

GAZETTE GLEANINGS.

Nellie Boyd Bon Bons at Carter's. Real estate still booming and booming still.

Calvin Fisk is having the ceiling of his office neatly decorated.

Born to the wife of John Hawkins, of this city, Oct. 24th, a daughter.

The young woman, Lola Baca, who suicided Sunday, was buried yesterday afternoon.

Miss Francisca Warder of Golondrinas was married to Manuel M. Salazar a few days since.

No mail coach on the train from the west yesterday and the one from the east about four hours behind time.

There are several teams in Vegas waiting for the arrival of machinery for the Homestake mine at White Oaks.

Our special correspondent was at the ball at Raton last night and will furnish us full particulars of the doings.

F. L. Warder shot and killed John Webber, son of Frank Webber, the brewer at Golondrinas, on the 15th inst.

An extra coach was attached to the train going east yesterday for the accommodation of persons attending the Raton ball.

Hon. L. Bradford Prince came up from Santa Fe yesterday and stopped over in Las Vegas. The Judge is on his way east to be gone some weeks.

Messrs. Roberts & Wheelock have rented the new building being erected by Judge Prince on Douglass Avenue, and will occupy it as soon as finished.

There is not a foot of land in Las Vegas that cannot be sold for one hundred per cent profit on present prices when another railroad becomes an assured fact.

A first class restaurant on the West Side where one can get good substantial meals cheap, at short notice, and at all hours is one of the most needed improvements.

A. L. Houghton yesterday shot a chicken hawk that will measure about four feet from tip to tip of his wings. When discovered his hawkship was leisurely making a meal off of a mountain gray squirrel.

Lola Baca, a young girl of nineteen or twenty years of age, an inmate of a West Side dano house, terminated her unfortunate life on Sunday afternoon, by taking a large dose of morphine in a glass of whisky.

Marcelina Barcela, wife of Jose Rascon, a wood-chopper at Callas Ranch, some five miles from Silver City, was brutally murdered on last Thursday morning about 8 o'clock. Rascon left his home about four o'clock Thursday morning to take a load of wood into town, leaving his wife, a three year old child and a herder in his employ named Pedro Arvico. Arvico states that he left the ranch shortly after Rascon started, to look after the cattle, and upon returning about 9 o'clock for his breakfast, saw the child covered with blood, and without entering the house ran away to give the alarm.

Down They Go. By special arrangements with publishers after this date we will sell all newspapers and periodicals at publisher's list prices. A large stock of fine stationery and holiday goods at eastern prices. FURLONG & TIGER.

Dr. P. A. Ames won a singular bet yesterday at the depot. Noticing a gentleman who had just arrived on the train, the Dr. offered to bet something that he could name the dentist who had done some work on the gentleman's front teeth; a bystander took the bet and Dr. Ames sought an introduction to the gentleman and verified his surmise and won his bet on his testimony, that the dentist in New York whom Dr. Ames had named did the work. Pretty good guessing that, wasn't it?

Woolen goods, ladies and children's hosiery at a sacrifice, at CHARLES ILFELD'S.

Messrs. A. S. Rankin, W. T. Rudd, Charles Lindsey, H. J. Franklin, Jack Payne, Dr. Gordon, Louis Strauss, and Conductor Bogue; and Misses Hixon, Mitchell, Bogue, Wisner, Schaffer, Fritchard and Jennings and Mesdames Wisner and Bogue, were of the party of Las Vegas people who went up to Raton yesterday to attend the ball, and we were compelled by press of business to exchange the privilege of a ball at Raton for the necessity of a ball at home.

Fine office stationery at FURLONG & TIGER'S.

The woman had evidently been killed with one blow from an axe or other heavy instrument the skull above the temple being badly crushed in and death no doubt was instantaneous. The murder was committed for the purpose of robbery, the house being rifled of everything valuable it contained, including two guns and about one hundred and fifty dollars in money. Arvico was arrested, but there being no evidence to justify his detention, he was released.

The Bankers Daughter.

A large and respectable audience greeted the second appearance of the Nellie Boyd combination at Baca Hall last evening. The play was The Bankers Daughter, and was rendered in good style calling forth rounds of applause and fully meeting the sanguine expectation of all present. Miss Boyd as Florence St. Vincent Brown and Mr. O. L. Hart as G. Washington Phipps, sustained the character they represented admirably and were greeted with applause. The play is a very fine one and, though familiar to theatre goers, this combination gave it a charm that sustained the interest of the audience to the close, and no doubt determined many who went there some what skeptical to attend the performances through the remainder of the week. The combination is really a meritorious one and theatre going people are not likely soon to have a better opportunity to see a good troupe than is afforded by this one. The Millionaire's Daughter will be presented to-night.

See those Christmas goods at FURLONG & TIGER'S.

Prof. Robertson returned Sunday from a two weeks trip to the southern country. He brought with him some very fine specimens of ores of various kinds collected at the different mines he visited, and reports that comparatively little work is being done in consequence of the real or reported proximity of hostile Indians to the mines. During his absence he visited many of the most noted mines in this Territory and the Eureka camp in Old Mexico. The Professor packs his grip and leaves for White Oaks on a tour of inspection to that camp.

Ladies portmonies and work boxes at FURLONG & TIGER'S.

Cards are out for a grand ball to celebrate the second anniversary of the organization of Las Vegas Lodge No. 4, I. O. O. F. There will be a grand street parade in full regalia in the afternoon and the ball will be held in the evening at the Exchange Hotel in West Las Vegas. The respectability and benevolent design of this organization makes the recurring anniversaries of its establishment in Las Vegas events eminently worthy of being kept in remembrance.

From the Mining Chronicle we learn that John Gibbons, otherwise known as Hair Trigger John, was among the victims of the recent Indian outbreak at San Carlos. He was killed at the Point of Mountains after a gallant defense. He came to New Mexico from California in 1862 and soon became famous as a hunter and trapper and as a story-teller he is said to have been second only to Davy Crockett. He was born on Frog Bayou in the State of Arkansas and was about fifty-five years of age.
