

THE SOUTHERNER

SATURDAY, Sept. 1, 1886

A Widow for Me.

Let youth sing the praise of blushing,
And thrill with the rapturous bliss
That rises unbidden, and flushes
The brain at the thought of a kiss.
It is all very well to be laden With passionate joy when you see The innocent blush of a maiden,
But the glance of a widow for me.

Not a fig would I give for the rapture
That swell in the breast of a boy,
When Cupid has helped him to capture A boarding school casket of joy.
I don't care for bloom and fine dresses—
But Paradise comes when I see A widow in weeds and soft tresses—
Oh! that is a charmer for me.

Then let youth sing the praises of beauty,
And kneel before maidenhood's shrine,
To ringlets and blushes pay duty,
And dream that such things are divine.
But give me the flash that entrances,
The heart that was bound and is free,
The eye with a soul in the glance—
Oh! a gentle young widow for me.

On Royal Fashions.

So many folks Queen Emma sought,
Of every rank and station,
Her dusky Highness must have thought Us bent on—Emma-grat!— Just like our chief Ulysses, she Was stared at so askant.
You might have deemed Her Majesty
A general Emma-Grant!
But when the things we understand,
No wonder need it cause us;
A "name" is what we worship, and
'Tis Emma-grat that draws us!

CLIPPINGS.

☞ Faxy thinks that the grog-shops must be a spurious currency. He never could pass one.

☞ When a soldier wants a kiss what military maneuver does he perform? He goes to the "right face."

☞ When once infidelity can persuade men that they shall die like beasts they will soon be bought to live like beasts, also.

☞ An armless shoemaker in Cincinnati does the finest kind of sewed work with his toes. He is said to be quite handy at "footing."

☞ There are three classes into which all the women past seventy that ever I knew were to be divided: 1.
That dear old soul; 2, that old woman;
3, that old wren—Coleridge.

☞ A charity scholar, under examination in the Psalms, being asked "what is the pestilence that walketh in darkness, replied, "Please sir, bedbugs."

☞ Point Lookout, so well known to large numbers of Confederates, has been sold to Gen. Wm. Bayard, of New York, for $67,500. It is expected to be fitted up as a watering-place in time for the next season.

☞ A rattlesnake was killed near Belleville, Texas, recently, which was 14 feet long, 6 inches thick, and had 41 rattles.—Three men, armed with fence rails, had a desperate combat with it.

☞ A lady visitor at Saratoga Springs rejoices in eighty dresses and thirty-six bonnets. If the thirty-six bonnets were rolled into one they would make but a meagre one to such as our grand mothers used to wear. Her clothes attract great attention.

☞ Do you consider lager beer intoxicating? "Vell, ash for dat I gent zay. I trink feefly to seezty classes a day, end it tosh not hurt me, but I don't know how it would po if a man vash to make a hog of himself."

☞ The long ribbons which the girls now wear round their necks and trailing so far down the back, of flying to leeward, are called "follow me, my lads."
We have seen the lads following them (with their eyes) a block or two.

☞ The first of the fall elections will be held in Vermont and Maine in the early part of September.—Pennsylvania, Ohio and other Western States hold their elections in October, and Maryland, New York and Massachusetts in November.

Eloping Couples.—Two runaway couples reached the town of Quitman Mississippi, on the 10th ult. in search of somebody to marry them. The bride were only sixteen, and eighteen, and, on account of age, being refused, they declared they intended to get married or "fight it out on that line, if it took all summer." They found somebody to make them two twains in an adjoint county.

Grave Desecrated.—We learn that the foot stone at the grave of little Joseph Davis, son of Ex-president Davis, has been stolen and carried off by some vandal. If this is intended as an insult to his illustrious but unfortunate father, the scoundrel who offered it may be assured that it fails to accomplish the object. If a piece of petty spite, it is too contemptible to deserve notice.
