Northwestern Notes. Ellendale proposes to sink an artesian well 1,500 feet if necessary.

Prarie fires have recently done a good deal of damage in Sully county.

The new roller skating rink in Ellendale is to be dedicated Oct. 1.

Rev. A. C. Law, a popular Methodist preacher, recently died at Blunt, of typhoid fever, after a short illness.

A Presbyterian church was dedicated at Devils Lake City on Sunday. It is all paid for and quite an acquisition to the place.

A new German church at Jamestown is to be dedicated next Sunday. Rev. Bishop Dreds, of Cincinnati, O., is officiate.

Warren A. Batson, near Ellendale, has gone to Wisconsin to find a wife to relieve the quietude of his life.

The Valley of the Dakotas is likely to be changed from Tower City to McIntosh.

A number of new towns in McIntosh county on the Missouri river, have lately come into market, and there is quite a little rush there.

The number of zopher tails at La Moure county has now paid for reaches 8,343. Parties propose to cultivate the crop for the premiums.

The county fair at Beadle, Mrs. E. M. Drake, who has been extensively, took three premiums on wheat. She is fair, fat and forty.

Arthur Bassett, near New Rockford, threshed 3,900 bushels of wheat of 100 acres, and took up handsome profits even at the low figure.

The Mandan Pioneer claims to have raised every variety of vegetable from rutabagas to tobacco and sweet potatoes. The local market is overstocked.

The Sioux Falls Press says the great need of that locality at present is cargo of girls to do housework. It mentions that a number of a dozen who are willing to marry than one to work.

Parties who have set out and cultivated trees of the wild plum that are so plenty along the streams in Dakota and bear so lavishly, state that the fruit improves greatly and is really delicious.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Morey claim ownership of the finest child born in Yorktown. It is a girl and the object of great interest. It will not, however, be without abundant associates, as it means that.

Boyes, of the Lisbon Clipper, displays airy grace on roller skates, but his 300 pounds recently struck the floor so solidly as to shake the building and exhaust the local supply of liniment and St. Jacob's oil.

The Democrats propose to endorse Hon. J. D. La Moore for the legislature in the Pembina district, although the Republicans have offered their own nomination, as he is known to be sound and will come out all right when needed.

The editor of the Lisbon Star exhibits a large pumpkin and melon that have grown since July 25, the date of the fall storm. He thinks no other equal in length, and the quantity of vegetable growth when it is crowded for time.

Quite a number of new towns in the Devils lake county have been surveyed and are now ready for entry. Some eight or ten more will be completed this fall. The lands are generally good and will no doubt be rapidly taken up.

The bank of Fargo building just completed and occupied, is said to be the finest business block west of Chicago. It is of red pressed brick and equipped with all the modern improvements.

Even some of the pulp mills have referred to it as a model achievement of art and enterprise.

In a lecture in Fargo Sunday night Rev. J. N. Elliott came pretty near demonstrating that this country was peopled long before Adam made his claim, and that Dakota was one of the most favored regions. The big flood he thought swept over it and left none to report to the newspapers.

Gen. Mann, who has figured extensively in public life at Chicago, is now an enthusiastic Dakota granger, and happy over his success with corn. He has gone east and taken with him a bushel of different varieties of his corn fully matured, which he will show to his Illinois friends, and will no doubt be rapidly taken up.

Ellendale Leader: T. A. Lawrence, our valiant farmer of 130-64, has left upon our table samples of his golden fourteen and sixteen round, early Dent corn fully ripe, and measuring 1 1/2 inches in length, which he has taken to present to the world's exposition at New Orleans, Mr. L. has the acres of each.

Hon. Samuel Reed, a former newspaper man, coal mine owner, capitalist and statesman, of central Illinois, is now being sought by a judicial position in Hughes county. He is a man of steady mind and rare qualities, and will honor the bench if elected.

Gov. Pierce says to the Tribune, in regard to the election at Pierre, of the gift which he made at Sioux Falls, and was very favorably impressed with him. Raymond's strength was greater than I had expected, and I think he made a good fight and got every vote that was possible. I think it impossible for any delegate from Dakota to serve his constituents so well, under the existing conditions of Dakota politics and interests, as not to meet with very formidable opposition.

In the recent county Democratic convention at Grand Forks there was forty-one towns and wards represented, and it was a surprise to many to see the number of delegates that had been appointed to be Republicans. The chairman particularly said the party had been through a "cold, dark, dreary, desolate, chilling night for twenty-four years," and was now emerging into the glowing sunlight. A full county ticket was nominated and most of it will probably be elected.

It is reported by parties at the Pierre convention that the failure of Delegate Raymond was due to the lack of efficient management. The Bismarck Tribune says: "Whatever may be said of the personal popularity of Delegate Raymond, it is a fact that his management of the party was well demonstrated by the Pierre convention that he is not a shrewd politician. Starting out with only twenty-four towns and wards, he was able to win by such tactics possessing the necessary votes with which to combine, it is a poor tribute to his political powers that he did not secure the prize."

Pembina Express gives this to show that bees will do well in the extreme north: "Mr. Aitch procured a hive of Italian bees in Minnesota last spring. Early in the season they threw off the largest swarm of bees he ever saw, and he has had considerable experience with bees in the east. These, for aught of a proper hive, he placed in a box, but not liking their habits they left for parts unknown, and during the season two other swarms followed them. In the matter of honey, however, he was not so unfortunate. He has taken 100 pounds of honey. One-half that amount is considered a good summer's work for a swarm in bee countries. Therefore, Mr. Aitch does not hesitate to say that bees may be made to pay in Dakota."

