

Public School Notes

Supt. G. Holmquist, of Long Prairie, visiting Warren the Monday and Tuesday following the Easter vacation. On Tuesday he visited the various grades and departments of the schools over which he is to preside next year. Mr. Holmquist gave a very thoughtful address to the high school and took occasion to say by way of introduction that he supposed the school was sizing him up as he was sizing up the school. He is pleased with the outlook and feels sure his family and himself will like Warren and her splendid people. Supt. Holmquist will move to Warren during the summer when we are sure the people will give his excellent family the most cordial welcome. With the co-operation which the citizens of any town should give to the head of its school system, Mr. Holmquist is bound to keep the Warren schools up to a very high standard of efficiency.

Instead of having the usual commencement speaker this year, the graduating class will furnish the program. No doubt this innovation will be acceptable to the people in general and will be more economical at this time when the strictest economy should be exercised. This year at commencement time the class will have the unusual honor of presenting to the schools a $100.00 Liberty Bond, a gift than which there could be none more significant of the patriotic spirit which pervades the high school. The three ranking above 90 per cent for the four years, in this year's class are Florence Hanson, Agnes Berget and Gladys Mitchell, 91.14, 90.89 and 90.81 respectively.

The Burnside school has recently become a member of the Junior Red Cross. The school in District 88 with Emma Johnson as teacher, has sold over $112.00 worth of Thrift and War Savings Stamps. This is a splendid record and the sale is continuing.

The prospective teachers of the Normal department spent last week doing practice teaching in several of the surrounding rural schools. No doubt they have returned full of ideas, ideals, and inspiration for the work which they will soon undertake. Wherever they may teach, we wish them the best of success.

The untimely death of Mr. and Mrs. Neraal's bright little son Paul, came as a terrible shock to the teachers and pupils of our schools. The sincere sympathy of every pupil and teacher is extended to the bereaved parents in their great sorrow.

The Senior class had a delightful party Saturday evening at the home of Andy Morkassel, when the members who took part in the class play entertained the rest of the class.

Mary Pickford's greatest film "The Poor Little Rich Girl", will be shown at The Strand Tuesday, April 6th, under the auspices of the Junior class.

At the request of the authorities, a regular War Savings Stamp Society has been organized in the schools, having a president and secretary chosen from the faculty. Both the Sophomore and Junior classes have a clear record, 100 per cent of each class being now in possession of a Thrift card. The Senior class lacks one, while five Freshmen have as yet failed to start a card. The total amount held in the high school is somewhat over three hundred dollars.

On Friday of this week an effort is to be made to raise funds for the benefit of the Junior Red Cross. In the afternoon at 2:30, a basket social will be given for all the grades. Each little girl will bring a basket and each little boy will bring ten cents to purchase a basket. Cocoa will be served free. All grades will combine and hold their social in the gymnasium. At 5:30 the high school will have a similar social. The baskets will sell for not over 35 cents, and coffee will be served free. Alumni of the high school are cordially invited to attend this social and have a good time as well as help this very worthy cause.

Willie Olin, a member of the graduating class of the academy, mourns a brother who died last Monday at Grand Forks. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to Mr. Olin and family.

Leonard Morud and Harold Bartholow, graduates of our commercial department, have made brief visits in the city lately. They are both in the employ of the St. Hilaire Retail Lumber Company at Fargo and Moorhead.

Prof. Sjostrand has delivered patriotic addresses at Grygla, Alvarado, and Foldahl recently.

Leonard Winberg, who has received an honorable discharge from the service in the army, made a pleasant call at the college last week. Edward Nelson, who is home on a short furlough, accompanied him.

Miss Olga Hermanson has accepted the position of organist in the Swedish Lutheran church here in the city. Miss Hermanson will enjoy a short vacation in the month of June after which she will return to take up her work in the music department and also the work as organist. She will give lessons in piano and pipe organ during the summer months. There should be quite a number who desire to take lessons on the pipe organ. Now is your opportunity. Make your intentions known early.

POULTRY RAISING.

Care and Feeding of Breeding Geese.

Geese do not require warm winter quarters. The floor of their pens should be well supplied with plenty of clean, dry straw.

