

BROWNE & MANZANARES

LAS VEGAS AND SOCORRO, N. M.

Advertisement for clothing and goods, including hats, shoes, and various fabrics.

The Largest Clothing House IN THE TERRITORY.

FINEST ASSORTMENT

Boston Clothing House

NO COMPETITION

LOW PRICES

SEEKING IS BELIEVING!

COHN & BLOCH

P. COGHLIN

BOOTS AND SHOES

L. L. Howison, Manager

MARCUS & CLEMM'S

CLOTHING!

MARCUS & CLEMM

LOCKHART & CO.

HARDWARE

STOVES & FURNITURE

HALF-WAY SAW MILL

Stock Taken in Exchange for Lumber.

Advertisement for a reward and information regarding a robbery.

Advertisement for a reward and information regarding a robbery.

Advertisement for a reward and information regarding a robbery.

Advertisement for a reward and information regarding a robbery.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH

The Latest Intelligence From the National Capital.

Continuation of the Argument in the Star Route Cases.

How a Reduction in the Whiskey Tax is Regarded by Revenue Officers.

Another Detestible Example of Devilish Democratic Obstinacy.

Hebbs Consummates the Heaviest Corn Transactions of Record.

How the Holding off of Vesselmen were Hurt by His Cunning.

Tricky Tammany's Trial to Trample Honesty in the Dirt.

By Trading and Treating With Tricky Republicans.

A Mob at Tiffin, Ohio, 'Stood Off' by Faithful Officers.

Dishonest Newark Bankers Fail to Secure Bondsman.

The Closing of the N. Y. Canvass Leave the Democrats Buoyant.

Washington City Advises.

THE STAR ROUTE CASES.

Washington, Nov. 7.—The star route case to-day argument was resumed on the motion to quash the information. Cook opposed it, he said where frauds occurred this method of information had prevailed for many years. Cookhill made a personal examination of the criminal Court, this morning, that he had not been consulted by the Attorney-General in the preparation of the star route cases and was not responsible for them. On September 24 he called on MacVeagh and asked if he had any business for the Grand Jury in connection with the star route cases. The Attorney-General said since the President's assassination he had not considered the cases and knew nothing of them, and that Cookhill need not bother himself about them, and that he would be sent for by the proper person when he was wanted. Cookhill therefore dismissed the jury for which he had been so much blamed, and by which action the filing of an information was made necessary. On the 25th of September he called with Cook to see MacVeagh to sign criminal information and protest against the insinuations of MacVeagh against him and said if he would state the facts it would please him.

THE WHISKEY TAX.

The internal revenue does not favor a fifty cent tax on whiskey. The Commissioner's report will not oppose it directly. His report will show revenue directors that the reduction of the tax will cut down without benefitting either producer or consumer. The revenue officers regard the movement for reduction as one of the middle men who would make all the profits. The whiskey trade also opposes the reduction as it would demoralize trade, since millions of dollars worth of corn, wheat and other products are raised in the interest of the lobby with plenty of money to back them. The Treasurer and internal revenue officers will fight it.

Gigantic Grain Transaction.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—The Inter Ocean has this interesting history. During October J. B. Hobbs, of this city, bought and sold 60,000 bushels of corn, the largest grain deal ever made or conceived by one man or firm. He signed checks for $1,000,000 while making this deal. The check was cashed at the bank during October, he had some 3,000,000 bushels of corn ready for shipment, all that the vessels could do for the rest of the fall. He offered them three cents a bushel to carry the corn to Buffalo. Vesselmen held off for three and one-half cents, and after consulting together peremptorily declined his offer. The decision was terrible. Within one hour the railways learned of it and offered to carry the corn to Buffalo for seven cents per bushel, which sum was to include the three cents terminal charges. It was an unprecedented offer which no man could refuse and Mr. Hobbs's principals telegraphed to him to accept it. The offer was taken and in a twinkling vesselmen found the most gigantic game on which the eyes of an old salt were ever laid. They had kicked their opportunity from their own grasp. They have since come down to three cents, two cents, one and one-half cents, one cent, and even offered vessels free so as to have ballast and are now stripping for winter, having refused work enough to occupy every vessel on the lake till winter.

Peenlar Convention.

