

SOUTHERN MINNESOTA.

Gleanings of News and Items of Material Interest.

A Daily Globe Department at Mankato Devoted to Developing and Advancing the Southern Portion of the State.

The office of the Southern Minnesota department of the Globe is in charge of Mr. E. F. Barrett, with headquarters at Mankato, the business and editorial rooms being on the second floor of the First National bank building formerly occupied as the telephone exchange.

Special Reports from the Globe Mankato office September 3.

Mankato Notes. J. C. Noe, Esq., is in Minneapolis, attending the exposition.

The regular monthly meeting of the council will be held to-night.

Chas. Remney, who resides in Janesville, and whose occupation is that of a butcher, was run in for indulging a little more freely than the law allows. He sobered off, and Judge Porter fined him $3 and costs, amounting to $6.

Through some blunder in the mail service yesterday's issue of the Daily Globe did not reach its Mankato patrons until about 4 p. m. The papers arriving on that day were the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha at 11 a. m.

The running team of Excelsior Hose company No. 1, returned from Rochester yesterday at 4 a. m., having secured the first prize of $100 at the Freeman's tournament in connection with the Rochester fair. This makes $260 this Mankato company has won in premiums in the past two weeks.

Those returning from Rochester state that the Pratt running team, of Fairbault, was at Rochester in readiness to run in the Freeman's contest, but upon finding that Mankato was to run, backed out, knowing that they stood no chance of capturing first money unless some accident detrimental to the Mankato boys happened.

Dr. T. W. Hammond has gone to Mankato to permanently settle there and practice his profession. Dr. Hammond is a graduate in medicine, but gave up studying up to become a disciple of Blackstone. He takes the best wishes of a host of friends, who hope his lines may be cast in pleasant places.

The Cleveland and Hendricks club will meet to-night at the Grand Opera house. Senator M. S. Wilkinson and others will address the meeting and the Germania band will furnish the music; also vocal music by the club choir. Senator Willard is one of the best speakers in the state of Minnesota, and all should turn out and hear him and the others speak.

The sheriff of Cherokee county, Iowa, was in the city yesterday looking for James Haymer, charged with seducing a young lady of most estimable character. Chief Welch met the Iowa officer at the Mankato house, and that gentleman gave Mr. Welch a description of the man wanted. Chief Welch stated that the man was in the city, and had been there for several days. A few minutes after the Iowa sheriff had completed his description, Chief Welch remarked, "There's your man." And so he was; the man charged with seduction was just passing the Mankato house, and was promptly arrested by the Iowa sheriff, and taken to Iowa without a requisition.

Mike McCarthy was arrested yesterday on the charge of stealing about $30 from Morgan Carpenter, who now runs the saloon on North Front street formerly owned by Evans Goodrich. Tuesday afternoon McCarthy was somewhat under the influence of liquor in Carpenter's saloon, and soon after it was discovered that a pocket book containing about $30 was missing. Suspicion pointed to McCarthy, and at 12 o'clock yesterday noon McCarthy was found in bed at the Commercial house. The pocket book belonging to Carpenter was found under McCarthy's pillow, and he was arrested by the officers. The pocket book when found contained $15, which is supposed to be the same that was in the pocket book at the time it disappeared.

Mankato Dairy and Produce Exchange. The Mankato Dairy and Produce exchange held its regular meeting yesterday at 11 a. m. at Straugh's cold storage rooms. Only two tubs of butter, amounting to 6,775 pounds, were offered at the auction. Mr. McKinstry and the Vernon creamery, and twenty-five tubs of G. H. Herrick, of St. James. W. T. Mills, of Mankato, bought the twenty-five tubs of Mr. Herrick, and the fifty tubs of the proprietor of the Vernon creamery, at twenty cents per pound. Mr. McKinstry reported regular sales of 50,000 pounds, amounting to $10,000, and the Vernon creamery a sale of 2,750 pounds at 19 1/2 cents per pound.

HASTINGS.

[Special Correspondence of the Globe.] HASTINGS, Sept. 4.—The forthcoming fair of the Hastings Union Industrial association is the event of the season, and the general theme of conversation.

In conversation with the secretary we learned that a very large number of horses had been entered for the races. The liberal premiums offered for dairy products, horses and cattle will insure the finest display ever witnessed at a fair in this section. Plans are on foot that will secure a ladies' race by two well known lady equestrians and will go well.

