

BREAKFAST BRIEFS

A complete collection of News Items and Happenings of the Day.

Found an oyster in my soup. Baby mine, baby mine! And I swallowed it with a whoop. Baby mine, baby mine.

I stands for lunatics who vote for Luna.

Mrs. M. B. Crawford writes the only readable articles that are published in the Optic.

We are having more job printing than we can do although running both a day and night force.

The theatre season will soon commence. Several first-class companies are headed this way.

Charles Gentle says business is picking up every day. Charley will be starting a bank next.

The Optic objects to our puffing Denver business houses. It reminds us of the fable of the fox and the grapes.

Fred Hooper sold his live stock in Kansas City for $46 per head net. Studebaker is rejoicing over the event.

Four new subscriptions were received yesterday from Denver and twenty-seven from the north part of the territory.

"Ten thousand election tickets." Why we have printed four times that amount and will put it up to 100,000 before we quit.

Chris Sellman was the lucky man in a raffle at his place last night for a silver pitcher. The largest throw with dice being forty-one.

Mrs. Bartlett and two children, who have been visiting Conductor Bogner's family during the summer, left for St. Louis, Missouri, yesterday.

We have just received a beautiful poem from one of our lady possessors entitled, "Clothe me in Dreams." Oh, now, see here dear—that's too thin.

Gross, Blackwell & Co. offer special inducements to buyers every Saturday. They have an immense stock of goods which it will pay anyone to examine.

Morris Simon, clerk in I. Stern's clothing store, has arranged things to perfection in the way of displaying goods. Morris is an artist at the business.

The Odd Fellows had a big celebration at their hall last night in honor of their third anniversary. Quite a crowd was present and a general good time was enjoyed.

As it is getting toward the last days for registering to-day should be set apart for each voter to see that he is registered, and to get all his friends to register. Make it the first duty this morning.

The Luna ratification meeting is being postponed in order to drum up enough bummers to make a respectable showing. They have already chartered one saloon for the occasion.

Mrs. Schuster, a very nice looking lady, wife of Albert Schuster, who was arrested and sent to jail on the charge of embezzlement, is in very bad health and it is feared that the trouble will be very fatal to her.

M. D. Marcus has returned from Kingston to remain until about the second of November, when he will again visit his branch house there. He shipped a bill of goods to that point to-day, amounting to over a thousand dollars.

The street railroad has been extended from the Kansas Farm hotel as far as the creek. It is the intention of the company to continue the extension until we have a complete circuit, connecting with the old town road near the car stables.

Calvin Fisk received a letter yesterday from Charles E. Toft, who is now in Sweden on a pleasure trip. The letter was on the road twenty-six days from the time of mailing. What if a fellow had a girl over there, and was dead stuck, wouldn't it be awful to wait on answers?

The astute city editor of the "democrats' own" either draws too heavily upon his imagination, or scrap book, or both, to make a success of his vocation in life.—Optic. Never mind, Willie. As soon as you get acquainted in the city, you'll catch on. Come go around with us some day, and we will show you how it is done.

A lady who is very uncertain about the use of the proper word, was consulting another in the city yesterday in the loss of her husband: "Never mind my dear, we must all suffer. Think of it in a christian light. We must go long sooner or later. Console yourself with the reflection that it will all be for the best. Good bye, my dear, I will call around again when you are more constipated."

The parlor barber shop received a dispatch last evening to have two or three first-class workmen sent to the Springs. The railroad excursionists, sixty in number, having learned of the beauty of our ladies, wished to appear as if they were the best of the best.

There was quite a commotion on Railroad avenue yesterday afternoon caused by the antics of a mischievous canine. Two ladies drove up to Jaffa Bros. and purchased some articles and then entered their carriage, which was waiting. A little dog which was probably the pride of the family, seeing that each of the ladies had a package in their hands, grabbed one that was lying on a chair in the store and bounded away. It took about a dozen men and all the persuasion the ladies could command to get him to give the bundle up.

A cannon ball was sent to the Smithsonian Institute Washington yesterday, which was picked upon the Glorieta battle field by Chas. C. Hall of this paper.

This is One Way.

He got off the train from the north yesterday noon. He did not appear to care very much where he strolled, and as he was sauntering up and down the platform, we dared to approach him.

"Good evening, my friend. May we presume upon your good nature and generally so far as to ask you a few questions?"

"You may, sir, and fear not that your interrogation will be treated with indifference."

"May I ask you how you manage to ride under that car?"

"Oh! with pleasure. Your question is perfectly the proper thing. Excuse me—ah! thanks; good cigar, that. Yes, certainly, put that one in my pocket. Smoke it on the road. Well, you see, gentlemen of the road care very little how we travel, so we finally get somewhere. I ride under that car by gracefully stretching my valuable body on that cross-beam, resigning myself to the luxury of the rattling wheels and by considering that happiness is only contentment, go right along with the vehicle."

"But, my dear sir, how do you avoid the conductor?"

