COMMUNITY POULTRY RAISING ENCOURAGED

The formation of community poultry-breeding associations is being encouraged by the bureau of animal industry of the United States department of agriculture as a part of its effort to assist in improving flocks and making poultry raising more attractive. Prominent among the advantages of community interest in better poultry are concentration of effort on one variety, opportunities for collective marketing, economy in buying and selling breeding stock, and increased skill in poultry management. Already forty-eight poultry-breeding associations have been formed. In Virginia a Barred Plymouth Rock association has developed a co-operative selling plan of a size that requires a manager to handle the business. Organizations of this kind are not only beneficial to the members, but by stimulating a larger output of high-quality poultry products they benefit the public as well.

THE SIOUX SOLDIERS

Brule, Ogalala, or Teton,
Whatever your tribe or clan,
You've shown the Old-World peoples
A first-class fighting man.

Sons of the soil and forests,
Brothers of Elk and Bear,
Cousins of Hawk and Eagle,
Free as the mountain air.

Eyes that look only forward,
Step as light as a leaf,
Hearts unflinching as granite,
Each with the soul of a Chief!

Brule, Ogalala, or Teton
An honor to tribe or clan,
Beside the Old-World warriors
You measure man for man!

—Don C. Seitz, Business Manager of the New York World.

An American patrol composed exclusively of Indians has done particularly effective work in France. Adopting the tactics of their ancestral warriors, they located scores of enemy machine-gun nests, killing or capturing the gun crews, and bringing in the machine guns to be turned on the enemy.
