

ST. PAUL NEWS.

GERMAN C. C. SOCIETY.

Closing Meetings of The Annual Sessions Held Yesterday.

Committee Reports, Annual Election, Mr. Spauhorst Re-elected President.

Final Meeting of Board of Managers of Widows and Orphans' Fund.

Brooklyn The Next Place of Meeting—Resolutions of Thanks—Adjourned.

The nineteenth annual session of the North American German Catholic Central society was formally closed yesterday afternoon. While the sessions of the day were devoted principally to routine work, much interest was manifested by delegates, and in the afternoon quite a number of visitors, the majority of them being ladies, called at the hall. The discussions and business of the meeting were carried on in the German language.

The exercises of the day were opened with mass at the church of the Assumption at 8 o'clock, and from there the delegates visited St. Joseph's orphan asylum. The inmates of the asylum were ranged on the steps, and as the visitors entered the gate they were greeted by them with a song. The delegates inspected the asylum, registered, and contributed to its fund, after which they went to the hall for the morning business meeting. The morning session was devoted to hearing the reports of committees, and was followed by a meeting of the board of managers of the fund for the relief of orphans. The delegates witnessed an exhibition by the fire company, given in their honor, and at the afternoon session officers of the society were elected, and the place for holding the next meeting selected. The exercises were formally closed by an address by the president.

Business Meeting—Morning Session. The morning session of the business meeting was called to order at 9:30, by President Spauhorst, who led the opening prayer, after which the secretary called the roll.

An invitation from E. W. Schlicke, fire commissioner, inviting the members to witness an exhibition by the fire department at the corner of Ninth and Wabasha streets, at the Sherman block, was read and accepted.

An invitation was read from the St. Clements society, of St. Paul, requesting the delegates to visit them at their regular meeting Wednesday night. Accepted.

It was moved that the annual tax per capita should be increased from three cents to four cents. Lost.

Moved that the flag of the society, which was liable to be damaged or destroyed in moving each year, should be renewed for $500. An amendment that the flag be delivered by the secretary to the first vice president and kept by him was offered, and a substitute was offered in lieu of the motion and amendment to the effect that the second vice president, who should be elected from St. Paul, should have charge of the flag. The substitute was adopted.

A resolution was adopted to the effect that the second vice president should have the flag insured at his own expense.

The committee on printing were ordered to have 500 certificates of membership printed for the society.

After the last resolution had been adopted a lengthy discussion grew out of the defective wording of the certificate, and, after several resolutions had been offered, a motion that the business relating to the printing of the certificates be closed prevailed.

The committee on resolutions reported the following, which were acted on separately:

That all the members of the society shall send their children to German Catholic schools, and that they well educated. Adopted.

That all members of local societies, and all members of the central society, shall support the commissioners of immigration at Castle Garden, and that the thanks of the convention be tendered them. Laid on the table.

That the president and secretary, who, on receipt of the cable message from the pope bestowing his blessings upon the society, had been ordered to forward $200 out of the funds of the society as a contribution to the People's Peace, be instructed not to forward the same until further orders had been received from the society. After a lengthy debate the resolution was adopted.

That the secretary and president be paid out of the funds of the central society, instead of out of the funds of their respective societies as heretofore. Adopted.

That all priests should support the central society by inducing other societies to join, and that the priests should receive the support of the central society. Accepted.

That Joseph Kolber, immigrant agent, should be retained for work at Castle Garden, making a report to the executive committee every six months, and that he receive the thanks of the society for past services and its support in future. Adopted.

That the society again protest against the robbing of the Propaganda at Rome by the Italian government, and that the thanks of the society be tendered President Arthur for his action protesting against the attempt made by the Italian government to confiscate the property of the American college at Rome, a copy of the resolutions to be forwarded to the president. Adopted.

It was moved that the resolution endorsing the commissioners of immigration, which had been tabled, be taken from the table and referred back to the committee on resolutions. Adopted.

