

FIND AZTEC RELICS

Gold Molds Buried in Mexico Are Unearthed.

One of Most Remarkable Discoveries in Archaeology and Ethnology of Prehistoric Tribes Made Recently Near Atzacapotzalco.

City of Mexico, Mex.—One of the most remarkable discoveries in the archaeology and ethnology of the prehistoric tribes of Mexico was made recently when a complete goldsmith's outfit, primitive, yet much used, was dug up from the gravel bed of a small stream near Atzacapotzalco. Found near the site on which were unearthed numbers of finely carved idols, molds from which clay artifacts were made, and a complete factory for pottery, this last discovery leads to the belief that there was once a flourishing city of the Aztecs or of some other ancient Indian race on the land now occupied by the suburb of Atzacapotzalco.

This latest find, which is now in the possession of Prof. William Niven, in this city, consists of a furnace, re-ort and the long clay tube of the blower, the leather portion of which had, of course, long since rotted away. All these articles have metamorphosed from clay into stone, so many years had they lain underground. All are in perfect condition, and easily recognizable, even yet some of the crude ore being found clinging to the sides of the pan of the furnace. They were buried about fourteen feet beneath the surface, practically the same depth at which the relics previously referred to were found some days ago.

With the remains of the furnace and retort were found a number of molds, evidently for silver and gold. With each mold was a small image, apparently a pattern of the particular ornament which the mold was designed to reproduce. In every instance, these small patterns, none more than three or four inches in height, consisted of the image of a man or a woman, wearing the particular ornament which was to be made.

One set of patterns is for a head-dress. The largest pattern is for the great double feather which the chiefs of the time were accustomed to wear just over the forehead, while there are patterns for earrings, noserings, hair ornaments and a fillet of beautiful construction, with which to bind up the hair. Among the hair ornaments are designs of the fleur de lis, the first time such a pattern has been found among any of the Indian tribes of the new world, according to Professor Niven, who is making an extensive study of the collection.

Among the most interesting patterns discovered is one for a huge breast plate, evidently of silver. This is rectangular in shape, 18 by 12 inches, with a large number of places for the inset of precious stones. This is considered one of the finest artifacts found, and shows a high stage of art in its making.

Wrist bands, thick and wide, and made for the wrists of powerful men, also appear in the molds, the interiors of which show that the resultant gold and silver castings must have had elegant decorations plentifully scattered over their surfaces. It is commonly understood that the gold and silver used by these Indian artisans came from the district of Zacatula in Guerrero, being carried on the backs of traders, from the far mining district, but Professor Niven believes, from the abundance and size of these molds, that the two metals must have been secured in greater quantity nearer to the home of the goldsmith. This opens an interesting field of search for the ancient gold and silver mines of the valley or the nearby mountains.

TO SOUTH POLE IN AIRSHIP

Dr. Douglas Mawson Plans to Take Bleriot Monoplane of Special Make on Expedition.

London.—Dr. Douglas Mawson has decided to take an aeroplane with him on the Australia Antarctic expedition which he hopes to lead south before the end of the year. Doctor Mawson spent an afternoon at the aero exhibition explaining his need in the matter of an aeroplane for polar work? He examined with great care a Bleriot two-seated military type monoplane. Either of the two occupants can control this machine without changing seats. Maps and compasses are fitted in special frames. The airman are shielded from the rush of wind, and have an excellent view over the monoplane's wings. Such a machine will take two passengers for 180 miles without a descent.

SPINAL CORD IS SEWED UP

Remarkable Surgical Operation Performed on Policeman and Restores Him to Health.

Mt. Vernon, N. Y.—Patrolman Pasqual J. Ruffalo of this city, who was shot through the spine in a saloon brawl a few months ago, has been discharged from the hospital completely recovered, thanks to the unusual operation which was performed on him. It consisted of stitching together two-thirds of the spinal cord, which had been shot away, and sewing up the envelope which covers the cord. The surgeons at the hospital marvel at the recovery of the policeman, because he was seized with paralysis in the lower limbs, and it was generally believed he could not live.

INSURED AGAINST BANDITS.

But Robbers Themselves Conducted the Profitable Business.

The bandits of Manchuria and Mongolia have adopted a new way of acquiring at least a portion of the goods of the traveler. These mounted highwaymen in bands not only constantly attack the peaceful native population, but even rob travelers in broad daylight.

As a provision against this danger an insurance bureau where one buys a banner at a cost of about one-fifth-hundredth of the value of the property to be insured is established there.

This banner carried by a traveler will save him from the bandits' attack, for, curiously enough, they themselves conduct this insurance business. But it has its limitations. "We paid our premium at the insurance bureau," says a Japanese traveler, "secured a red banner, and our party then started from Harbin, using several sturdy ponies for ourselves and the carrying of our luggage. After traveling about ten miles we reached a small town called Takin. "Several of our customers came to see us in the evening and warned us that there were many mounted bandits in the neighborhood. When we told them there was no cause for anxiety on their account because of the insurance they informed us that by it our safety was guaranteed only on the highways, but that the bandit bureau was not responsible for what might happen inside of any building."

