The chair cars that have been run between Crookston and Duluth have been taken off and in their place a combination dining and observation car has been substituted. The car will run from Grand Forks to Bena and return each day. This will enable the passengers to get dinner and supper on the train coming west and to dine on the east bound trip. Late risers can also take breakfast after leaving the Forks if they wish to do so.

NORTHWESTERN EDITORS

Secretary of Editorial Association to Meet Commercial Club Thursday Evening.

Would be Good Chance for Outing on Lake Bemidji, as We Have Several Fine Yachts.

A. G. Bernard, secretary of the Northwestern Editorial Association, has notified W. F. Street that he would like to meet the Commercial Club of Bemidji on Thursday evening to arrange for that long-talked of visit of the association to Bemidji. The association "turn out" this year at Brainerd on June 22, from there making such excursions into northern Minnesota as its officers may arrange before hand.

As Mr. Bernard is a resident of Cass Lake, it is altogether probable that these two towns will both have the privilege of entertaining the boys and their wives and daughters. The Commercial Club has called a meeting for 8 o'clock tomorrow evening to meet with Mr. Bernard and see what is to be done.

BAGLEY IS BOOMING.

A New Court House and Various Additions to Business Blocks Proposed.

The people who visit Crookston from Bagley are telling of a boom which has struck that brand new county seat. Every indication seems to be that it will shortly become one of the most substantial towns in northern Minnesota. It has a fine surrounding country, and its business men are hustlers, who go after everything in sight which can possibly benefit their town. Since the supreme court handed down the decision which confirmed their aspirations to be the county seat of the new county of Clearwater, the town has been growing by leaps and bounds. The boom seems to be along the line of building and new enterprises.

The county commissioners will take up the matter of building the court house and jail at their regular session in July. The principal business men of the prosperous little city are seemingly in favor of bonding the new county and erecting suitable buildings. The townsites company have donated a whole block in a good location for the buildings, and it is not at all unlikely that something definite will be done soon. The local telephone company is making large improvements on their system, stringing new wires and putting in new phones. Street & White, the townsites company, will clear eight acres adjoining the village and plat for an addition. A new bank is one of the many buildings which will be erected this season, and the worthy citizens are just now looking about for someone who will conduct a first-class hotel. —Crocketon Times.

BAD ROADS.

Country Cannot be Settled Until We Have Good Roads to Travel Over.

The question of settling up the country cannot be well considered until the roads are in such shape that a man can get over them without danger of losing his life, or a team be driven over them.

The four main roads, going out of Blackduck for a distance of two miles at least are a disgrace to any country or any civilized community.

From the fact that the range line road north is not in shape to drive over the bulk of business of a large settlement will go to Phenix instead of coming here.

The county might appropriate some money and fix the road so it can be traveled, and it is an outrage that it does not.

The southwest part of the county has good roads and bridges, and there is no reason why we should not have them here. —Blackduck Times.

The Clearwater Case.

County Attorney Holston of Clearwater county has served upon County Attorney Loud of Beltrami county the first notice of taxation of costs ever taxed up in the supreme court against this county. The former county attorney went to the supreme court four different times during his six years of service, and got the costs on the other fellow each trip. The present county attorney was going to show Street some law, and the Clearwater case was his first attempt in the supreme court, and the costs amount to over $200, besides additional counsel fees.

Bowling Contest Tonight.

Representative bowlers of the married and single men will come together tonight at the Third Street Bowling Alley. Both sides have "blood in their eye," and will put up the most stubborn game ever played in the city. The game will be called at 8:30 p. m. sharp.

Brother Hayrick and the Editor.

"Hoy d'ye do, Brother Hayrick?" said the country editor; "what are you filing the saw for?"

"Cause its dull," replied Farmer Hayrick; "what did y's'pose?"

"I'm always file things when they're dull, do you?"

"Wall, no; that's that weekly sheet o' yours; I never file that."