A number of parties in the Devils Lake county claim to have made a success in an experiment with corn this season. There has as yet been no disassembling report. One of these parties, W. D. Little, says: "People may say that wheat is the best thing to grow here, but as for me, I shall immediately buy some bags of a good breed, and go into raising corn and hogs, satisfied that I can't find anything better in this country. This year I have raised 100 bushels of corn, and where, but mine ain't that kind. I am growing Prairie Queen and Golden Bearer, the largest, finest corn to be found, and I can do better here than I could in Illinois. Minnesota, as you may say, may be made to pay in Dakota."

Prof. Gregory and Civil Service. WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Prof. Gregory, of the civil service commission, has written a long letter upon the subject of political assessments, the chief points of which are contained in the following extracts:

"The intent of those sections of the civil service act which relate to contributions for political purposes, was twofold. First, to prevent the use of government places and government funds for the purpose of conducting elections; second, to prevent the government employes from compulsory contributions to political funds. The government clerk is employed to work with the people, and not from a party comes from the people and not from a party. What he earns is, therefore, his own, and it is the grossest tyranny to threaten to remove any clerk on the ground of a threat of removal, as by promise of promotion. The clerk, outside of his clerkship, is still a citizen, and as a citizen has common interest with all good citizens in the prosperity and welfare of his country. The government has no right to take away from the citizen his right to vote and express his opinions."

to form associations with those of like opinions, and to use his money in all lawful ways to propagate his opinions. As an officer or employee of the government he is strictly under authority of Congress in all his official acts and relations, and must not violate any one of the four prohibitions of the civil service act. But away outside of his official life and relation to the government, and beyond his duties to the government, and beyond his connections with government people and places, he interests a simple citizen and has all the duties, interests and responsibilities of a citizen in public employ. The interpretation of the civil service law is easy and the path of duty required by it plain to all who will honestly regard its true intent. It is not necessary to the public good that any man should be corrupted by public influence. Second—The protection of government officials from political assessments. These two great public demands of the law must and will be fully and fairly enforced.

One of Dick Oglesby's Campaign Lies. [From the Chicago Times.]

ACQUA, Ill., Sept. 16.—To the Editor: In his speech here on the 11th, Gen. Oglesby said:

As I stood here twenty years ago to uphold the Republican party and its teachings, on that very day a vast assembly met in Chicago, composed of men who were able, and led by Thomas A. Hendricks, a leading lawyer. While I stood here Hendricks was informing that body to pass a resolution declaring the war a failure. What a shock it was to me, and to every citizen in this way, and suspended hostilities and called a convention of southern and northern Democrats to decide on what had better be done—the foundation of which would have been the perpetuation of slavery. Are there not reasons for rejoicing that we had our war? I stand now where I stood then. I suppose Hendricks does, as he has never made a healthy, open repentance of his heresy.

The attention of Gov. Hendricks has been called to this slander, and in a letter just received he has said:

I am surprised that Gov. Oglesby should have said that I was a leader in the convention of 1860, and that I refused to sign a resolution declaring the war a failure. I was not a member of that convention, and had no connection with the making of the platform. Indeed, I had no knowledge of the contents of the platform until published.

I enclosed I send you card which I had occasion to publish in the month of the war. My conduct throughout the war was governed by the sentiments expressed in this card.

T. A. HENDRICKS. [From the Indianapolis Journal, Thursday, Sept. 13, 1884.]

MR. EDITOR: My attention has been called to an editorial in the Journal of this morning, in which it is stated that a meeting held at Shelbyville, Ind., a few evenings since, a committee was appointed to wait upon me, with the request that I should speak; that, being called upon by the committee, I refused to sign a card, which had no hand in originating the difficulty, and would have nothing to do in extricating the country from its perilous condition.

Upon all occasions I have been misinformed. I never heard of the appointment of such a committee, and suppose none was appointed. No committee waited upon me with a request that I should sign a card, and I certainly would have responded. I have never withheld my views upon any question of public interest from the people of Shelby county.

Sioux Falls Legislative Convention.

[Special Telegram to the Globe.]

SIoux FALLS, Sept. 23.—The legislative convention for the Fourth district met to-day at Salem and put in nomination for the council Wilber S. Wynn, of Iowa Falls, and Henry M. Rogers, of Miner county, and P. J. Morton and J. T. Gilbert, of Sioux Falls, and J. W. Ahmann, of Bridgewater, and Philip Runkle, of Salem, for the legislature. The ticket gives general satisfaction here, as the parties contributing to the nominations were largely made up of those favorable to a new deal in the politics of the territory.

LAC QUI PARLE.

[Special Correspondence of the Globe.]

LAC QUI PARLE, Minn., Sept. 22.—To-day several parties from this town went to Madison, the promising new town in the center of the county. Iverson separator, together with four stacks, were burnt to the ground Friday evening on the other side of the river.

The common talk in politics this fall is, "I am not going to talk in politics this fall, I am going to work for president." They say that the fishing and hunting expeditions have commenced to the lake. Ducks are plenty in the sloughs and lakes.

To Enjoy Life. Many people do not enjoy their lives any more than prisoners in jail or exiles in the mines of Siberia. It is because they have overworked themselves into nervousness or blighted their health by the use of iron bitters. Fishing and hunting expeditions have commenced to the lake. Ducks are plenty in the sloughs and lakes.
