Help is needed at once when a person's life is in danger. A neglected cough or cold may soon become serious and should be stopped at once. One Minute Cough Cure quickly cures coughs and colds and the worst cases of croup, bronchitis, grippe and other throat and lung troubles.

Plenty of Men For the Woods.

There is nothing like it, this steady inflow of laborers for the woods. They come on every train, on foot and on horseback. For a month past, trains from the west dump their passengers at Bemidji and give our streets the appearance of an Oklahoma landrush. The men do not all find work here, and often the next day's train bears them further east. The abundance of men is due to early reports of big wages to be paid, and also to the fact that the men who usually go east to spend the winter after a fall's work in the grain fields, will not do so this season as the crop failure, prevented their making a "stake." Winter work is starting out slow in the woods and wages are low. But higher wages will no doubt follow as soon as the weather adjusts itself to the loggers' needs.

One of the benefits to the loggers is the fact that many of the new men coming here to work in the woods are of a steady and industrious class. One of the difficulties under which the loggers labored last year was the restless condition of the men. Men were scarce and wages high, and somehow this affected the lumber jacks. They traveled from camp to camp, and the logger who could keep a crew together was in big luck.

The boy who has contracted the tramp habit will find things have changed since last winter. The lumbermen are preparing a frigid shoulder for the restless hobo, who closely resembles his brother of the Sidedoor Pullman characteristics. The well-known hospitality of the lumber camps promises to become a thing of the past. In many camps the man who arrives at a camp about supper time and hires out to work the next day will have to satisfy the boss that he will work or put up the coin for his supper and lodgings. The loggers are tired of being imposed upon in these matters.

"We believe in paying as good wages as possible," said a lumberman the other day, "but we want to be treated right, ourselves. We want them to earn good wages. A majority of the lumber jacks are all right, but many of them care for nothing but to put in time and work up an expensive appetite. When wages are high, we have a hard time to keep a crew together or to maintain anything like a fair standard of results."

In some of the camps this winter, the men will not be paid a fixed sum and board, but instead will be paid a certain sum and charged for their board. The boys as a rule like the old system best and are willing to submit to a forfeit under the usual way in case they break their contract.

When you need a soothing and healing antiseptic application for any purpose, use the original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, a well known cure for piles and skin diseases. It heals sores without leaving a scar. Beware of counterfeits.

Plenty of Townsites.

There is great activity among prospective townsites along the line of the new railroad that is being built up through northern Minnesota from Bemidji to the Rainy river country, and every owner of a quarter section is hoping that he may be able to secure a side track on his land that will warrant him starting a town, most truthfully remarks Crookston Times.

Just now Blackduck at the termination of the portion of the line that is contemplated for the first year, is attracting considerable attention. The road passes a distance of upwards of a mile from the lake and M. D. Stoner has platted that portion where the side tracks have been located.

Among others who own land between this point and the lake are J. E. Carpenter and Mrs. Sarah Crandall of Crookston. Mrs. Crandall has disposed of a half interest in her land to Frank Ives of Cass Lake, and both this piece of property and the one adjoining it, owned by Mr. Carpenter will be platted in the spring.

Black Duck is one of the gems of water stretches that stud that portion of the state, and the property proposed to be platted has as fine a stretch of beach as exists anywhere, and the lake is one of the best fishing and hunting grounds in the state.

Don't use any of the counterfeits of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Most of them are worthless or liable to cause injury. The original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is a certain cure for piles, eczema, cuts, scalds, burns, sores and skin diseases.

That Pine Sale.

The recent sale of pine of the White Earth reservation at Crookston last week, was, all things considered, the most successful ever conducted in the state. The bidding was brisk and a very small proportion of the pieces were passed by the buyers. The total amount of the sales were close to $250,000, and representatives of various lumber companies have taken enough by private sales to run the amount up above that. Among the long list of buyers we notice that Andrew P. Moen, of Bagley, bought $80 worth and B. S. Bennet, of Fosston, $335.

How to Know a Man.

If you wish to understand others always study their ways after they have worked hard all day, rather than when they are rested. A rested man is on dress parade, but a tired man is absolutely natural. He is too weary to think of the little courtesies he might affect when in a better mood.

If you are on the six o'clock car in the evening you will see a number of men who are completely played out. Many of them are big and strongly built, but their faces tell of care and labor and dejection. They are too tired to be generous or gallant. They need a tonic; something to build them up.

Honest labor demands "Golden Grain Belt" beer, an honest brew of pure barley malt and hops. It is a tonic which will bring back strength and happiness to the tired man. Always have a case handy; don't be dejected or worn out; don't suffer from exhaustion. Order of your dealer or be supplied by

As to Damages.

I wish the public to know how I came out in my damage suit against the city, for my smashed ribs. The city allowed me $325 damages, but after my attorney and the bank were satisfied, I received just $160.