A recess of ten minutes was taken to allow the committee to prepare a report, and, on reassembling, the resolution, substantially the same as the one presented, was adopted after a short discussion.

It was announced that the board of managers of the fund for the relief of widows and orphans would meet at 2 o'clock, and at 11:30 a. m. the society adjourned until 3 p. m. in order to witness the exhibition by the fire department.

Widow and Orphan Fund.

The board of managers of the fund for widows and orphans assembled at 2 p. m., and was called to order by vice president Spindler, who led the opening prayer.

The calling of the roll was dispensed with and the committee on examining the books of the treasurer and financial secretary reported that they had been found correct in every particular. Adopted.

The thanks of the society were voted the president, vice president, secretary, and other officers of the board for their services. The committee on changing the by-laws and constitution reported. That part of the by-laws which formerly prohibited a member from withdrawing from a society on changing his place of residence and entering a society in the city or town to which he moved was changed, so that in the future a member may change his society when he moves his place of residence, if he so desires.

The second part of the report, recommending that the annual assessment per year should be increased, caused a spirited debate. A delegate severely criticized the action of Secretary Spauhorst, who warmly advocated the adoption of this part of the report, and the latter gentleman promptly met the attack by placing his resignation before the society for action. The resignation, however, was not accepted, and was withdrawn. The motion to raise the amount of assessment of each member was then adopted, and the assessment was named as follows for the ensuing year: For members from 18 to 25 years of age, 10 cents per month; 25 to 30, 14 cents; 30 to 35, 20 cents; 35 to 40, 24 cents; 40 to 45, 30 cents; 45 to 50, 40 cents; 50 to 55, 50 cents; 55 to 60, 60 cents.

The rules were suspended, and the present officers re-elected, as follows: President, John Amers; vice-president, H. P. Spauhorst; treasurer, T. Arenas; all of St. Louis, and the board of trustees, all of St. Louis, were also re-elected. Adjourned.

Business Meeting—Afternoon Session.

The German Catholic Central society re-assembled at 3 p. m., President Spauhorst presiding, who opened the proceedings with prayer.

President Gregory of the St. Paul local societies, presented the central society with a photograph of the delegates, on behalf of the local societies. The photograph was accepted by President Spauhorst on behalf of the central society, who briefly expressed the thanks of the body, and commented favorably upon their reception and entertainment by the local societies.

An invitation was read from the St. Paul Broom company, asking the delegates to visit the works, and it was accepted for Thursday morning at 6 o'clock.

It was moved that all alterations of the constitution and by-laws made by the committee be accepted and entered. Adopted.

A resolution was presented declaring that the alterations of the constitution of the Holy Trinity society, of St. Louis, be accepted. Adopted.

The report of the committee on new societies was read and accepted, as was the report of the same committee on the applications which were made.

A resolution was presented declaring that all money contributed or collected for the Dakota Indian mission, after passing through the hands of the financial secretary, shall be given to Bishop Marty, of Dakota, and Bishop Siedenbach, of St. Cloud, for distribution. An amendment was offered declaring that the money should go to the commissioner of the Indian bureau at Washington. The amendment was lost, and the original resolution was adopted.

The society took up the matter of electing vice-president by acclamation, and elected H. P. Spauhorst, of St. Louis, as re-elected president by acclamation. He was escorted to the chair by a committee, and returned his thanks to the convention for the honor shown him.

A motion to suspend the rules and elect a vice-president by acclamation was lost, and Anton Bickel, of Milwaukee, was elected first vice president by ballot, there being four nominees for the office.

On motion the rules were suspended and George Mutsch, of St. Paul, was elected second vice-president by acclamation. He was escorted to the platform, and briefly returned his thanks for his election.

The rules were suspended, and Alfred Steckel, of St. Louis, recording secretary; Theodore Felig, of St. Louis, corresponding and financial secretary, and John Brinkerhoff, of Terre Haute, Indiana, were re-elected to their respective positions by acclamation.

The executive committee elected is as follows: P. Gies, of Detroit; H. Ridder, New York; H. Speckmann, Philadelphia; H. Brand, Chicago.

The president presented the following vice-presidents from their respective states: Wisconsin, Adolph Weber; Minnesota, Gregory Ritt; New York, Joseph Hearte; Kentucky, William Huser; Indiana, F. Ledner; Ohio, Robert Alstetter; Iowa, Anton Polzer; Kansas, W. C. Berry; Louisiana, F. M. Schoeder; Massachusetts, Adams Viest; Michigan, Joseph Denke; New Jersey, A. A. Bush; Pennsylvania, R. Speckmann; Texas, William Felthouse.

Vice-presidents were not elected from the remaining states, as there were no delegates present from them. They will be appointed by the president of the central society at some future date.

Mr. and Mrs. Florencie are announced to appear at the opera house the last three nights of next week.

Large audiences continue to patronize the Olympic theatre on Seventh street, and an excellent programme is presented.

The Grand will remain closed the balance of the week.

A Terrific Fall.

A terrific accident occurred at St. Joseph's academy on Western avenue yesterday afternoon resulting in severe injuries to two mechanics in the employ of Kenney Bros., one of whom it is feared is injured fatally. About 2 o'clock Henry Jesting, a young German of twenty-five, and Matthew Vey were engaged in erecting a smoke stack on the roof of the building when a strong gust of wind blew down the staging and carried the men and the apparatus to the ground, a distance of sixty feet. The man Jesting was seriously hurt, and it is thought that he sustained severe internal injuries. View fared a little better, being badly jammed up but his injuries are not deemed so serious. The patrol wagon was called and the unfortunate men were removed to their homes, Jesting residing at No. 65 Valley street, and View at No. 34 East Sixth street.

The following building permits were issued yesterday by Building Inspector Johnson.

work on a farm, and after an absence of only a couple of days he returned to find the birds flown and his home nest empty. The guilty couple are supposed to have come to St. Paul, and if found Peter will recover his boys and have the man and woman arrested.

GOING TO REFORM SCHOOL.

And a Better School Than She Has Had Lately.

"Speaking of advice, my son," said the old man yesterday to a prodigal who had been out over night and who had asked to return to the father's home, "I find that while it is easy enough to give counsel it is impossible to give conduct. A man's fate is pretty much in his own hands after all, and I find that the young man that hangs around a billiard room and talks about his hard luck and waits for the fickle Dame Fortune to come his way always comes out at the little end of the horn while your brother wrestles with the sky goddess and toys with her wrinkled face till it smiles, is the man who never complains of his hard luck. No, my son, if you would climb to the pinnacle where the air is ambient and the morning stars are singing and the banner of fame waves from the mainmast mast of the world's glory, you mustn't trust to luck, for it is the rock on which more than smart Alecks have split than all other things put together. Now then you can go, but don't get drunk any more.

What have we here? A couple of mid-night prowlers, bad, bold men, who broke into Rosenfield's clothing store, on East Seventh street, in the quiet hours of Tuesday night, and were caught in the cellar. They gave the names of John Maloy and Frank Clark, and the charge was burglary. It was a clean job, for Clark was in the cellar and Maloy, who was acting the role of stool-pigeon on the outside, attempted to run away. They were held to the grand jury and committed.

Wm. Pless went through a snicker named Henry Brant for fourteen dollars a few nights ago, and when he was arraigned for it yesterday he said he was sorry for it. They had taken the fatal drop too much and so it happened. The court said he was sorry, too, and on promising to be square in the future he was let off with a fine of $50. He paid the half cost of the good long greens.

The child, Ella Russell, charged with the larceny of a great quantity of wearing apparel from the residence of Mrs. Rumor, and whose mother is now awaiting trial for receiving the same, was arraigned for hearing, and she was committed to the Reform school, the proper place in all respects for her.

Phillip Wilson, a bold, bad darkey, was arraigned on suspicion of burglary. The case was continued to the 13th, as the officers think they have a case against him, and he was committed to the Reform school.

