CHICAGO.

Chicago, March 24.—There was another bear raid to-day, which was more severe and the decline larger than Saturday, and the bulls were more demoralized than at any previous time this month.

Chicago, March 24.—Money is a trifle more active and easy. Large loans on gilt edged paper and collaterals 5% to 6% per cent.

NEW YORK.

New York, March 24.—The market opened this morning with free selling of Eric seconds and Manhattan Elevated. Then came a break in the coalers and St. Paul, and it was difficult to perceive any strength in any quarter.

The bears have secured the supremacy to-day and retained complete control of the market from the opening to the close.

Why Pitt Kellogg Cannot be Convicted—The Whisky Bill To-Day—Grant Wants Vote for Arthur.

[Special Telegram to the Globe.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 24.—J. DeLaitre and Eastman with their wives and children, all of Minneapolis, registered at Willard's to-night, on their way home from the south.

THE TARIFF CAUCUS.

The caucus of Democratic members to-morrow night dwarfs all other subjects of discussion, and speculation is rife as to the probable results. A supporter of Mr. Randall's view that tariff agitation at the present juncture is unnecessary and hurtful to Democratic interests in the ensuing campaign stated to-night to a GLOBE correspondent that unless one wing or the other shall give way a split would be unavoidable.

THE WHISKY BILL.

The advocates of the whisky bill predict success to-morrow, but its opponents as confidently declare that it will be beaten. The measure has received several accessions within the past two days—among them Mr. Eaton of Connecticut, who says he will vote for it upon the ground that as importers have three years to bond goods for payment of duties our home producers of whisky should enjoy equal rights.

GRANT AND ARTHUR.

A rumor is in circulation that Gen. Grant, who is here, recently declared he would not support President Arthur's re-nomination nor vote for him if nominated.

HOGS AND RETALIATION.

At 10 o'clock to-morrow Mr. Emery Storrs will appear before the house committee on commerce, and address them on the subject of the bill for the inspection of live stock and the hog product, pending before that committee. The bill was prepared some weeks ago by Mr. Storrs, at the suggestion of Mr. Kegan, the chairman.

The main features of the bill have already been pointed out in the GLOBE. The prospects are that the bill as it now stands will be substantially reported to the house, with a possible addition of a clause authorizing the president in his discretion to exclude from our ports adulterated articles from those countries which exclude our products.

AFTER A SCALP.

Emery Storrs is going for J. H. Saunders' scalp. He says he has long contemplated this course, and now his mind is fully made up. What decided him in the matter was an Associated Press dispatch from Chicago this morning, where Mr. Sanders reflects upon Mr. Storrs' motives in opposing the bill for the creation of a bureau of animal industry.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS.

A supreme court decision was rendered in the municipal bond case, county Dixon, Nebraska, plaintiff in error against Marshal Neld. This was a suit upon past due coupons of certain bonds issued by county Dixon to the Covington, Columbus & Black Hills Railroad company.

This objection was sufficient to prevent present consideration. The attorney general was in the Senate chamber a few moments before the resolution was offered but just stepped out when Senator Youvick got the floor. Mr. Brewster will probably answer this resolution as he did the one Senator Voorhees offered, asking him why he had not applied for a construction of a statute made by the post master general more than six months before.

The attorneys for William Pitt Kellogg being satisfied that the government cannot secure the attendance of J. A. Walsh as a witness will on Wednesday press for an immediate trial. Without Walsh the government has no show, and while Walsh is on bad terms with Kellogg and has given all his testimony to a grand jury, he is at present hostile to the government, or else he has been induced to keep out of the way.

Representative Greenleaf introduced a bill to provide for the appointment of three commissioners by the president, whose duty it shall be to examine and revise, and report to congress upon the patent laws of the United States, the remedy for the infringements of the patents and the internal administration of the patent office.

Consuls—Willis E. Baker, Minnotts, to Rosario, Argentine Republic; Fifth Charlesworth, Beloit, Kansas, to Fitchburg; Julius Shapel, consul general, Shanghai; Archer Russell Platt, consul Chefoo, China; Brewster Cameron, Beloit, Kansas, receiver of public moneys, Tucson, Arizona; Jacob B. Blair, Wyoming, associate justice of the supreme court of Wyoming; Case Broderick, Kansas, associate justice of the supreme court, Idaho. Nothing is known at the department of state regarding the alleged complaint of the grand vizier of Turkey against the recent conduct of the United States minister, Wallace.

