

MARKET DAYS FRI- DAY AND SATURDAY

Friday and Saturday Promise to be
Busy Days With Warren
Merchants.

The merchants of Warren are very busy preparing for the two big market days, Friday and Saturday. Goods have been marked down and made ready for the inspection of buyers. Consult the advertisements in this week's Sheaf for genuine bargains. No such bargains on staple goods have ever before been offered in Warren. Lundgren, Wittensten & Co., have a good thing for you. See their ad on page two.

ST. PAUL MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Elections were held in the Eastern states on Tuesday, in some of which woman suffrage and prohibition were hotly contested issues. New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania defeated woman suffrage by large majorities. New York also defeated its proposed new constitution. The gubernatorial race in Massachusetts is close, with chances in favor of McCall, republican. Democrats elect Harrington governor in Maryland. Prohibition is defeated in Ohio, but in Virginia the cause made gains, the latter state going dry by constitutional amendment Nov. 1, 1916. Returns from 18 cities show 12 republican 5 democratic and one socialist mayors elected. Republicans have gained strength in all states.

Halloween Party.

At eight o'clock each and every member of the Ladies' Reading Circle hid herself to Ghost Tullar's castle—in ghostly attire. On the porch the ghost of Mary Ann greeted us. Silently the door opened and we were motioned to the upper rooms. After much moaning and groaning and the hooting of the owls, we all assembled in the court room after having shook the icy hand of Minnieghost. Donning witch caps we listened to the sentences passed by the mighty judge for misbehavior while on earth. Eating candy from a pan of flour with your mouth proved a most difficult task but ghost Powell proved her innocence by her success in getting the candy. Bobbing for apples, a corn race, pinning the cats eyes on, and riding the witches broom—all proved to be excellent punishments. But the witch and her two accomplices suffered more severe punishment, "Execution." Horrors! Will you ever forget it?

Fortunes in peanut shells revealed many surprising secrets of the future, especially so for ghost Farrell. After a ghostly grand march thru all the rooms, which were so beautifully decorated for the occasion, we helped ourselves most generously from the witches' table.

Stunts and music brought to a close a most enjoyable evening for the ghosts.

A Ghost Story. (In several Acts.)

Those who were bidden to meet the ghosts of their friends at the home of Mrs. A. N. Eckstrom last Thursday afternoon found new thrills awaiting them at each change of the program.

As we timidly knocked for admittance at the side door, it silently gave way, swung by ghostly hands. Ghostly fingers pointed the way to a dressing room. Relieved of our raps, we assembled in the drawing room, where a horrible skeleton of some ancestor grinned at us from the corner. By that time we found ourselves becoming "shaking ghosts."

But association accustoms us to all things and we soon found ourselves chatting in the most friendly manner with our neighbor ghosts, and choosing partners for a succession of ghostly stunts, which were carried thru with great glee. Several distinguished themselves along new lines notably Mrs. Frank, who won honors as a leader in singing. These over, the most charmingly decorated tables found their way into the rooms and the ghosts were served with a most delicious and dainty lunch, the crowning feature of which was the witches ice topped with a grinning mask and cryptic writings, which brought fortunes to all who would patiently decipher them.

The rooms which are at all times beautiful were made festive with many appropriate decorations. The merry party at last broke up and each ghost stepped away to her own abode, feeling that a most enjoyable time had been spent. (One of the ghosts.)

Let All The People Sing.

Community singing was tried with success in Cloquet this last summer. The people of Cloquet gathered in Pinehurst Park, and under proper direction, sang old and familiar songs. According to reports in the Pine Knot everybody liked the plan.

If community singing is a good thing in summer, why not in winter? The school house, town hall, or some church suggests itself as a suitable place.

"A PERFECT DAY."

Housekeepers' Shower for Mrs. Joe Bren, in her new Home.

A mile stone that we took much joy in passing, was a visit at the home of Mrs. Joe Bren. The affair was in the nature of a Housekeepers' shower. On Friday afternoon of last week, through the kindness of the owners of the cars, five auto loads rode out and took possession of the home. Mrs. Bren was unable to collect herself enough to realize what it all meant. She soon realized, however, and showed herself the hospitable hostess we have always known. Mrs. Bren was the recipient of many nice gifts to adorn her beautiful new home. The afternoon was spent socially, reviewing the years spent since Mrs. Bren came among us. Delicious refreshments were served. As the time approached for the good time approached for good byes, Mrs. Frank Wittensten sang in her usual charming manner, "When you come to the close of a Perfect Day." Then followed by all the friends present "Auld Lang Syne." All felt it a fitting close to a Perfect Day.

A Red Letter Day.

The Ladies of the Presbyterian Aid Society and some invited guests report a fine outing at the home of Mrs. H. J. Beardmore. Through the kindness of Mr. Beardmore, Mr. Gilbert, Dr. Bren, Albert Beardmore and William Dixon, we were treated to an auto ride, arriving at the home at twelve-thirty. We were welcomed by our hostess. A fine chicken pie dinner, with all that accompanies it, was served and to which we each did ample justice, showing that "the proof of the pudding is in the eating." The afternoon was pleasantly spent in visiting, doing Ladies Aid sewing, looking over the farm buildings, and hunting eggs. Later in the afternoon good byes were reluctantly exchanged and another auto ride brought us to our homes, each and all declaring that Mr. and Mrs. Beardmore were "All right."—One who was there.

Fine Weather.

The weather has been ideal during the past week, almost like Indian summer, with no rain or storms of any kind. Farmers are still plowing.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

They were defeated by a score of eleven to fifteen. A return game will be played here Saturday, November sixth, if the weather is favorable.

The Seniors ordered their class rings and pins last week and expect them in a few weeks.

The normalites entertained the members of the Junior and Senior classes last Saturday evening at a Hallowe'en party. They all met in the park at seven-thirty, wearing witches' caps and masks. After being lead about in the dark places by ghosts until about eight o'clock, they went to the Normal department at the Washington school, where masks were removed. Some of the important features of the evening were telling ghost stories, hunting for fortunes which were hidden in various parts of the city, such as in Skoog's wood shed, the tower house, at the Great Northern dam, under bridges, on the fire escape of the schoolhouse and on the Catholic church steps.

On returning, the fortunes were read aloud, after which a dainty lunch was served. Games were played until eleven o'clock, when all departed, having spent a very delightful evening.

Last Wednesday after school the two new teachers, Miss Ethel Ackerman and Miss Helen Seigne, went for a long walk out on the tracks with Miss Baker and Miss Benson. Miss Seigne, under the supervision of Miss Bakke, took charge of Mr. Mitchell's Civics class during his absence.

Mr. Neraal, while hearing his Botany class recite Monday morning, became so warm that a box of matches in his hip pocket were effected. However, he succeeded in saving himself without calling the fire company. Talk about interesting recitations!
