C. Cook, Ike Stockton's pal, has been delivered to the Texas authorities. A deputy sheriff passed through Pueblo Wednesday with Cook. As trouble was apprehended the matter was kept secret. Reward $1,700 on Cook.

Three Cattle Thieves Arrested.

Golden, Col., Oct. 1.—Albert Stevens, Benjamin Presnet and James Keyland, were arrested at Buffalo station, on the South Park railroad, yesterday, charged with cattle stealing.

Big Cattle Sale.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—A herd of 35,000 cattle belonging to J. C. & P. S. Jones, of Colorado, have been sold to Underwood & Co., of Kansas City, for $625,000.

Cablegrams.

MANIFESTO OF THE CATHOLIC HIERARCHY.

New York, Oct. 1.—Herald's Dublin special: The following is the text of the important manifesto on the subject of the state of Ireland, which was issued by the Catholic Hierarchy of Ireland after their meeting at Maynooth College yesterday. Seventeen Archbishops and Bishops were present at the conference. Influenced by some deep solicitude for the welfare of their flocks which moved them at the last general meeting in April to solicit the Government to amend the Land Bill which was then before Parliament, the Bishops of Ireland consider it their duty to declare at their present meeting that the land act is a benefit to the tenant class and that a large installment of justice for which the gratitude of a large portion of the country is due to Gladstone and those who helped him carry this measure through parliament. The Bishops earnestly exhort their flocks to avail themselves of advantages derivable from this act, believing it rightly used, it will bring present peace and help them obtain their rights and political aims which they justly claim. The Bishops would urge the tenant farmers to use the means provided in the land act and every other means in their power to improve the condition of the laboring class. The Bishops avail themselves of this opportunity to call upon their clergy to guard their flocks against all secret agencies of violence and intimidation which can become enemies of the people to the laity and to prove more harmful. They bear their country and their faith by seconding the clergy in the superstition of all anti-social and anti-Catholic abuses, also by removing as far as in them power the stigma which our enemies have sought to place upon the people that they will not pay their just debts, which they are bound to do. The Bishops unite with the people in urging on the government the release of those who are still imprisoned, hoping that such a measure will contribute no little to the peace of the country.

GARFIELD'S SURGEONS CENSURED FOR THEIR LACK OF TRUTH.

London, Oct. 1.—The Lancet condemns the attending surgeons for making the best of Garfield's case in the bulletins, and says a bulletin should be truth and nothing but truth.

UNBROKEN SPIRIT.

Father Sheehy, speaking at Kilmallock yesterday, said he had come out of prison with the same spirit as he had entered it.

UNSUCCESSFUL HELLSHINES.

London, Oct. 1.—Later details concerning the attempt to blow up the residence of Captain Lloyd, at Pallas Green, show that a cask containing 25 pounds of powder, was placed immediately behind the room which Capt. Lloyd usually occupies. The explosion occurred at 3 a. m. It shattered the outer wall, three inside walls and the roof. Two occupants of the house were injured, but will recover.

The Autopsy of President Garfield.

Philadelphia, October 1.—The October issue of the Journal of Medical Science contains the following official report of the autopsy of President Garfield, prepared by surgeons in charge. The official record of post mortem examination of the body of President J. A. Garfield, made September 20, 1881, commencing at 4:30 p. m., eighteen hours after death at Franklyn cottage, Elberon, N. J. Present and assisting: Dr. D. W. Bliss, Surgeon-General J. K. Barnes, U. S. A., Dr. Robert Reybun, Dr. Frank H. Hamilton, Dr. D. Hayes Agnew, Dr. Andrew H. Smith, of Elberon of New York and Acting Assistant Surgeon D. S. Lamb of the Army Medical Museum at Washington. Before commencing the examination a consultation was held by these physicians in a room adjoining that in which the body lay and it was unanimously agreed that the dissection should be made by Dr. Lamb and that Surgeon Woodward should record the observations made. It was further unanimously agreed that the cranium should not be opened. Surgeon Woodward then proposed that the examination should be conducted as follows: That the body should be viewed externally and any morbid appearances recorded. That the catheter should then be passed into the wound as was done during life to wash it out for the purpose of assisting to find the position of the bullet.

Arachnoid Republican Convention.

