MILWAUKEE, Oct. 7 .- Wheat closes heavy and decidedly lower to-day. The continued big receipts of wheat and the light export business leaves too large an accumulation in this country, and the load seems to be getting too heavy for the Chicago bulls. The visible supply shows an increase of about 2,500,000 bushels for last week, and the receipts in the primary markets continue nearly as large so far this week as they were last. It looks like lower prices before there will be any good in buying it. We quote closing of the market for wheat: October 751/c, November 771/sc, December 781/sc. WALL & BIGELOW.

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 .- A federation of trades and unions, consisting of representatives from various labor organizations from the United States and Canada began a session here at noon to-day. P. H. McLogan, of Chicago, called the menting to order and an address of welcome was delivered by City Attorney Grinnell, or, behalf of the city, in the absence of the Mayor. The object of the meeting is to discuss the questions at issue between capital and labor and disseminate such views among organized working peoples of the country as will secure the recognition for them. The delegates number afty, and claim to represent nearly a million wage workers. Politics will form no part of their deliberations, although it is probable there will be some discussion and perhaps some declaration concerning the tariff. The amulgamated as sociation of iron and steel workers was for erly represented in the federation, but withdrew, owing to the refusal of the latter to re-tain in its declaration the principhes of a high tariff.

Editor Van Leuven's Storn. To the Editor of the Globe. SPRING VALLEY, Oct. 8 .- As "Greasy Castle," prints a "special" from Albert Lea. ask for space in the widely-read GLOBE to state just the facts in the case. Clint. L. Luce, of Albert Lea, through the instrumentality of Milo White, and by Milo White's money, has rented the Albert Lea Enterprise, during this eampaign of Mr. Halversen, the owner of the paper. It is difficult to say that Mr. Halversen is not a White man, but Luce was ready to do anything at the beck of the money bag. So Luce rented the Enterprise. No sconer had he mounted the editorial tripod, than streams of filth, and vituperation flowed from his mercenary pen, on all those who did not bow down to White. This Luce, for weeks assailed me for no reason except that I did not worship Milo

White, and without cause or provocation called me a 'Blackmailing Puke.' This scurrillous attack "Greasy Castle" copied into his paper approxingly. After that the editor of the Vidette took occasion to defend himself. For that defense, which is the first great law, Milo White's henchman, has caused my arrest. It will appear that if Milo White's cow boy could arrest me, that I could arrest him for his language toward me as most scandalous, and that he hims is the aggressor. This is all there is of the Luce racket. Is there an editor in this state who would tamely submit to being called a "blackmailing puke," under the circumstances, by such a character as Clint L. Luce? He began the trouble, and has persistently followed it up, and when given
