CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

A Largely Attended Meeting of the Board of Directors.

The meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce was well attended yesterday morning, though nothing of any special interest transpired. MORE ELECTION PRECINCTS NEEDED.

The sub-committee of the executive con mittee made a report which will be found below in favor of increasing the election precincts in St. Paul, which was adopted and the secretary was directed to send the same to the city council: To the Board of Directors of the Chamber of

The special committee, to whom was re ferred the matter of election precincts in the city of St. Paul have had the same under consideration and find that the whole number of election precincts is seventeen only, and the voting places in each are as indicated in the list hereto attached, and that the legal vote of the city cannot be polled without great loss of time to the industrial classes, and n our judgment cannot be polled at all n the time that the polls can lawfully be kept open; that the increased expense of argely increasing the number of precincts is insignificant when compared with the loss of time and wages by the laboring classes resulting from the long distance that many of them must travel to reach the voting pla and the delay then made necessary by the crowded condition of the polls.

The fact, too, should be kept constantly in mind that in a government like ours the right of every citizen to cast his vote with the least annoyance and delay is of inestimable value and should be treated as a matter of primary importance by all municipal governments.

It is impossible to cast the 20,000 votes of the city in seventeen precincts.

We therefore recommend that the number of precincts be increased to at least thirtytwo, and the voting places in the new pre-cincts be so located as to be most convenient to artizans, mechanics and laborers of all classes, and that of the additional precincts, four be located in the Fifth ward, with one as far east on Seventh street as the point where said street abuts upon the line of the Canada road; that four be located in the Fourth ward, with the voting place of man's brewery, and one north of the Manitoba rairoad near the railroad shops; that two additional precincts be formed in the First ward, one additional in the Second, two additional in the third, and two additional in the Sixth, in such manner as most to accommodate the voters in those wards. Respectfully submitted, JOHN B. SANBORN.

COM. KITTSON'S HORSES.

John Splan Confident There Will Be a Smashing of Records on the 25th. From the following, taken from the Milwaukee Wisconsin, it will be seen that Commodore Kittson's horses will remain at Milwaukee for a few days: It was Commodore Kittson's intention to ship the flyers to East Saginaw, where Johnston and Minnie R would again attempt to lower their respective records, but since the recent performances here, the Minnesota Bonner deemed it best to give Johnston another opportunity over the same track, as John Splan is of the opinion that the' record can be lowered here. So machinery for leveling, grading, scraping and rolling the course was sent for, reaching here this morning, and a large force of men immediately con operations. With the aid of fine weather, Mr. Splan hopes to make the track one of the fastest in the country, as Commodore Kittson has telegraphed his men to spare no expense in furthering his desires.

On the turns, the grass has On the turns, the grass has grown out on the track, making it fully twenty yards longer, This will be remedied at once. During a conversation with the famous driver, John Splan, last evening, that gentleman said to a Wisconsin reporter that he would drive r to the half-mile post, say in 1:03½, slow him up slightly on the third quarter and send him home for all he is worth. "Thursday's performances places me just where I've wanted to get," continued Mr. Splan, "and the average of the four heats I drove in, 2:11¼, is the best in the world. The commodore has not been interested in trotters and pacers very long, but his success in turf circles places him in the front rank. He now owns Johnston, Little Brown Jug and Gem, the three fastest pacers in the country. Johnston has the fastest record and the three best heats, an honor which the Jug held previous to Johnston's trial last fall at Chicago. The heats on Thursday were traveled in 2:06, 2:111/4, 2:141/4 and 2:151/4, an average of 2:111/4. The fastest time ever made over this track be fore was in 2:151/4 by Rarus, whom I also drove. So next Thursday look out for a general smashing of records.'

An Interview With Splan.

[Milwaukee Sentinel, Monday, 22d.] "We are pushing matters out at the track," said John Splan to a Sentinel reporter, last evening, and if we don't make some of the fastest miles on Thursday next that ever were traveled, it won't be our fault. The principal trouble with the track last week was that the grass grew so far out at the turns. Of course we had to drive around the grass, and swerve made the course so much longer. That will be all remedied. The grass is cut away, and we have sent for a machine that will scrape the bed of the track, and put it in apple-pie trim."

