Rivets versus Stove Putty

Tightness is essential to perfect baking and fuel economy; when a manufacturer uses stove putty or cement to fill up holes and joints he admits this. But it does not take more than average intelligence to realize that this stove putty will loosen by the expansion and contraction of the different metals, and soon disappears, leaving openings for cold air to be drawn into the flues. This naturally results in excessive fuel waste. Thousands of cast and steel ranges are annually discarded because they no longer are economical in fuel.

Malleable Iron can be riveted and all joints are made permanently tight in the Monarch Malleable, without the use of stove putty.

We offer $100 in gold for any stove putty found in the joints or seams of a Monarch. No store selling a cast fitted stove can truthfully make this statement.

A Monarch Malleable Range in your kitchen means permanent and lasting satisfaction. Let us replace that old range with a NEW MONARCH NOW.

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful
Car in America

THE mere fact of owning a motor car counts for but little these days unless it is a car of which its owner may justly be proud.

And this, we believe, is one of the reasons why the Paige Seven-Passenger Touring Car commands itself so highly to the car-owning public. It excites such general admiration that it is a constant source of pride to its owner.

Ever since the Paige Six-55 first appeared three years ago, it has held an unquestioned position of leadership among the finest seven-passenger motor cars on the American market.

Its handsome body, sturdy chassis and smooth-running motor are features often commented upon as being quite exceptional in a car of such moderate price.

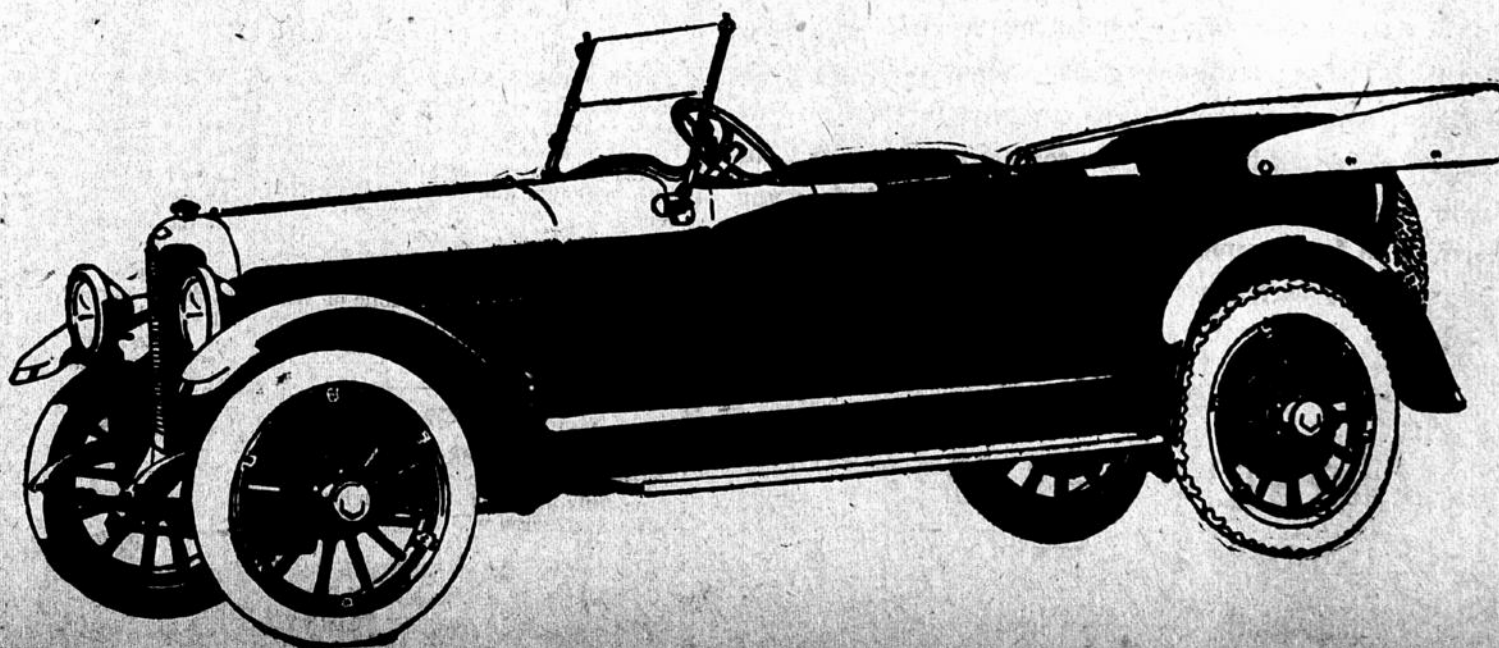

You have undoubtedly, at some time or other, ridden in a Paige Six-55. But, if not, you will certainly wish to do so before deciding on your next motor car purchase.

With the demand for the Paige Six-55 far exceeding our utmost production efforts, a prompt decision is advisable. Orders placed now mean just so much more of the best touring season assured for your enjoyment.