Denver, October 1.—The Republican county convention is very harmonious and a majority of the nominations were made by acclamation. The following are the nominations up to 3 o'clock: Sheriff, Michael Spangler; Clerk, W. C. Lathrop; Treasurer, John L. Daily; Surveyor, J. N. Ashley; Coroner, T. Linton; Commissioners, long term, J. C. Kinmer and G. M. Brown; short term, Peter Winne. The nominations of Spangler, Lathrop, Daily and Ashley were made unanimous.

The following completes the list of nominations made by the Republican county convention to-day: Superintendent of Schools, J. S. Fitzer, assessor, Geo. C. Roberts, state senator, to fill the vacancy created by the death of Senator Jacobson C. Pelder. The county central committee was appointed and L. C. Oswald was chosen chairman. Resolutions were adopted expressing grief at the death of Garfield and pledging support to Arthur. Nearly all the nominations were made unanimous. The convention was very harmonious throughout.

Dead and Decayed.

Denver, October 1.—Donnelly, the man who was shot at Como recently, died in the hospital to-day. Shortly after death his body literally fell to pieces and a coroner's inquest cannot be held.

Holocaut.

Centralia, Kas., Oct. 1.—Mr. Dewale's house, five miles south, was blown down, and himself, wife and four children burned in the ruins.

Terrible Railway Collision.

Detroit, October 1.—The accident on the Great Western railway between Aymer and Orwell was worse than indicated by the first reports, and altogether unaccountable. The conductor of the excursion train had orders to meet the freight train at Aymer, but being ten minutes ahead of time went on intending to meet the freight at Orwell. The engineer of the latter saw the excursion train approaching and slackened off blow his whistle for several minutes and had his train almost at a standstill. The engineer of the excursion train kept forging ahead regardless of the freight which he must have seen for more than two miles and never blew a whistle or gave the slightest indication that the road was not clear. He kept on at full speed and collided with terrific force with the freight. Five of the ten excursion coaches were telescoped and four occupants were killed outright, and Engineer Walmsley and his son were crushed beneath the engine. About twenty were seriously wounded and a number slightly. The dead, as near as can be ascertained, are Wm. Cook, Aymer; Walmsley and son, St. Thomas; W. J. Hides, Jarvis; a man from Delhi, name unknown, and E. Standley, of Copenhagen. The wounded are, Dennis and wife, Bay City, Mich., badly; Elias Adams and wife, Malahide; R. P. Black, Vienna; a young lady from Bay City, Mich.; Thos. Brown and daughter, Malahide; Frank Mortyson, of Castor Warnock, and Glover Harrison, Aymer.

Washington Advice.

Washington, D. C., October 1.—The Department of State furnishes the following correspondence:

Tokio, September 21st, 1881.—Yoshida, Japanese Minister, Washington:—You are instructed to transmit the following message to the Hon. James G. Blaine, Secretary of State: "We have received with feeling of profound sorrow the telegram from our minister announcing the death of President Garfield. The favorable reports of his condition we have received makes this announcement more unexpected and painful. In the name of His Majesty we tender to you and to the stricken and sadly bereaved family our heartfelt condolence and sympathy. (Signed) INOUE, Minister of Foreign Affairs.

The Secretary of State acknowledges as follows:

Department of State, Washington, D. C., September 29.—Sir,—I embrace the first opportunity afforded by constant pressure of public affairs since the death of President Garfield to tender you and through you to your government the sincere and grateful thanks for the touching messages of sympathy conveyed by yours of the 21st inst. in telegraphic message from his excellency, Mr. Inoue, his Majesty's Minister for Foreign Affairs. In the deep affliction which has befallen us, the grief-stricken family of our chief magistrate, and the mourning people of the United States have found abundant sympathy and no little consolation in eloquent proofs that their loss and ours is sadly deplored throughout the world. Few of the innumerable messages received have more deeply moved the widow and family of the late President than the sincere utterances His Majesty and the government and people of Japan conveyed in Mr. Inoue's dispatch. Accept Sir, on this sad occasion, the renewed assurance of my highest consideration. (Signed) ROBERT R. HITT.

