

OLEARY & BOWSER

Ladies' Tailor Made Suits

Ladies' neat blue hair lined suits, vestee jacket lined with silk for.....$25.00

Spe'ial Shirt Bargain

6 dozen men's shirts in light and dark colors, worth from 50c to 75c each for.....39c

Toilet Articles

25c perfumes and toilet articles for.....19c
50c and 39c toilet articles for.....39c

Shirt Waists

We have received a shipment of ladies' waists, prices from $1.00 to.....$5.00

Men's Neg. Shirts

Men's shirts, Monarch, Elgin, Gold and Silver, $1 to $1.50

Ladies' Shoes

Pingrees, Composite...$3.00
Pingress, Gloria.....$3.50
Turns and welts.

Suspender Bargains

25 dozen fancy web suspenders, worth 25c to 35c.....15c

Collar Bargain

10 dozen men's linen collars, worth 15c, each.....3c

Special Hat Bargain

Men's Fedora hats in black, brown and pearl, worth from $1.25 to $2.00, for.....98c

Patent Medicines

Hood's Sarsaparilla, Paine's Celery Compound, Lydia Pinkham's Compound, SSS, etc., to close out at.....69c

Ladies' Shirt Waists

Ladies' shirt waists in gingham, percales and madras, worth from 50c to $1.00...39c

Remnant Sale

1000 yards of remnants in prints, gingham and wash goods at less than manufacturer's price.

Men's Shoes

25 pairs men's grain Creedmore worth from $1.25 to $1.50 each.....98c

Canvas Shoes

Mens, Boys, Ladies and Children's canvas shoes.

O'LEARY & BOWSER

BEMIDJI, MINN.

VISION FULFILLED

Mrs. Peterson Dreamed that Her Son Would be Drowned and It Came True.

The following, from the Polk County Journal, is such a most extraordinary case of coincidence that it can hardly be called a coincidence:

The Journal three days ago gave its readers a brief telegraphic account of the drowning in Turtle Lake of Chas. Peterson, the ten-year-old son of Edward Peterson, a settler living near Buena Vista, thirteen miles north of Bemidji. It now develops that there was a peculiar coincidence connected with the case that is of a character to interest Journal readers, and is related by Mr. Peterson, father of the unfortunate lad, who formerly lived in Crookston and who is in the city today.

The family consists of the parents and five children, and about a year ago the mother had a very vivid dream concerning her children, during the course of which it was revealed to her that Charles would be drowned. The peculiar feature was that the accident was to occur a year from the time the dreamer had the vision.

Mrs. Peterson related the dream to her husband and was much worried about it. It made such an impression upon the minds of every member of the family that Charles has been carefully looked after ever since and has not been allowed to go upon the lake alone, nor to be around the water to any extent.

On Sunday the family decided to go for a picnic upon the lake, for an outing, and to enjoy some good fishing. Charles was overjoyed at the prospect of the sport and while the family was making preparations he with another lad ran down to the water, got into a boat and pushed out into the lake. The small boy took the oars and rowed out a short distance. The wind was blowing quite hard and the water was rough, causing the small craft to toss about considerably, and Charles, while attempting to stand up in the stern of the boat, fell into the water and drowned before the small boy or anyone else could reach the spot to rescue him.

The body was recovered an hour later and an attempt at resuscitation was made but without success. The unhappy mother who reached the bank of the lake in time to see the fulfillment of her dream, was frantic with grief and has since been confined to her bed.

Just Take Your Own Mail.

The postal authorities at Washington, recognizing the liability of postmasters to make mistakes in getting letters in the wrong boxes, have fixed a penalty of $200 on persons taking mail out of the office other than their own and not returning it. The law is that people shall look at their mail before taking it out of the office and if they should have mail other than their own they must return it at once. It also includes newspapers. An exchange, in commenting on the ruling, remarks that the excuse that it is the postmaster's fault "cuts no ice." If you have been getting other people's mail you had better take warning or you may get into trouble.—Brainerd Dispatch.

