

His 34th Judicial Anniversary.

[Special Telegram to the Globe.] CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—This is the 34th anniversary of the venerable Judge Drummond's election to the bench, by having been appointed district judge for the whole district of Illinois February 15th, 1850, by President Taylor. Previous to that time he had for a number of years been practicing law at Salem, and at the time of his appointment was sustained as the leading member of the bar there. February 13, 1855, the act was passed which divided the state into the second districts of northern and southern Illinois, the headquarters of the northern district being fixed at Chicago, and of the southern at Springfield. Judge Drummond then became district judge for the northern district, in April, 1859. The act introduced by Senator L. Trumbull, creating the circuit courts, was passed on the 23d of October, 1859. Judge Drummond was appointed circuit judge, his circuit embracing the three states of Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin.

It is Judge Drummond's intention as soon as he can settle up a number of matters now pending before him, to retire. He was elected to do so on his 40th birthday. The good wishes of the community will follow him into his retirement, with the hope that he will live long to enjoy the fruits of a long honorable and distinguished career.

A Printers' Strike.

[Special Telegram to the Globe.] BIRMINGHAM, Feb. 10.—All the compositors on the Daily Tribune went out to-night on a strike, because the management would not discharge the foreman of the job room, who, being a member of the union in another city, declined to transfer his membership to the organization here. The demand was an unreasonable and unjust one, and the manager of the paper declined to accede to it. The paper will suffer but trifling inconvenience from the strike and will appear as usual. No union men, and no men with some reason, will be secured to fill the strikers' places, not one of whom, the management declare, can ever again work on the paper. Every man on the editorial staff is a practical printer, and all are at the cases to-night.

DES MOINES, Feb. 10.—Owing to the reduction of the price of mining coal, the miners at Swan and Leighton, this state, struck to-day.

Death of Dr. Webster.

[Special Telegram to the Globe.] ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Feb. 10.—Only a few weeks ago Mr. C. Webster, of the drug firm of A. H. Webster & Co. of this place, was buried, and yesterday Dr. Webster, the senior member, died of paralysis, aged 65 years. He was a member of Pomona lodge of Masons, and a prominent Democrat, and had been a resident of this place about twenty years. He leaves a widow who is blind, and one child, a son, who is connected with the Grand Forks (Dak.) Herald company. The funeral will be held to-morrow at 2 p. m. from the Congregational church.

A Test Case.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—The directors of the board of trade are in session to-night, and heard the default case of the Allen Steamship line against the firm of Callan, McGreevy & Peterson, exporters, who defaulted on four grain shipping contracts in 1882. Judgment was rendered in favor of the Steamship company for the full claim. The case attracted the general attention of shippers of the United States, Canada and Europe, being the first of the kind.

Philadelphia Election.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 10.—Smith, Republican, is elected mayor, by about 9,000 majority; Warlick, Republican, city solicitor, by about 13,000 majority; Hunter, for receiver of taxes, had no organized opposition. The select council, with members chosen to-day, will be composed of about nineteen Republican and twelve Democratic members. The common council will be overwhelmingly Republican, with fewer members classed as reformers than are in the present body.

Sugar Works.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—It is stated to-day that a syndicate of prominent eastern and California capitalists, backed by a wealthy German house, has completed contracts with the Hawaiian sugar planters for a large crop. They intend building an immense sugar refinery in this city, competing with Claus Spreckels.

The World's Fair.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—The world's fair committee have prepared a memorial to congress asking for an appropriation of $2,000,000. Communications were sent to all the governors of the states and territories, requesting them to appoint commissioners to the fair.

Bad Storm.

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—There is a severe wind, snow and sleet storm in southern Illinois.

Collapsed Fortunes.

[Dr. Talmage in Frank Leslie's Sunday Magazine for March.]

The volume of this country's prosperity has just opened. Its chief agricultural, mercantile, mining and manufacturing triumphs are to come. If we could only have in New York and Pennsylvania, as in Wisconsin and Vermont, legislative assemblies only once in two years, and congressional assemblies at Washington, once in two years, and presidential election only once in six years, the politics of the country would not stand so imprudently in the way of business prosperity. But, notwithstanding all the obstacles, onward and upward is the path of this nation. It doth not yet appear what we shall be. Yet it seems that here and there a strong business man has been sacrificed for the nation's prosperity. Henry Villard, president of the Northern Pacific Railroad company, resigned the presidency, resigned his fortune, resigned all but his integrity, and that he may keep, though not worth a dollar, as well as when two years ago he was worth millions in getting the great Northern Pacific railroad through, one of the grandest enterprises of all time, he has swamped everything. I never saw him, but I heard his praises spoken all through Minnesota and the northwest last summer. Great heart and abundant generosity on his part, he was a teacher enough to suck into the life of any fortune that was ever gathered. I saw his railroad train in which he took, free of charge, to the Yellowstone Park, a great number of foreign tourists, who denounced Mr. Villard because, while he provided them with the best of food, they could not each have a whole drawing-room car to himself, and so were compelled to breathe the same air with the "vulgar Americans." I do not suppose that, ever since the world stood, did there go through this country as many titled gentilities, or so much glorified mud, as went up last summer, free of all charge, on generous Mr. Villard's rail train. The most of those people have gone home to the other side of the sea, and many of them are writing magazine articles on the credulity of American society, while Mr. Villard goes into bankruptcy. I suppose this was the last straw that broke the camel's back. Meanwhile the old lesson rolls over on us in new shape, that worldly properties are a most uncertain possession. It would not be worth while to put my hand down there with which to fly away; but they have claws with which they give a parting clutch that sometimes clips a man's reason, or crushes his heart. It is not so much the loss of the riches as the claw. Do not let us be so inordinant as to rejoice at any man's loss of riches, or to grieve at any man's down there. The only reason why most men are not worth ten million dollars is because they cannot get the amount together. It is not their scrupulousness that keeps them poor. But of such are the kingdoms of heaven.