Their food in winter should consist of whole grain, oats and barley or oats and corn, (equal parts by weight), fed from troughs, all they care to eat. Boiled potatoes or sliced roots should also be liberally fed. They should be let out on range early in spring, and as soon as the grass and clover become abundant this will be sufficient food until fall.

Care and Feeding of Goslings.

Goslings should not be disturbed until twenty-four hours of age. At the end of one week, if the weather is warm, they require no artificial heat. Until they are strong enough they should be confined to small moveable runs and coops, and these should be moved each day to supply fresh grass. Keep their sleeping places clean. For the first few days they should be fed on dry bread, soaked in skim milk and fed crumbly. After ten days change to ground grain such as, three-fourths shorts and one-fourth either corn or barley meal. This should be moistened with milk and fed similar to the bread and milk. Feed little and often. As soon as they are three weeks of age gradually wean them to grass and clover pasture. Always keep fresh water before them. If they are to be fattened, confine them to small runs for a week or ten days and feed them on a ration of about two parts corn and one of shorts mixed with sour milk, and feed all they care to eat.

Care and Feeding of Breeding Ducks.

House breeding ducks in winter similar to geese. They do best if provided with a pond to swim in. They must always be supplied with plenty of drinking water. They should be kept in moderate condition until about a month before mating time, when more liberal feeding is required. Food should then consist of mill feeds. A good ration is as follows: Equal parts by weight of bran shorts and corn or barley meal, mixed crumbly with skim milk. Feed twice a day. If possible mix chopped roots, grass or clover leaves with the mill feeds or feed separately all they care to eat. Give them plenty of range.

Care and Feeding of Ducklings.

Ducklings should be cared for similar to goslings. A very satisfactory ration for them is as follows: For three or four days feed one part hard-boiled eggs mixed with three parts dry bread. Mix shell and all. Gradually change to equal parts by weight of corn or barley meal, bran and shorts, mixed crumbly with skim milk and three times the bulk of chopped green stuff as, onion tops, lettuce, beets, or cabbage. Feed often and liberally for about six weeks. If they are to be fattened, feed in small yards a ration of two parts corn or barley meal, one part bran, one part shorts mixed with skim milk. At eight weeks of age they should be ready for market. If intended for breeding purposes, turn out on free range so as to keep them in good growing condition.—By C. E. Brown, Crookston Experiment Station.

RED CROSS NOTES

By Mrs. F. P. Bernard

To make the number of socks required in proportion to the sweaters, we have yet to make about 600 pairs, before we again start on sweaters, that is unless they change their minds at Headquarters. And please remember no more double heels are to be made.

A report from those having charge of the work and which I failed to report last week, is that 80 garments have been made by the various sewing classes for the Belgium relief. These to help out the Junior Red Cross work.

I hoped to have a report of the knitting done by the High School, North Star College and the Normal class, for this week, but shall wait till I have a full report before publishing.

New members coming in to the Red Cross this week are: Tillie Frykholm, John P. Carlson, H. W. Hicks, Esther Lundahl, C. J. Lund, Ole J. Eide, L. J. Tenold.

Has anyone donations of any soft clean, white cotton or linen such as sheets, pillow slips, etc.? Large quantities of such cloths are needed for wrapping the surgical dressings. Either send to the surgical dressings room, or notify any of the supervisors who will gladly call for them.

Notice to the Public.

Any person destroying the road by plowing while turning around at the end of fields or when traveling on any road in this township, will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

By order of the Board.

The Germans on Your Farm

OUR soldiers "over there" are doing everything in their power to hold the Germans back. If they fail what would your farm be worth?