"Avoid the conductor? Why, there is nothing easier, my boy. You will observe that I always travel on the rear car. You may think this is for style, but I assure you there is nothing farther from my intentions. I ride on that last coach, so that I can step out every time we stop at a station. I then watch the conductor from afar, whistle a tune of home and hold myself in readiness to jump her again when the said conductor mounts the smoker. Nothing like it, my boy."

Just then the bell began to ring, the train started, and our friend glided gracefully to his place under the Pullman palace.

Communication.

To the Editor of the GAZETTE: LAS VEGAS, Oct 27, 1882.—I understand that it is being reported among the voters of Las Vegas, that I have been urged to run for the office of county clerk for the purpose of defeating certain candidates. To all those holding this view, I wish to say that I have not been at any time solicited to make the race, but announced myself an independent candidate, before some of the conventions were held and can truthfully say that whether I am elected or not I shall respect my opponents as friends and honest men, and feel myself above mud throwing or using fraudulent measures to secure an election. For one of my opponents that I am acquainted with I have the deepest respect and believe him to be an honest, upright man, but at the same time reserve the right of a citizen to get there if possible, trusting to the friendly aid of all friends, irrespective of parties, and so far as I am concerned, I can only say that I have no private or personal ends to promote, and shall be the same man as a candidate, as I expect to be after elected, honest fair and just to all parties, regardless of whether I receive their suffrage or not.

Very respectfully,
A. PAUL CRAWFORD.

Dan I. Hoskins, bookkeeper at the San Miguel bank, returned from the south yesterday morning. While at Albuquerque he met Governor Sheldon and conversed with that gentleman on many matters of interest to the territory. The Governor expresses himself as very proud of the present status of our militia and the efforts that are being made by the new companies to perfect themselves in military drill and discipline. Governor Sheldon says that he intends to have three new regiments formed and will make the headquarters of one of these at Las Vegas. Captain Whitmore is our choice for major, and so the Governor was informed by Mr. Hoskins. Captain Barredale, commander of the Albuquerque company, was also seen by Mr. Hoskins, and he reports his company ready at any time to compete for that prize flag, which was won by them at the fair in September. We do not see why one of our companies cannot go down and see the worthy Captain and his invincibles about this little matter. The Albuquerque company are reported to be perfect in the manual of arms. That's a pretty big report. The bible doubts the ability of humanity to reach this stage in life, and we suppose it also refers to military maneuvers. We will run down some day and get a few pointers.

We notice that persons who are engaged by the city to attend to sick at the hospital, are still promenading the streets, shaking hands and conversing with everyone they meet. We know that there are very few, if any cases of contagious diseases in the city only but suppose that there is one, and is not that sufficient to make a thousand, if this thing is not stopped? Simply because nurses and other employees of the hospital are not afraid of these diseases, does that give them the right to promenade our streets and assist in spreading the disease. The new city physician should see that it is stopped. It is much better to stop the thing before it gets a hold than to neglect these precautions and have a repetition of the last year's scourge.

The Ball.

Last night the Montezuma hotel was all ablaze with brilliancy. The entertainment given to the railroad magnates, who are scouring through this portion of the country, was elegant beyond anything since the grand opening of that hotel. Our best people were there with their wives and sweethearts. Everyone expresses themselves as highly delighted, and the young ladies say that these general freight agents are without doubt, the finest looking body of men that has ever visited us. Take that home to your wives.

Resignation. LAS VEGAS, Oct. 27, 1882.—Having seen my name in Number 302 of the Optic as a candidate for school commissioner, I wish to state that the general public is informed of my resignation, and for reasons then stated I do not wish my name to be used in said ticket. Very Respectfully,
GEO. CHAVEZ.

GEO. CHAVEZ.

Bishop Dunlop started from here on Wednesday for Prescott, Arizona, but a burned bridge over the Galisteo, near Lamy, detained him twenty-four hours. This forced him to return to make a fresh start. One of the city guardians was approached last night by an excited female and, between her lamentations, informed the e. g. that there was a dead woman lying up on Zion hill. Upon arriving at the place, a woman was found stretched out on her back and apparently dead. A few shakes, at different intervals, restored her to consciousness and she was taken to her home. It seems that she had wandered out in her sleep and was overtaken by an epileptic fit, to which she was subject, and fallen to the ground.

An excursion from Abilene, Kansas, to the Hot Springs came in over the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe yesterday afternoon. The party consisted of the following persons: Senator T. C. Henry and wife, Representative A. Leebold and wife, A. C. Gordon and wife and Wm. Hodge and wife. Mr. Gordon is one of the heaviest grain buyers in the state. Mr. Hodge is postmaster of Abilene. The party will remain some eight or ten days and will take a general view of the country around the Springs.

Republican County Ticket. Although the republican county ticket has been the subject of considerable discussion, yet, however, the great bulk of the ticket can and will be triumphantly elected. The following is the ticket made by the county convention:
