THE SOUTHERNER

TARBORO', SATURDAY, May 26, 1866

"We Shall Meet but we shall Miss Him."

AS SUNG BY THE LADIES OF NEWBURN.

We shall meet but we shall miss him,
There will be one vacant form;
One that oft to glory led us
Through the deadly battle storm.
'Tis but three short years we number,
Since our hearts were beating high,
But, alas! in ceaseless number
All our hopes with Jackson lie.
We shall meet, but we shall miss him,
There will be one dreary void;
For the hopes we fondly cherished,
Are for evermore destroyed.

At our firesides, sad and lonely,
Often will the bosom swell
As we listen to the story
How our noble chieftain fell—
How he bravely bore our banner,
Through the fiercest of the fight,
To uphold our Southern honor,
In the cause of Truth and Right!

We shall meet, but we shall miss him,
We shall for our loved one weep,
As we bend in silent sorrow,
O'er the grave where Stonewall sleeps.

True, they tell us wreathes of glory
Evermore will deck his brow;
But this soothes the anguish only,
Sweeping o'er our heart strings now,
And though Fame, in future ages,
May enshrine him where he fell,
No surcease our heart assuages,
For his fall became our knell.
We shall meet, but we shall miss him,
Ever miss our fallen brave;
While we grieve in mournful silence,
O'er the cause he died to save.
WILL O' THE WISP.

First Baby.—A True Picture.—By the Rev. Mr. —, J. W. C., to C. E. G., only daughter, &c. "No cards." We didn't say no baby! I have one of those interesting little animals at home. It came when it rained like the devil, dark as pitch, and my umbrella at the store, no car running. The doctor lived five miles due west, and the nurse six miles due east; and when I got home to the bosom of my family, the condensed milk man was at the next door. It's a funny little chap, that baby, sofferino color, and the length of a bologna sausage. Cross? I guess not. Um, um; it commenced clasping me down the pathway of life just when muslin, linen, and white flannel were the highest they had been since Adam built a hen house for Mrs. Eve's chickens. The doctors charge two dollars a squirt, four dollars a grunt, and on account of the scarcity of rain in the country, take what is left in a man's pocket, no discount for cash, and send bill for balance, January 1st.

A queer little thing is that baby; a speck of a nose like a wart; head as bald as a squash, and no place to hitch a waterfall; a mouth just suited to come the gum game and chew milk. Oh, crackle, you should hear her sing. I have bumped it, stuffed my fur cap down its throat, given it the soothing iron to play with but that little red lump, that looks as if it couldn't hold blood enough to keep a mosquito from fainting, persists in yelling like thunder. It shows a great desire to swallow its fists, and the other day they dropped down its throat, and all that prevented their going clean through was the crook in its elbows. It stopped its music, and I was happy for one and a half minutes. Its a pleasant thing to have a baby in the house—one of your belly-ache kind. Think of the pleasures of a father in disabille, trembling in the midnight hour, with his warm feet upon a square yard of cold oil cloth, dropping paragon in a tea spoon by moonlight, the nurse thumping on the door, wife of your bosom shouting hurry, and the baby yelling till the fresco drops from the ceiling. It's a nice time to think of dress-coats, pants, ties and white kinds. Shades of departed cocktails, what a picture for an article in plaster paris.

I have to get up in the cold and shiver while the milk warms; it uses the bottle. I have a cradle with the representation of a miraculous soothing syrup bottle on the dash board. I tried to stop its breath the other night, it was no go; I rocked it so hard it missed stays, and sent it slap clear across the room, upsetting a jar of preserves. It didn't make any noise, then! Oh, no, is mother says only wait till it gets bleached, (it's being vaccinated,) and old enough to crawl about and feed on pins. Yes, I am going to wait. Won't it be delightful. John, run for the doctor, sis has fell in the slop pail and is choking with a potato skin; sis has fell down stairs; sis has swallowed the tack hammer; shows signs of the mumps, croup, whooping cough, small-pox, colic, dysentery, cholera infantum, or some other darn thing to let the doctor take the money laid by for my winter's corn beef, and all this comes of my shampooing and curling my hair, wearing nice clothes, and looking handsome, going a courting and making my wife fall in love and marry me.
