The Great Burn.

New York, Dec. 12.—The Herald's Vienna special says not until twenty minutes after the fire broke out did the police have any idea any one was left in the Ring Theatre and indeed not even dream of examining the auditorium.

When they attempted to make a search they could not even reach the Parquette, one story above the ground, because of bodies blocking up the narrow stairway.

They had no idea of the exact catastrophe until the people themselves reported the absence of friends and relations next morning.

The firemen employed at the theatre ran away on the breaking out of the fire, also the actors and workmen fled without giving the audience the slightest warning.

Without a single preventive measure for safety, the audience had been taken. The only man who did his duty was a man who turned off the gas to prevent explosions.

A lady who escaped from the theatre and implored the people to endeavor to save others was considered mad and forced by the police to cease her entreaties.

Will Not Go to New York.

New York, Dec. 12.—The Post's Washington special says: It was stated at the White House this morning that the report that the President would spend the holidays in New York is incorrect.

The President is overworked with business and will gladly avail himself of any temporary absence of Congress and office seekers to bring up his arrears of work.

There are many subjects to which he wishes especially to devote his attention which he has not yet been able to consider owing to the demands upon his time.

A Senate aide says that one of the remaining Cabinet nominations one at least will be made on the recommendation of General Grant and he thought the selection would be Beale or Chaffee.

Philadelphia, Dec. 12.—The funeral of John W. Forney took place at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Many citizens were present, and the funeral was a grand affair. It took place in West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

He is supposed to have gone to Kansas City. Officers are after him.

Fatal Stabbing.

San Francisco, Dec. 12.—Last night at Visitation Valley, this county, Peter Pestarini called upon a young girl to whom he was attached.

The upper house of Reichstag has voted 50,000 florins in aid of the sufferers from the theatre fire.

A large number of people attending the great funeral of the victims of the fire to the cemetery to-day was only moderate.

An immense concourse of people were present this morning at the St. Stephen's church, where solemn mass was celebrated for the purpose of the souls of the Vienna fire.

The cathedral was entirely draped in black and catafalque erected which was surrounded with plants and candles. The clergy entered the cathedral in the procession followed by the crown prince, arch duke and members of the imperial house, members of the reichstag, representatives of the army, civil servants and the clergy, etc.

James Will Not Accept a Cabinet Position.

Cheyenne, Dec. 12.—Senator Jones, of Nevada, passed east to-day en route to Washington with his family. The editor of the Leader in an interview asked if he would accept a cabinet appointment to which he replied that he would not, and stated that he advised Arthur not to make the mistake of Garfield and take the cabinet from the Senate. He thought it wrong to appoint Senators because of the obligation to retain them and the uncertainty of the cabinet term.

Senator Jones expressed a belief that the President would adhere to the true Republican idea, accepting testimony of Senators and representatives and responding to appointments of men on the theory that they represent the people who elected them.

The Senator further expressed opposition to the views of Secretary Folger respecting the retirement of silver from circulation.

It will never be accomplished till the earth, a useless under, idly floats in space. Art, literature, the drama, will preserve the name.
