No detail as to the evidence they are expected to give can be obtained, but the above named are said to be summoned at the suggestion of the defendant.

News From the Sea of Ice.

San Francisco Nov. 5.—The Schooner Golden Fleece, Jacobsen, master, which left here July 18th with Lieut. Ray and a signal service party to establish a meteorological station at Point Barrow return this morning. Capt. Jacobsen reports that October 7th he spoke the whaling bark Da wa in Behring's straits and learned that in the last part of September the Dawn spoke United States relief steamer Rogers in the Arctic.

Capt. Berry reported in brief that he had completely circumnavigated the so-called Wrangeland, had traded in several places but failed to find any trace of the Jeanette. He intended to winter either on Wrangeland or on the neighboring Siberian coast. Beyond establishing the character of Wrangeland the cruises of the Rogers has so far been barren of results.

Capt. Jacobsen reports that he left the new station, called Ooglatca, five miles west of Point Barrow. All were in the best of health and spirits. The observatory was up before the schooner left and the construction of the main building begun. The natives manifested a friendly disposition. As early as possible next spring Lieut. Ray will begin the exploration of the valley of Copper Mine River, which he believes to have some connection with Yerkoon River. He expects to make the circuit from Copper mine west, coming out at Kutzblue Sound, where the vessel will be awaiting him. Capt. Jacobsen expresses entire unbelief in the story of the wreck of and white men having been seen by natives eastward near Mackenzie River. He heard nothing of the kind when at Point Barrow and is positive that if any such information had existed among the natives of the north coast, it would have come to his knowledge. His theory is that the story referred to the whaler Vigilant, on the Siberian coast. He confirms previous reports of open but very strong seasons in the Arctic.

Lorillard's Sale.

Philadelphia, Nov. 5.—The sale of Pierre Lorillard's brood mares, two years old and yearling took place to-day. The sum total of the sales will not nearly realize anticipations. Merry Lass, by John Morgan, brought $1,600; Hillary, by Bonnie Scotland, $1,050; Chestnut Colt, by Gen. Lyon, $650; Lago, by same sire, $450; Beevose, by Leamington, $500; Nell Gwynne, by Leamington, $400 and Niva, by Saxon, $435.

Hannibal Hamlin off for Spain.

Philadelphia, Nov. 5.—The American line steamer, Illinois, started to-day, having on board Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, United States Minister to Spain, Miss Blaine, daughter of Secretary Blaine and ex-United States Senator John Scott of Pennsylvania, wife and daughter.

Frightful Floods in Honduras.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—A merchant just arrived from Spanish Honduras says 500 lives were lost by the recent floods there, and the losses of livestock, damage to the fruit interest and railroads are estimated at $2,000,000.

Inquest in the Jennie Gilchrist Case.

Rock Island, Nov. 5.—The Coroner's inquest in the case of the steamer Jennie Gilchrist, developed nothing but contradictory testimony as to the conduct of the crew and officers.

Transatlantic. CAN'T ARRANGE A MEETING.

Paris, Nov. 5.—A St. Petersburg correspondent telegraphs it is now evident that Russia has been a dupe of Germany in the matter of the proposed interview between the Czar and the Emperor of Austria. The German party here has done all in its power to prevent the interview and several Hungarian papers, supposed to have been inspired by Bismarck, have engaged in a bitter war of words on the subject with the Russian press. While this quarrel was going on, a meeting of the King of Italy and the Emperor of Austria was quietly arranged. The Russian Government has not concealed its dissatisfaction and an arid communication has been made to the Austrian Ambassador.

He sent a courier from Berlin to Bismarck to inform him that an interview between the Czar and the Emperor of Austria is desired here more than ever. The matter was discussed in secret council Tuesday but serious if not insuperable difficulties seem to be in the way of arrangements. Austria has no pretext for going to the frontier and Czar cannot leave his dominions until after coronations. The Czar will leave Gatchina in five or six weeks for Antokoff, which palace is protected against danger of mines in the surrounding buildings. Prince Orloff has received telegraphic summons to Gatchina.

