A Lively Session at the Police Court Yesterday—A Job Lot Docket and How It Was Disposed Of.

There is nothing so dubious as nice; the evil doer suspects even himself and trusts nobody. On this account he is his own enemy and he has no friends. The bull pen of the police court is to humanity what the catch basin is to the sanitary condition of a city. It is the common fumigator of society.

As usual of Monday the gist yesterday was the case of Dennis Swanson and James Keogh. These young men were arraigned on the charge of burglary, and the case demonstrated how criminally foolish some of our boys are when they get drunk on liquor.

CONGRESSIONAL.

A Squabble Over the Introduction of a Bill for a Mexican War Pension.

The Senate Passes Resolutions Eulogistic of the Late Representative D. C. Haskell.

The Naval Board on the Jeannette Said to Have Been a Very Partial One.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Senator Vest presented a memorial from the president and members of the territorial council of New Mexico complaining of the arbitrary assumption by the clerk of that territory of the power to designate the members elected to the territorial legislature, thus depriving each house of such legislature of the right to judge of the election and qualifications of its members. In connection with the memorial, Vest offered a resolution which was agreed to, referring the subject and matter of complaint to the committee on territories for investigation, with power to send for persons and papers.

The following bills were introduced and referred: By Senator Voorhees, to prescribe the conditions under which railroads shall be constructed and maintained across the Wabash river in Indiana and Illinois, and the White river in Indiana. Also, to appropriate $50,000 for the protection of government property and the improvement of the Ohio river at Jeffersonville, Ind.

By Senator Harrison offered a resolution, which was agreed to, calling on the secretary of war to furnish the senate with any information in his possession as to the effect of any dam or other government work in the channel of the Ohio river, near Jeffersonville, Ind., upon the flood line of the river in times of great freshets, etc., to the officers of the Black Hawk and other Indian wars.

The following resolutions, offered by Senator Bayard, were agreed to: Resolved, That the committee of naval officers, and are hereby instructed to inquire into the efficiency of the machinery of a foundry, with steam hammer, and proper machinery for the manufacture by the government of modern artillery of the best and most improved construction, and to make a report thereon as early as practicable.

Proceeding to the calendar the senate passed a number of bills authorizing the construction of a gold road, and a bill for site and building, among as follows: Carson City, Nev., $100,000; Waxo, Texas, $100,000; San Antonio, Texas, $200,000; LaCrosse, Wis., $100,000; San Francisco, Cal., $100,000; Oshkosh, Wis., $100,000; Fort Smith, Ark., $100,000; Nebraska City, Neb., $75,000; Pueblo, Colo., $200,000; Fort Scott, Kas., $100,000.

Bill providing for the purchase of additional arms for the use of the United States at Springfield, Ill., for $26,000, and granting to the city of St. Louis, for street purposes, 67 1/2 feet on the end of the marine hospital tract, was also passed.

allow to be given, valuable testimony, and that the court ruled on nearly every question that would bring out the true history of the case. The evidence in this case is alleged, by competent authority, dependent upon, and under the jurisdiction of, and afraid of persecution by the naval department, that the stenographer of the court, who had been ordered to attend, and the valued testimony was suppressed, and the proceedings of the court were calculated to cover all matters relating to the case.

Mr. Collins offered a preamble and resolution, which recited that a memorial had been presented by a shareholder of the Pacific National bank, Boston, charging frauds and misconduct on the part of the directors of the bank, and directing the committee on banking and currency to consider the expediency of making an immediate investigation into said charges, and in doing so, to have the committee prevent such fraud and misconduct in future. Adopted.

Mr. Bland introduced a resolution, amending the rules, so as to make it out of order to receive amendments to bills after the adoption of a resolution affecting the relations of the United States with foreign countries, until referred to and reported back from the committee. Referred.

By Mr. Williams, for the erection of public buildings at Jacksonville. By Mr. Caldwell, to prohibit the importation of pauper labor, and the sale of pauper labor, lazzaroni and beggars.

By Mr. Poland, for amending the rules, so as to provide that eulogies on deceased members shall be published in the Record without being read in the senate.

By Mr. Wellman, for the erection of public buildings at Fort Worth, Tex. By Mr. Hancock, by request to liquidate the national war debt in gold, by the sale of the public lands, and the creation of the national currency money, to discontinue the collection of internal revenue, and to establish a merchant marine. The means by which these results will be obtained is $1,200,000,000.

Mr. Townsend moved to suspend the rules and pass a bill pensioning the survivors of the Mexican war. The bill does not apply, like that pending before the house, to the officers of the Black Hawk and other Indian wars.

Mr. Townsend explained the bill and stated it combined, in so far as it related to the soldiers of the Mexican war, with the bill introduced by himself the first bill of this session, and the bill was reported from the committee on pensions.

At the suggestion of the convention of the committee on pensions, the bill was amended so as to include in it the soldiers who had served sixty days in the Mexican war, or who had actually served with the army and navy, or had participated in any of the battles of the Mexican war, or who had married before their discharge. He had not embraced the soldiers of the Florida, Indian or Black Hawk wars.

After consultation with the friends of the bill, it was concluded it was better to separate them, and let the claims of the soldiers of each war stand on their respective merits, and not confuse and embarrass the committee by the inclusion of all wars. It was heartily in favor of pensioning soldiers in the Black Hawk and Florida Indian wars, and should support their bill, which he hoped would soon be up for consideration.