Madison Ind., Nov. 7.—August Deane delegate to the late Mississippi River Convention, in St. Louis, publishes another letter saying that the convention was only an ovation to Captain Eads to create a sentiment in his favor and to elect Campbell to Congress for the purpose of appropriating money to Eads' system in the north portion of the river.

Another Failure.

Newark, Nov. 7.—Another failure occurred to-day, resulting from the bank failure. Hanson & Vanwinkle, wholesale dealers in chemicals, notify their creditors that they will be unable to meet their obligations, and will soon offer terms of compromise.

Fails to Find Bondsman.

New York, Nov. 7.—Cashier Baldwin's bail is being raised to $100,000 and bondsman are being sought for that amount. The Defaulting Clerk of the Mechanic's Bank, bail has been fixed at $10,000. He can not get bondsman.

Mob Violence.

Tiffin, Ohio, Nov. 7.—The jail officers and police repelled a mob of several hundred who would have lynched Madden for killing Phoebe Bernhard. The militia were ordered out and warrants issued for the ring leaders of the mob.

Tammany Trials.

New York, Nov. 7.—The Herald and Telegram profess to have discovered evidence of extensive corrupt bargaining between Tammany Mayor Grace for a license of the former say the boss is trading off all his other candidates to the Republicans in the hope of obtaining control of the board of aldermen and blackmailing Mayor Grace for a division of the patronage with Tammany. Surrogate Calvin is offered as a victim of this purpose.

The Telegram says it is no exaggeration to say that not a single one of the 678 election districts in the city will be exempt from the "sinking" process tomorrow. In more than a hundred of the assembly districts the bunching on tickets has been completed.

The Tammany boss has laid the foundation of the trading scheme with the aldermen. Commencing with the State he has selected Parcell and Evershed, who are the only adherents of Tammany in the district, for support, the remainder of the ticket to go by the board. Husted and Davenport are concerned deeply in this deal and the former in return for Tammany support in this city has engaged to aid in securing Tammany a Republican board of Aldermen to thwart the combination of Mayor Grace's nominees.

And this continue men like Commissioner Nichols in power. A well known Tammany nominee for civil justice has also concluded to contract with the State. Commissioner Patterson, Mike Cregg, Commissioner Bullard, by which he will undertake to deliver the Democratic vote to aid the canvass.

Democratic Buoyancy.

New York, Nov. 7.—The Evening Post's Albany special says the campaign closes quietly at the State capital. At the Democratic headquarters nothing is doing to-day. The Democrats generally feel confident of carrying the State. The Republicans are despondent. No one cares to be responsible for a prediction.

Fashionable Dress Making.

Mrs. J. A. Dryden wishes to inform the ladies of Las Vegas and vicinity, who are prepared to do all kinds of work in her line. Satisfaction guaranteed. She will also trim hats and bonnets and do stamping. Rooms in Klattenhoff's residence, east of the bridge. 11-82w.

Democratic Obstinacy.

Washington, Nov. 7.—It is considered certain that the Democratic Senators will oppose any attempt to admit Dakota into the Union regardless of the feelings of the people of that Territory have to the full rights of American citizenship.

Hannibal & St. Joe.

Hannibal, Nov. 7.—The annual meeting of the Directors of Hannibal & St. Joe road was held to-day. Ninety-six thousand shares of stock were voted. Jay Gould and Russel Sage retire from the directorate by their own request.

Tunnel Sites and Blind Lodes.

The Commissioner of the General Land office has decided that the proposed tunnel apply only when blind lodes are sought to be discovered. And he has also decided that where a party runs a tunnel to develop a known ledge already discovered, no more money is required, and a tunnel location need not be made.

By an act of Congress, approved February 11, 1875, it is provided that "where a person or company has or may run a tunnel for the purpose of developing a lode or lodes owned by said person or company, the money so expended in said tunnel shall be taken and considered as expended on said lode, whether located prior or since the passage of said act (May 10, 1872) and such person or company shall not be required to perform work on the surface of said lode or lodes, to hold the same as required by said act."

When a tunnel is run for the purpose of developing a lode, the provision section 2323, Revised Statutes, it is proper, and the regulations require, that notice of such tunnel shall be given, in order that other persons may not prospect for lodes along the line of such tunnel, which by law are vested in the tunnel claimants so long as they shall prosecute the tunnel with due diligence.