Mr. Woodmansee, the representative of Col. Kittson, is as sanguine as either Splan or Campbell about the result of next Thurs-

Woodmansee, "we are of the opinion that we will make it in this city." about the records and merits of the various celebrated flyers, Mr. Splan said: "There is one feature about Johnston that pleases me greatly and that is his uniformity. You can always depend on him for a good mile. He may not lower the record every time he attempts it, but he gives the public a fine exhibition of speed. As proving his assertion, Mr. Splan said that during the entire season the different records made by the "pacer king" have always been within a radius of two seconds, always been within a radius of two seconds, matter of paving Ffth street between St. between 2:11 and 2:13. "And I don't believe he made a break more than twice since so I have been driving him," continued Mr. | constructing to drive some horses you might just as well be hand-ling a pair of mules on the towpath. They are continually breaking, but if Johnston breaks it is an accident, just like an engine priation by the general government for the running off the track. It is the same way improvement of navigation of the Missis- with Maud S. and Rarus. They can always be depended on. Now Rarus, especially, was a model of uniformity. He was always sure to make good time. Some horses make a speedy mile to-day, but the next day they can't come within six or seven seconds of it. Now Rarus, while I drove him, trotted two and Rechester and made a mile in 2:13¾. From there he went to Buffalo and made 2:13¼. The next record was at Cleveland, 2:14; the next at Saginaw, 2:14¼. Then he went to California and trotted two heats in :14 and 2:1414. He also made a mile Minneapolis in 2:14. All those trials following each other, and all within a second is one fact about Rarus that may not be gen-

of his best record, is wonderful work. There erally known, and that is that his record over a half-mile track still stands unrivaled. He made a mile over the halfmile track at Toledo in 2:16 and it has never been equaled, despite the fact that Maud S has trotted over a half-mile track time and again. In fact all her training was done over a half-mile track, but she hasn't reached the record of Rarus.

'sized-up" the slow track coming to the three-quarter post. As was stated in the Sentinel, after the race, the horses all lost ground on the last quarter. To overcome this the drivers will travel the first half-mile at a speedier clip than was done before. Splan themselves and they were fined fifteen bills always carries a chronometer in his hand each.

"You are charged with forgery," said the spring and when he gets the word he starts the watch. During the heat he glances at it frequently and knows just as well as the judges what time he is making. As he drives under the wire he presses the spring again and stops the watch.

The New Evening Paper and the Boom of the Newsboys.

Scenes and Incidents Around the Office of the Day Yesterday Evening.

Yesterday was red letter Day in the evening journalistic field in St. Paul. might be properly termed the first issue of the new paper was made yesterday, as it was sufficiently perfected to be adequate to meet the demand on Saturday and only limited edition was put out that time. The news boys took possession of the square on Jackson street, where the office is located, about noon Saturday, and made "Rome howl" the rest of the day. They were on deck again yesterday, not in the least curbed by their Sabbath school devotion and the services of a stalwart policeman was necessary to preserve order, and the kind of "order" he was enabled to keep would have made pandemonium blush The Day company at being eclipsed. have secured a four cylinder press, but it not being entirely in shape for executing the work, outside presses were also called into requisition, and the demands were so great that even though two other establishments were alding in printing the paper, the supply was not rapid enough and the vociferous demands of the boys made an animated scene. They took possession of the basement and the street, and passers by in that section of the city were forcibly aware that something was up. It was the Day that was up, that was constantly coming up from the press room to the street by the hundred, in the hands of the eager and excited boys. There were sixty carriers on deliver to deliver papers to the regular subscribers in addition to the mob of sellers. At six o'clock 15,230 papers had been sent out and still the boys were clamor ing for more. All through the evening the boys were continuing their sales upon street to meet the popular demand. It certainly was a very gratifying send off and one which the publishers have reason to be happy over. The Day has a bright, newsy appea ance, and starts in with a boom which argues success from the word "go." The four cyl-inder press is now fully in shape, and hereafter the Day will be able to supply the demand to any extent.