Secretary Teller to-day sent to the house a supplemental report in relation to the unlawful fencing of public lands in Nebraska. The report is a special one by United States Deputy Surveyor G. W. Fairchild, who says: "The whole country embraced in my contract, Northwestern Nebraska is occupied and run by capitalists, engaged in cattle raising, who have hundreds of miles of wire fence constructed to enclose all desirable land, including water courses, to form a barrier for their cattle and prevent settlers from occupying the lands. They also represent they have desert timber claims upon the land, and have timber claims upon their fences they have posted at intervals, as follows: 'The s-o-f-a-b'—who opens this fence had better look out for his scalp.' Fences are built often so as to enclose several sections in one stock ranch, and ranches are joined together from mountains clear round to mountains again. Persons going there intending to settle are also notified, if they settle on the land the ranchmen will freeze them out. They will not employ a man who settles on, or claims land, and that he cannot get employment from any cattle man in the whole country. My chief object in addressing you is to report the wholesale destruction of valuable timber on government land in this whole region by cattle men, who pretend to own and raise it. There are acres after acres of bare stumps. Which, but a short time ago were growing timber. These were thousands of logs cut last summer and hauled out to accessible points, to be used for fences, corrals, landing shutes and houses in Nebraska and Wyoming.

The house committee on private land claims, directed a favorable report on representative Hunt's bill, to confirm title of John C. Coffield to point Homs plantation, Louisiana.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The senate committee on public lands agreed to report favorably Brewster Cameron as receiver of public moneys at Tucson, Arizona.

The treasury department is informed that a new counterfeit $20 silver certificate is being circulated in Ohio and Kentucky. The counterfeiters bear either the number B 1,437, 415 X, or number B 1,407 XV, and may be detected that way.

The house committee on claims directed a favorable report on the claim of Wm. A. and Adeline Cheatham, for $32,074, with interest from Oct. 1868. The claim grows out of an assessment made by the internal revenue collector on cotton raised and taxed, and which was paid under protest of the Cheathams. The cotton was raised in Louisiana.

The following telegram in regard to the disappearance of Charlie McComas, was received at the war department to-day: PRESIDIO, San Francisco, Cal., March 23.—To the adjutant general of the United States army, Washington. The following dispatch of this date just received from General Crook: The most careful examination has been made, but the general testimony of the Indians is that Charlie McComas, was never seen alive after the fight in the Sierra Madre. The Indians scattered in every direction at the moment of attack. The country there is indescribably rough, sides of the canon with boulders and sharp rocks, which effectually conceal any one taking refuge in them. I am satisfied the Apaches hunted for him as they promised to do, but cold rain fell that night, washing away his foot prints, so he could not be trailed, and there is now every reason to believe he perished of cold and exposure.

A supreme court decision was rendered in the municipal bond case, county Dixon, Nebraska, plaintiff in error against Marshal Neld. This was a suit upon past due coupons of certain bonds issued by county Dixon to the Covington, Columbus & Black Hills Railroad company. The court holds, the county is not estopped by the recitals in the bonds from denying their validity, and that having been issued in contravention of the condition, they are without warrant in law and void. The judgment of the circuit court is reversed, and the cause is remanded with directions to enter judgment in favor of county Dixon. A decision was also rendered by the court in the patent case of Louis McMurry et al., appellants, vs. D. W. Mallory et al., an appeal from the United States circuit court of the district of Maryland. This was a suit brought in the court below by the appellant upon two reissued patents upon improvements in soldering machines, and soldering irons used in canning factories. The first was a patent granted to him originally as the Barker patent and the second as the Bostwick patent. The court holds, first, that the first three claims reissued of the Barker patent are void, because broader than the claim of the original patent, and the fourth and fifth claims have not been infringed. Second, that the reissued Bostwick patent is not for the same invention set forth in original patent, and it, too, is therefore void. The decree in the circuit court dismissing the appellant's bill, is therefore affirmed.
