

THE SOCIAL WORLD.

Ex-Senator Windom was in St. Paul for several days last week. Mrs. Draper and Miss Lizzie Draper have returned from New York. Dr. Quinn is still recovering. Rev. W. S. Mathews has returned. Miss Katie Gordon leaves this afternoon for the east to remain until the holidays. Mr. H. B. Farwell and family have moved to their new residence on Selby avenue. Mrs. J. C. Jencks, of Stillwater, is visiting Mrs. J. D. Ludden, of Wabashaw street. On the evening of the 29th a ball will be given by the railroad check clerks at Market hall. Mr. R. A. Carrington and family have moved from St. Paul street to 358 East Ninth street. Dr. Ritchie will return to the city tomorrow morning from a three weeks visit in New York. Miss Mary Hammond remains in Chicago for a month visiting her friends Mrs. Dix, of Cass street. The many friends of Miss Lizzie Draper will be pleased to learn of her return, after a summer sojourn in the east. Mrs. W. Davis, of Farrington avenue, on Friday evening, gave a very pleasant reception in honor of Miss Bartis, who is visiting her. Dr. Emory Miller, late pastor of the First M. E. church, left with his family for their new home at Des Moines, Iowa, last Friday. Mrs. Rebecca Sherwood, of Beloit, Wis., who has been spending several weeks with her cousin, Mrs. E. J. Horton, has returned home. Mrs. S. R. Ainslie, wife of Superintendent Ainslie, of the Yellowstone division of the Northern Pacific road, is now on a visit to St. Paul. Mr. E. A. Hendy and E. J. Kauteman, of this city, have returned from St. Louis, but alas, not as we expected, for they still remain single. Mrs. Clara Smith, of Dubuque, who has been in St. Paul for several weeks visiting her sister, Mrs. B. F. Gallop, has returned to Dubuque. Jaska Division No. 31, of the Yardsmen's Mutual Beneficial, will give a ball at Pfeiffer's hall, on the evening of the 31 of November. The St. Paul Bachelors' club will give its first party for this season at the Metropolitan hotel on Tuesday. Seibert's orchestra will furnish the music. The next meeting of the Baptist Social union of St. Paul and Minneapolis, will occur on Tuesday evening, Oct. 21, at the West hotel in Minneapolis. Mr. D. W. Ingerson, who has been in St. Louis in attendance upon the meeting of the national convention on corrections and charities, has just returned. Rev. Mr. Riddell will be tendered a reception tomorrow evening by the First Baptist church, at the residence of D. D. Merrill, No. 131 College street. Mrs. J. W. Willis, Miss Forsyth and Miss Olga Wedelstaedt, who have been in Long Branch and other watering places in the east for some time, will be back next week. Geo. W. Gregory, Esq., of the extensive cracker house of Gregory & Co., of Winona, and of the board of aldermen of that city, was on a visit to St. Paul on Thursday and Friday. Mrs. E. L. DePlaine entertained a number of her friends on Thursday evening at her residence on West Seventh street. The evening was occupied in dancing and social converse. The St. Paul Dramatic club will give its next entertainment at the Athenaeum on Thursday evening, on which occasion the members will present the comedy of "Black Eye Susan." Dr. Hoyt who has just returned from his tour of inspection to St. Louis and Chicago, to see how the people of those cities manage to keep from being sick, will now attend to the health of St. Paul. Does anybody know what a "corn socle" can be? Go to Plymouth chapel on Thursday evening next, and the ladies will show you what a unique and delicious supper can be made from corn. Prof. Boggs gave a very enjoyable party at Turner hall on Friday evening to a large number of his class and friends. The next one will be on Tuesday of next week and the children on Saturday. A paper carnival will be given at the roller skating rink, on Jackson street, next Wednesday evening. All persons not wearing paper costumes or rasclets up to 9:30 o'clock will be excluded from the main floor. The St. Paul Decorative Art school, 82 Eleventh street, at its season's opening made an elegant display of oil decorative reposes work which was very much admired by the many ladies of the city who were in attendance. Progressive euchre is now all the rage. Between the roller skating rink, the roller coaster, the opera, concerts, dancing, progressive euchre and the prayer meeting, the people of St. Paul will worry through the winter. Mrs. R. A. Walsh and sister, Miss Sara McManus, of this city, are visiting friends in St. Louis. They will return home by way of Chicago, and after spending a few days in that city, they will arrive in St. Paul about the 15th of November. Among the artistic and enjoyable events in the near future will be the musical soiree to be given by the pupils of the Conservatory of Music, at No. 127 West Third street, a week from to-morrow night. Miss Ella Richards gave