When the railroad ticket scalper, become weary of scalping the dear public, they wade in and scalp themselves,—on the principle no doubt that a change is beneficial. At least the public think so and there is a sort of poetic justice in it. Yesterday Mr. Cummings and Dr. Day, a couple of justice scalpers, were up for trying to take each other's scalp locks. They were fined ten leading bills each and they disbursed the scrip.

AMUSEMENTS.

Local Dramatic Notes.

The agreeable change in the weather, and the enjoyable character of the play, conspired to attract the largest audience of the week to the Grand last night, to witness the closing performance of "The Rajah," as given by the Madison Square Theater company. The engaged company, under the original management, is doing a splendid business, and the opinion prevails that nothing but a decisive war can bring about a settlement. The Santa Fe refuses to enter into any arrangement regarding the maintenance of rates on Utah, Colorado and California traffic so long as an attempt is made to carry the tripartite contract. The original tripartite road, however, that under no circumstances will they consent to a dissolution of their contract, and that they mean to carry it out for the period agreed upon. They say the abandonment of the agreement would compel them to extend their lines in order to meet competition. For the very purpose of avoiding the building of unnecessary extensions, they say, the tripartite compact was formed. The Rock Island and Milwaukee & St. Paul point to the contemplated extension of the Sioux City Pacific, but they are not prepared to bring the above statement. With the Burlington and Northwestern having through lines to the mountains, the Rock Island and Milwaukee & St. Paul would be compelled to build parallel lines if they were not allowed to use the Union Pacific, and they are not prepared to stand and to treat the various tripartite roads as one through line in the pools hereafter to be formed.

Washouts and Delayed Trains.

Trains were delayed again yesterday by the washouts, and several were behind time. The train on the Northwestern due here at 6 a. m. was over nine hours late, arriving a little before 4 p. m. This was closely followed by another train on the same road that was about two hours and a half late. The Sioux City trains were pretty nearly on time. No. 3 on the Milwaukee road was about an hour late, owing to the delay of the old Sunday washout. The fast mail train was delayed one hour by the washout near La Crosse, but it fully made up the time, so that it arrived here on time. The Erie express train, that leaves St. Paul at 11:30 p. m. Tuesday night, did not get out on account of the condition of the road. It is thought that the roads are in such condition that trains will all be running on time today.

The Missouri Pacific.

St. Louis, Sept. 10.—It is rumored in railroad circles here that Geo. W. Lilly, general freight agent of the Missouri Pacific, will soon be made general eastern agent of that road, in place of G. E. Eddy, recently resigned, and that S. K. Schley, late general freight agent of the Memphis & Little Rock road, will succeed him here. Also that H. C. Townsend, general passenger agent, may be sent east as general eastern passenger agent. It is stated that the Missouri Pacific intend to give special attention to eastern business in the future, and is preparing to thoroughly cover that field.

A Ball in a Millinery Shop.

[From a Foreign Letter.]

An infuriated ball recently rushed from the street into a millinery establishment in Liverpool. He dashed the whole length of the show room, and grew more rampant at the sight of himself in a mirror. The occupants of the place, all young women, screamed in terror. The police arrived on the scene and were too timid to enter the place, and contented themselves with calling upon the swooning females to drive the brute out. A great crowd collected around the doors, and the excitement grew intense, but finally a cool-headed young man entered the shop alone, and, by dexterous management, drove the animal's head toward the door, driving him out, to put the police and crowd to flight, after there had been great mischief wrought among the hats and bonnets.

A Brave Woman and a Snake.

[From the Overland Monthly.]

