ST. PAUL NEWS.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Re-Election of Officers--Building Bonds Negotiated.

New Orleans Exhibition—Sixth Ward Levee Appropriation.

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce met at the usual hour yesterday morning, and after transacting the usual formal business, when the names of the new board of directors were announced. As soon as this announcement was made the old board adjourned without day. The new board was immediately called to order and the old officers were re-elected, as follows: J. B. Sanborn, president; F. Driscoll, vice president; C. A. McNeale, secretary; Peter Berkey, treasurer.

THE NEW ORLEANS EXHIBITION.

A communication from Governor Hubbard in regard to the World's Exposition at New Orleans was read and referred to the executive committee. In this communication the governor requests the chamber to give the matter early and earnest attention.

ALL ABOUT THE BONDS.

A communication to be found below from President Sanborn was referred to the finance committee with power to act:

GENTLEMEN—Pursuant to the report of the executive committee and the direction of the board of the 16th of June, 1884, the president advertised for proposals for the $50,000 first mortgage bonds of the St. Paul chamber of commerce, bearing interest at 5 per cent., and secured by a first mortgage on the new building and site, in the New York Herald, Pioneer Press, GLOBE and Dispatch, for two weeks previous to the 30th of June last. In answer to said advertisement the following proposals has been made, viz.:

Gen. J. B. Sanboru, President St. Paul Chamber of Commerce:

Dear Sir—I will place the $50,000 5 per cent. bonds offered by the chamber at par, subject, however, to a commission of 4 per cent., which shall include costs of examining title to property bonded. Title of property and form of bond to be examined and approved by Messrs. Bigelow, Flandrau and Squires. Right reserved to name one trustee (Horace K. Bigelow) the chamber to name another. Bonds to be made payable, principal and interest, at a St. Paul bank, (to be named by me), with usual exchange on New York.

Policies of fire insurance to amount of bonds, to be made payable in case of loss, to the trustees for benefit of bondholders, same to be placed or controlled by me in joint stock companies, satisfactory to principals I represent. Awaiting your action. Very respectfully yours.

J. J. WATSON.

Said proposal has been laid before your building committee and commitsee on finance, and both committees unanimously recommend that said proposal be accepted.

Respectfull, JOHN B. SANBORN, President.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Col. J. H. Davids on called attention to the fact that the grand army of the republic was to hold its session in this vi cinity soon.

Gen. Bishop also mentioned that the army of Tennessee would meet here in August.

The chair said the Odd Fellows would be here in September.

The resignations of A. B. Stickney, J. J. McCarday and Commodore W. F. Davidson were referred to the nominating committee.

A dispatch was read from Senator McMillan, which said: "I have conversed personally with Gen. Newton, chief of engineers, and no legislation is necessary to apply the $15,000 West St. Paul appropriation."

RAILROAD NOTES.

Railroad Purchase.

NEW YORK, July 7.—The Pennsylvania Railroad company has purchased the Sodus Bay & Southern railroad. This gives them independent outlet to Lake Ontario.

Rail Notes.

Mr. L. Beard has been appointed agent at Marine, Ia., for the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, vice E. F. Hitchcock, resigned. M. C. E. Smith has been appointed agent at Kellogg, vice Joseph Myers, resigned.

The Lake Shore management is contemplating the purchase or lease of the Pittsburg, Cleveland & Toledo Railway, extending from New Castle, Pa., to Akron, O. The line is well built and doing a business remarkably profitable for a new road. By securing this property the Lake Shore, with the Pennsylvania company, would deprive the Baltimore & Ohio of a valuable connection, and would ontrol the Pittsburg business. It is believed the absorption of the Pittsburg, Cleveland & Toledo into the Vanderbilt system is a question of only a brief time.

Mr. S. R. Calloway, assistant President of the Union Pacific, and F. Gordon Dexter, a director of that road, arrived here Saturday, having made a trip of inspection over the Union Pacific lines. They will remain here until next Wednesday, when President Adams and several directors of the company are expected to arrive, and will probably return to Omaha with them to make another investigation of Union Pacific affairs and find out what steps are necessary to improve the condition of the road.

