

THE CITY.

CITY GLOBULES.

R. D. Eggleston was yesterday appointed a special police officer at the Grand Opera house.

Detective Dan Ahern was around again yesterday, having recovered from his recent illness.

The vacancy in the police court caused by the resignation of Officer Pettier will not be filled until the return of Mayor O'Brien.

A strong horse and sleigh was picked up by an officer on Seventh street last evening and taken to the stable, 373 East Eighth street.

A St. Paul veteran was the recipient of $1,040 as a back-pension at the adjutant general's office yesterday with a future pension of $8 per month.

The fire department received 1,200 feet of Akron hose, 300 feet of the Boston Belting and Packing company's hose yesterday which goes into immediate service.

Dr. Murphy telephoned the police last evening that his pet antelope had escaped and to keep an eye out for "his feistness." He is supposed to be en route for the Rockies.

While there was not a solitary prisoner in a solitary cell at the city hall, at 11 o'clock last evening fifty-five transients absorbed all the warmth of the hospitable stoves of the bastille threw out.

One of the spectacles in the upper gallery of the Grand, last evening, was the prominence with which a "by-boy" displayed his new boots over the gallery rail during the entire performance.

T. S. Peck, adjutant general of the state of Vermont, has expressed to Adjutant General MacCarthy all the adjutant general's reports of that state during the war of the rebellion, and all documents pertaining to the subject issued by that department since its close.

A jury found, by sealed verdict, yesterday morning, the sum of $383.50, in favor of Wallace & Ryan, against the city, on a breach of contract, on the part of the board of water commissioners, in the matter of cementing the main conduit to Lake Vadnais.

The district court entered on the trial yesterday morning of the case of Henry Peir, suing the city for $25,000 damages for injuries received by him from falling into a sewer, claimed to be improperly guarded with danger signal lights, on the evening of Sept. 30, last.

J. P. Aherns, of the Aherns Manufacturing company, who was in the city yesterday, stated that he recently went to Texas to set up a steamer, where the first day he was addressed as "Mr. Aherns, the second familiarly as "Pete," and the third still more so as "Dutchy."

Yesterday Detective E. Walsh recovered a lady's gold watch which was stolen from Stone's jewelry store on East Seventh street Wednesday afternoon. The watch was picked up by a little girl, who happened to be in the store with her mother, and consequently no arrest was made.

There was considerable weather floating around loose in St. Paul yesterday, and one didn't have to employ a spirit mercury to get onto it either. The cold wave swooped down on the city before daylight, and it remained right here, the day being one of the coldest of the season. Last night was a corker, and the most popular place in the city was next to a red hot stove.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Sea of Ice at the Grand—The Olympic Performance.

The weirdly romantic drama, "The Sea of Ice," with its strange and involved plot, double cast of characters, novel, elaborate and picturesque scenic effects, was produced at the Grand last night by the Henrietta Vaders and Clara company.

The audience was not very large, which may be attributed to the extreme coldness of the weather, but the performance was interesting and by those present it was very much appreciated. Notwithstanding the fearful plot and singular denouement the entertainment as given by the present company would have been enjoyable last night, had it not been for the tedious and interminable waits. No doubt this was owing to the difficulty experienced on a first night in handling the scenery, and in this case further annoyance of this kind will be obviated. The strong characters in the play are those impersonated by Miss Vaders and Mr. Thompson, the latter appearing in the dual role of Carlos and Del Monte. Of Miss Vaders she appeared to best advantage in the third act as Ogorita, the Indian girl. Her assumption here was ingenious and shaded by the proper degree of pathos. Later on in the fifth act, when her motives for marrying the man who killed her parents are revealed, she becomes fiercely dramatic, and shows the subjection of the wretch at her feet in a manner truly admirable. Mr. Thompson's role of the daring and heartless adventurer is well sustained and he acts the part with force. The part of Barabas is well acted by Mr. Geo. S. Robinson and is worthy of mention. The scenic appointments are fine. The same drama to-night.

THE OLYMPIC.

The Olympian devotees were enthusiastic almost to frenzy last evening, and literally shouted their praises as the various and varied scenes of the lengthy programme was brought before them, and well they might, for the Emmerson and West company now holding the boards, contains some very good vocalists. Besides this, Miss May Waldren a lady well and favorably known in Chicago, lent her culture and artistic powers to make more attractive a very enjoyable and mirth-provoking entertainment. In speaking of Miss Waldren it should be mentioned that she is a lady of very prepossessing appearance, splendid physique of the embossed type, possessed of a sweet mezzo voice, flexible and rich in tone, well schooled and under perfect control. She was enthusiastically encored and had to respond no less than four times. During her singing there was breathless silence as a house full of people to screaming mirth by the funny specialties of Messrs. Lambert and Marr. Miss Allie Jackson was also a great favorite, and received unbounded applause. The performance throughout was void of anything vulgar, or even bordering upon coarseness, while there was plenty to excite uncontrollable laughter. If the management continues to supply equally good and unobjectionable entertainments, the Olympic will make itself fast friend with the people.

JOHNSON RELEASED.