Singularly great presence of mind for a lady was displayed by the wife of the Adjutant of the Thirty-sixth regiment of Madras Infantry, stationed at Cannanore. Awakening in the middle of the night and feeling thirsty, she rose to get a glass of water. In putting her foot on the floor she stepped on something cold, and in a moment she felt the slimy coil of a snake around her ankle. Instantaneously it flashed across her that it had not bitten her, she must have stepped upon its neck, and she pressed down her weight firmly upon it as it writhed and made frantic efforts to get free. Thus she stood till her husband struck a light. "Stand firm," said he, as soon as he saw her terrible situation, and the strong-nerved lady did so until he had taken a razor and, putting it down to her foot, cut the snake's head off.

THE RAILROADS.

Those Cow Boys, Their Money is Refused by the Scalper and They Leave for

G. C. Gifford, of Dennings, Texas, with his party of eleven cow boys, referred to in the Globe of yesterday, appeared at the Mayor's office at noon yesterday, and stated the case of his purchasing tickets over the Omaha line for the party, and also that during his absence some one entered his party out of the depot into the scalping office of Dave Grauman, who by some means induced the cow boys to deposit some money with him for tickets, instead of waiting for the person having them in charge. Afterwards, they wanted the money back, but instead of giving them the money, he gave them tickets over the Albert Lea route, with a free ticket for one of the party, and promising them that if the matter was not all right he would take the tickets back. When the leader called upon him to refund the money, according to the agreement with the men, he refused to do it. He then applied to the Mayor and the chief of police, who compelled a settlement of the matter, Grauman redeeming the tickets. The party started for Texas on the 3:50 p. m. Omaha train yesterday, over the route by which Mr. Gifford had purchased the tickets. When the matter was brought before the Mayor, Grauman was reported out of town, and was represented by his attorney, A. E. Johnson, at present, but Mr. Whitaker, of the Albert Lea route, was absent.

A Republican Fizzle.

[Special Correspondence of the Globe.]

EMMETTSBURG, Iowa, Sept. 9.—If ever anything was dead and doomed, then it is rank Republicanism and its illegitimate child, Prohibition, in Iowa. Every new point made to their road and overthrow in November. Eighteen years ago, when I first came to this state, 50,000 or even 90,000 Republican majority on a state ticket was nothing to excite remark, but eighteen years of patient working, watching and waiting on the part of the Democracy, has caused the bonanza majorities to become things of the almost forgotten past. Slowly and stubbornly, but surely they have dwindled until last fall the bragged, Gov. Sherman had a clean majority of just 902, by the official record.

The Western Railroad Meetings—Reasons Why the Tripartite Compact Should Break.

[Chicago Tribune.]

Commissioner Yining has called a meeting of the Western Trunk Line Association in this city Sept. 18, to consider the complications which resulted from the Northwestern's notice of withdrawal of its Sioux City & Pacific business from the association. As heretofore announced, the committee of general managers, which is to devise a plan for the adjustment of the western troubles, meets in this city Sept. 15, and a general meeting of the managers and general officers of all the western roads is to be held Sept. 15. These meetings will have to take into consideration the affairs of the tripartite association if anything is to be accomplished. It is therefore quite probable that after the committee of managers has found out how the various roads stand toward the tripartite combination, the latter will be requested to meet and see if they cannot agree upon some uniform action by which the general meeting may be guided in its proceedings. Everything will therefore depend upon what action the tripartite roads may take regarding the future status of their combination. As matters now stand it does not look as if anything can be accomplished by these meetings, and the opinion prevails that nothing but a decisive war can bring about a settlement. The Santa Fe refuses to enter into any arrangement regarding the maintenance of rates on Utah, Colorado and California traffic so long as an attempt is made to carry the tripartite contract. The original tripartite road, however, that under no circumstances will they consent to a dissolution of their contract, and that they mean to carry it out for the period agreed upon. ASHLAND, WIS.

[Special Correspondence of the Globe.]

ASHLAND, Wis. Sept. 9.—The hotel Chequamegon has closed for the season.

This section has been visited by very heavy rains during the past week.

Burglars broke into the safe of Dr. Edwin Ellis, and the safe at the Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha railroad depot on the night of the 8th. Not much plunder was secured. At the depot they were scared off before finishing the job, by one of the employees, who sent a bullet after the retreating burglars. One of the burglars was disappeared through the window, but unfortunately missed the mark. The police are after them.