Commissioner Fink has just issued the following circular regarding the transportation of spirituous liquors to points in Iowa: "We are this day in receipt of special joint circulars of Iowa roads, giving notice that in consequence of legal restrictions which have been placed upon the shipment of intoxicating liquors to points in the state of Iowa, their agents will not receive any intoxicating liquors (including alcohol, ale, wine, beer, spirituous, vinous, and malt liquors), for transportation from any point, either within or without the state, to any point within its limits unless there is delivered to such agent at the time such liquors are received a certificate signed by the auditor of the county in which the point of destination is located showing that the consignor has authority by the grant of the board of supervisors to sell intoxicating liquors in such county. The law does not prohibit the transportation of such liquors through the state, or from points within to points without the state. The foregoing notice takes effect immediately."

St. Paul Choral Society.

The adjourned annual meeting of this society was held last evening at College hall to hear the report of the committee appointed to form a plan for the society to work upon next season, and to nominate officers for the ensuing year. The same committee was continued, with power to select and elect the president and vice president. The committee's recommendations as to other officers were adopted and C. S. Bunker was elected treasurer, E. B. Kennedy secretary, Carl Roese assistant secretary, James Blakie librarian (with J. C. Myron and J. P. Keysworth assistants selected by himself.) Directors, the president, vice president, treasurer, secretary, and Messrs. Nathan Ford, Frank Wood and H. M. Knox. It was voted to make the annual fees one dollar, and monthly dues during the active season fifty cents for gentlemen and twenty-five cents for ladies per month. The meeting was very largely attended and the enthusiasm for, good, honest, hard work next season under Signor Jannotta was most satisfactory and universal.

After the adjournment of the meeting the members were requested to remain a few moments, and a pleasant episode occurred. A committee of ladies, consisting of Mrs. F. P. Wright, and Misses Beals and Prince had quietly been at work and arranged surprises for Signor Jannotta and Mr. Frank Wood, with the pecuniary aid of the members of the society. The signor was first invited to the chairman's desk, where he was met by Miss Farrington, who, in the name of the society, presented him, as a token of regard, with a magnificent music stand of solid ebony and a ebony baton tipped with heavy gold, richly engraved, and having on one end a graceful "J" wrought in gold and diamonds, one of the most artistic and beautiful emblems ever made by Mr. Henry Smith. Both of these handsome and well deserved testimonials bore the inscription "Presented to Signor A. Jannotta by the St. Paul Choral Society, 1884." The signor was quite overcome by this unexpected demonstration, but he succeeded in making some very happy remarks expressive of his gratitude and his great regard for the donors.

Mr. Frank Wood was next summoned to the front, when Miss Beals for the society presented him with a brilliant diamond set in a shirt stud. The professor responded pleasantly, remarking that the bright jewel was nearly as lovely as the fair presentor, and promising to wear it with grateful pride. Signor Jannotta then announced his intention of initiating his beautiful gifts, and led the society in several selections, gracefully wielding his glittering baton, while Professor Wood presided at the piano with his sparkling jewel shedding light upon his music.

THE COURTS.

U. S. Circuit Court.

[Before Miller, Justice.]

Ann Hynes by her guardian ad litem, Patrick Hynes, against the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road for $30,000 damages, for injuries received at Rosemount. On trial.

[Before Nelson, Justice.]

Wm. W. Patrick vs. the St. Paul & Omaha road, to recover damages to the amount of $4,950, for injuries received at the foot of Third street, June 13, 1882.

Supreme Court.

DECISIONS.

Edward Willis and Wm. Hatton, respondents, vs. A. G. Lombard, defendant, and Seymour, Sabin & Co., intervenors, appellants.

Syllabus—The title of a purchaser at an execution sale is not affected by defects or informalities in the return of the officer subsequently made.

An execution upon a valid judgment was issued by a justice of the peace, but without being acted on by the officers, was newly dated and reissued by the justice, and the officer thereupon by virtue thereof proceeded to levy upon personal property of the judgment debtor and upon due notice made a regular sale thereof to the plaintiff. Held that the validity of the sale was not affected by the irregularity in issue of the process, nor by the fact that there was a misrecital of the date of the judgment in the execution, it being otherwise sufficiently identified,

Evidence held sufficient to support a finding by the jury that a transfer of certain property by a judgment debtor was fraudulent as to the creditors.