a very pleasant entertainment to a few friends at the residence of her parents on East Fourteenth street, on Friday night. The chief features of the entertainment were music, dancing and refreshments. On Wednesday morning last, Robert Agnew, of Belfast, Ireland, and Miss Maggie Agnew, of St. Paul, were married at the First M. E. church, by Rev. G. S. Smith. A reception was given at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. Gov. Davis. For the present the Sunday evening concerts at Turner hall will be given every two weeks, as heretofore. The St. Paul Turnverein is making efforts to fill out the evening's lecture with a miscellaneous programme which will be announced hereafter. The Select Knights, A. O. U. W., of Minneapolis, will attend the ball to be given by Capital Legion No. 3, of this city, next Wednesday evening. There will be fifty knights present in their beautiful full dress uniforms and the scene will be a brilliant one. Philip Phillips, the world famed singer of sacred song paid a short visit to relatives in this city yesterday. Mr. Phillips has added to his programme of religious entertainment stereoscopic views of localities in the foreign countries he has visited including many interesting scenes in the Holy Land. Lieut. H. S. Chase, U. S. Navy, in charge of the geological and topographical survey of the Yellowstone National park, passed through St. Paul Friday on his way to Washington, from which place he proceeds on a three year's cruise with the Pacific squadron. On Thursday evening last the ladies and gentlemen of the Woodland Park Baptist church held a sociable at the residence of Mrs. J. C. Greene, on Nelson avenue, and had a very pleasant time. The house was suitably decorated with flowers, and over the front door was the word "Welcome" in flowers. Last evening the German Agricultural and Horticultural society of Ramsey county, gave a grand ball at Turner hall. It will be recalled that a short time ago this society gave a grand display of the productions of the soil at Market hall, and this ball was given to help defray the expenses. Seibert's orchestra furnished the music. On the 8th of October, Mr. Edward D. Macdonald, fuel agent of the St. Paul & Duluth road, was married to Miss Anna Daly at St. Mary's church, by Rev. Father Callien. After the ceremony the parties took a short trip to the lakes and afterwards to Dakota, and then returned to St. Paul where they are going to house keeping. Mrs. T. Carrington and family left for Ashland Monday morning and intend making it their future home. The best wishes of many friends go with them. Ashland may be congratulated upon her acquisition to society, as both Mrs. and Miss Carrington will undoubtedly prove themselves. On next Wednesday evening the wedding of Miss Fannie A. Davidson to Wm. J. Noble, of New York city, will take place at the residence of John X. Davidson, No. 141 East Eleventh street. Immediately after the ceremonies the happy couple will depart for the east on an extended wedding trip. Bon voyage. The society ladies of West St. Paul are preparing for an apron and necktie party to be given shortly. It looks as though the people across the river were outgrowing the restraints and control of the people on this side. With an opera house and a brass band over there they appear to be getting altogether too tony. The Ippetus given during the past two years to the development and cultivation of vocal music talent in St. Paul has produced many voices of marked excellence in quality and range of compass. Among the number who have thus been brought to the front rank of artistic vocal merit, stands conspicuously Miss Sarah Mealey, of West Exchange street, a recent acquisition to the Cathedral choir, and whose rapid advancement to recognize merit displays a peculiarly comprehensive knowledge of and aptitude for the art she has assumed. Mr. T. H. Upperman, general agent of the National Electric Railway Signal company, just from Bozeman, Montana, where he has been for the electric signal at Bozeman tunnel. Mr. U. is an old resident of St. Paul, and since he has left our "little village," he has taken unto himself for "better or worse" one of the charming belles of Louisville, a lady who is noted throughout the northwest for the remarkable culture and quality of her voice. Mrs. Harvey Olfner last Friday afternoon gave a large and very elegant reception at her residence, St. Peter street. Invitations were issued to three hundred guests. Mrs. E. N. Saunders, Mrs. Myrie, from Fort Snelling, and Mrs. Judge Young, assisted Mrs. Olfner in receiving the guests. The flowers were in great profusion and the arrangement of them was very artistic, the doors all being festooned with the graceful smilax, which gave a bowler like appearance to the rooms, which, with the lovely costumes of the ladies, was very effective.