The Ashland City band is getting to the front in fine style. The boys play at the skating rink evenings and surprise all by their fine work.

The recent heavy rains will gladden the hearts of our loggers.

An Island of Pretty Women.

[Boston Times.]

The Channel Islands, and particularly Jersey, possess much of interest to the stranger, but the crowning glory of Jersey is the beauty of her women. It is because of this that they would readily be awarded a prize in any competition of feminine grace. Rare, creamy complexion that would put the bloom on the peach to blush, figures made graceful and sinewy by bodily toil, with rather strongly cut features, eyes like aloe, and lustrous dark hair, the girls met on the streets at St. Helier's seem to the stranger the personification of womanly loveliness. They are not, and maidenly reserve. The soft white mist that wraps the island every night from sundown to sunrise give them carnation cheeks. The toil that brings with it the active, healthy body is due to causes which will enlist on the side of these women the sympathies of true manhood. It is because of the "woeful death" of men in the mines that the women do all the work. Where you meet one man in these tortuous streets of St. Helier's you meet ten women.

daughter, that arrived at 1:30 p. m. He don't talk now to any one that is worth less than a clean million of dollars.

Yesterday the Northern Pacific Railroad company, in New York, obtained an attachment against the property in that state belonging to D. E. Swan, the cashier of the company in St. Paul. It will be recollected that Swan was detected, some weeks ago, in appropriating, in low Elyria, the new points to their road and overthrow in November. Eighteen years ago, when I first came to this state, 50,000 or even 90,000 Republican majority on a state ticket was nothing to excite remark, but eighteen years of patient working, watching and waiting on the part of the Democracy, has caused the bonanza majorities to become things of the almost forgotten past. STILLWATER NOTES.

The steamer St. Paul went up the river yesterday with empty barges.

Read the account of the cyclone instead of Stillwater news, in to-day's Globe.

Miss Lydia Cadi and Miss Nellie Brown went to Afton with J. R. Cadi, on a short visit.

The streets yesterday were in a sandy state, and teams were busy all day removing the refuse.

The steamer Evansville arrived yesterday morning, and left in the afternoon with logs for down river.

The roller skating rink had a full attendance, and a Little Tody and Mr. Aamant proved drawing cards.

The "Big 4" had not a very large audience, but the performance was fully up to the recommendations given.

Mrs. Lydia Brill and her daughter are here from Le Sueur on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Dr. Cadi, and her cousin, Mrs. G. W. Balch.

Miss Nellie Brown, of Blakely, Minn., is visiting her aunt's, Mrs. D. Cadi, and her cousin, Mrs. G. W. Bolter, before beginning her school again.

There will be a holiday this afternoon among our citizens, as the weather has got all right for the fair, and the regular Thursday's programme will be gone through with.

Nothing on the streets here yesterday but talk of the cyclone, and other news was driven into the shade. Being absent all day at Marine looking up the cyclone items, we have not time to give any other news. We think it will be found readable.

Mr. John Green, Sr., an old veteran, was last evening in the hall of Muller Post No. 1 G. A. R., attending the regular meeting. The drum corps was beating a lively air, and Veteran Green was trying a quickstep, when his light leg suddenly gave way and he went to the floor. He was carried down stairs, and Millard was on hand immediately. It is hoped the injury is not serious.

The Washington County Fair.

It was a gloomy day for the fair yesterday. It was cloudy, the track was muddy and the people generally stayed at home. There were a score of ladies in floral hall looking at the flowers, fancy work and garden novelties, half a hundred farmers were wandering about among the cattle, horses, sheep and hogs, two dozen young men developing muscle were giving the weight machine a few hard blows, and a hundred individuals from all class of life were staking a few quarters and halves on the wheel of fortune just for luck. There were outside of these only the regular officials of the association, the drivers of horses and the