Who Invented the Telephone?

New York, Sept. 22 .- The final arguments were heard to-day before Judge Wallace in the United States circuit court in the suit between the American Bell Telephone and the Peoples' Telephone companies. The question to be determined is whether Prof. A. G. Bell or Daniel Draubaugh was the first inventor of the speaking telephone. Among the counsel representing the Peoples' Telephone company is Senator Ed-munds, of Vermont. The arguments in behalf of the Bell Telephone company were begun by J. J. Starrow. He called attention to the mass of evidence already taken, and explained the principle on which the tele-phone was constructed. Ex-Senator Conkling is also one of the counsel in the case.

The Reetle and the Flea.

If a one hundred and fifty pound man had strength in proportion to that of the beetle, he could lift nearly 200,000 pounds. If he were agile in proportion to the agility of the fica, he could leap over a three-story house. Some poor fellows are so feeble that they can neither lift nor leap. Their blood is poor, their digeston bad, and their energy gone. Give such men Brown's Iron Bitters, gone. We regret to learn that Wm. Chase, an employe of the Duluth road, yesterday morning had the middle finger of his left hand badly crushed while coupling the engine to the cars at White Bear. He came in with his train, the early freight, and had it attended to. He will have a sore finger for some time. Four men, acquaintances and relatives of

John Hennessey who was drowned on the Clam river drive above the Kettle river rapids, left yesterday morning by the 8:55 train on the Duluth road. They will do all in their power to find the body, and will make a lengthened search. The family are most anxious to find him. The latter part of this month, and next month especially, will give the reporters a chance to chronicle numerous social events, as a number of couples are on matrimony bent, and it appears to be epidemic. Railway conductors, lumber and business men, appear to be affected, in fact, we cannot tell where it will stop, and it might strike some of the reporters themselves. Time will tell. Ald. Covell, chairman of the street committee, was vesterday, in company with Mr. Harrison, superintendent of the water works, making arrangements to have the hydrants on North Main street, near the old St. mills, raised and moved near the sides of the streets. The filling of the streets at that point has about put the hydrants sight, the tops being some distance below the level of the street. Those who will aid in alleviating the sufferings entailed by the cyclone, will have a chance of doing so, as the ladies of Oneka town are soliciting the much needed aid. Anything that can be spared will be appreciated, as many lost their all, clothing and everthing gone. Who will respond most nobly? Mr. D. H. Sullivan, assistant superintendent of the Stillwater Electric Light company, has severed his connection with them and left for Minneapolis yesterday. He goes to better his position. While Mr. Sullivan has been in the city he has won many friends, who will much regret his departure, and who will be pleased to hear of his welfare. On Wednesday the election for alderman for the Second ward, in place of Ald. Townshend, who resigned, comes off. Frank Raiter, R. M. Coles, A. T. Lindholm and others are spoken of as candidates. A young man employed at Judd Orff's livery stables had a rather painful accident happen to him on Sunday. It appears that he was removing manure from the rear of the stables, and had high shelvings on the wagon, when, in attempting to get on the oad one of the boards came down, throwing him under the wagon, when one of the wheels passed over his foot giving it a bad squeeze but breaking no bones. Russell, livery stable keeper, Minneapolis, informing him that on Monday of last week, a man representing himself as the German Lutheran minister at Stillwater. and giving the name of C. Moller, hired a horse and buggy, and since that time he has seen neither. He said that he was about to establish a German Lutheran church in the city, and he wanted to go and visit the Germans who were to aid him. On making inquiry the chief found his discription corresoonded with that of one of the German Lutheran clergymen that was here in conference during the fair week, named Christ Stuerzenbaum, and cannot be confounded with the pastor of the German Lutheran church here, whose name is Philip Mueller, a man of estimable character. Mr. Russell gives his discription as follws: About thirty years old, weighs 160 pounds, 'dark hair, arge mouth, protruding lips and very pale face. He wears large spectacles, the
