Jinkinson Sells.

Yesterday afternoon Jack Jinkinson sold his stable and livery outfit to A. M. Bagley of Solway for $3800. Mr. Bagley to take possession at once.

When asked as to his plans for the future Mr. Jinkinson said that he had no definite plans as yet but that he might eventually locate in Koochiching where he has property. For the present he will remain in Bemidji.

Mr. Bagley proposes to run a strictly up-to-date first-class livery and will undoubtedly do a good business here. He has been in the livery business in this country for some years and is well known.

Forms Partnership.

James Price, the pioneer contractor and builder of Bemidji, has taken his son into partnership and the firm hereafter will be known as Jas. Price & Son. Mr. Price has been in business here for the past four years and some of the finest residences in the city were built under his direction. He has built up an excellent business and is deserving of all the good things that have come his way. Mr. Price has always been known as a fine workman and thoroughly honest in all his dealings. May the new firm prosper.

Good Show.

The Busy Day Company played to a good house last night at the opera house and they put up a good clean show. The parts were well carried out by the members of the company. The piece was constructed for laughing purposes only and is interspersed with bright, catchy specialties and the cast is made up of clever people. Manager Wheelock is working hard to put in good up-to-date shows and the people are showing their appreciation by turning out in force.

A Good Record.

During the month of April the police of this city made over a hundred arrests, besides hunching more than two hundred cheap gamblers and cheap confidence men out of the city. The citizens of our town certainly have no kick coming on the present police force, for they have kept the toughest element in check and with the territory they have to cover it goes to show that they are going some.

Reduced Rates to Canada.

We have just completed arrangements with the Canadian immigration agent to furnish reduced railroad tickets to all points in Manitoba, Assiniboia, Saskatchewan and Alberta. We have maps and plats and can locate parties on government lands or sell lands upon easy payments.

New Filter.

Fred Dudley has just put in a new X-Ray filter in his saloon on Minnesota avenue. Dudley isn't so slow and said this morning that he was always open and cordially invited the public to call and get a good drink of pure filtered water—all for nothing.

Schneider Bros. announce their opening for next Monday morning. The new firm will be known as Schneider Bros., Emil Schneider having entire charge of the business at this place. Benj. Schneider will return to Iron River, Wis., to run the store at that place.

EYES--- Dr. C. J. Larson, the eye specialist and optician, makes his next regular visit to Bemidji, May 16 to 23. If you have headache, your eyes pain, water, smart, blur, etc., don't neglect the opportunity of consulting Dr. Larson. Office at Hotel Markham.

SERVANTS IN 2,000 A. D.

Will Not Be Needed—Labor-Saving Devices in Homes.

The thread-bare servant problem will have become a thing of the past by 2000 A. D. Domestic seem to be necessary nowadays to supplement the deficiencies of some housewives, and owing to the incompleteness in the construction of many houses. The tendency of modern apartment houses is to minimize work so that no servants will be needed.

The homes of the future will probably be warmed in the walls from some power-generating station. Air will enter through proper tubes in the walls which will warm the house and will capture the dust, and it will be spun out again by simple devices. Scientific builders are now planning to do away with the walls meeting the floors at right angles, as by rounding off the angles between wall and floor, sweeping and cleaning will be lightened.

If a window is cleaned hurriedly and left wet, it dries in spots, and dirt is left in solution. By the touching of a button and turning on of water that contains a solvent, water would be forced down the window panes from pin holes in a pipe above, into a groove below, and this would be followed by pure rain water, and window cleaning would be done "sans domestiques."

And within a few years, perhaps, the French scientists will have further perfected the taking of nourishment and enjoying whole meals from a few drops, or a few pellets, from two to three vials, thus doing away with chefs, and the elaborate part of

ONE MORE CHANCE.

Final Hearing of Cass Lake Townsite to be Heard Soon.

Special Agent Nessler, of the Indian service, will soon be sent to Minnesota to conduct a final hearing in the famous Cass Lake townsite case.

This case has been before the department for several years, and was decided last December in favor of Mrs. Nellie Lydick and her two minor children, who took allotments as members of the White Oak Point tribe.

The land as selected was on the site now occupied by a considerable portion of the population of Cass Lake.

Senator Nelson petitioned during the last session of congress for a reopening, which was granted, and further evidence will be taken. The settlers who have been opposed to Mrs. Lydick's Babbit to look after their interests. It is alleged that while Mrs. Lydick was once a member of the White Oak Point tribe, she severed her tribal relations with that band of Indians some time ago, and, consequently, forfeited her right to take an allotment on the lands set aside for that tribe.

Secretary Hitchcock says that this is the last time he will take up the case. He thinks that the claims have employed Charles H. opposition to the Lydick's, if it does not submit any new testimony at this hearing, will have to give up. But few of the squatters really object, and many of them already have provisional contracts with the Lydicks to purchase the lots upon which their stores, shops and houses stand.

A LITTLE TOO LATE.

Belated Suggestions for Newport Amusements.

Luckily the Newport season is nearing an end. If it wasn't, if there was yet time, we might expect that in their strenuous efforts to outdo one another the society dames would resort to extreme measures. For instance:

One of them might construct a garden on towers and call it the New Hanging Gardens of the Hesperides, and then give a garden party with captive balloons for elevators.

Some other dame could dig a canal through her domain, with real dykes and wooden shoes and canal boats, and windmills operated by perfumed hot air, and give a reception a la Hollandaise.

Another idea would be to lay out a section of the Garden of Eden, with all the animals from some big menagerie running wild behind a heavy wire partition, and then call it "An Evening at Papa Adam's," with all the guests in Watteau costumes.

A real cute scheme would be to have a duplicate of the ark and give a "Father Noah at Home," with the guests assuming the disguises of the animals. If the ark could be made to roll a little so the guests would feel qualms, it would add greatly to the amusement. Then at a certain hour there could be a Noahian german on deck with railroad stocks and government bonds for favors.

REFLECTION ON THE JUDGE

Ultra Pious Lawyer Drew Upon Himself Wrath of Justice Gray.

Justice Gray of the United States supreme court, who has just retired, had a long experience on the bench before going to Washington. Many years ago, when he was a member of the supreme court of Massachusetts, he had an amusing experience with a certain Boston lawyer, an exceedingly pious man with a taste for evangelization, who had his letterheads printed with a verse from scripture in large type following the name and address. On one occasion, having to make an ex-parte preliminary argument before Justice Gray in chambers, in which it would be necessary to disclose certain parts of his client's case which he desired not to make generally known until the trial, he wrote the judge a note asking that he be allowed an opportunity to speak to him in private. He was somewhat chagrined when his note came back to him with a scrawl across the bottom: "Request denied, with a suggestion from the court that counsel base future petitions on a more appropriate citation."

For a moment he could not make out the meaning of this, as he was not aware that he had quoted any law, but glancing up the page he discovered that he had written his page on a letterhead bearing this text: "Ye are bought with a price."

When a man follows the races he finds himself far in the rear sooner or later—usually sooner.

In the Good Old Days.

The most memorable ride in English history was that of Sir Arthur Owen, which placed the Hanoverian dynasty on the throne of Great Britain. The act of settlement, by which, in 1701, parliament elected the house of Hanover to the British throne, was passed by only one vote, and this casting vote was given by Sir Arthur Owen, the member of parliament for Pembrokehire. He arrived at Westminster, dusty and travel-worn, only just in time to record his vote, having ridden with furious haste from Wales for the purpose on relays of horses kept at all the posting houses along the route. To that ride Britain owes its Georgian era; hence its Queen Victoria and Edward VII.