Stops the Cough and Works Off the Cold.

Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure, no pay. Price, 25 cents.

THE BIG STORE

We carry these and many other styles of this famous shoe in our complete line of Ladies Footwear. We also have full lines of Gents Fine Shoes, Drivers and Cruising Boots.

We guarantee to fit your foot, purse and your idea of an up-to-date shoe. Step in and be convinced.

McCuaig & Ludington.

Press... Bulletin

Northeast Experiment Farm, Grand Rapids, Minnesota.

Field Roots.

In clearing and breaking land on a new farm, only a few acres can be cropped at first. On most of our farms, stock is an important element. The capacity of the farm is limited, not by the lack of pasture, of which there is usually an abundance, but by the ability to grow winter forage. Roots make excellent feed for cattle or sheep, and the large yields which may be obtained on a small area make the crop a very desirable one in this section. Roots should not be depended on for the main feed, which should be furnished by hay or corn fodder, but feed in small quantities with these fodders they keep the animal in healthy condition so that it digests all its food better and comes through the winter in good condition.

The roots raised for this purpose may be either mangels, rutabagas and turnips, carrots or sugar beets. At the experiment farm, rutabagas have always given the largest yields, averaging about 20 tons per acre. They are also the best adapted of any roots to new land. They are excellent feed for sheep and for cows, but under certain conditions may give a taste to the milk. Mangels have yielded 16 to 18 tons per acre and are best used as food for cattle, although sheep relish them. Carrots have given yields of 20 to 22 tons per acre. They may be fed to horses with better results than any other kinds of roots. Sugar beets in all trials have fallen below mangels or rutabagas in yield, giving only 10 to 12 tons as against the much greater yields of the others. They are rather out of their zone of best growth in northern Minnesota. Aside from light yields, they make a better feed than mangels, as they contain more food and less water.

Roots should never be fed whole to either cattle or sheep as it injures the teeth of the sheep to bite them, and cattle may choke upon them. A root cutter or a box and spade should be used to slice them up. Rutabagas may be broadcasted on breaking, but for mangels or sugar beets the ground should be well prepared and fairly clean of weeds, as it takes too much time to keep the weeds out of a crop of roots on weedy soil and this must be done to get a good yield. A hand wheel hoe and one horse cultivator greatly lessen the labor of caring for them.

Like a Drowning Man.

"Five years ago a disease the doctors called dyspepsia took such a hold of me that I could scarcely go," says Geo. S. March, well-known attorney of Nocoma, Tex. "I took quantities of pepsin and other medicines but nothing helped me. As a drowning man grabs at a straw I grabbed at Kodol. I felt an improvement at once and after a few bottles am as well and well." Kodol is the only preparation which exactly reproduces the natural digestive juices and consequently is the only one which digests any good food and cures any form of stomach trouble. F. A. Mayo.

POPULAR FOOTWEAR, POPULAR PRICES

If you wish to be "in the swim" you must wear the popular makes of shoes. Why not? Especially when they are well-made, made comfortable and stylish. We have them and they are beauties. We guarantee a perfect fit and at a price to suit your pocket-book. Are you satisfied you are getting good value where you have been purchasing?

One Price CLOTHIER of Bemidji.

Perhaps it would be to your interest to investigate our stock.....

BARNEY BURTON.

The Dudley Market

Fresh and Salt Meats, Butter, Eggs, Vegetables and Fruits

Game and Fish in Their Season Best Creamery Butter Always on Hand.....

JOHN GRAHAM, Sole Proprietor

Look Here! ROGER MARTIN

Is carrying a very Large Stock of Furniture and Stoves, WHICH HE INVITES YOU TO INSPECT.

Undertaking in all its branches. Hearses always in attendance

E. T. McKENNA, Licensed Embalmer | One door south of the City Hall, Bemidji, Minnesota. Phone No. 178. MANAGER.