And after, best two in three sets, and Wall, a spirited and interesting contest L. P. Ordway was declared the winner. After the "single" championship was thus decided came the settlement of the "double" championship, and the preliminary sets were as follows: Case and Wall vs. Ordway and Howe, won by Case and Wall. Barrows and Smith vs. Hall and Lightner, won by Barrows and Smith. The final set was between Case and Wall vs. Barrows and Smith, won by Case and Wall. At the conclusion of the series Mr. Ordway presented two very handsome silver cups to the "double" champions, the trophy to be retained by Messrs. Case and Wall until they are beaten by another "double" champion. The sets of Saturday afternoon practically concluded the season of the St. Paul club, which has been a very interesting one. Another year it is expected to increase the interest by securing an inter-state tournament at St. Paul. The Autumn Poet. When'er the post writes a line, Whose final word is sober, The dulcist reader may divine He sings about October. O, wherefore will he never find A new rhyme for October? Why won't he call the early wind The sycamore's disrober? Why won't he call each squirrel gray The chestnut's nubile prober, When'er he sings his simple lay Of russet-shed October? He might call the fly dead, The bumble-bee's engender, When singing of the gold and red That gladdens October. Before I'd use that hackneyed rhyme, I'd sing about a crowbar, And just for once be unuseable, And call the month October. —R. K. M., in New York Sun. Licensed to Wed. The following persons took out certificates of marriage during the week: John Johnson and Christina Rount. Robert A. Agnew and Maggie E. Agnew. Peter Lindquist and Sophia Lindström. Sam Røder and Leo Phillips. James Lynch and Anna Lindström. John Carroll and Mary McCue. Paul Anderson and Cecilia Person. Martin Lampert and Lu Schmit. Aaron M. Ward and Theresa Frey. John F. B. Anderson and Emma W. Thnell. Fred A. E. Dunham and Anna M. Johnson. Louis Rosenkrantz and Mary Johnson. Robert D. Mies and Mary M. Neme. Martin Gilroy and Theresa Rush. John Meisel and Julia Hagen. George F. Scribner and Nelle H. McKinnon. Francis J. Johnson and Winnifred Conway. Edward McGraw and Mary Sullivan. Hans P. Madson and Annie M. Anderson. John Bunton and Nora Ryan. Peter L. Clarity and Teresa Fallon. Fred T. Back and Ada Bladgett. George A. Ekstrom and Christine E. Nelson. William Kuch and Lena Pomeroy. A. M. Holmgren and Johanna Pearson. Edward C. Grau and Clara Kuenka. Patrick J. O'Brien and Elizabeth Missong. J. Charles Brown and Josephine Reide. Acker Post's New Ball. Acker Post, No. 21, G. A. R. will on the evening of Friday next, formally open their beautiful new hall corner Exchange and Third streets with an entertainment to their comrades and families in St. Paul. A good time is in store for all. Speeches, songs, etc., by able parties appropriate to this event will be given. All members of the Post are earnestly requested to be at the regular meeting on Thursday night, 23d, to finally arrange for the occasion, and also those who are not going to be masters and wives. A large attendance is expected to see the camp fire. HO FOR HUDSON! The developments of yesterday insure a large turnout of the Democrats of St. Paul to attend the demonstration