A sale or mortgage paid as to a judgment creditor is void as to the purchaser at an execution sale based on the judgment, the purchaser succeeding to the rights of such creditor.

Order affirmed. VANDERBURGH, J.

D. Wentworth Hayden, Charles Hayden, Samuel Hayden, appellants, vs. Charles Keith and Hiram B. Cowles, respondents.

Syllabus—An action upon the bond required by the general statutes, chapter 66, section 203, to be filed by plaintiff on the allowance of a writ of injunction is the sole remedy of a defendant for the recovery of his damages by reason of the issuance of such writ, if the court finally decides the plaintiff not entitled there, unless the writ was sold out maliciously and without probable cause.

If the sum named in the bond is insufficient as security, it is the duty of the court, upon defendant's motion, to set aside the writ unless additional security be given.

The defendant's damages may be ascertained in the same action by reference or otherwise, as the court may order, or in the suit upon the bond.

Order affirmed. VANDERBURGH, J.

Adjourned.

Superior Women.

Women, both in France and Switzerland, have a far more important role in the family, among the middle and lower classes, than with us. The female, though not exempt from hard work, undertakes the thinking and managing department in the family affairs, and the husband is but the executive officer. In Switzerland especially the female is notably superior in manners, habits, tact and intelligence to the husband.

STILLWATER NEWS.

THE GLOBE AT STILLWATER.

The GLOBE has established a permanent office in the city of Stillwater, in charge of Mr. Peter Begg, who takes the management of the business interests of the paper, its city circulation, correspondence, etc. Communications of local news and all matter for publication may be left at the Stillwater GLOBE office, 110 Main street, Excelsior block, up stairs, or may be addressed to Peter Begg, P. O. box 1034, and will receive prompt attention.

The water is still on the downward grade, and is now only three feet three inches above low water mark.

The travel between this point and White Bear is steadily on the increase, and Mahtomedi has its full share.

There is quite a buzz of parties going from this city to Chicago to attend the Democratic convention, or rather, to have a hand in the lively times expected.

Mr. E. D. Sewall, agent at this point for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, has received a well earned holiday of a week. He went to Milwaukee on Sunday evening.

Yesterday morning there was a clean sheet at the municipal court, the drunk and vagrant that were lodging in the caboose on Saturday night being allowed to depart.

Several right-of-way claims settlements have been filed in the office of the county clerk between the St. Paul & St. Croix Railroad company and other parties. Arbitrators made the awards.

A large number of men have arrived in the city the past few days from the booms above this point, showing that the work is getting well ahead, and that shortly all the logs will be through.

We give the same advice now as when Sells' circus was here, and that is, keep your houses well watched and look out for sneak thieves and pickpockets when the circus is in the city. A tough lot accompany it.

All kinds of grain have a healthy appearance, and are of a particularly dark green, showing strength. Oats are in head, which are long and well stocked. There appears good prospects for an abundant harvest.

Hay harvest has begun in this section, and from the number of ricks seen, the cut appears to be much above the average. The copious rains we have had since spring could not but be of the greatest benefit to such a luxuriant growth.

The first game between the Saginaw and Stillwater clubs comes off at four o'clock this afternoon on the base ball grounds. They also play on Wednesday and Thursday. There will be no game on Friday, but on Saturday the Bay City team plays here.

For the past couple of days there has been very little movement in the log market, but the lumber sales for last week showed up well, being no less than 12,500,000 feet. This was very good for the hard times which are being felt all over the country.

It is expected there will be a great rush here on Friday, as everybody will be in the city to see the great Forepaugh show. No circus has been better advertised, on account of the competition between him and Sells Brothers. Their advertising has cost a pretty round sum.

County Auditor Foley has had returned to him from the state auditor, not approved, several of the rebates made by the county board of commissioners at their last session. The rebate asked in the case of the Elevator company of this city was allowed, and we think justly too, as it was assessed far above its value.

Yesterday morning the Jennie Hayes took two large barges of stone to the new bridge for the Wisconsin Central, over the St. Croix. She also took a full load of freight from various points up the river. She has had all the business she could attend to, so far, this summer. Capt. Ben Knapp, his officers and men, are popular, by their civility, courtesy and attendance to business.