That Struggle with the Mighty Conkling.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—A New York special says: The struggle against Conkling in the Republican ranks of this State still continues without abatement. The selecting delegates to the State Convention now nearly completed in the county districts where the anti-Conkling element gained the ascendancy and indications now are that the delegation from this city will show also a percentage of the same following. In Brooklyn the Stalwart branch will not be able to muster more than half the delegation which is very significant, and taken with the condition of affairs here it will have a marked effect upon the outcome of the convention. The action of the fifth judicial convention at Syracuse where the contesting Conkling delegates from Oneida county were unceremoniously bounced is deemed by those closely familiar with the condition of matters in this State as pointing unmistakably to the fact that the same fate will meet other Conkling delegations and the State Convention will be governed largely by the action of the judicial convention. The anti-Conklingites are, at present, taking the State as a whole, largely in the majority, and the opposition to the ex-Senator's dictation will be made very emphatic when the time arrives.

Naming Streets and Buildings for Garfield.

Chicago, October 1.—The city council to-night changed the name of Sophia street to Garfield avenue. The Board of Education has decided to name a public school "The Garfield School."

Another Indian Outbreak.

San Francisco, October 1.—A Tucson dispatch says the Citizen has the following broke out last night. Several Indians say they went south and the people of Wilcox have been notified to look out for them.

William Berry, of Cincinnati, was engaged to marry the widow Newkirk, and the day appointed for the wedding was close at hand. Mrs. Newkirk's daughter, Clara, came home from a convent school to witness the ceremony. Clara had all of her mother's characteristics and the additional charm of youth. Berry transferred his love to the daughter, and eloped with her.

A Western paper informs its readers that its candidate for Congress slings the most eloquent lip of any man in the State.

The animal carries his tail at the opposite extremity from his head; a man carries his tale in his mouth. And thus does many a man make both ends meet.

Aged and Truthful Daniel Woods.

Daniel Woods, an Indianapolis scissoring grinder, 104 years old, but hale and hearty still, loves to tell how he went from Nova Scotia, where he was born, to England to serve under the Duke of Wellington in all his great campaigns. He took part in over forty battles and skirmishes, including Waterloo. During his long service he received 132 sword cuts, a saber stab in the eye, and eleven gunshot wounds. Since his return to America he has lived in Montreal, St. Albans, Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Indianapolis. He has had seventeen children, of whom the oldest survivor is 89, and the youngest, by a second wife, 23 years old. This is the story which Daniel Woods tells, and if he can go glibly through it without changing color he ought to abandon scissoring grinding and take up diplomacy.

Medical Consultation.

The practice of calling in an additional doctor, when the one already in attendance feels the case becoming grave, has, if the latter is a skilful and experienced man, somewhat the same reason in its favor as parliamentary government. The appearance of doctor the second strengthens the nerves of the patient's family, and sometimes, though not always, those of the attendant physician. The patient himself is generally startled and alarmed by it, in ninety-nine cases out of one hundred it has not, as everybody knows, any influence whatever on the management of the case. The consulting doctor almost always approve of what the other doctor has done; seldom or never does he suggest anything new. But he makes the other doctor decidedly more comfortable in his relations with the family and makes the family comfortable in the feeling that they have left nothing in reason untried.—Naton.

An exquisite once drove up to the door of a country tavern, and addressed a small boy who came to the door as follows:

"Adolescence, extricate my weary quadruped from the vehicle, stabulate him, tender him a sufficient quantity of nutritious aliment, and after a reasonable time has elapsed, and he has ceased transpiring, manipulating his coat meanwhile with a wisp of hay, allow him to quench his thirst with a modicum of aqua pura.

When the aura of morn shall have illumined the Eastern horizon, and I am about to resume my peregrinations, I will amply recompense thee for thy hospitality."

The boy ran to the door and bawled out: "Dad, dad, come out here; there's a Dutchman wants to see you."

Col. Dan. Murphy, of California, is the largest landholder in the world. He owns 4,000,000 acres in one body in Mexico, 65,000 in Nevada, and 23,000 in California. His Mexican land he bought four years ago for $200,000, or five cents an acre. It is sixty miles long, and covers a beautiful country of hill and valley, pine timber and meadow land. It comes within twelve miles of the city of Durango, which is to be a station on the Mexican Central. Mr. Murphy raises wheat on his California land, and cattle on that in Nevada. He got 35,000 sacks last year, and ships 6,000 head of cattle a year right along.

It is learned from the Salt Lake Herald that Galileo discovered Limberger cheese floating through space in 1609, and made an entry in his diary at the time that he thought it in a very poor state of preservation.