But these instructions are not applicable to tunnels run in accordance with the act of August 11, 1875, for the purpose of developing lodes already discovered and located.

President Arthur's Policy.

When President Hayes realized what an annoyance it was to a new President to have so many Federal offices become vacant at the beginning of an administration, he sought to inaugurate a reform by which the appointments to important offices would be deferred until the President had been in office seven or eight months, and the United States Attorneys and Marshals were among the number. President Arthur, who has been in office a little over a month, has decided to bury the law with appointments until the regular session of Congress. The law confers upon the Circuit Judges authority to fill vacancies, and the Assistant Justices of the Supreme Court holding the circuit, are now busy signing the commissions to the temporary appointees.

EX-SENATOR HOWE, OF WISCONSIN, who is at Manitou Springs, in Colorado, in a letter just received here, alludes to the association of his name with a Cabinet position, but says he has no knowledge of such honor having been tendered by the President.

A Good Name.

We once visited a public school. At recess a little fellow came up and spoke to the teacher. As he turned to go down the platform the master said, "This is a boy I can trust." We followed him with our eye and looked at him when he took his seat after recess. He had a fine, open, manly face. We thought a good deal about the master's remark. What a character had that boy earned. He had already gotten what would be worth more to him than a fortune. It would be a passport into the best store in the city, and what a better, into the confidence and respect of the whole community. We wonder if the boys know how soon they are rated by other people. Every boy in the neighborhood is known and opinions are formed of him; he has a character all over him. He who is faithful to a boy of whom the master can say, "I can trust him, he never failed me," will never want employment. The fidelity, promptness and industry which he shows in school are in demand and prized everywhere. He who is faithful in little will be faithful in much.

Guiteau's Alleged Literary Work.

Guiteau maintains his opposition to any defense on the ground of insanity. He occupies his time in reading and writing and talking to everyone who gives him a chance to say anything. His attorney, Mr. Sewell, gives him a few newspapers, but is careful to limit the number, as Guiteau becomes excited, and would insist upon discussing everything he read. Guiteau just now is deeply absorbed in the study of his favorite "Truth, a Companion to the Bible." He reads and re-reads its pages with deep interest, and is ever ready to expatiate upon its merits and the influence which such a work should exercise upon the public mind.

Whitecap, Seattle, visited jail to-day he found Guiteau with the book in his hand. Guiteau called his attention to the passage which reads: "For thirty years on bank and on sea, in daily exposure to death, Paul knew not neither interruption nor decay."

"Listen to that."

IT IS MY CASE EXACTLY," said Guiteau. "My experience in lecturing was the same as Paul's, but mine did not have the same effect as his. Like Paul, I was hungry and had to undergo a great many privations."

Whitecap, Seattle, visited jail to-day he found Guiteau with the book in his hand. Guiteau called his attention to the passage which reads: "For thirty years on bank and on sea, in daily exposure to death, Paul knew not neither interruption nor decay."

"Listen to that."

IT IS MY CASE EXACTLY," said Guiteau. "My experience in lecturing was the same as Paul's, but mine did not have the same effect as his. Like Paul, I was hungry and had to undergo a great many privations."

Whitecap, Seattle, visited jail to-day he found Guiteau with the book in his hand. Guiteau called his attention to the passage which reads: "For thirty years on bank and on sea, in daily exposure to death, Paul knew not neither interruption nor decay."

"Listen to that."

IT IS MY CASE EXACTLY," said Guiteau. "My experience in lecturing was the same as Paul's, but mine did not have the same effect as his. Like Paul, I was hungry and had to undergo a great many privations."

Whitecap, Seattle, visited jail to-day he found Guiteau with the book in his hand. Guiteau called his attention to the passage which reads: "For thirty years on bank and on sea, in daily exposure to death, Paul knew not neither interruption nor decay."

"Listen to that."

IT IS MY CASE EXACTLY," said Guiteau. "My experience in lecturing was the same as Paul's, but mine did not have the same effect as his. Like Paul, I was hungry and had to undergo a great many privations."

Whitecap, Seattle, visited jail to-day he found Guiteau with the book in his hand. Guiteau called his attention to the passage which reads: "For thirty years on bank and on sea, in daily exposure to death, Paul knew not neither interruption nor decay."

"Listen to that."