Hon. Ignatius Donnelly lectures to-night at Music hall, public "Atlantis," for the benefit of the public library. Every seat was taken several days ago.

Hon. J. P. Norrish left on the noon train for the eastern markets to replenish his stock of dry goods.

Rev. G. B. Pratt and wife took the steamer St. Paul this afternoon for Davenport.

L. S. Follett started Saturday morning with a lot of Hambletonians and Clydes for the Minneapolis fair, but the most valuable animal in the drove was taken lame and sick and to move to the city.

Hon. L. Donnelly opens the campaign in this district Saturday evening next at Rosemont. A large delegation from Hastings will go out to hear our next congressman, speak. His election is conceded by the knowing ones here.

Public schools open on the 22d.

The board of education hold a regular meeting to-night, at which time the vacancy, caused by the resignation of Mr. Hodgson, will be filled by appointment.

MONTGOMERY.

[Special Correspondence of the Globe.] MONTGOMERY, Sept. 3.—Last Saturday a grand Cleveland and Hendricks club meeting was held the hall being full of participants. Mr. J. O'Malley delivered a good and well prepared speech and received a hearty applause. Many ladies were also present and everyone speaks well of the club and the business thereof.

People who are quiet here yet, farmers busy still. Those from Iowa, who drop down from their state, say that Iowa will do Democratic this fall. Well we think that there is no possibility in it neither.

At the meeting of the Cleveland and Hendricks club tickets were distributed and other routine business transacted. Next meeting on Saturday, September 13, next. Another speaker is being engaged for and will be announced.

Stole Northern Pacific Deposits.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—On arrival of the Pacific mail steamer Colon, at quarantine, Frank Tienesse, exchange clerk in the First National bank at Portland, Oregon, who was a passenger, was arrested. He is charged with stealing from the bank $7,000 deposited by the Northern Pacific Railroad company.

ARTIC HEROES.

Reception of Greely and His Comrades by the British Association.

MONTREAL, Aug. 2.—Most of the sections of the British association have completed their labors. The final meeting will be held to-morrow. This afternoon a complimentary lunch was given Lieut. Greely by the members of the British association. About fifty sat down. General Sir Henry Lefroy presided, with Lieut. Greely and Mrs. Greely on his right, Lieut. Ray on the left, the vicar being presided by Capt. Bedford Pim.

The British association were greeted with great applause. He said: Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen: I need scarcely say that this flattering reception from the representative men of one of England's distinguished societies touches deeply my feelings as a soldier and as a man. It is not alone that you represent the science and learning of England and the world, but that you are all countrymen of those daring seamen and explorers whose names and whose deeds have become household words throughout the world: Hudson, Buffin, Cook, Nelson, Parry, Franklin, and a score of others, among the dead, and of McClintock, Nares and Markham, and last, but not least, the name of Greely.

Mr. Greely was foremost on our lips when we were first starting on our perilous winter—winter—winter. It was then that we had the world's word, that we had made the world's word known. That you should deem ought that I have done worthy to be placed with the deeds of these illustrious men must always be a source of pride to me. For three centuries England has maintained against the world the honors of the farthest north. Step by step every advance was made by Englishmen. New England's grandest colony pressed to the front, but none the less is the honor England's, for at the price of her sons' lives and by their toll the path was cleared. But for Beaumont's dauntless pluck and indomitable energy in 1876, Lockwood would never have made his great working in 1882. We have, during a quarter of a century's service, as becomes a soldier, been jealous of my honor. I have striven to maintain it in the field, fighting and bleeding for my country; at the desk studying and discussing in the steamer. I have passed the day, while pursuing scientific and geographical work, or later stranded by adverse fate, starving and freezing upon a barren coast. This marked and public testimonial of your approval cannot fail to make me doubly jealous of it in the heart of the man.