Monday evening at Hudson, Wis., to be addressed by Hon. Wm. F. Vilas, the Democratic convention which placed in nomination Grover Cleveland, of New York, and Thomas A. Hendricks, of Indiana, the next president and vice president of the United States. He is confessedly one of the most eloquent and forcible political orators of the present day. The First Regiment band and 200 torch bearers will accompany the St. Paul excursionists. At the Stillwater junction a large delegation from that city will join the St. Paulites. Wisconsin can be carried for Cleveland, Hendricks and reform, and the Monday evening demonstration at Hudson, if made the success it should be, will prove an important help. The special train over the Omaha road engaged for the St. Paul excursionists, will leave the Union depot at 6:30 p. m. and return about 12:30. The general rendezvous will be in front of the city hall, where the torches will be distributed, and from which point the march to the depot will be made. The torches will be distributed at 6 o'clock p. m. prompt. It is desirable that all intending to participate in the demonstration should secure their tickets before 12 m. Monday, so that the committee may have the necessary transportation provided. Capture of a Desperado. Fr. Worth, Tex., Oct. 18.—After years of watching and plotting, officers from New Mexico to-night succeeded in arresting J. J. Berger, known as Jim Courtwright, who is charged with killing several Mexicans two years ago near Silver City, N. M. Courtwright is well and popularly known here, having served as ranger detective and city marshal. He is regarded as one of the quickest men on the trigger in Texas. His arrest was effected by strategy. New Mexican rangers, under guise of friendly help, Courtwright to a room, and covered him with pistols before he was aware of their duplicity. A partner of Courtwright in killing the Mexicans, named McIntyre, was captured the same way to-night. The arrests were made under new Mexican warrants and a requisition from Gov. Ireland, of Texas. On the discovery of the arrest great excitement and indignation prevailed in the city. Fifteen hundred people assembled at the hotel where Courtwright was confined to prevent the officers from taking the night train. With great difficulty the people were prevented from rescuing Courtwright. The prisoner was carried to the county jail. A writ of habeas corpus was sworn out, and will be tried Monday. Gov. Ireland is severely censured for his action, having once promised a citizen's committee he never would sign a requisition warrant. A Cut by the New York Central. New York, Oct. 18.—The New York Central & Hudson River Railroad company announces, in order to afford its patrons as low rates as are offered by competing lines to the east, it will commence the sale on Monday at all the offices in the city of first and second-class tickets at reduced rates to all points west. The rates to Chicago being $16.50 for first-class and $14 for second-class. To Cincinnati $15 for first-class and $14 for second-class. To St. Louis $19 for first-class and $16.50 for second-class, with corresponding reductions to other points. The president has designated Gen. Sheridan to act as secretary of war during the absence of Secretary Lincoln.

THE RAILROADS.