IT IS MY CASE EXACTLY," said Guiteau. "My experience in lecturing was the same as Paul's, but mine did not have the same effect as his. Like Paul, I was hungry and had to undergo a great many privations."

Whitecap, Seattle, visited jail to-day he found Guiteau with the book in his hand. Guiteau called his attention to the passage which reads: "For thirty years on bank and on sea, in daily exposure to death, Paul knew not neither interruption nor decay."

"Listen to that."

IT IS MY CASE EXACTLY," said Guiteau. "My experience in lecturing was the same as Paul's, but mine did not have the same effect as his. Like Paul, I was hungry and had to undergo a great many privations."

Whitecap, Seattle, visited jail to-day he found Guiteau with the book in his hand. Guiteau called his attention to the passage which reads: "For thirty years on bank and on sea, in daily exposure to death, Paul knew not neither interruption nor decay."

"Listen to that."

IT IS MY CASE EXACTLY," said Guiteau. "My experience in lecturing was the same as Paul's, but mine did not have the same effect as his. Like Paul, I was hungry and had to undergo a great many privations."

Whitecap, Seattle, visited jail to-day he found Guiteau with the book in his hand. Guiteau called his attention to the passage which reads: "For thirty years on bank and on sea, in daily exposure to death, Paul knew not neither interruption nor decay."

"Listen to that."

IT IS MY CASE EXACTLY," said Guiteau. "My experience in lecturing was the same as Paul's, but mine did not have the same effect as his. Like Paul, I was hungry and had to undergo a great many privations."

Whitecap, Seattle, visited jail to-day he found Guiteau with the book in his hand. Guiteau called his attention to the passage which reads: "For thirty years on bank and on sea, in daily exposure to death, Paul knew not neither interruption nor decay."

"Listen to that."

IT IS MY CASE EXACTLY," said Guiteau. "My experience in lecturing was the same as Paul's, but mine did not have the same effect as his. Like Paul, I was hungry and had to undergo a great many privations."

Whitecap, Seattle, visited jail to-day he found Guiteau with the book in his hand. Guiteau called his attention to the passage which reads: "For thirty years on bank and on sea, in daily exposure to death, Paul knew not neither interruption nor decay."

"Listen to that."

IT IS MY CASE EXACTLY," said Guiteau. "My experience in lecturing was the same as Paul's, but mine did not have the same effect as his. Like Paul, I was hungry and had to undergo a great many privations."

Whitecap, Seattle, visited jail to-day he found Guiteau with the book in his hand. Guiteau called his attention to the passage which reads: "For thirty years on bank and on sea, in daily exposure to death, Paul knew not neither interruption nor decay."

"Listen to that."

IT IS MY CASE EXACTLY," said Guiteau. "My experience in lecturing was the same as Paul's, but mine did not have the same effect as his. Like Paul, I was hungry and had to undergo a great many privations."

Whitecap, Seattle, visited jail to-day he found Guiteau with the book in his hand. Guiteau called his attention to the passage which reads: "For thirty years on bank and on sea, in daily exposure to death, Paul knew not neither interruption nor decay."

"Listen to that."

IT IS MY CASE EXACTLY," said Guiteau. "My experience in lecturing was the same as Paul's, but mine did not have the same effect as his. Like Paul, I was hungry and had to undergo a great many privations."

Whitecap, Seattle, visited jail to-day he found Guiteau with the book in his hand. Guiteau called his attention to the passage which reads: "For thirty years on bank and on sea, in daily exposure to death, Paul knew not neither interruption nor decay."

"Listen to that."

IT IS MY CASE EXACTLY," said Guiteau. "My experience in lecturing was the same as Paul's, but mine did not have the same effect as his. Like Paul, I was hungry and had to undergo a great many privations."

Whitecap, Seattle, visited jail to-day he found Guiteau with the book in his hand. Guiteau called his attention to the passage which reads: "For thirty years on bank and on sea, in daily exposure to death, Paul knew not neither interruption nor decay."

"Listen to that."

The Commercial Traveler.