Lieut. Ray, in his speech, said: All shall long remember that when the cry for our starving comrades flashed around the world, that it was English ships that made the rescue possible, and that England's ships that carried them home. Men who died in this work did not die in vain. They gave their lives that we might learn some of Nature's secrets that lie locked with icy bars, and their example will spur the living to better deeds and better work. I have met with the noblest of men, Lockwood, Rice, Ellison and others, who, while I welcomed the living who were brought back to us from the verge of the grave, let us remember the honored dead, who, to pass the icy gate on the queen's highway, paid toll with their lives. I have seen Markham in the race, and scored four miles more on the road to the pole. Their sled tracks have faded from the ice-bound coast; their snow hats have fallen in, but their names are still to add to the glory of the English speaking race. The British association of his speech was heartily cheered, and Sir Henry Lefroy then presented Greely with an address.

Kansas Prohibitionists.

LAWRENCE, Kas., Sept. 2.—The prohibition state convention met at this city to-day. About 150 delegates were present with credentials, and of this number about fifty were permitted to participate as members of the convention, the remainder being refused because they refused to support St. John's candidacy for president. F. M. Richardson presided over the convention. The following presidential district electors were nominated: H. North, E. Clarke, Theo. Wilson, R. L. Lotz, Theo. Owen, C. R. Stevens, T. C. Miller; at large, J. S. Stockton and M. V. B. Parker. It was moved to nominate a state ticket with John A. Martin at the head. The motion was lost.

Then it was moved to turn the matter of the state ticket over to the state committee to report in October. This was lost. It was then moved that the committee endorse John A. Martin, the Republican candidate for governor. This was also lost. A resolution was then passed declaring it to be inexpedient to nominate a state ticket, and leaving each individual to vote as he pleased, but pledging the party to support men who favored prohibition, and declaring that the prohibition law should be so modified as to make its enforcement more thorough and certain. The resolution also declares that the government should abolish polygamy and the sale of intoxicating liquors in the territories, that it should issue no revenue permits for the sale of such liquors, and should prohibit interstate traffic in the same, civil service reform was advocated, and that postmasters should be elected by the people whom they serve, that senators should be elected by the state, and the president should be elected by popular vote. Woman's suffrage was advocated, and monopolies condemned and a reform of the tariff demanded.

Connecticut Democrats.

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 2.—The State Democratic convention met this morning. Edward W. Seymour was temporary chairman. Gov. Waller was renominated by acclamation. The ticket was completed as follows: Lieut-Gov., George G. Sumner; secretary of state, D. Ward Norton; treasurer, Alfred R. Goodrich. The resolutions cordially approve the nomination of Cleveland and Hendricks, declare them well fitted to meet the exigencies of the times and that the public records afford no proof that either of them has been guilty of any offense for a valuable consideration, approve the platform of the Democratic National convention, protest against sumptuary laws, favor abolition of contract prison labor and present the name of Gov. Waller for re-election.

Joseph D. Bennett was nominated for comptroller. A delegate offered a resolution declaring that the wages of laborers should be exempt from foreign attachment. De Forest, of Bridgeport, and Mr. Burr opposed this on the ground that the provision in the platform that wages should be paid weekly sufficiently covered the case. Ex-Secretary Governor Hill also opposed the resolution. The proposition to exempt wages to the amount of $50 from an attachment was finally presented and voted down. Cheers were then given for Cleveland and Hendricks on the convention address. The state central committee elected James Gallagher chairman.

The Tallapoosa Disaster.

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—The contract for raising the Tallapoosa was awarded the Merritt building company. The vessel is to be delivered at Brookhaven for $3,000. The naval court of inquiry into the circumstances attending the sinking of the Tallapoosa opened this afternoon at the navy yard. The first witness was Capt. F. K. Reed, of the schooner Lowell. He testified that he was a mariner since 1850, and was master of the schooner James S. Lowell when she was in collision with and sunk the Tallapoosa. The Lowell was making about nine knots when the lookout sang out "light ho," and reported a red and white light half a point on the port bow. He ordered the man at the wheel to keep her straight. The collision occurred ten or fifteen minutes after the steamer's light was reported. There was no change in the course of the schooner after the steamer's lights were reported until he saw that a collision was inevitable, and then he ordered the helm hard down, but by the time the Domestic Infelicity.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 2.—The police received a dispatch from Fort Howard today asking the reason for the shooting of Mrs. Olson, who it is alleged, had stolen $400 from her husband, and with her five-year-old child started for Chicago. The woman was arrested at the depot and returned to her home. She said her husband was a worthless fellow who grossly abused her. After selling her household goods she took the money and determined to quit the place. Her story is believed by the police.