Reading Habit in Mississippi.

Meridian Observer. Young ladies turn to the poets' corner when they pick up a newspaper and the married ones to the milliners' advertisements. A German dispatch intimates that England's delay in proclaiming a protectorate over Egypt is due to a fear of offending France.

GLOBELETS.

St. Louis is soon to have an elevated railway. A terrific rain storm did much damage in Pittsburg, Va., last week. Gen. Gordon is sending women and children down the Nile for safety. Two women belonging to a gang of burglars were recently arrested in London. Eastern Montana will, in the spring, receive 35,000 head of cattle from Texas. Meqr. Capel says the Roman Catholic priests in this country are over-worked. Isn't Mr. James G. Blaine a great deal talked about for a man that is out of politics? The net earnings of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad for the year was $2,732,000. A large mass meeting in London condemned the government's policy in Egypt. A Greek judge and another official have been carried off by brigands on the Albanian frontier. In Green county, Tennessee, an assassin shot Mrs. Jones Hunter through a window of her house at night. Mr. Salisbury, of Beloit, Wis., has commenced suit against a local preacher for marrying his runaway son. A Boston firm has an order for shoes for a colored printer at the South that will be numbered "twenty-fives."

HUMOROUS.

A model woman: A poser. A bosom friend: A good laundress. New York cats wear silver collars with tiny bells. This makes quite an addition to the concert. A sign in Cleveland reads: "Use Kream Salune," which is probably the worst spell of the season. A Vermont town has a young ladies society called "The Old Girls." Well, leap-year is the time to get even. No, my son, the great talker is not necessarily a mathematician simply because he understands how to multiply words. The flush on the face of the sky still continues, and a horrible suspicion is gaining ground that the sky has been drinking. A poet hath remarked that "All paths lead to the grave." He undoubtedly referred to allopaths and homeopaths and hydropaths and the rest of the M. D. paths. Some of the mummies in the British museum have false teeth. This throws the origin of the railroad sandwich away back into the murky clouds of antiquity again. An exchange says that a blast in a limestone quarry near Bodie, Cal., uncovered five petrified gulls' eggs. Scientists are now wrestling with the question: "Can a petrified gull lay an egg?"

After Twenty Years.

A Missouri Romance in Real Life That Could be Wrought Into an Excellent Domestic Play. [St. Joseph, Mo.] Herald. "Lena Ratti!" The words were uttered in stentorian tones by the deep-chested Isaac Veitch, as train No. 1 on the K. C., St. J. and C. B. road steamed up to the Union depot yesterday afternoon. "Lena Ratti!" And as the door of each coach was opened and the words of the depot master rang out above the clanging of the dinner gongs, and the shouts of the hotel runners, and the passengers turned in their seats to observe whence the voice came. Presently a tall, handsome young lady arose from her seat in the rear coach, and glancing slyly at the uniformed official, was seemingly inspired with confidence, and responded to the call. "That is my name, sir." The official stepped quickly to her side, and after the interchange of a few words in an undertone, they left the coach together. On the platform stood an elderly man, eagerly scanning each female form to be sure that the passengers emerged from the coaches and hastily entered the waiting rooms or hotel. It was the first time in all the years of Depot Master Veitch's experience that he had been called upon to introduce a lady to her father, and she had never seen. He performed the service gracefully, and affected important business elsewhere, as the two strangers embraced and were each in turn almost smothered with kisses. It is seldom that an honest man, after years of intimate acquaintance with the traveling public, has no time or inclination to share in the sentimentalities of those with whom he comes in contact, but this time Mr. Veitch's voice was husky and more than one glistening tear coursed down his cheek and fell upon his gray hair.

EDUCATIONAL.

Parents desirous of placing their daughters in a first class school, will do well to investigate the claims of this institution. To the present building, which is both spacious and beautiful, have been added a grand hall, a large hall, a music hall, a gymnasium, a library, a museum, and a recreation hall. The course of studies in the different departments is thorough, nothing being omitted that is necessary to give the student a complete practical education. A Thorough Purgative.

Medicine is the first necessity for cure. Then the cathartic effect must be maintained, in a mild degree, just sufficient to prevent a recurrence of costiveness, and, at the same time, to give the bowels and stomach must be stimulated and strengthened.

Ayer's Pills

Apply this restorative work better than any other medicine. They are searching and thorough, yet mild, in their purgative action. They do not grip the patient, and do not induce a costive reaction, as is the effect of other cathartics. Withal, they possess special properties, which render them the tonic, of the highest medicinal value.