What would I do without "the boys?" How often they have been my friends. I go into a new town. I don't know one hotel from another. I don't know where to go. The man with the samples gets off at the station. I follow him without a word or a tremor. He calls to the "bus driver by name and orders him to "get out of this" as soon as we are seated. And when I follow him I am inevitably certain to go to the best house there is in the place. He shouts to a clerk by name and fires a joke at the landlord as we go in. He looks over my shoulder as I register after him, and hands me his card with a shout of recognition. He peeps at the register again and watches the clerk assign me to 98. "Ninety-nothing!" he shouts. "Who's in 15?" The clerk says he is saving 15 for Judge Draydust. Well, he blows my nose, says my cherry friend, "Give him the attic and put this gentleman in 15. And if the clerk hesitates, he seizes the pen and gives me fifteen himself; and then he calls the porter, orders him to carry up the baggage and put it in 15, and then in the same breath adds: "What time will you be down to supper, Mr. Burdette?" And he waits for me, and, seeing that I am a stranger in the town, he sees that I am cared for, and that the waiters do not neglect me; he tells me about the town, the people and the business. He is breezy, chummy, sociable, full of new stories, always good natured; he frisks with cigars and overflows with thousand-mile tickets; he knows all the best hotels in all the hotels; he always has a key for the car seat, and turns a seat for himself and friend without troubling the brakeman, but he will ride on the woodbox or stand outside to accommodate a lady, or he will give his seat to an old man. I know him pretty well. For three years I have traveled with him, from Colorado to Maine, and I have seen the worst and best of him, and I know the best far outweighs the worst. I could hardly get along without him, and I am glad he is numerous. —Burdette.

The peculiar mining of Henry Jope, briefly indicated by a Leadville telegram as swindling, yielded him $18,000 before his system was exposed. Most of the ore taken out of the Leadville mines is sold to the reduction companies, who extract the ore by means of improved machinery. The price is determined by taking a narrow lead of fair samples from various parts of the lot, running it through the mill, and submitting some of the powder to two assayers—one in the interest of the seller, and the other an employee of the buyer. Jope took a hundred tons of very low grade to a reduction factory, was present at the assaying, and managed to drop some pulverized silver into the sample powder. The assay was thus made to fix $18,000 as the worth of the ore, and he was paid this amount. Jope made haste to attempt the same swindle in another establishment, watched through peep-holes, and caught dropping the silver from the bow of a pipe, which he had been pretending to smoke. He had planned to clear $100,000 by his swindle, and then quit Leadville.

Some recent experiments by Herr Stebler show that the views held by some botanists that light has no direct effect on germination must be modified. He finds that the germination of certain agricultural grasses, such as meadow grass, is much more favored by light than heat. An experiment made with two groups, of 400 seed each, showed that there germinated 62 per cent in light and 43 per cent in darkness. Similar results were obtained with some other grasses, showing 50 per cent germinating in light and 7 per cent in darkness. Sunlight being a very variable force, experiments were made with gaslight, and with the same result, viz. that light favors the germination of certain seeds, especially grasses, and that these germinate either not at all, or very scantily in darkness. The fact was verified by Herr Stebler in a whole series of seeds. In the case of seeds that germinate quickly and easily, such as clover, beans or peas, Herr Stebler thinks that light is probably not advantageous.

The famous Dalrymple farm of 75,000 acres in Dakota, is really made up of smaller farms, with separate owners; but all is under the management of Oliver Dalrymple, who owns 4,000 acres outright and is likely to soon become a half owner of the rest. When he assumed charge of the proprietors of the various tracts put in the land at a fair valuation and money enough to improve it, charging eight per cent on the whole investment. The important provision was that when the profits reached over and above the eight per cent a year, a sum sufficient to repay the entire outlay, half the land should be his. At the time it was not supposed that much, if any more than the premium per cent could be derived from the farm, but the crops have been heavy, and nothing but a serious mishap will prevent Dalrymple from realizing his hopes within two or three years.

Almost a Blaze.

About 4 o'clock Sunday morning flames were discovered issuing from the roof of Wm. Keese's blacksmith shop, corner of Railroad and Douglas Avenues. Browne & Manzanares' night watchman was first upon the ground, and sounded the alarm, and the flames were soon put out. There can be no doubt but that the fire was started by an incendiary. A kerosene can, out of which a quantity had been taken, was found in close proximity to where the fire started. A bunch of burnt shavings were found under a bench, and matches were strewn on the sidewalk outside. The parties who did the work, and their motives for it could not be ascertained. It is supposed by some that sneak thieves had in view the plying of their business and tried to have a blaze in order to attract attention from other quarters.

