Mentzer, the farm machinery man, takes the cake, as a nurse.

A small reduction in the rate of through freights took effect on Monday.

The pay car passed down on Sunday, and now the railroad boys look happy once more.

Lieut. Chubb, of Co. E., Fort Pembina, took twenty recruits to that garrison on Monday.

There will be preaching every evening this week, except Saturday, at the school house, by Rev. A. E. Flint.

To the next ten subscribers, we will give them a choice chromo. Come in and subscribe and take your choice.

The social takes place at the residence of George H. McCrea's next Tuesday evening. A good time is anticipated by all.

J. C. McCrea returned on Monday from his trip to the old home and St. Paul. J. C., reports every thing as looking lovely.

A full account of the standing committees of the Legislature, and other interesting matter will be found in our inside pages of to-days paper.

There will be a musical convention held at Glyndon, on January 25, 26, 27 and 28th. And a number of the music loving people of the valley, will be in attendance.

H. Thompson, one of the owners of the Red Lake Flouring Mills, at Fisher's Landing, stopped over from one train to another. They have the boss flour, just bear it in mind.

Judge Barnes and District Attorney Ball of Fargo, passed through town, on Monday, on their way to Pembina, where a term of the Territorial district court commenced on Tuesday.

Round trip tickets are now sold between this station and St. Paul and Minneapolis, at a somewhat reduced rate: if you wish to go to either of those points for a little excursion now is your time.

W. J. McIntyre, our meat market man, is building an ice house size 14x14, eight feet high, in the rear of his shop and residence. T. R. Davis is doing the carpenter work, and it will be well done.

E. A. Mnglone, the Fargo Republican man, called on us Monday. He says the Republican will establish a daily in the spring. The Republican is one of the best newspapers in the Red River Valley.

Now is your time to get your reading matter: Take your home paper, and you might also have another, and we would recommend the Pioneer Press as the other, as it is one of the best papers published west of Chicago. See elsewhere the price of the two.

Ethan Allen Esq., the jolly resident member of the firm of Johnson, Allen & Co., arrived home on Monday, from a trip of business and pleasure, to his old stamping ground, around Eau Clair, Wis. He says he is glad to get back again, and is just as fat and hearty as he ever was.

Business for the past week has been rather dull, but our merchants are not complaining. The good time is coming soon, so keep your courage up, spring is nearly here, with it will come the emigrant, and business will boom.

John Scheeweiler, left for his former home, Wabasha, Minn., for the winter. It is rumored that he will not return in the spring single, but will take a life partner while away.

We have just received some gummed paper and all those wishing for labels or anything in that or any line of printing give us a call, we can do you as good work and as cheap as you can get it done anywhere in this northwest.

A temperance meeting was held at the school house, on Friday evening last, it being open lodge, a large number attended, we arrived rather late, and only had the pleasure of hearing the last half of the entertainment, an essay was read by Mr. George McCrea, he did great credit to his subject, as he does every thing he undertakes. The next on the programme, was a play entitled "Maud's Revenge, or Yielding to Temptation." Which was very able rendered, in the whole, but it was thought by many to have been rather abruptly ended. If there had been another act, showing the contrast between the two homes, it would have been very appropriate. After the play there was a letter read which was not upon the evening's programme, nor was it understood by a large number of those present, we thought it rather out of order. The next meeting will be held in two weeks. The following will be the programme:

Opening Song, By the Society.
An Address, Mr. James Stewart.
Essay, Mr. E. W. Rossman.
Dialogue, Mr. Geo. McCrea and Miss Julia Chanson.

In the last piece the parties named are the two principal characters.

Charley Mansel removed from Floréce, Goodhue county, to Crookston, last spring. On the morning of December 28th, he went out hunting, expecting to return the same evening. His brother at Frontenac has been informed that Charley has been missing ever since, and is supposed to have perished in the storm which occurred on that day. (Lake City Leader)

This week Mr. Mansel came into the office and showed us the above clipped from the Leader, and says that on that day did not find snow enough to loose anything, and also that he has not seen a snow storm since he came up to this county. Those living in the southern part of the State, think when they have a little snow there that we, up on the upper edge, must be completely buried, which is not the case. Come up to Marshall Co., if you want to escape the blockades and snow storms and where they raise 40 bushels to the acre.

We have completed arrangement with the publishers of the MINNESOTA FARMER whereby we can furnish that paper and the SHEAF at the extraordinary price of $2.50 per year. The Minnesota Farmer is a large eight-page paper, containing forty-eight columns, published monthly, and filled with choice reading matter, having a Stock, Agricultural, Dairy, Sheep and Wool, Poultry and Home department, with a large amount of miscellaneous matter, specially devoted to the varied interests of the new northwest. It is a paper worthy of the general support and patronage of the people of this section. Send in your names.
