An echo tower in the Festive or East Court. At night the East Court, with its pavements of gold, its great banks of flowers, and its lofty palms will be flooded with light. Musical masterpieces of the world will be rendered by the chimes in the towers. Great saengerfests and choral festivals will assemble upon the floors of the court. In the Festive Court, the visitor will behold a vision surpassing the richest dreams of Oriental or Moorish architecture. The floors of this court will be in tessellated pavements of gold. In the center of the court will be great groups of sculpture with fauns, dancing nymphs and satyrs. There will be great fountains upon which magic lights will play at night and at night this mystic court, as all others, will be flooded by a glow of indirect light which will resemble a bright moonlight. At the south end of the court will be a huge tower 270 feet in height in which will be a great organ with echo organs in smaller towers of the court. The Festive Court will be a court of music, of acting, and symphonic dancing. Here will assemble many of the great pageants of Oriental nations that will take part during the exposition; here too will come many of the processions from the amusement center, which will be designed to draw visitors from the more serious phases of the exposition.

From the Banner:

Herbert Lundquist severed his connection as an active member of the firm of the Argyle Mercantile Co., on Monday, although he still retains his stock. Mr. Lundquist has decided to go into the novelty store business at Wahpeton, N. D., and will leave some time in August for his new location. The many friends of Mr. Lundquist and family will regret to learn of his intention to leave Argyle.

The Argyle Land Co., sold 160 acres in town of Fork to Chas. W. Heaps of the faculty of the University of Missouri last Saturday. Mr. Heaps thinks this is a great country up here and went home tickled to think that he had bought a chunk of it. Mr. Heaps bought a piece near Shirley last year, but thinks his Marshall county purchase is worth four times as much.

Mr. John Robertson, at one time a resident of the town of Wanger, this county, died at his home at Flaxton, Man., on Wednesday, June 25th. Mr. Robertson was at one time the owner of the farm now occu-piated by Mr. Z. Capistrand and will be remembered by many of the old timers. He left here with his family for Manitoba about fifteen years ago.

GHOST STORY FOUND BELIEF

Suit That Presented Circumstantial Evidence in Favor of Those Claiming to See It.

One of the most circumstantial stories of apparitions is that of Old Booty's ghost, which is said to have been the subject of an action in the king's bench in 1688, relates the London Chronicle. It arose from a statement by a certain Captain Barnaby that when shooting rabbits on the island of Stromboli, in the Mediterranean, on Friday, May 15, 1687, he had seen Old Booty, his next door neighbor, running into the burning crater there, pursued by the devil. Mrs. Booty, the widow, had the captain arrested, and claimed a thousand pounds damages for what he had said.

But when the case was heard it was proved that Old Booty actually died within two minutes of the time he was said to have been seen on Stromboli, and that all the circumstances of the apparition were noted in the journals of three ships' captains present. And on Old Booty's clothes being produced in court they were identified by all the witnesses for the defense as those worn by the man who ran into the burning crater. Mrs. Booty lost her case, the judge remarking: "The Lord have mercy upon me and grant that I may never see what you have seen. One, two or three witnesses may be mistaken, but thirty never."