Bill providing for the pensioning of soldiers in the Black Hawk and Florida Indian wars, and should support their bill, which he hoped would soon be up for consideration.

Mr. Browne, Ind., opposed the bill, because it would put on the pension roll all who actually appeared in some muster roll of the United States in the war with Mexico. It would include all who were living or dead Mexican, and never heard the discharge of a gun, unless it were fired by accident. It put on the rolls men who did not need pensions. He was in favor of a pension law which would actually give to Mexico, or who participated in any battle in the Mexican war, without regard to the time of service, and to put on the roll every man who was on the muster roll for sixty days, or who had actually been in the Mexican war, or who was in such a pecuniary condition as to need assistance. How did gentlemen of the majority forget 2,000,000 men who served in a war equal in importance to the Mexican war, and who were in the line of battle between the United States and Seminoles war, and then forget these other men?

It was because it was thirty-seven years since the Mexican war? It was eighteen years since the Seminoles war, and the Seminoles, and certainly the men who carried the flag of the nation to victory during the three years of the rebellion, were as much entitled by service to pension as men who appeared on the muster roll for sixty days. There were 70,000 who went to the Mexican war, 50,000 went from the slave-holding states, and this bill was brought in because the rebel soldiers could be put on no other pension law. The veto of the bill was a disgrace to the soldiers in the war of the rebellion.

Mr. Townsend, replying to Browne, said he had no objection to the bill, but he did not mean which were not fair nor square. The Republican party held the control of both branches of last congress, and the executive department and the gentleman himself had no objection to the bill. Mr. Washburn offered a preamble and resolution, which recited that a memorial had been presented by the speaker concerning the Jeannette expedition, the conduct of the surviving members and the manner of investigation by the naval court of inquiry, and that he had no objection to the bill, but he did not mean which were not fair nor square. THE MONEY CLERK OF A ST. LOUIS EXPRESS COMPANY GETS IN HIS WORK.

Seventy-Five Thousand Dollars the Result of His Operation.

How the Job Was Planned and Carried Out—$7,000 Reward Offered for His Arrest.

ST. LOUIS, March 3.—Prestis Tiller, money clerk of the Pacific Express company here, whose father is a Louisville detective, disappeared about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, taking with him one or two valises full of money packages, the total amount being nearly $75,000. It is the custom of the company to keep a money clerk and day watchman on duty in the office on Sunday, the doors being secured by a chain and locks, and no one being admitted except the messengers, who arrive on the morning trains and have money packages to turn over. Yesterday evening Tiller was on duty, and the watchman remained in the office until about 10 o'clock, the front doors being kept locked. About 3 o'clock the watchman went out to lunch, leaving three messengers sitting by the stove. While he was gone, Tiller came in and returned with a stranger, whom the messengers supposed to be a new clerk or messenger. Tiller and the stranger went into the front office and were thought no more of. An hour later Tiller came into the back office to wash his hands and remarked to the watchman who had returned, that he believed he would go out and get some lunch. Wiping his hands he re-entered the front office and was not seen again. He had an hour's return, and the man walked into the office to get something, and was surprised to find the front door unlocked and Tiller absent. He spoke of it to the messengers, who were sitting by the stove, and they went to look for him. He was not there, and he summoned the superintendent, who soon discovered that about a bushel of money packages was missing. The detectives have learned nothing yet.

R. G. Butler, agent of the company, says there can be no doubt the man brought to the office by Tiller was a confederate, and that he and Tiller took all the packages from the office, and that they were sent to the city. Several envelopes were found which had been out at one end, but as they contained checks they were not taken. Other packages containing silver were also taken. Butler thinks, however, there must have been nearly a bushel of packages taken, and there was probably a third confederate on the outside, as the weight of the packages, many of which were of the kind of the confederate, in connection with which the grand jury was called. The packages were all packed in boxes, and Campbell threw up the sponge and entered a nolle prosequi. The prisoner was discharged.

At the meeting of the farmers' club at Tower Grove, on Monday evening, the 29th inst., a successful farmer, gave his experience with poor varieties of seed wheat: Flie, 11 to 15 bushels per acre; Russian and Defiance 24 1/2 bushels per acre; and the best he has seen the soft varieties in 1884. Prefers Defiance, but likes the Saskatchewan.

The Wheeler Railroad is the property for this locality. The bill to open the route of Mrs. J. R. Love, of Bluff Hills, entered the first session of the legislature, in 1881 on the bill of the St. Louis river, but was driven therefrom in 1882. The bill was introduced by the late Mr. Love. He is now residing and editing a newspaper in Florida.

It is no doubt true that the order of the G. A. R. is designed to be strictly non-partisan, but it appears to be some of the candidates being made to use it to some extent for Logan's interest. The Tribune, the soldiers' organ at St. Paul, has some of the candidates and a marked copy is sent to every member of the G. A. R. in the country.

Judge Moody has returned to Deadwood from Washington, and says that he has the assurance of the president that the St. Paul and Northern Pacific reservation will be pushed through at once, and that it will pass both houses with perhaps a very slight modification. The land in question will be sold to the government, and the price will be five year, and will thus shut out all speculators.

The new owners of Dakota are getting in a bad way. The Hon. J. Mitchell, Bluff, Black Hawk, Jamestown, Fargo and other points are being taxed for room. For those who intend to go on land it is at least a month too early. The really disagreeable part of the winter will break up of winter. Those who have their first impressions of the country taken in the spring will be disappointed. The winter will be a five year, and will thus shut out all speculators.