The Locomotive of the Future. The Chicago Tribune gives a description of a new style of locomotive that is called the "New Coventry" locomotive, the superiority of which consists in a heavy draft, consumption of a smaller amount of fuel, and what is more important than all else, no cinders, fire or sparks are thrown out from the smoke stack. This locomotive is the invention of Mr. Charles B. Coventry. After giving a technical description of the construction of the locomotive the Tribune says: "Thus nothing but a light, white smoke passes through the smoke stack in the rear and no cinders, sparks or fire are thrown out. The locomotive was tried in freight services of the Chicago & Northwestern for three weeks, and has given the greatest satisfaction. During the past two weeks it has been on trial on the suburban trains of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific. A representative of the Tribune made a trip to Blue Island and return of the new engine having been made, a personal examination of its merits. The poorest quality of bituminous coal was used, and yet at no time, although at one point it ran fifty miles an hour, did any black smoke come out of the stack. Not a particle of cinders and dust was thrown out. The smoke that was emitted was so light that it was almost invisible escaping steam. There was no bad odor from escaping gas, as is the case on ordinary engines. Mr. Coventry explained that the gases on ordinary engines are usually thrown out of the stack, which is the cause of the density of smoke. On his engine the gases are all burned and this is what caused the saving in fuel. The engineer in charge said that he liked the new locomotive much better than the ordinary ones; she was a free stammer and easily handled, and that there being no cinders or dust thrown out himself and fireman felt much more comfortable. Conductor Pierce also stated that while the smoke is not entirely consumed yet no dense, black smoke was ever emitted since the engine commenced to run on his train, and he did not find it necessary to close windows and doors to keep out cinders and dust, none being thrown out of the stack. Next Sunday the engine will be placed in heavy passenger service on the main line of the Rock Island, where scientific tests will be run, fuel used and water evaporated will be noted. If she does as well in the heavy passenger service as she has done in the freight and suburban service the new locomotive is destined to become the locomotive of the future. The Rate War in the East. NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—At the office of the West Shore road tickets to Chicago sold at $15, to Buffalo at $4.65. The New York Central and Pennsylvania roads were asking $20; the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western and Erie $18.50 for tickets to Chicago sold over the counter. In the offices of scalpers tickets could be bought over any of the above lines, except the Pennsylvania at West Shore prices. In the office of the New York Central tickets to Buffalo sold at $4.65. There is apparently a lull for a moment in which to try and effect a permanent truce, and ticket agents are all awaiting orders, which may come any moment; either to restore rates to the schedule prices, or resume cutting. While the general passenger agents of the different trunk lines are studiously maintaining their own rates, the fact remains that at any broker's office in the city tickets can be purchased at the prices above, and this fact carries its own inference with it. Another Break in Rates. CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—A telegram is received from Toledo announcing an open break in passenger rates from that city to Missouri river points, and declaring that it had been provoked by the sale of thousand mile tickets to Chicago, Burlington & Quincy. Mr. Lowell, general passenger agent of the Burlington, announces that no tickets of his issue of any description have been placed on the market. Regarding the rate of $11 from Kansas City to Chicago, Mr. Lowell states, the Burlington openly declared this figure to meet that announced by the brokers handling tickets of other roads. The B. & O. Lease Annulled. CLEVELAND, Oct. 18.—United States Circuit Judge Baxter to-day sustained the demurrer of the defendants in the suit of Jas. McHenry and the New York, Lake Erie & Western and the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio Railway companies to annul the lease of the latter to the former company. The original and amended bill of the complainant are dismissed, because the complainant before filing the same, did not make proper demand from the New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio Railway company, as provided in the ninety-fourth rule of equity as prescribed by the United States supreme court. Bondholders' Meeting. BOSTON, Oct. 18.—At a meeting of the bondholders of the southeastern division of the Toledo, Cincinnati & St. Louis railroad, to-day, a committee was appointed to confer with the trustees relative to the adoption of amendments to the general plan of reorganization, which will include the holders of all junior securities, after which the meeting adjourned to Friday next. The Wabash. ST. LOUIS, Oct. 18.