AN EDITOR IMPRISONED FOR DEFENDING THE RIGHT.

LONDON, Nov. 5.—A Berlin correspondent says: The editor of the Barmen Courier has been sentenced to eighteen months imprisonment for impugning unworthy motives and actions to the Minister of Public Works, and insinuating that Bismarck, as private owner of Varsein, used his public position to circumvent and crush a litigant peasant proprietor. What gives special interest to the case and has caused no little sensation, is that the court departed from all usual practice and decreed the immediate arrest of accused on the ground that there was suspicion that he meditated flight.

Entertaining the French and German Guests.

New York, Nov. 5.—The ball to be given by the commissioners in honor of the French and German guests on the night of the 7th promises to be a grand affair and to bring to a worthy conclusion the series of hospitalities tendered the delegates. President Arthur has been invited and a box has been reserved for him. Gov. Cornell and staff will receive the guests of the nation on the stage at 11 p. m. The ball will then open. With this ball the official entertainments will close and on the next day the French Delegation will depart.

Shocking Crime of a Madman.

DETROIT, Nov. 5.—An awful tragedy occurred two miles south of the village of Capac, St. Clair county, this morning, on the farm of Charles Hibben. The latter, a wealthy farmer, had been partially insane for some time past, but was not considered dangerous. Yesterday he made his will, and this morning attacked and killed his little son, cutting his throat with a razor and nearly severing the head from the body. The victim was a mere baby, being but three years old. The madman finished the awful act by cutting his own throat, dying a few moments after doing the deed. The fact that Hibben had made a will only a day before committing the horrible double crime is taken by many as evidence that the act was premeditated. He was an old resident, widely known throughout that region.

The U. S. military telegraph line, which was the pioneer wire of this section and through which the people of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona have been for the past five years enjoying the cheapest telegraph rates in the United States, is fast becoming a thing of the past. The New Mexico division has been entirely abolished and there are now but three short stretches of the line in that Territory: one from Fort Cummings via Fort Bayard and Silver City to Lordsburg, another from Fort Selden through Las Cruces and Mesilla to this city, and a third to Fort Stanton. The first belongs now to the Arizona division and the others to the Texas division. The wire from Fort Cummings to Mesilla is being taken down. A line has been erected connecting Fort Stanton with the Western Union at Round Mountain on the Jornada; and thus the last military post in the Territory has now telegraphic communication with the outside world. There is, as yet, however, no operator at Round Mountain. From this city south, there is still communication with Denison, but such portions of the line as are reached by the wires along the S. P. and T. & P. railroads will no doubt be abandoned as fast as the other wires reach them, it being the policy of the government not to maintain lines between points which can be reached by the commercial wires.—El Paso Lone Star.

Thomas Nast, the caricaturist, has recently planted $40,000 in a mining venture near Silver Cliff, Colo., which will not even sprout, to say nothing of bringing forth fruit. Thomas takes it coolly, remarking that he has something left to invest in good mining property. He had better try New Mexico next time, where such investments pan out differently from the aforesaid.—Mining News.

The policeman had left his revolver at home, and he needed one to shoot the mad dog. In the emergency he ex-burped "Great heavens! is there a Texas man present?"

Military Orders.

The movement of troops is now the matter attracting most attention of military men, and for that matter the ladies of the army, and affects the future places of residence of the officers of the regiments interested. Within the last day or two a number of orders have been issued, the following being the most interesting of the lot:

Company B, (Lawton's) 4th Cavalry, upon arrival at Fort Craig, will proceed to Fort Stanton, New Mexico, and take station at that post.

Company L, (Wint's) 4th Cavalry, upon arrival at Fort Craig, New Mexico, will proceed to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and report to the commanding officer for duty, leaving Fort Craig so as to reach Fort Leavenworth by November 10.

Colonel L. P. Bradley, 13th Infantry, will proceed to Fort Wingate, New Mexico, and resume command of that post.

Troops A, G and L, 9th Cavalry, are hereby relieved from field duty under Major Henry, 9th Cavalry, in La Luz canon, New Mexico, from which point they will return to their respective stations (A and G to Fort Stanton, and L to Fort Bliss).