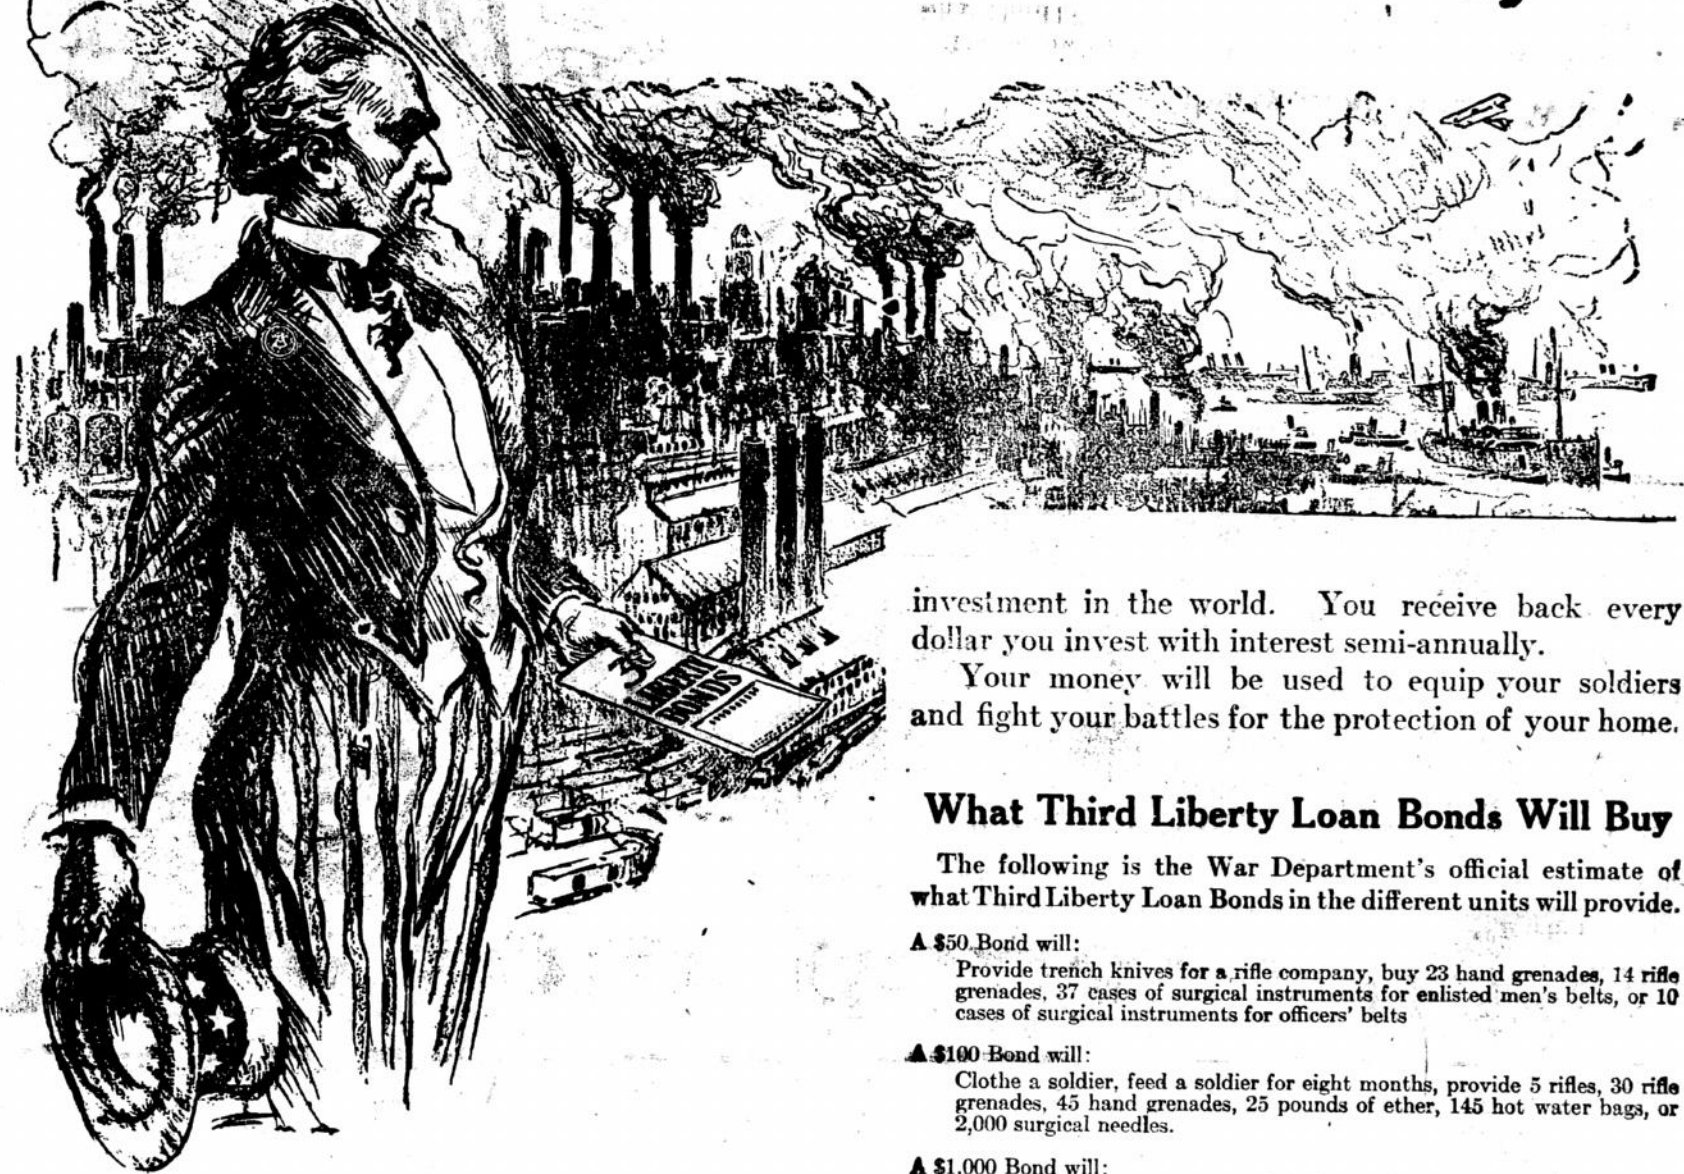

That would depend upon the indemnity the Germans levied upon it. You are fortunate in living so many miles away, for indemnity is as nothing compared to what the Huns have already done to the farms of Belgium, Italy, Roumania, Serbia, Poland and Russia.

Your money will be used to equip your soldiers and fight your battles for the protection of your home.

What Third Liberty Loan Bonds Will Buy

The following is the War Department's official estimate of what Third Liberty Loan Bonds in the different units will provide.

A $50 Bond will:
Provide trench knives for a rifle company, buy 23 hand grenades, 14 rifle grenades, 37 cases of surgical instruments for enlisted men's belts, or 10 cases of surgical instruments for officers' belts

A $100 Bond will:
Clothe a soldier, feed a soldier for eight months, provide 5 rifles, 30 rifle grenades, 45 hand grenades, 25 pounds of ether, 145 hot water bags, or 2,000 surgical needles.

A $1,000 Bond will:
Buy one X-ray apparatus outfit, six cases of operating instruments for a base hospital, furnish pistols for the men in a rifle company, furnish one motor kitchen, or eight ration carts.

$10,000 worth of Liberty Bonds will:
Fully equip three hospital wards of fifty beds each, with beds made up and linen in reserve, chairs, tables, mirrors, foot tubes, 120 pairs of pajamas, bath robes, and towels.
Buy six large sterilized combination outfits in which wholesale sterilizing can be done, or Buy six motor ambulances.

$100,000 worth of Liberty Bonds will:
Buy five combat airplanes, fifty motor trucks, twenty-five tractors, or pistols, rifles, and 500,000 rounds of ammunition for an infantry regiment.

Now is the time for every true American to sit down with a pencil and paper, estimate what he possesses, and arrange to make every dollar fight. Are you going to wait for your neighbor to tell you of your duty or will you go now to the nearest bank or post office and subscribe your full share of the Third Liberty Loan?

EVERY dollar which is not being used for the necessities of life, to turn the wheels of industry, or to draw interest is an idle dollar. Idle men and idle money are slackers.

If we are to win the war (and our money will be practically worthless if we should not win it), we must mobilize every ounce of strength. The German nation is mobilized to the last man and to the last dollar. We are the richest nation in the world and we have right on our side, but unless we subscribe to the full measure of our ability, our cause is in danger.

For the Third Liberty Loan the United States Government offers you bonds which are in reality a mortgage on every bit of property in this country. This is the safest