At the district court, this morning, the case of Byron J. Mosier vs. J. C. Rhodes, John Covell, Dan'l Elliott and the city of Stillwater was called, but C. P. Gregory, attorney for the plaintiff, not being ready, it was postponed by consent until Wednesday morning. Macartney is attorney for the city of Stillwater and Clapp & Macartney for Rhodes, Covell and Elliott. There will be no sitting of the court to-day.

On sunday night there was present in the M. E. church the largest attendance ever gathered there, to listen to the eloquent address of the Hon. G. W. Anderson of California. He was listened to with pleasure and profit by those present. His treatment of the subject of prohibition was different from any heretofore presented, and was a decided improvement on the old hackneyed phrases.

A letter has been received from Mrs. Mary Brown, nee Bartholomew, formerly of this city. She is st Menomonee, Wis., at which point her husband, Chas. Brown, has deserted her. She writes for a certificate of her father's former connection with the Grand Army, as on her showing that he was an old soldier, the G. A. R. at Menomonee will assist her in getting home. This action of Brown's was expected, as he was a thoroughly unprincipled person. He was well known here, and was for some time in Dr. Caine's office.

In the office of the county clerk may be seen some really primitive methods in which marriage certificates are filed up by the officiating clergyman. In one instance Peter Peterson gets a licenae to wed Matilda Elstrym, but the clergyman neither filled in his part of the certificate nor yet signed his name, the only names subscribed being the to witnesses. Clerk Bennett does not know where to send it, and no doubt the bride and bridegroom will wonder what has become of the certificate. In another case the certificate shows that the gentleman has got married, but no mention is made of the sharer of his sorrows and joys. Other cases are equally incomplete. A change should be made.

Of the many places noted for their beauty in and around the city, none is more lovely than the quiet, resting places of those who have gone from our midst and are sleeping in Fairview cemetery. For that spot nature has done very much, and art has also rendered a helping hand. In strolling through it, one cannot help noticing the care bestowed by the friends of those who lie here, and show that although gone they are not forgotten. On many of the graves may be seen freshly deposited flowers, arranged in the form of stars, crosses, and other fitting designs, while beautiful roses may be seen growing in all directions. Some of the plats of ground are enclosed with evergreens, making shady nooks, while others are as well kept and cut as the finest lawn. The resting places are marked by almost every design, from the plain marble slab to the costly granite monument, but all equally expressing the due respect for those who are gone. There is a due proportion of hill and dale, with some deep ravines. There is an abundance of natural timber growth, but in many cases evergreens have been planted, which adds to the variety. If you have not visited Fairview lately, do so, and you will be amply repaid for the visit. Look there for the beautiful and you will find it. In all directions may be seen floating the stars and stripes, showing that many of the sons of Minnesota fell fighting for their country. All honor to the thoughtfulness of those who remember their companions in arms.

The New Altar in The German Catholic Church.

The altar in the new German Catholic church was completed yesterday. It was made in Milwaukee, Wis., by E. Brielmaier, and is of the finest design of any he has yet made, and he says there is none equal to it in the state. From the base to the top of the gold cross the height is thirty-four feet. It is built in the Romanesque style, which is nearly similar to the Norman, so much in vogue in England in Catholic churches. The altar is divided into two parts, that nearest the auditorium, consisting of the antyrendum, the chalice and tabernacle, with the six large candlesticks, and the crucifix, being in front, but attached to the higher and rear portion, in niches in which life size figures of St. Wilhelm, with his crozier and lighted taper and St. Amia, with a child in front, whom she is instructing. Below the two, and in a higher niche, is a figure of Mary, of the Immaculate conception, six feet eight inches in height, finely carved. She is in a supplicating position. Around her head in gold are twelve stars, and on her brow carved roses. The display of all the figures are carved in rich folds, and the coloring is all that can be desired. The candlesticks are massive, and the gilding is effective. On the inside of the doors of the tabernacle are carved figures of angels, which appear as the doors are opened, and are most effective. The pillars that support the upper part of the altar have finely carved entablatures, whilst the different arches are highly embellished. Gold ornamentation prevails. It requires to be seen to have its fine proportions appreciated. It cost $1,200, and was presented to the church by Mr. William Berchens and his wife Annie.

