Woman's Work at New Orleans.

To the Women of Minnesota: Our state is to have a department of "woman's work" at the World's Industrial exposition at New Orleans. What will you make of that department? It is for you to decide, and I appeal to the patriotism of the woman of the state to make it a creditable exhibit. You can do it, even in the short time that remains, if you will lend willing hearts and hands to the work.

In the full confidence that you will do this, arrangements have been made to allot as follows in the Minnesota department, and funds appropriated to collect and arrange our exhibits: Send us what you have done, or are doing, or wish to do, that is well done, in needle work, embroidery of all kinds, paintings and drawings on all suitable materials—ceramics, wood carvings, etchings, and other branches of woman's work and industry suitable for the department. We wish not only art but also scientific exhibits, and evidence of what women have accomplished in professional and intellectual work. Articles will be collected and transported at the expense of the state board of collective exhibits, and the greatest care and security from damage is pledged.

Articles must be ready and shipped to Minneapolis not later than the 1st of October. In towns and counties where no agent has been appointed by the state board of collective exhibits, the ladies are requested to organize and appoint such agents, to attend to the collection or selection of contributions.

Any information will be gladly received or given by applying to FRANK C. MARSTON, Superintendent department of woman's work, 237 First avenue south, room 14, Minneapolis, Minn.

D. E. BAILEY, secretary of the department.

Engagement of Joseph Jefferson.

The engagement of Joseph Jefferson, the celebrated comedian, opens at the Grand Opera house this evening, when he will present his world-famous play of "Kip Van Winkle."

As a general comedian he has had few if any equals, but when he created the part of Kip Van Winkle in the play of that name, dramatized from Washington Irving's beautiful legend of the Catskill mountains, he presented a picture so faithful in its every detail, so strong and clear and so true to life and so full of those wonderful touches of nature that make the whole world kin, that he attained a hold upon the popular heart which it is doubtful if any other actor of our time has ever gained. So great was the desire to see this wonderful portraiture that great multitudes were compelled to yield to popular demand and for years could find little opportunity to appear in any of his other matchless representations.

The audience will, no doubt, be very large. To-morrow evening he will present, for the first time in St. Paul, the drama of "Crocket on the Moon," being adapted from the famous Christmas story by Charles Dickens.

Mr. Frederick Ward, the famous tragedian, and his popular company, leave to-day for Stillwater, where they will appear this evening.

The Greatest Canal in the World.

It is the Alimentary Canal. It goes straight from your mouth to your stomach.

Every morsel of food you eat goes through it. It is intimately connected with your digestive apparatus, with your comfort, and with your ability to get along in the world, but if the machinery to which it leads gets out of order, look out for worry and misery. Keep the Canal and the whole system in prime condition by using Brown's Iron Bitters, the world's great iron tonic. Mr. D. E. Taft, Fall, Iowa, says: "I use Brown's Iron Bitters for my dyspepsia; and found it excellent and satisfactory."
