Probable Defeat of the Trade Dollar Bill

Washington, April 22.-Hon. John W. Foster, United States minister to Spain, who arrived in Washington yesterday, has come to confer with the authorities regarding the details of the proposed commercial treaty between Spain and the United States. It is said on undisputed authority, his visit has nothing to do with the alleged plan for the purchase of Cuba by the United States, nor United States on April 10, has it any bearing on the insurrection in FILIBUSTERING TO BE STOPPED.

The secretary of the treasury and the attorney general have issued orders to their agents in the cities bordering on the Gulf of Mexico, for a strict enforcement of the neutrality laws. Agents are instructed to keep a sharp lookout for Cuban insurgents, and intercept any filibustering expedition bound for Cuba. The revenue steamers Forward friendly government. and Seaward are cruising in the gulf on patrol duty.

The house committee on banking and curency to-day agreed upon the following resolutions as the report of the committee on the the government officials arising out of the failure of the Pacific National bank, Boston:

Resolved, that from an examination of the allegations, and the offers of proof made by the memorialists, and documentary evidence and admissions already before the committee, it is the opinion of the committee that international association of Congo, and further investigation of the facts is not necessary in order to pass upon the charges made against the government officers. That there is no proof or offer of proof sufficient to justify the committee in entertaining the charge of conspiracy between the government officers and other parties. That the increase of the United States announces its sympathy with and approval of the humane and bevolves a question of law now before a court of competent jurisdiction, and is not a matter properly calling for judgment of this committee. That while, in the light of the facts apparent since the failure of the bank the mptroller's exercise of his lawful discretion, in some instances, may be open to criticism, and the wisdom of his course may be questioned. There is nothing to sho law. That a sub committee be directed to prepare a report embodying these views, and to formulate such amendments to the national banking act as will tend to prevent the practices by which the insolvency of the Pacific bank was brought about, and to limit and define the discretion of the comptroller, and if possible, make the examination directed by law more

TRADE DOLLARS.

The senate committee on finance this morning took up and discussed the house reached, that if the bill is reported at all it should contain a provision similar to that in the original bill which was stricken out in the house, providing that the amount of silver received under the provisions of the act should be deducted from the monthly purchases of bullion under the present law for the coinage of standard dollars. Objection was made to the bill, that its operation extended over too great a period. It provides that trade dollars shall be received at their face value in payment of all dues to the United States until the 1st of June, 1886. This, it is urged, would give an opportunity to import all trade dollars which have gone abroad, and have them redeemed at their enhanced value. It was suggested that stamped or marked coins be excepted from the provisions of the bill, and that the time be limited to sixty or 90 days, within which trade dollars should be redeemable. The latter proposition met with decided favor, and although no formal action was taken, there is no doubt, if reported at all, the time will be so limited as not to permit the importation of trade dollars which entered into circulation in Asia. Final action was postponed for a week. From the opinions expressed in the discussion, it is not thought probable the bill will be reported favorable. The extreme hard money men in the committee oppose it on the theory that trade dollars are merely bullion which deem. Silver men oppose it because of the prospective suspension of the purchase of silver.

A HIGH OLD TIME.

They Had It in the Republican Caucus at Kasson.

And Are Likely to Have It in the Ohio Republican Convention.

Very Bitter Feeling Between Blaine and Sherman Men in Ohio.

Row in the Grand Old Party [Special Telegram to the Globe.]

Kasson, April 22 .- Republican party politics at this place are at white heat and the 'grand old party' of "great moral ideas" is 'all torn up," and the occasion for it is the election and oontrol of delegates from this precinct to the Republican county convention, to be held at Mantovrille to-morrow.

The party of late has been divided into two factions, one with L. G. Nelson as its ostensible head, and the other led by G. B. Arnold, a brother-in-law to Senator-elect C. E. Severence, and as both are candidates for state offices, the first for treasurer and the latter for auditor, it has occasioned a fierce and bitter fight for the prestige of delegates to the convention and the consequent control of the patronage of the county.

The fight has been the most bitter that has ever been known here, and much bad blood has been engendered, resulting in much supporters of Chalmers. animosity and ill feeling.

The Arnold party scored a brilliant victory by the capture of the Hon. Milo White when he was here a few days since "repairing his fences,"as he had always been supposed to belong exclusively to Mr. Nelson, as Mr. Nel son was the committee that procured his brilliant oratory at our county fair last fall in payment for the honorable gentleman's "favorable mention" of Mr. Nelson's candidacy for state treasurer. Mr. White evidently found his "fences" in good repair at this place as he only remained about four hours, taking the six o'clock freight for other fields.

The culminating point was reached last night when the caucus met to choose the delegates to the county convention, and a rich treat was the result to the Democrats, who were quiet lookers on. The town hall was densely packed, and it was evident that both sides had marshaled their whole strength for the final struggle. Mr. Arnold as chairman of the precinct committee, called the caucus to order, read the call and called for the nomination of a presiding officer, and then ensued the first trial of strength. The Nelson party were first to the attack, and nominated H. S. Works and were immediately followed by the nomination of Dr. H. T. Turner by the Arnold followers.