President Arthur yesterday issued a proclamation setting apart Thursday, November 24th as a National day of thanksgiving and prayer.

The traveling public will find every thing first-class at the Grand View Hotel.

Champagne cocktails 25 cents, at Bily's. 7-14-f

A BARGAIN.

I have nine lots left in Martine addition near the railroad depot. Will close them out at a bargain. J. J. FITZGERRELL.

J. J. FITZGERRELL, THE LIVE REAL ESTATE MAN

Las Vegas, N. M.

The annual report of the Pension Bureau shows that on the 30th of June, 1881, there were 268,830 pensioners, a net increase during the year of 18,028. The aggregate annual value of all pensions is $28,749,967. The annual disbursements of the office, however, will largely exceed this sum. For instance, the total amount paid for pensions during the year (exclusive of certain arrearage in claims allowed prior to Jan. 25th, 1879) was $16,723,147, the difference being accounted for arrears of pensions or "accrued pensions," covering periods dating back to the discharge in each case of a soldier still living, and on claims of widows or minor children of dead soldiers.

A Rare Chance.

$1,000—A big nice choice building lots, centrally located. Will sell singly for $125 to $250. Two lots for a nice two-room house $450 with kitchen. This is a bargain. $21,000—Will buy two houses with three lots, fronting the Park. A great bargain. Renting for $20.00 a month.

A RARE CHANCE. Will sell a valuable interest in a large mine and mill, machinery at a great bargain on account of sickness. Inquire of J. J. Fitzgerald, the live real estate man.

$1250—Will buy an elegant four room house in the live real estate man.

$400—Will buy four residence lots.

$650—Will buy a nice residence on Main Street renting for $14 a month.

$500—Will buy a nice four room house renting for $20 a month.

$1800—Will buy a good hotel on Railroad Avenue, renting at $50 per month.

$2500—A good business house on Railroad Avenue, renting for $100 a year.

$1900—Will buy one of the best business houses in Las Vegas, renting for $100 a year.

$11—ELEVEN DOLLARS a month for Twenty Months will pay for a choice lot.

$250 MONTHLY PAYMENTS. $250 will buy a one room house with a splendid lot centrally located. Enquire.

FOR LEASE—Four lots on Douglas and Main Avenues, with a good water supply.

450 DOLLARS will buy the Best Beds, Bedding, Crockery, Glassware, and Sewing and general household goods. A lot can be had for one lot at low rent; has plenty of rooms and is well located.

30,000 DOLLARS will buy a fine stock farm of 30,000 acres; one of the best cattle ranges in the Territory.

4,000 DOLLARS will buy a fine stock farm, 4,000 acres, with a splendid lot near the city.

1500 DOLLARS will buy a splendid new residence, six rooms, two lots fronting on Main Street. Rent for $20 per month.

WILL EXCHANGE farms and town property in Kansas and Illinois for real estate in Las Vegas.

12,000 DOLLARS will buy by a first class cattle range that will range 20,000 head of cattle.

HOTEL FOR SALE OR RENT. For particulars apply to J. J. Fitzgerald, the live real estate man.

6,000 DOLLARS WILL BUY BY WAHMAN, living out of country, 600 acres of fine land, with a fine stock farm, with a splendid lot near the city.

25,000 DOLLARS will buy one of the best stock farms in the Territory, with all kinds of stock, and a splendid water dam. This is a magnificent stock farm, with all kinds of stock, and a splendid water dam. This is a magnificent stock farm, with all kinds of stock, and a splendid water dam.

70,000 DOLLARS will buy one of the largest and best agricultural stock ranges in the Territory, with all kinds of stock, and a splendid water dam. This is a magnificent stock farm, with all kinds of stock, and a splendid water dam.

$450—Will buy a good new three room house and two lots near the city.

20,000 DOLLARS will buy a fine stock farm, 20,000 acres, with a splendid lot near the city.

$325—WILL BUY A GOOD FOUR ROOM HOUSE, with a splendid lot near the city.

ONE OF THE BEST BUSINESS HOUSES IN THE CITY FOR SALE.

For sale, a fine and beautiful garden farm, very cheap, two miles from the city.

One of the most beautiful in New Mexico. A rare chance for a gardener and florist to make a fortune.

I have for sale in