The pulpit, which cost $400, was also a present, being the gift of George Berschens, brother of William, is a model of neatness. It stands on a central support, rising from an octagon base, afterwards dividing into four half pillars and four half squares, the latter forming the commencement of the brackets, which form a double cross under the pulpit, on which it immediately rests. The pulpit is a regular octagon, with heavy mouldings. On the four front panels are figures in bas relief of the four evangelists, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, and are engraved as fac similes of paintings from the old masters. The canopy rises to a considerable height above the pulpit, being surmounted by an ornamental gold cross. The under surface is of a sky blue, with rim in dark, and on its surface are eight pointed rays, from a carved white dove in the center. All parts are ornamented in gold.

The architect and builder, E. Brielmaier, has given the church the very best value, and the workmanship, especially the decorations, done by one of his sons and a daughter, and the carving, by another son. It is not often that such perfect work is seen.

How Much, Milo?

To the Editor of the Globe:

The simple people of the rural districts are inclined to think that the editors of our metropolitan newspapers know everything, and more especially about each other's business. Now will you please inform us about how much money the Pioneer Press has received from the Hon. Milo White of the first congressional district to "boom" him as a candidate for re-nomination for member of congress? White has the reputation of being a close fisted man, and does not like to part with his shekels unless it is to make a loan with good security and at a high rate of interest. It is well known that the Pioneer Press is very greedy, and has a terrible hankering after filthy lucre, and White is inclined to squeeze every dime that goes out of his hands. Now, when the extorter and the parsimonious come in contact with each other and make a "dicker," it is natural for the people of this district to want to know something about the trade, and which party got the best end of the bargain. It has been frequently said that when the Pioneer Press espouses the cause of a candidate seeking office, the party whose cause is espoused is sure to be defeated, and it may be that some aspiring Republican candidate for congress in the first congressional district has hired the Pioneer Press "to blow" for Mr. White, in order to defeat him for a nomination, and thereby get him out of the way. It is now understood that Tom Armstrong, of Albert Lea, has a hankering after congressional honors, and he is well known all over the state to be a talented, sagacious and generous fellow, and it may be that he has a "finger in the pie," and has seen the Pioneer Press. Now Mr. Editor, please tell us, the unsophisticated Republicans of the First congressional district, whether it is Armstrong, the sharper, or White, the dupe, that has hired the Pioneer Press to work for the nomination of White, and thereby certainly secure his defeat for a nomination at Austin on July 24. It is very seldom, if ever, the Pioneer Press rides the winning horse in a race, and it was but a short time since that it was the jockey of Edmunds, the Vermont steed, and he was distanced in the first heat. And it is now astride of the Plumed Knight, booted and spurred, as the rules of the political race-course directs, and should the Maine nag get the start and show symptoms of winning the race, it is a serious question (if money enough should be offered) if the rider will not pull the horse on the home stretch, and let the Democratic nag have the pole and thereby win the race. Mr. Blaine is a great favorite with the Republicans of the First congressional district, and we very much desire to see him the next president of the United States, and were well pleased when the Pioneer Press threw mud at him before the nomination, but now it has turned a complete somersault and is damning him with faint praise, and the superstitious Republicans say it is the forerunner of sure and certain defeat. Mr. Tilden has the reputation of having a bar'l of money, and if the Democrats would only nominate him for president, and he would divide his bar'l with the Pioneer Press for its support, Mr. Blaine would certainly be elected. We still have hopes.

Whose Ox?

To the Editor of the Globe.

A great hue and cry is being raised by the party of high moral ideas at the cutting caricatures displayed by Harper and Puck showing up the pair of soiled doves, Blaine and Logan. Poor old Greeley's gray hairs and purity of character did not save him from like treatment, and these same men who now denounce Harper and Puck then applauded. The boot is on the other foot, and the Republican ox is now gored, hence these tears. People will read through pictures all the same, and truth is mighty and will prevail.

$2,000 for Cechura's Children.

Captain Joseph Burger, who was appointed guardian for the four infant children of Joseph Cechura, who murdered Mrs. Messerschmidt and then killed himself on the 19th of June last, has received a letter from Edward C. Winter, recorder of the St. Louis Knights of Honor, stating that the society had voted unanimously to pay the $2,000 policy of insurance on Cechura's life without the usual legal steps and that the amount would be forwarded within two months.

