

THE CITY.

CITY GLOBULES.

The laying down of the cedar blocks on Third street has nearly reached Robert.

Religious services were held at the Bethel chapel at the foot of Jackson street yesterday afternoon.

Frederick Aleckle was found dead drunk on the sidewalk on upper Eighth street at midnight with a few crowd about him and taken to the cooler.

There were twenty-eight prisoners locked up at the city hall at 12 o'clock last evening, which argues a lively time at the Municipal court this morning.

Raymond Reed languishes in the city hall for striking and bruising Mattie Turner, having been arrested on Saturday on a warrant sworn out by the latter.

The steamer St. Paul, of the St. Louis and St. Paul packet line, will arrive at the company's wharf this morning and clear for the return trip at 10 a. m.

James O'Dowd waited on a girl home to the Merchants late last evening, and being drunk because so disorderly about that locality that Officer McFetridge took him in escort to the city hall.

Emilia Olson, the eighth street Danish female fire bug, supposed to be insane, who was arrested and lodged in the city hall on Saturday noon, had not uttered a word since her incarceration up to early this morning.

Charles Rostrom, arrested for forging an order on Saturday, on Grunhagen & Frey for a box of cigars, was only liberated from jail on Friday, where he had been incarcerated several months for forging an order on a stationery store.

James Hake, arrested by the police on Saturday night, is thought to be the thief who stole Peter Therin's, the stone mason's $75 gold watch from his vest, which he hung up on a post on Walnut street, on that afternoon, while laboring in that vicinity.

Still three other men named James Morin, James Henry and Platt. Niece were caught in trying to jump on a moving train at the Third street crossing last evening, and were arrested and brought to the city hall, giving bail for appearance this morning in $10 each.

About twenty tramps got together back of the Harvester works about noon yesterday, when the police were notified of the dangerous gathering and made a sortie on them, catching N. W. Smith, M. Damm and John Kelly, and locking them up in the city hall.

Yesterday was the first May excursion day on White Bear lake, and the Great Western band furnished music, notwithstanding the cloudy weather with hot and cold draughts sandwiched in between each other, the railroad men say there was quite an exodus thither by rail from this city.

The district court gang who went out in the Samuel S. Sloan vs. Geo. Becker, et al. case on Saturday noon, passed the night at the court house, and falling to come to an agreement, were discharged yesterday forenoon. The case was the suing of Becker by Sloan, to account for $10,000 received for Wisconsin lands, the former having foreclosed a mortgage he held thereon and sold the same.

Coroner Quinn went up to the Crosby boom and viewed the body found in the river near Fort Snelling yesterday. The person was evidently a laborer about thirty-five years of age and the body was much decomposed. He telegraphed to the chief of police at Minneapolis a description of the body and to know if any such person was known to be missing from that city.

Yesterday afternoon two men named Northrup and Hildebrand got on an outgoing train at the Union depot for fun and jumped off at the Third street crossing where they were nabbed by the police and brought to the city hall and they gave bonds for their appearance at the municipal court this morning. Whether indulged in by men or boys that dangerous practice, becoming a real nuisance, is to be broken up.

Yesterday was the day on which the police sat tight square down on fast driving on Seventh street they having arrested John Metzger for showing off the speed qualities of his fine black horse, and Wm. Dickens and Geo. Morton, two gentlemen of color who were taking an equine fly regardless of consequences on that crowded thoroughfare, all of whom gave bail. It might as well be understood that "horse fly" is not a person elsewhere than on St. Paul business streets.

First Anniversary of the Union—Address by Miss Edwards.

The Young Women's Christian Temperance Union, of St. Paul, was organized May 10, 1883 with seventeen members, and at this date numbers forty-five members. The first anniversary of the society was held last evening at the Plymouth church, where a large congregation assembled. Miss Carrie A. Holbrook the president of the Union, made a very interesting report of the year's work of the society, explaining its Kitchen Garden and Newsboy and Boot Black features, also showing that the receipts during the year had been $480; expenditures $354.50; cash on hand $125.50. The work of the union has been fully stated by the GLOBE from time to time, and for its aims and objects we have the fullest sympathy, well knowing that it is exerting a valuable influence upon the young people, and are given the benefit of the work. Miss Holbrook's statement was gracefully delivered, and quite a revelation to many present.

Dr. Dana announced that the annual meeting of the Protestant Orphan asylum would be held Wednesday, at 10 a. m., at the rooms of the Relief society, on Ninth street. He also read the following notice:

TUESDAY A DAY OF NATIONAL PRAYER
In accordance with the call of the National W. C. T. U. to observe Tuesday, May 27, as a day of prayer, a meeting will be held in the Central Presbyterian church, St. Paul, on that day. All are invited.

PROGRAMME.

10 to 11 a. m.—For the Leaders of Temperance Work—Miss Pain, leader.
11 to 12 p. m.—For Pastors—Rev. R. H. Hilditch.

1 to 2 p. m.—For the Platforms of Parties.
2 to 3 p. m.—For the Presidential Candidates—Rev. M. D. Edwards.
3 to 4 p. m.—For Christian Voters, W. C. T. U.—Rev. M. L. G. L. leader.

Miss Anna Edwards, of Cleveland, was introduced by Dr. Dana, and before commencing her address, paused to congratulate the young ladies of the Y. W. C. T. U. upon the excellent record of their first year, and to say a few words of timely encouragement for their future work.

The theme of her address was the influence of woman and how best to extend it for the benefit of society, Christianity and temperance. Miss Edwards is a pleasant speaker, and an earnest woman. Her remarks were largely addressed to the young ladies of the union, which she thought nothing was so well calculated to develop latent talent as accepted responsibility; that nothing was so unbecoming as an aimless discontented, useless life, and no one had a right to fritter away precious time. She especially urged total abstinence, work with the young, and the education of intelligent and for children, the education of temperance, information upon the subject of temperance, the exercise of example and influence to banish drinking usages in society. It was a responsibility to be a woman, she said, and a woman's first duty could accomplish almost anything. Afterward much stress was laid upon the danger a young woman is exposed to in marrying a tippler. "Don't marry a man to save him," she said, or one whose love was so weak that he would prefer him to total abstinence for so precious a thing as a woman's love and heart.

Miss Edwards' address was well received, and at its close many ladies went forward to congratulate her. A generous collection was taken up for the union to promote its second year's work.

The annual election of officers for the Y. W. C. T. U. will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the House of Hope church.

Interviews With Democrats.
WASHINGTON, May 25.—The Post will tomorrow print interviews with eighty-two Democratic members of the house of representatives, in support of the demand that a clear and explicit statement of the principles absolutely committing the Democratic party to assert that revenue reform in the presidential canvass shall be made by the Chicago convention of July. Among those interviewed are Carlisle, Morrison, Hewitt, Rosecrans, Ford, Slocum, New York, Johnman, Buckner and Blackburn. The latter says they look to the convention for the vindication of the contest made at this session for revenue reform.
