

DAKOTA & MONTANA

Collected and Forwarded by Telegraph to the Daily Globe.

Fargo Special Telegrams October 7, to the St. Paul Globe.

Northwestern Notes.

A German paper is to be started at White Lake.

At Lisbon three times as much has been paid out for wheat this year as last.

The first snow at Helena fell about two inches deep October 1, but did not remain long.

The Sioux Falls Argus speaks of $100,000 residences in that city. It is supposed however, that they are only occupied by newspaper people.

A. S. Douglass was the father of the first child born in Billings, and is now happy again in being the last. He is regarded as a valuable citizen.

H. S. Harcourt has been enjoined not to start a new paper at Lisbon, on the ground that it was one of the conditions on which he sold out.

Many an ambitious one has gone down with a tub at the skating rink in vain attempts to imitate the fine work of Mabel Davidson. She has added to the skating furor.

H. W. Griswold, the gold discoverer in Kansas county, has returned from Chicago, and will make further experiments to see whether the ore he believes there is in that section can be worked at reasonable expense.

Rev. G. S. White, of Syracuse, N. Y., came out to North Dakota some months since in hopes the climate would benefit his broken system, and has just gone back with his expectations realized and able to assume his ministerial labors.

Isaac Stauffer, in La Moure county, had a colony of bees sent him from Illinois last season. He now has two fine stands of bees and 120 pounds excellent honey for use, and is confident that honey can be added to the products of the country.

In Pembina county the past year fifteen school-houses have been built, and thirty-five districts organized. There are now eighty districts in the county and seventy-five teachers, and the school population numbers nearly 4,000.

Dr. Wisner, a learned M. D. at Lisbon, puts forth the statement professionally that there is no malaria in north Dakota and consequently no malarial fever. If he will show also that there are no other fevers or diseases known there he will do the country service.

Will K. Archer, of Caledonia, Ill., came to Dakota in search of a cure for disease of the lungs. He has found it in these delightful zephyrs, pure from the west in hills, and is so well pleased with the result, that he has concluded to become a permanent resident.

The Sioux Falls Argus says: A good joke is told on a certain insurance man in this city. His wife asked him a few days ago to buy her a jersey. He said "all right." His wife said she would like one of the same kind that his sister had. He was somewhat taken back at this, and demanded "what in the world has she got to do with it?"

The Evening Star is waging a crusade against the variety theaters, at which its publisher started the paper as their organ and program. It is related by the gentleman himself that one of the most devout and zealous religious converts was recently turned from sin to piety by visiting one of these places and viewing the "mirrors held up to nature." Vaudeville performances are pretty much the same every where.

The Grand Falls Plumber says of Mabel Davidson, the young lady skater from St. Paul: She surprised us all, the most of our people. Her skating was simply magnificent, equal in all respects to Prof. Crocker. She skated all the figures that he did, and many others that he did not. It is a constant surprise to every one who watches her glide over the glossy surface of the rink floor so gracefully, how one so young could possibly become so proficient.

Although La Moure is twenty-five miles from the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, it seems to derive benefit from it, as shown by the La Moure Progress in this. Sheldon is some fifty miles further east. The paper says: In shipping in a car load of sheep a few weeks ago, a Michigan man found that he could ship to La Moure for $40 less than to Sheldon. This shows how much of a competing point La Moure is. We get a lower freight rate than any town on the Fargo & Southwestern road.

The Democrats of Mandan propose not to nominate any candidate to the legislature on account of the courtesy of the Republicans in admitting them to their conventions.

Judge Adams, of the Cooperstown Courier, since his return from the defeat of his hopes at Pierre, makes this peculiar announcement: We don't want any more. We are letting the wool grow.

The postmaster of Fargo feels aggrieved at the statement frequently made that the Raymond leadership was weak. He was one of which. Still he is red hot for the dispenser of patronage, whoever he may be.

It is reported that the Fargo visitors on the stump are making a fine thing out of the canvas, Col. Plummer getting $50 and Col. Doan $100 a speech and expenses. Col. P. writes that he gets in six days a week, rain or shine, and lives on the fat of the land. Last winter he was setting type on a country paper for board and clothes. He will probably be able to net sixty days' work or $3,000, nearly enough to last till the next election.

L. C. Taylor, of the Alexandria Herald, was there and kept the count and gives this advice: It is claimed that Raymond was nominated at one time by the Pierre convention. That is a fact. The writer kept count of the change of the William S. O'Connell party, and he had no good delegate leader on the floor. When division comes he will have ample opportunities to get even with McKenzie et al., as he has a strong following in the north. But if he feels in the need for revenue he will begin work now and keep his hand in. His opponents are busy.

The Minto Journal speaks for the gentleman thus: "Delegate Raymond will do his level best the coming winter in congress for division and admission of the territory, and hopes to succeed in the measure before the time comes for him to resign the seat to his successor, and he will work with every prospect of being successful." He has two objects in accomplishing this at the next session—to provide for his own return as a delegate of the north, and next, to spite the gentleman who beat him at Pierre, for by resigning in as a state, a new election will be necessary and the delegate would not count.

The practice of mixing politics does not seem to be confined to the Dakota side of the Red river. It is claimed that the county convention that met over at Moorhead the other day was composed of one-fourth Democrats, and a number of nominees for county offices are of that persuasion. The only kicking is by the defeated candidates and their friends. There are those who have gathered the impression that a true blue Republican becomes sore headed when beaten for nomination in a Republican convention by a red hot Democrat. This is perhaps more true in Minnesota than in Dakota.

In several instances parties threshing have had their wheat burned by sparks from the engine running the thrasher.

The Lawrence county fair will be held October 24, 25, and 27. Gov. Fiske is expected to take the opening address.

The Tribune says that this has not been a profitable year for agricultural fairs and the officers of the Yankton association

CITY NOTICE.

OFFICE OF THE CITY TREASURER, ST. PAUL, MINN., OCTOBER 8, 1884.

Dakota and Great Southern. The Sioux City Journal has some additional information in this regard to the progress of work on the Dakota & Great Southern railroad.

Jumbo Irrigation. Billings Post: A novel method of irrigation is shortly to be tried at the great falls for the purpose of irrigating the bench lands in that vicinity.

Winnebago City. (Special Correspondence of the Globe.) WINNEBAGO CITY, Oct. 7.—The grandest event yet in the world.

Republican politicians of Faribault county are not satisfied. Four weeks ago, three of their leaders, residents of Winnebago City, departed for Wells, and if they didn't take their party with them, they at least thought so, for they they made a bargain and sale by which Wells was to support one Molyneux, of Winnebago City, for superintendent of schools.

The Democrats held their convention at Blue Earth City, October 3, where Molyneux, of Wells, was elected for superintendent of schools; Leonard and Burrows, of Wells, for representative; and clerk of court; White and Brown, of Blue Earth City for auditor and register of deeds; and Kimball and Weir for coroner and assessor.

The practice of mixing politics does not seem to be confined to the Dakota side of the Red river. It is claimed that the county convention that met over at Moorhead the other day was composed of one-fourth Democrats, and a number of nominees for county offices are of that persuasion.