—The Wabash receivers filed a petition in the United States court to-day, asking leave to pay $112,000, balance due on rolling stock purchased in 1879, all installments having been paid up to July 1. A chattel mortgage secures the payment and unless the court orders the receivers to pay the contracts, will probably levy on the equipment furnished under said contract. Rail Notes. The Northern Pacific road yesterday delivered forty-six cars of cattle at the Minnesota transfer. The Oakes party mentioned in the last issue of the Globe were yesterday doing the Dakota division of the Northern Pacific railroad. The steamer Marquette left St. Vincent Friday night for Winnipeg with 1,181 tons of freight. This is equivalent to 100 car loads of freight. Geo. M. Farnham, traveling passenger agent of the New York, Lake Erie & Western road, who has been in St. Paul for several days left yesterday for the north. LATIMER ARRESTED. The Way of the Traveling Man is Hard if He Forgets His Little Hatchet. WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 18.—F. C. Bangs, agent for Perkins, Lyons & Co., liquor dealers of St. Paul, Minn., was arrested here to-day on the charge of embezzling $1,500 from his employers. He was placed in jail to await a requisition from Minnesota. About six weeks ago W. C. Latimer, a traveling agent for Perkins, Lyons & Co., wholesale liquor dealers of this city, suddenly vanished for parts unknown, leaving a shortage in his accounts of $1,600. Young Latimer had been a trusted employee of the firm, and for some time he was entrusted with certain of the collections, the wonder being that he did not appropriate or embezzle more than the sum named. He was considered a good business man, possessing a fine address, and it is intimated that he essayed the role of the masquerade man, one story being to the effect that at the time of his disappearance he had two wives. Last night a telegram was received from a correspondent at Pittsburg, Pa., intimating that Latimer was stopping with friends in Williamsport, Pa., having reached there about two weeks ago. The information was conveyed to Chief Clerk who detained Detective John O'Connor to look up the case. After obtaining requisition papers from Gov. Hubbard, the officer started east last Wednesday, arriving at his destination on Friday night. Yesterday evening Chief Clark received a telegram from O'Connor dated at Williamsport, and saying that he had captured his man who was sailing under the nom de plume of Bangs. The officer was to leave with his prisoner last night and the train are expected to arrive in St. Paul to-morrow evening. YELLOW STONE PARK. Letter No. 2 From a St. Paul Tourist, —The Canyon, Lakes and Geysers Basin. [Special Correspondence of the Globe.] ST. PAUL, Oct. 18, 1884.—Leaving the mammoth Hot Springs hotel for the park tourists as a rule go by way of the Norris Geysers basin, which is altogether wrong for various reasons. They ought to go up the Gardner river set its picturesque falls, stop at Yancey's ranche after a twenty miles ride. There they will find themselves surrounded by ever-changing scenery. It is "Terra Incognita" a broken, hilly country, like all basaltic formations, interspersed with clusters of leaf trees and evergreens, pines, fir trees and cedars with rich meadows between. This is really the only district inside the park which deserves the name of a park. All through the park we have not many grand and beautiful landscapes, except on the lake, we have far stretched thickets of pines for day's rides which even become monotonous and dreary when we ride through millions of acres of dead timber either burnt or destroyed by wind falls, while to go by way of the trail to Yancey's would be the best introduction to the great features of the park, canyon, lake, falls and upper geysers basin. As yet only horseback riders can go this way. One hour's ride, forty miles leads us from the sunny valleys with its wonderful autumn tints of the foliage to the snow-covered forests of Mount Washburn, and with the sun shining in full glory formed a picturesque contrast. Following the common traveled road to Norris Geysers basin we pass a mountain of obsidian, a volcanic formation of natural black glass some three hundred feet high and 1,000 long, shining in the sun, over the debris of which the roadway leads. The large blocks here could not be removed in any other way than by heating them by big fires and exploding them afterwards by putting on a stream of cold water, and now make one of the most perfect street building materials in the world. Of this substance the old Romans made their looking-glasses found in the mountains of Pompeii, but this art is lost. We pass through an Alpine valley with Electric peak and Mount Schurz over 1,100 feet above the sea level in full sight, but they do not appear so very high because of the plateau of the park being itself over 7,000 feet high. The Norris Geysers basin reminds much of Dante's hell. We climb down from the station to some large depression of some hundred acres size filled with geyseric. All around the edges of these depressions we see numbers of boiling hot springs forming large pools of exquisite colors like the summer alpine pool. The middle of these depressions consist altogether of such basins, in which everywhere are small geysers either in perpetual action or become temporarily so. One of them is called