A Typical Ohio Juvenile. A postal card bearing the following message was received yesterday by a printer employed on the Globe. It is another proof of the "git up and git" stuff of which Ohio men are made. The writer is a six-year-old:

DAYTON, O., Feb. 14, 1884.—I thought I would write to you and ask you to bring home as many tobacco tags as you can get, and get three or four of the same kind. Sauk Centre Academy of Individual Instruction. The above school has enrolled ninety-five students during the past four months. There will be some vacant places about March 1. The system is individual recitation. The advantage of the system is apparent. It does justice to each student according to his capacity. We prepare boys for advanced classes in colleges and universities, for certificates to teach in our public schools, and for business. There are pupils now in the academy who have completed the elementary course in four months, and in the commercial department they also in the same time have acquired a thorough knowledge of single and double entry book-keeping; also commission and banking. We have pupils in our German class who can hold conversation in German and translate German correspondence, and have been taking lessons in German only three months. Pupils from March 1 shall receive board, washing, tuition in any of the subjects taught at the academy, including Latin, German and book-keeping, for twenty dollars per month. For a summer school the location is unsurpassed, the academy being one and a half miles from the village, on the banks of Sauk lake. Bathing houses shall be erected early in the coming summer. There will be ample opportunities for boating and fishing. We refer to the business and professional men of Sauk Centre.

The Locomotive Firemen. Among the very pleasant social events of the season none have been more enjoyable to the participants than the complimentary reception tendered by Minnehaha lodge, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, at Pfeifer's hall last night.

Only those having invitations were admitted, and, judging from the large and happy throng in attendance, the cards were very generally honored. The hall presented an extremely beautiful appearance, the decorations displaying fine taste, one feature consisting of the monogram "B. L. F." in large letters, cunningly made of evergreens. The dancing programme consisted of eighteen numbers, the music for which was furnished by Stein's orchestra. At midnight refreshments were served. The floor managers, to whom much of the success was due, were as follows: Jno. H. Kilbane, chairman; Chas. Montgomery, P. V. Murphy, Frank Mayer, Thos. Cox, E. W. Dyer, Frank Hulme, B. Bradley, A. Leighton, Wm. Roope.

A Pleasant Surprise. It has been a long time since any of the residents of St. Paul have been taken so completely and pleasantly by surprise as were Sheriff O'Gorman and his wife last night, and like all unprepared affairs it proved more successful and enjoyable than if weeks had been spent in preparation.

About 9 o'clock a company of their friends, consisting of well known citizens and their families, marched into the residence of Sheriff and Mrs. O'Gorman and took immediate possession. They brought bundles with them, and the festivities were inaugurated at once. To say that the happy host and hostess were surprised and delighted, would be an understatement. The guests were received in a handsome manner, and made to feel perfectly at home. Dancing occupied a large share of the time, and during the evening refreshments were served. It was a most enjoyable affair indeed.