In compliance with paragraph 1, special orders No. 216, c. s., department of the Missouri, the following troops of the 9th Cavalry will at once proceed to Caldwell, Kansas, where, upon arrival, they will receive orders from headquarters, department of the Missouri, to proceed to posts in the Indian Territory indicated for them.

Troop F, (Carroll's), from Separ, New Mexico, troops I, (Bennett's) and K, (Parker's), from Fort Wingate, Troop G, (Bacon's), from Fort Stanton, New Mexico.

Troop A, (Cooney's), will at once upon arrival at Fort Stanton proceed via Engle, New Mexico, to Fort Dodge, Kansas, where upon arrival, it will receive orders from headquarters department of the Missouri, to proceed to the post indicated for it.

Troop C, (Beyer's), is hereby relieved from duty at Ojo Caliente, New Mexico, and will at once proceed via Fort Craig and San Marcial, New Mexico, to Caldwell, Kansas, where, upon arrival, it will receive orders from headquarters department of the Missouri, to proceed to the post indicated for it.

Major Guy V. Henry, 9th Cavalry, is hereby relieved from command of troops in the field in La Luz canon, and will at once proceed to Fort Sill, Indian Territory, for duty.

Company C, Indian Scouts, is hereby relieved from field duty under Major Henry, 9th Cavalry, in La Luz canon, New Mexico, and upon the breaking up of that camp will proceed to Fort Stanton, New Mexico, and report to the commanding officer for duty.

So much of paragraph 1, special orders No. 128, c. s., from these headquarters, as directs Lieutenant Emmet, 9th Cavalry, to relieve First Lieutenant J. A. Olmstead, 9th Cavalry, of command of company E, 9th Cavalry, at Fort Cummings, New Mexico, is hereby revoked.

Paragraph 2, and so much of paragraph 3, special orders, No. 129, c. s., from these headquarters, as directs Lieutenant Gustave Velois, 9th Cavalry, is hereby revoked.

The telegraphic instructions of this date, to commanding officer troops in the field, Fort Cummings, New Mexico, to assign First Lieutenant Gustave Velois, 9th Cavalry, upon his arrival at Fort Cummings, to the command of company E, 9th Cavalry, relieving Lieutenant Olmstead, 9th Cavalry, are hereby confirmed.

The telegraphic instructions of the 29th ult., to command officer Fort Craig, to at once send to Ojo Caliente, New Mexico, a detail of one non-commissioned officer and nine privates 23rd Infantry, for guard duty at that place, and further orders, are hereby confirmed.

The written instructions from this office of this date, to Lieutenant Colonel Crofton, 13th Infantry, to forward upon his arrival at Engle four recruits of troop L, 9th Cavalry, to Fort Bliss, Texas, there to await the arrival of troop L at that post, are hereby confirmed.

Glass.

The account of the accidental manner in which glass was discovered is derived from Pliny, though Tacitus gives a similar narration of the circumstance. According to Pliny, some Phoenician merchants, having landed on the coast of Palestine, near the mouth of the River Belus, were preparing for their repast, and not finding any stones on which to place their pots, took some cakes of nitre from their cargo for that purpose. The nitre being thus submitted to the action of fire, with the sand on the shore, they together produced transparent streams of an unknown fluid, and such was the origin of glass.

This statement, with variations, is repeated, on the authority of Flavius Josephus, by Pallas, in his "Trade des Eaux et Fontaines."

"Some say, that the children of Israel having set fire to some forest, the nitre with the sand, so as to make them melt, and run down the slopes of the hills; and that thenceforward they sought to produce artificially what had been effected by accident in making glass."

The commercial telegraph wire has been down for the last three days between Trinidad and this city. This has greatly delayed private messages and press reports as the railroad wire is only available at intervals for other business than that of the railroad. It would seem as though three days would be sufficient to reunite this broken streak of nit but it has not been done. Oh, for a good strong wire that will hold against a slight frost.

The cause of the nine hours' delay of the train from the north yesterday was a freight train off the track at Las Animas, Col.