the Minute Man because every minute a big stream of boiling water raises about twenty feet and then sinks back into the pool. The whole county smells like sulphur. Some waters taste as sour as vinegar. Some geysers throw up finely ground mud of a snow white, red, blue and green color forming the so called paint pots, some of these are of such a size and of such delicate hue that we regret that we cannot have them in St. Paul, especially on St. Anthony hill, to give the houses there a uniform, harmonious, tasteful color. Some geysers blow off at times only a big stream of boiling water, so that all kinds of hissing and chattering noises are heard. The basins extend for miles in different directions, and we see everywhere clouds of steam rising. We see also occasionally some larger geysers sprout like the monarch, which rises to the height of 150 feet and then sinks back into the volcano. At this station there was ice forming every night of our stay in the middle of July, but being enabled to take a morning bath in the warm springs near by, as we can anywhere in the park, and for the delightful day temperature, we do not mind the heat of the night. These hot springs are put to many other purposes, especially by those campers who come in the hundreds, many of them farmers, who after being through with their crops spend some weeks here in the park to see the sights and wonders. They raise their bread near the geysers, where the ground is always warm, and especially where natural carbonic acid gas escapes; other hot springs with nearly pure water are used for boiling ham and puddings, while many times we boiled fishes on the hook, yet which were caught in the creeks near by. Queen's laundry, like many other springs, render our washings snow white in a wonderful short time without the aid of labor or soap. DR. DEDOPPE. Vanderbilt's Generosity. NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—At a meeting of the trustees of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, this evening, the announcement was officially made that Wm. U. Vanderbilt had given to that institution $500,000 as a building fund. A site including twenty-nine city lots at Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth streets and Tenth avenue has been purchased, and it is understood building operations will be begun at an early day. A Deputy Sheriff Killed. CALDWELL, Ky., Oct. 18.—C. M. Hallister, deputy sheriff of this county and deputy United States marshal, was shot and instantly killed about daylight this morning, near Hunnewell, by Bob Cross, a noted desperado, while attempting to arrest him. A large party are in pursuit of Cross, and if caught he will be lynched. Mrs. Smith's Case, and what the Rev. Mr. McKinstry has to say about it. TO THE PUBLIC: I have been a fearful sufferer for fifteen years, most of the time with what has been called Eczema or Salt Rheum, Psoriasis and Lepra, and the like, and have always been told there was no cure for me, and have been so discouraged that I had as soon die as live. I have been so badly afflicted sometimes that there was not the smallest spot from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet that was not diseased and as red as crimson. It would commence in small spots, which would increase in size, and were not deep, but if I attempted to scratch them, or soon after their first appearance, they would burn and run together until there was a complete dry, red scale, which would become so inflamed as to crack and look fiery and angry, and the burning sensation would be almost intolerable. I was at times so lame that I could scarcely get about, and could not dress myself without assistance. I have tried many remedies, and have paid $100 in a single instance to a physician, but have ever obtained only temporary relief. Although helped for a time, I soon relapsed again to be as badly troubled as ever, and during the winter of 1881 and 1882 I suffered so much as to be entirely discouraged. Last June, however, I was asked by Elder and Mrs. C. McKinstry, who are well known in these regions, to try your CUTICURA REMEDIES; and I felt somehow a little courage, from their favorable opinion of them, to try their virtue. About the second week of July last I commenced taking the remedies, and within six weeks I began to see a permanent improvement, and now (Oct. 11) I am about as good as new, and my death is as the proverbial "chick in the pot." MRS. BENJ. SMITH. I certify that the above statement of my wife is correct, and I join with her in expressing my gratitude for the great benefit she has received. B. SMITH. I certify that the above statement is correct. Mrs. Smith is a pious and estimable woman, who is a well-known member of the church, and her statement, with that of her wife, is fully established by credit. Done at Stanstead, Province of Quebec, this twenty-seventh day of October, 1882. L. C. MCKINSTRY, Minister of the Gospel. I have seen Mrs. Smith recently and believe her to be thoroughly and permanently cured. L. C. MCKINSTRY, Sec'y Advent Ch. Conf., P. Q., No. VI. and No. Boston, Sept. 9, 1884. CUTICURA RESOLVENT, the new blood purifier, CUTICURA SOAP, the great skin cure and beautifier, are sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 50c.; SOAP, 25c.; RESOLVENT, $1.00. Fetter Drug and Chemical Co., Boston.