WOMEN AS RADIUM PORTERS

Bank Thinks Them Less Liable to Robbery Than Men.

The Radium bank in Paris has greatly increased its female staff since it started. This is due to the rapidly increasing use of the marvelous mineral in medical and surgical practice.

Women are employed in preference to men because the porters of radium have hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth entrusted to them daily. Their identity is purposely shrouded in mystery to prevent any attempt to rob them while accomplishing their work.

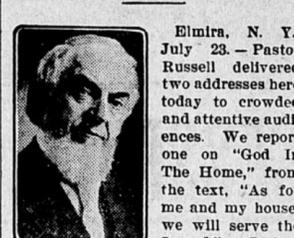

It is believed that women carrying radium are less likely to be "spotted" by would be robbers than men.

Ohio Increases Coal Output. For the first time in the history of the industry in that state Ohio mined more than 30,000,000 tons of coal last year.

GOD IN THE HOME.

THE WORLD'S GREAT NEED.

A Godless World of Godless Homes a Growing Danger.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Do not understand me to teach that the world's opportunity for life everlasting or death everlasting is now. "God hath appointed a Day in which He will judge the world," grant the world a judgment or trial or test. That great Day is future. It is the Day of Christ, a thousand years long. It will be a glorious opportunity! Present right doing and right thinking, or wrong doing and wrong thinking will have much to do with the condition of every man and woman at that time. He or she will enter upon that Day of blessing and opportunity either from a higher or a lower standpoint, proportionately as he or she has acted wisely and conscientiously at the present time. But nothing that the world can do can interfere with God's great proposition, that a full opportunity for life or death eternal shall then come to every member of the race, because Christ died for the ungodly. The only class to whom present life means life or death eternal is the Church. And by the Church I mean, not church attendants, nor outward professors, but those who have entered into a covenant with God through Christ and who have been made partakers of the Holy Spirit, tasting of the good Word of God and the powers of the Age to come. If these should fall away, the Apostle forewarns us, it would be impossible to renew them again unto repentance. And there will be no hope for them with the world in the world's trial Day because they already have enjoyed their share of the merit of Christ's death.

When, therefore, I speak of God and the home, I am not having in mind a family composed exclusively of saints. To live righteously, soberly and godly in this present world to the extent of one's ability is what every one should do—no less.

An Inundation of Unbelief.

In our day the shackles of ignorance and superstition are breaking. Men, women and children are beginning to think for themselves. They no longer believe the fairy tales of childhood. The dreadful hobgoblins and nightmares of the Dark Ages respecting purgatory and eternal torture are doubted by all, and by the great mass totally disbelieved. What have they now to attach them to the Almighty, since they have never been taught the love of God, the lengths and breadths and heights and depths passing all human understanding? This is the world's great need—to know God as He really is, a Father, a Friend, a God of love! And to this know Him the people need to be taught how seriously they were mistaken in the past along the lines of hell and purgatory.

How could they ever truly love and worship a God of injustice and hate—One inferior to themselves—One who knew, foreordained and prepared for their torture before they were born! They must see that these things, taught by the creeds of the Dark Ages, are wholly at variance with the Bible, else they will never come back to the Bible nor be able to see its teachings in their true light.

They must be taught that the sin and death, sorrow and trouble all around us are the penalty of father Adam's disobedience. They must learn that God purposes a blessing and uplifting which will be as world-wide as the curse.

Many religious leaders today deny that there is a personal God and ascribe everything to—a great Nothing, which they designate Nature-god. Is it surprising, in view of the fact that these teachings are being promulgated in the universities, colleges and theological seminaries, in the high schools, and even to some extent in the common schools—is it any wonder that the rising generation is losing its God?

Awakened Parental Responsibility.

It is high time that parents realize the true situation—it is almost too late now. The seeds of unbelief already sown in the minds of the rising generation are being watered continually and are growing. All who love their families, all who love mankind in general, should awaken to the fact that a world that has lost its God must of necessity be an unhappy world. Platonic philosophy may serve the purposes of the few, but surely cannot serve the masses of our race. A godless world will ere long mean a discontented world, an unhappy world, and, by and by, a world of anarchy and strife. This is what our world wide education is leading to. Few of our race can stand an education which recognizes no God, no revelation of Him, no responsibility to Him, and no hope of a future life which will be effected by the conduct of the present.

A MEXICAN HEROINE.

The Devoted Wife of the Mexican Revolutionary Leader.

MME. MADERO.