Curious Indifference of Indiana Officials. Edward Johnson, the mulatto who was arrested a few days ago on the charge of killing Wm. Brown, of Indianapolis, Ind., and who has been confined in a cell at city hall since last Monday awaiting some word from the authorities of that city, was released from custody last night. His release was deemed advisable by the police officials of St. Paul, for the reason that no answer had been received to several telegrams sent by Chief Clark, and Detective O'Connor notifying the sheriff and chief of police of Indianapolis of his arrest. There is only one way to account for this gross, if not criminal, negligence, and that is on the theory that the change of officials since the commission of the crime in the fall of 1877, has resulted in indifference or oblivion.

On the other hand Detective O'Connor is totally certain that Johnson is a right man, as he answers the description forwarded by Supt. Robbins in October, 1883, besides which there are two colored men in St. Paul who were in Indianapolis when the crime was committed, and they say he is the man.

A School Teacher Vindicated. Mr. Clarence M. Kellogg, principal of the public school at White Bear village, was lately arrested upon a charge of assault and battery. It was claimed by the prosecution that the offense consisted in administering excessive corporal punishment to a little girl named Nora Cosgrove, a pupil in attendance upon the school taught by the defendant.

On yesterday, the trial of the defendant, occurred at White Bear village, before William Clark, Esq., justice of the peace, and a jury. S. A. Plumley, Esq., appeared for the prosecution and the defense was conducted by John W. Willis, Esq. The evidence against the defendant was weak, and the defendant was honorably acquitted.

ANOTHER REPORT.

To the Editor of the Globe: Your article in Thursday's GLOBE does injustice to the village schoolmaster, Mr. Kellogg, of White Bear. The evidence for the prosecution showed that no more punishment was inflicted than necessary to maintain proper discipline in the school, and without further evidence the case was properly dismissed. The school board, county superintendent of schools, and many of our most influential citizens were present, and were gratified at the way the case terminated, much of the trouble in all our public schools would be obviated if parents would be more careful in their criticisms of school management before their children, and where proper discipline is maintained at home, there is little trouble from such at school.

THE DULUTH FIRE.

The Merchants Hotel and Several Stores Destroyed—Loss, $87,000. [Special Telegram to the Globe.]

Brousseau, boarding house, $3,600; Wieland & Co., store, $1,400, stock, $5,000. The insurance on the Merchants hotel, in various companies, is $19,200. Thomas Whitaker, $3,500; M. STILLWATER GLOBULES.

Social this evening at the residence of Mrs. J. S. Anderson.

The mercury marked 29 degrees below at 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

B. C. Winston, of the lumber firm of Winston & Co., of St. Paul, made this city a business call yesterday.

Marine charges $250 for saloon license. At this rate the village has four of these establishments, yielding sufficient revenue to pay the current expenses of the little burg.

The old folk's concert, for the benefit of the Methodist church, will be postponed on account of the difficulty of getting the singers returned to Minneapolis that night, after the close of the entertainment.

A most scandalous report was in circulation yesterday touching the character of a gentleman well known in this city. Owing to the unreliable source from which the story emanated, but little credence was attached to the matter.

By the alternate thawing and freezing, the sidewalks are kept constantly in a condition absolutely dangerous to pedestrians, who are compelled to exercise the greatest care to avoid measuring their lengths on the ice-covered walks.

A man named August Johnson, charged with stealing an overcoat from the Tremont house, on Third street, was arrested yesterday morning by Officer Erickson. After a hearing in the police court the accused was held in the sum of $300 and committed in default of the required bail.

A little book, purporting to be a guide for merchants, has lately made its appearance in this city. As the volume has by chance fallen into hands for whose perusal it was not originally intended, the remarks uttered by those whose names are unpleasantly mentioned, are quite the reverse of complimentary to the author.

The rumor that Isaac Staples had concluded to erect a new saw mill at no distant date very likely had its origin in the almost universally expressed wish that the gentleman would again enter into active business operations. Probably no firm or individual was ever more missed by the workmen of any community than has Mr. Staples since he disposed of business property in the city.

A vag, who was accommodated with lodgings at the city hall on Wednesday night with the understanding that he should leave town in the morning, was found about 11 o'clock with a pair of boots in his possession. On being interrogated by the chief of police the vag claimed to have obtained the stogas at White Bear. As the tramp was known to be without funds the supposition is that the boots were stolen.

AT THE BANQUET OF THE PROPRIETORS OF SAINT PAUL, the other evening, there were many interesting and instructive things uttered. One of the shrewdest of that venerated band was in a prophetic mood, and indulged in the prediction that "in the year 1899, there will be a population of 1,000,000 residents between Saint Paul and Minneapolis." He probably meant to say there would be that number of people in and between the two cities by the year 1900. In either case, the lots we are now offering at from $300 to $500 each in WRIGHT'S Addition, on Summit avenue, by the Short Line bridge are dirt cheap. It is evident, too, by the way the lots there are going, that plenty of people agree with us as to their cheapness, and with the foresaid Prophet, as to the growth of Saint Paul and the district just west of the city limits. The active young men of to-day are to be the Capitalists and Merchant Princes of A. D. 1900, and many of them will then be lying in their palatial homes on Wright's addition lots, worth from ten to twenty thousand dollars. We have reserved from sale a number of lots for the houses Mr. Wright proposes to build there. IT IS A GOOD TIME TO BUY NOW. You can still get good choice.