Tilden at Home.

NEW YORK, July 6.—Andrew H. Green controller of the city of New York left for Chicago, direct from Greystone, the home of Tilden. The published story of Tilden's feebleness is denied upon the seeming authority that he walks daily with friends about Greystone and shows even more than usual strength.

DAKOTA & MONTANA

Collected and Forwarded by Telegraph to the Daily Globe.

[Fargo Special Telegrams July 7, to the St. Paul Globe.

The Fargo organ of the Dakota delegate to congress seems to be bewildered and wanders about in the darkness of wilful error without a glimpse of the lighthouse of truth in its ungracious attempt to pervert and misconstrue the allusions in this department to Mr. Raymond's status in the Blaine movement. There is no disposition to follow its sinuosities as it seems to be unable to afford a candid statement of the points made. It does, however, interpose a blunt negative to the averment that Mr. Raymond was in Chicago working for the nomination of Arthur during the convention. If an alibi can be sustained the party who so successfully personated the gentleman at Chicago merits a medal or appointment in the detective service for his cleverness. He even deceived the member himself. As regards the influence of the member at Washington the Fargo paper gives him away completely. It says that after the arduous labors of the gentleman in securing the passage of the law providing two new judges, and in the face of his burning zeal for Mr. Arthur, his pleadings for the selection of capable men designated in Dakota for the new positions were contemptuously disregarded and a "great disappointment" cast its shadows over him. If then the gentleman has no influence with the administration he so ardently sustained, even in disregard of the wishes of his constituents, will the Fargo paper claim that he would have more with a Blaine regime after his vehement antagonism to Blaine. On the whole Mr. Raymond can hardly be congratulated on the wisdom and sagacity of his home organ. This department is free to give Mr. Raymond credit for industry and persistence in working for measures desired by his constituents in the main, and is painfully sensitive to any just imputation of unfairness. It will not be ruffled by the defeat or return of Mr. Raymond, but it is submitted to the candid reader whether the influence from the facts stated, is not legitimate, that he would be unlikely to have influence with a Blaine administration when he is shown to be unable to influence even Mr. Arthur.

Northwestern Notes.

Mitchell is to have a camp meeting from July 9th to 16th.

The Brockings Agricultural college will be opened Sept. 10th.

The scarlet fever caused the close of the public schools at Miller.

The court house at Aurora will be completed in about six weeks.

The salary of the postmaster at Lisbon has been raised $1,500, which shows the growth of the place.

The farmers in north Dakota generally regret that they did not plant more corn this year as it promises so well.

The day following the 4th of July was so cold that overcoats and fires were not uncomfortable in north Dakota.

A flowing well at Lisbon, at the depth of 175 feet, has water enough to mix with all the whiskey and milk of the city.

H. S. Harcourt, the retired editor and capitalist at Lisbon, has decided to leave the legislative track free for C. D. Austin.

The Jamestown Alert has recalled its purpose to become a vesper instead of a matutinal sheet, much to the gratification of its readers.

The Yankton Press learns that Delegate Raymond was the only resident of Dakota who was consulted in the appointment of govornor.

Jas. Forrest, aged seventy-five, fell dead at Manuel last week in walking across the room. His wife, of fifty years, died a short time previous.

The crop reports given by the Argus Sunday are even more encouraging than before. There are likely to be but few poor pieces of wheat this year.

Huron counts up 410 school people between seven and twenty and a majority of them are females, which is not according to precedent in new sections.

The rains on the 4th in many localities prevented any celebration, and the more patriotic gathered under sheiter and read one of Donan's 4th of July orations.

Horse stealing has become so common along the Manitoba line as to indicate an organized gang. There will probably be lynching done when any of them are caught.

The work of grading on the Fargo & Black Hills railroad is going on rapidly in Sargent county. It looks as if there might be a small section of the line ironed this season.

The publishers of north Dakota have called a meeting to organize an association at Grand Forks to-morrow, the 8th. A majority of the weekly papers will probably be represented.

One of the social novelties this week at Lisbon is a levee, where each lady brings a decorated