No matter what may be the fortunes of war, the wife of General Francisco I. Madero has before her no path of roses. Should failure come to her husband a tragic death is likely to be his fate. Should he be successful the jealousies of his unstable associates are almost as much to be feared as the vengeance of his enemies. Truly this is no happy lot, and the face of Mme. Madero is that of a harassed and unhappy woman. People who imagine the Mexican revolutionists to be persons of no particular refinement or education are mistaken, in the case of the Maderos at least. The grandfather of General Madero came from Portugal, where the family was of some consequence. The grandfather was himself a revolutionist and was instrumental in the dethronement of the Emperor Maximilian. The Madero family is one of wealth. They are rated as millionaires, owning vast plantations and valuable mines. General Madero's seven brothers were, like himself, educated in the United States and in Europe. They have traveled extensively and moved in the best society. The family have been in the habit of visiting New York for a part of every year. Mrs. Francisco Madero has been accustomed to shopping on Broadway, on Bond street and in the Rue de la Paix. From the most luxurious of surroundings this devoted woman is ready to follow her husband to the wild scenes and the discomforts of the insurrect camp. There her fingers are deft in ministering to the wounded, and wherever she appears—for General Madero does not allow her to follow his fortunes from battle to battle—she is flattered by officers and men.

THE NEW JERSEY.

Suitable For Boating, Bathing or Any Other Outdoor Sport.

The outdoor girl is very fond of the silk jersey this season, partly because it is so becoming and comfortable and partly because it enables her to achieve many apparent changes in her costume by making use of different skirts. The Jersey is used by the girl who goes canoeing or rowing, by the disciple of golf or tennis or croquet, or it may be a part of the sea bathers' costume. These outing jerseys are made with low necks and elbow sleeves and are generally in two colors. Some of them have bands of white with the body of the jersey in some contrasting shade. One advantage of the new jersey is that different collars of silk, lace or linen may be adjusted to it and finished with a neat tie. The silk jersey is a high favorite with the girl of faultless figure, but it reveals the lines of the form too frankly to be safe for those who have many angles.

Rice Cleanser. Ground rice is excellent for cleaning white cloth. It should be applied with a piece of clean white dannel, left for two or three hours and then well brushed and shaken.

The Kitchen Cabinet

NO WOMAN really loves a trifler; she must at least convince herself that he who trifles with others is serious with her. Just keeping happy is a fine thing to do. Looking on the bright side rather than the blue. Sad or sunny musing is largely to the choosing. And just being happy is brave work and true. —Ripley Saunders.

ITEMS OF INTEREST TO WOMEN.

Remember to give the baby plenty of water to drink. Even a small baby suffers from thirst. A wholesome breakfast dish, or in fact good for any meal for a child is wheat fresh from the granary. Soak it over night and cook for a day or longer, until the kernels are soft. Serve with good milk. This is food unequalled for nutrition and is usually liked by children and grown-ups.

Pine Apple Dessert.—Bake an angel food in a sheet and cut in rounds the size of a slice of canned pineapple. Arrange a slice of cake in a stemmed glass, pour over it a little of the pineapple juice that has been sweetened and flavored with lemon juice, then place a piece of pineapple on the cake and dip on a little whipped cream decorated with a cherry.

Try the combination of prunes and kumquats, the tiny Japanese oranges. Cook together after slicing the kumquats.

Cucumber Pickles.—When the cucumber vines begin to bear plentifully put down a few for winter, using the following recipe:

Take a pint of salt, a pound of dry mustard and a gallon of vinegar; mix all together and add the cucumbers daily, fresh from the vines, after washing them carefully and keeping a weight over them. These pickles will be crisp and good for a year.

Bavarian Cream.—Put a quarter of a package of gelatine into a cup of raspberry juice and let it stand until softened. Then add a cup and a half of raspberry juice, the juice of half a lemon and cup of granulated sugar. Stir in a chilled bowl until the mixture begins to set, then fold in a cup and a half of whipped cream. Place in a mold and serve either plain or with whipped cream.

BOY'S SUIT.

This novel little suit is a pleasant change from the Russian garment in its usual form. The front forms a plain panel with a box plait at each side of it and the back is arranged in similar manner. Without cutting out the neck at all a large sailor collar is used to trim the coat and in front the edges of this are turned under the front side of each box plait. Of course those who desire may cut the neck a little low in front. The sleeves are the usual bishop model. They are slightly gathered at the shoulder and are finished with a cuff at the wrist. Trousers form part of the pattern and they are made without a fly. These suits are made of serge, chevrot, linen, galatea and other wash fabrics.

The pattern (4887) is cut in sizes 2, 4 and 6 years. Medium size requires 3 3/4 yards of 27 inch material.

To procure this pattern send 10 cents to "Pattern Department," of this paper. Write name and address plainly, and be sure to give size and number of pattern.