Mr. Arnold put the motion for Mr. Works for chairman and the ays and noes were so nearly evenly divided it was impossible for him to decide, and he so stated when an immediate call to divide the house was made. Mr. Arnold directed those in favor of Works to take the north side of the hall and those for Turner the south. Again it was impossible to decide without a count, when a hasty consultation occurred between Nelson and his leaders, which led to an almost immediate motion to elect a chairman by ballot, which was unanimously carried.

L. G. Wilson and George B. Edgerton, of the opposing factions were apppointed tellers and the vote went on. Mr. Arnold arose after the count by the tellers and announced 'listen to the result of your ballot."

Whole number of votes cast 180; Works

Mr. Nelson, after the confusion had partially subsided said he "had it in his mind that fifteen Democrats had voted," but as it was "in his mind" no notice was taken until one of the Nelson crowd stepped upon chairman of the Republican caucus, which the speaker put and declared carried and Works and Turner both took position on the platform, glaring at each other like gladiators in say, the massacred consisted of Copts, the arena. Each faction then completed Egyptians, Assyrians and Greeks. Before their organization and proceeded with two they left Khartoum, Gen. Gordon said to caucuses in the same hall, and each elected them, "you are safe in Khartoum, but go if delegates to the county convention, the utmost confusion reigning all the time, disgusting many of the fair-minded men of noth factions. During the uproar consequent upon the delegates to the Chicago convention, uninelection of chairman, a Democrat proposed to let the Democrats present elect one of their number chairman for them, and thus "stay the troubled waters," but their kindly effort to "pour oil upon the troubled water" was of no avail. The whole trouble appears to have arisen in the fact that Mr. Nelson, being a standing candidate for state treasurer, or "any other office," must have a home delegation, if he has to "bolt" and get one from a minority.

The Democrats are quiet spectators, being conscious they have done all in their power to harmonize the family and keep peace in the g. o. p.

Ohio's Republican Convention. CLEVELAND, O., Apil 22 .- A great number of leading Republicans of Ohio, are here to attend the state convention to-morrow. Opinions differ whether a majority of the delegates favor Sherman or Blaine. pears to be the prevailing judgment that the Sherman's friends and some of Blaine's op pose instructions. The Blaine men claim a majority, but Sherman men say many supposed to favor Blaine will Sherman. There is considerable bitterness, and it is thought Blaine's friends among the delegates on arrival at Chicago will rally to Lincoln in case Blaine's chances are not bright and there is strong undercurrent for Lincoln. Representatives of wool interests are here in force to urge a wool protective plank in the platform. The delegates meet by districts at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to select vice presidents, committee men and perhaps fill out delegates to Chicago. The convention will temporarily organize at 3 o'clock and General Chas. H. Grossvenor will be temporary president. Major McKinley seems to-night to be the favorite for permanent president. The principal work of the convention will be done

Thursday. Indications point to Col.
J. F. Ogilvee, of Clark county, as the nominee for secretary of state. Others named for the nomination are S. B. Walcott, of Portage, Major Henry Arline, of Muskingum, C. S. Clark, of Franklin, Oscar Shepherd, of Preble, and Henry Jusky, of Cincinnati. Judge W. W. John son, of Ironton, will probably be ronominated for the supreme bench. It is thought the resolutions will favor the wool tariff of '67, condemn the Morrison tariff bill, endorse the course of representatives in congress, rehearse southern outrages, commend the wise and patriotic administration of President Arthur, and ignore the liquor question.

Gilman's Congressional Convention. |Special Telegram to the Globe.]

They endorse Logan's opposition to the Fitz John Porter bill, and heartily endorse Congressman John A. Anderson.

Utica, N. Y., April 22.—There is much speculation as to the outcome of the convention. There is now the Arthur, Blaine and Edmunds camps. A conference of Edmunds men numbering about forty delegates was held at midnight. They decided under no circumstances to combine with the administration delegates in the preliminary or in any other place for that matorganization. They also decided they would support any two candidates for delegates at only fifty-seven people in the seats, and the large that the Blaine men agreed upon, provided the latter would permit them to name two Edmunds delegates at large. MINNEAPOLIS VS. CINCINNATI. The Way the Porkopolis Lads Walloped the Ball Tossers of

St. Anthony.

[Special Telegram to the Globe.] CINCINNATI, April 22 .- The Enquirer of this morning has the following account of the game between the Cincinnati and Minneapolis clubs: "The Minneapolis Northwestern league team played the first of its series of games with the Cincinnati amateur club yesterday, under most disheartening circumstances. The crowd in attendance was possibly the smallest that ever witnessed a regular professional game in Cincinnati, ter. By actual count there were visitors share of the receipts did not amount to enough to pay their hack bill to and from the grounds. The eighteen uniformed employes were all there, with faces nearly as blue as their uniforms. Mark Wallace was not visible to the naked eye, but he was probably so carried away with enthusiasm that he was below figuring on the possibilities chilly, but the game was a fairly good one. The Minneapolis team was defeated the day before by the Dayton's, but nevertheless the Cincinnati's did not have a picnic in downing them yesterday by any means. Both sides were very weak at the bat, and the players were not called upon to make many difficult plays. "Tricky" Nichols occupied the points for the visitors and pitched a good Democrats and friends of Tilden, who left game, but was poorly supported behind the bat by Donnelly. Mountjoy and Powers were the battery for the Cincinnati club. There dency, and under no circumstances will he accept if nominated. They regard his last carried off the honors of the day with a home run hit to left center field. The following is the score:
