

THE SECOND DAY

Of the Porter Murder Trial—The Prisoner in the Witness Box for Several Hours.

The Plea of the Defense Insanity Caused by Childhood Wounds and Intoxication.

The hearing in the case of Lloyd Porter for the shooting of John Thomas Neary was resumed before Judge Brill in the district court at half past nine o'clock yesterday morning...

The court room was crowded all day by citizens and members of the bar who evidently took deep interest in the proceedings.

Patrick Neary, father of the deceased, said his family consisted of four boys and two girls whose names he named; he was a plasterer by trade and his deceased son was a cooper...

Cross-examined—The people I met in Chicago were James Campbell and others; I met a man named Daniel Hale; he was a lawyer...

Cross-examined—When he put his hand on Porter's shoulder the first time he saw no watch, and at this time prisoner made no resistance, appearing to be in a dazed condition...

At this point the state rested, and Mr. Brill opening the case made a masterly talk to the jury, in which he ably defined homicide under its different heads...

Lloyd Porter said he was twenty-eight or twenty-nine years of age, a married man, three years and his home was in Clinton, Ia.; had been drinking at Clinton before he left for Chicago...

Cross-examined—Knew him at Davenport; saw him here a year ago; he is a harness maker; have seen him working at his trade...

At the opening of the afternoon session the testimony of Lloyd Porter, who was on the witness stand when the noon recess was taken, was resumed.

been subject to fits; these fits have occurred frequently ever since I can remember; I have had spells of melancholy; I left O'Donnell on the evening of April 1; I was looking for the man I had had the trouble with; I thought he was going to harm me; he followed me from place to place; I found him where I left him; we drank together; and others drank; we shook dice and talked of playing pool; he wanted me to play; I told him I was not a player; man being in bar proposed to play with him; something said about a watch; the man I had difficulty with asked me for the watch; we then played pool; something was said about the watch in connection with the game; the barkeeper claimed the watch; he said he offered me another watch; I refused to take it; there was some dispute about it; I said I would rather give him the watch than have any trouble about it; after I gave him the watch I went away; I was talking with this man again; he said he had a watch; the man said I was talking a fool; while I was talking a man came running up to me and made threats; the bartender started after me at the same time; I told him to get away from me or I would kill him; I didn't know the man; I drew my revolver and left the place on the run; went to some other saloon; a man gave me my watch back there; don't know the circumstances; I think he tried to put it on my neck; I took it off; I didn't want any more trouble about it; I thought there might be difficulty about it; I thought I would take the watch back and give it to the bar tender; I went in with that intention; I went in and offered him the watch; I put it on the bar; the bar tender used an oath and took out a revolver and shook it in my face; he swore at me, and some one took hold of me and we began fighting; tried to defend myself; after that I remember nothing until I was in jail, where a doctor sewed up my wounds; I was safe in jail; I heard of the shooting by having an account of the trouble read to me; I then first heard that I had hurt some one; I didn't sleep two or three days; I felt better after sleeping; don't remember whether I ate or not; I don't know if I felt rational and safe; at night I was in fear; people talked to me in the night and said they would kill me; I do not remember to have fired a revolver in a saloon; I never saw John T. Neary; I don't know if I was ever in a saloon; I was in a saloon in Chicago; I don't know if I was in a saloon in Chicago; I don't know if I was in a saloon in Chicago...

RATHER A LIGHT DAY.

Bessie, the Damsel Who was "Young in Years but Old in Sin."

Was Sent to a Place Where She Won't be Able to Walk the Streets.

The bloom of the eighteen summers plays hide and seek in the face of Bessie Schuster and it was said to think that vice had already set its seal on the painfully contracted lines of her features. Poor Bessie, where was your beauty; where now are his honeyed words and sweet promises which mock you now in the hour of downfall and disgrace as much as the gay plume which nods in your jaunty hat.

"You have saw dust on your blouse, bummer mine," said the ballist as Wm. Stafford was waltzed into the ball pen. William had been out with the gang and he had frescoed the landscape a beautiful carmine, and then gone to sleep on a lumber pile. He was charged also with being a vag, but as the latter count was not proved he was released.

John Williamson's case was called, but John didn't appear, and his $15 bail was confiscated. The case would have been interesting had it come up, showing how easy it is for a man to get into trouble. He was called upon to be a lady secure her trunk from her room, at Eighth and Broadway, and this led to a controversy with one of the inmates of the house, in the course of which a copper came and yanked John to the cooler.

John Rooney, the driver of the hon-doo wagon, or black maria, was charged on complaint of Sup't. Littell, of the City Railway company, with raising a row on a street car. The trouble originated over the demand of the driver for Rooney's fare, and quite a lively reaction took place. Rooney was accused, and the hearing was put off to the 28th inst.

The case of E. Lytle, charged with assaulting T. M. Roberts, occupied a considerable portion of the session, but as witnesses were sworn to by the state, the case was dismissed on payment of costs.

A Vacuum's Story. What strange things a frosty morning may bring forth. Yesterday morning there walked into the Globe counting room a couple of vacuities; it may seem strange but the fact that a vacuum can walk, breathe and have its being can be demonstrated by the fighting editor of this paper at any time or place designated by a doubter. M. Q. rules governing. One of the vacuums said he had an item and his blue overall nibs were requested to fire away with the snap. They had been working in the woods near Prescott and night before last they came to the depot to catch the evening train. While waiting for the car they saw a man and a woman; they went to a farm house and asked the bucolic Maud Muller who came to the door for pie; it had been a cold day for pie, and as the cake was out they asked for coffee. She ordered them to leave when they insisted on having a cup of tea. They were a story from the beautiful song "Empty is the spot, etc." they were again told to get, when they offered to pay for something to eat. To get rid of them then the lady gave them a half slice of bread and butter and just as they were about to leave they saw a man running for their life if they wanted to catch the train. They got here from the woods yesterday, and after narrating the cruel ordeal practiced upon them by the farmer's wife, they asked to have her shown up for not giving them a better meal. There is a species of cheek, green, so colossal, so petrified, so monumental and sublime that words fail to grasp its measurless and limitless meaning, and the kind of which the peasant and long suffering peasant wife of the newspaper reporter is like the velvet bloom on a baby's cheek, or the soft zephyr of an Andalusian summer. This is but an instance of the funny things that creep into the corners of a newspaper man's mind, and make his life a barren waste and desert of despair.

Heavy School Land Sales. State Auditor Braden returned from holding school land sales in the southern tier of counties yesterday. These sales were very large, being held in Watwan, Cottonwood, Murray, Pipestone, Nobles, Rock, Jackson and Martin counties, the total amount of acres thus disposed of being 55,000. Of these 25,000 acres were sold in Jackson and 14,000 acres in Martin counties. The great Cross Bros. alone purchased 9,000 acres. Fredericks and Henderson were the next largest buyers. These sales show that Jackson and Morton counties are in the boom as well as the other counties in that section of the state. The annual state fair, a considerable new agricultural industry of growing fax in that region is creating a call for new land to put under cultivation. The amount which the state will realize this year from the sale of its school lands will be about $600,000, and the recent sales brought all the way from $6 to $10 per acre.

The gross earnings of the Illinois Central Railroad company for the second week in October were as follows: Illinois & Southern division, $250,875; Iowa division, $43,284; whole line, $294,159.

The following scheme mentioned by the Hamlin Co., D. T. Times will certainly be popular with the participants: "An eastern branch of the railroads which are building into Watertown, will be completed about the 25th of the present month, and the 1st of November, or thereabouts, the St. Paul Jobbers' Union propose to give the people along the line of the new road a free excursion and propose to entertain with great festivity royal staffs arriving in their city."

President George B. Roberts, of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, accompanied by Vice Presidents Edmund Smith and J. N. McCullough, six of the directors of the company, the various general officers of the Pennsylvania lines, and about twenty stockholders, arrived in Chicago Wednesday morning, and put up at the Grand Pacific hotel. They are on their annual trip of inspection. The entire party left for St. Louis by the Alton, from which point they will return east by the Vandalla line.

The Northern Pacific road yesterday received a circular from the Pacific Mail Steamship company, conveying the information that that company had withdrawn from the passenger and freight traffic between the ports of San Francisco and Honolulu, and that all orders for such service should be drawn on the Oceanic Steamship company at San Francisco. Orders for all other ports named on the "Australian Line Tariffs" in Australia, New Zealand, etc., are to be drawn on the agents of the Pacific Mail Steamship company.

River News. The river shows five feet three inches. The Libbie Conger, of the Diamond Jo line, will leave at 10 a. m. to-morrow.

A Good Display. Ed. E. Harry, of Maudan, Morton county, is in St. Paul on his way home from the Chicago exposition, where he has been representing an exhibit of products from west of the Missouri river in North Dakota, on the line of the Northern Pacific railway. The counties of Morton, Stark and Mercer united with the counties of Kidder, Wells and Foster, east of the Missouri river and together made an exhibit for which they were awarded a gold medal, the only one awarded by the exposition for agricultural exhibits.

Wholly Accidental. The Globe contained, a few days ago, the particulars of a terrible boiler explosion at Beltrami by which five persons were killed instantly and others were injured so severely that they were not expected to live. An inquest was held over the remains of those who were killed, and found that the cause of the explosion was believed to be accidental and to the jury unknown, and the jury say, "We, the jurors, attach no blame to the owners or agents of the engine or boiler."

Snow at Fergus Falls. [Special Telegram to the Globe.] FERGUS FALLS, Minn., Oct. 23.—Snow fell here to-night so that the ground was covered. The wind has been cold and raw all day, but at 9 p. m. it is somewhat milder.

The Case Against the Allegheny. PITTSBURGH, Oct. 23.—In the United States circuit court, John Armstrong, examiner and master in the equity case of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, Northern Central railroad, and the Philadelphia & Reading company against the Allegheny Valley Railroad company, Townsend, Whelan & Co., of Philadelphia and others, trustees, submitted a lengthy report, in which they find that the bonds of the Allegheny Valley railroad, secured by mortgages, are to Townsend, Whelan & Co., Deposit company, $9,700,000. That the road has been defaulted in the payment of its interest on bonds; that should a consequence the Pennsylvania Railroad company compelled under its contract to purchase the same, and holds the coupons for such interest with all rights and privileges of the original holders; that the defendant company never has been able to contribute out of its income any money toward the payment of the interest on the income bonds; therefore recommends the same property, franchises, rights, interests and credits of the Allegheny Valley railroad be made by the receivers at the court house in Westmoreland county upon a day fixed by the court. Its report sustained the terms of sale; $25,000 of the remainder of the purchase money on confirmation sale by the court. The master also finds that the debt of the road exceeds the assets $4,000,000.

The U. P. Scoops in the Oregon Railway and Navigation Co. NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Kiernan's News Agency is authority for the following: A conference was held between Messrs. Young, Gould, Adams and Smith, president of the Oregon Transcontinental company, whereby the loan called by the Oregon Transcontinental last week was taken up and the securities of the Oregon Railway and Navigation passed into the hands of the Gould party. It is said the Union Pacific people have thus secured a majority of the interests in the Oregon Railway and Navigation company.

Another Report. NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—In regard to the report that the Union Pacific has obtained contract of the Oregon Navigation and Railway company, it can be stated that the people identified with the Union Pacific have a large interest in the Oregon Navigation and can, with little effort, obtain control of the property. The Oregon Transcontinental company has a loan due. It is proposed to give notes with the Oregon Navigation and Missouri Pacific, and the latter of the offer has not been accepted nor refused as yet.

More of the Baltimore & Ohio. BALTIMORE, Oct. 23.—The transportation committee of the Baltimore Merchants and Manufacturer's Association to-day made their report to the association on the result of the efforts being made to bring to a settlement of the controversy between the Pennsylvania company and the Baltimore & Ohio railway. The report states the committee first waited on the authorities of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company, who took the ground that a discontinuance of the facilities which had been granted them by the Pennsylvania road would prove detrimental to the commercial interests of the Baltimore, the committee then telegraphed President Roberts, of the Pennsylvania railroad, asking in behalf of the Merchants and Manufacturer's association, and the friends of both corporations, and as persons having large commercial interests in the Baltimore, if there was not an amicable way of adjusting the difficulty, such as will continue the former facilities for travel. At the conference with President Roberts and several members of the board of directors of the Pennsylvania railroad they expressed an earnest desire to satisfy the merchants and manufacturers of Baltimore, and said nothing should be left undone on the part to give facilities to all the passenger and freight facilities needed.

The B. & O. Makes Another Cut. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.—To-day the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company took another step in the war with the Pennsylvania, by a cut in western through passenger rates. At all its offices here tickets are being sold from this city to the west, by way of New York, at figures considerably lower than those of rival lines. The rate on this cut is $17.50 to Chicago or seventy-five cents less than the Pennsylvania through tickets, and $21.50 to St. Louis or $12.55 less.

The Ticket Brokers Take a Hand. NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The ticket brokers took a hand in the rate war this morning, announcing that he would sell tickets to Chicago at $13, another at $14, first class. The probability is tickets west will be sold at $12 before the end of the week.

The municipal court yesterday had not a single case before it. The lake has not lowered any for the past forty-eight hours and the water is at a stand.

The little steamer Annie Barnes arrived yesterday afternoon with a couple of barges from Prescott. H. P. Hall, manager of the St. Paul DAILY GLOBE, was in the city yesterday. He was in his usual hurry.

The grand jury of Washington county is summoned to attend district court on November 11, and the petit jury on the 17th. The steamer B. G. Knapp came down yesterday afternoon with a full tow of barges from Marine for St. Paul. She had lumber, slabs and cordwood.

The steamer Penn Wright arrived last evening from Muscatine, and leaves at once with a raft of logs for the Lyons Lumber company, Lyons, Ia.

The bridge was used yesterday by teams crossing and only the falling and a few minor portions of the work requires to be done. The job is well executed by Mr. Miller and his men.

Great preparations are being made for the Republican rally here on the 29th. They are to have one at Hudson on the 25th, and an excursion will leave here on Saturday evening to attend it.

Mr. Harrison, of the water works, and his men, have made a good job of the removal of the hydrants on Main street to the positions ordered. There will be no danger of driving over them now.

The Schulenburg Beekler Lumber company started their oxen a second time for Stillwater on the Northern Wisconsin railway, and it is hoped they will this time ship and stow them better in the car.

The members of the Republican convention from the Second and Third wards will meet again on Saturday at 2 p. m., as Mr. E. L. Hospes has declined the nomination for the legislature. There will be no lack of candidates.

Those who said that the St. Croix flouring mill would not start up this fall, are active knowledge that they were mistaken, as yesterday afternoon the mill began running. Wheat and barrels arrived by train and both have been used. The mill will run day and night.

The skating rink has been getting in some monster stoves, and they are well suited for the purpose. A stove has been placed in each of the dressing rooms and two six footers in the rink proper. They will give a large amount of heat, and the patrons of the rink will find out that the management intend to keep the rink at a fair temperature.

On Saturday evening there will be a grand vocal and instrumental concert in the Swedish Lutheran church, to which every one is invited. The people of this church have done well and have a large and prosperous congregation. They all work, and no doubt the church will be well filled on Saturday evening.

The box office opens at the Grand Opera house on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock for the "Bunch of Keys" company which appears here on Monday evening. The troupe is first class in every particular, and as the play is a most amusing one, no doubt there will be a full house. If you want to have a good laugh go and have one when "The Bunch of Keys" is here.

The funeral of Officer Dan McCarthy takes place at 10 o'clock this morning. The following are the pall bearers selected for the purpose: Officers McKusick, Barlow, Yorks, Shattuck, Casello, and Reddon. Chief Shortall and Officers Erickson, Walters and Evans will follow the hearse in a carriage. The city council and mayor and the other city officials will attend the funeral in a body. These will all assemble at the city hall at 9:30, and march to the late residence of the deceased. The funeral will be held at St. Michaels church. Yesterday a number of officers were sent to the house of a star with a wreath around, all composed of natural flowers. The funeral will be a large one.

Yesterday afternoon there was a full meeting of Ascension Church society, at the residence of Mrs. Hayden, on Linden street. And as we all know that where a lot of good looking, well dressed and healthy ladies meet, of course they will talk over the affairs of the nation, and among other things they will talk over the various topics which were brought up, when it was found that the ladies were nearly all sound for Cleveland, and they gave their reasons, too. The ladies are as well posted in these matters as the gentlemen, and are as well equipped to cast their ballots for a candidate.

The candidates for the several political offices are hard at work, with the exception of the Hon. E. W. Durant. If the people of Stillwater think that he can serve their interests best, let them do their utmost to elect him; but if they think that Chas. Peterson will do it better, then elect him. Mr. James G. Foley, candidate for county auditor, is doing a good deal of quiet canvassing, and having in the past faithfully discharged the duties of the office, he stands with clean hands for re-election. He will poll a large country vote and will do well also in the city. He has this advantage over Mr. Massey, in that he is personally acquainted with almost all the voters. Messrs. Shepherd and Folsom are making a big fight for the treasury, with odds about even. Judge Lehmicke has a walk over, and is the candidate of both parties. A. K. Doe, candidate for county commissioner, has begun work by sending his way in laying a new walk around his property on Third and Linden streets. He has even had the boards planned. We can hardly say who is his opponent. George M. Brush is at work and meeting with good success. We hear nothing from Mr. Hospes or what he is doing. It will be a hot election, but it will not be a long one.

Dr. Carroll on the Ministry. At the meeting of the Presbytery of St. Paul held last evening in Advent church, Minneapolis, to ordain several young men to the gospel ministry, the Rev. Dr. Carroll, of this city, delivered the charge to the candidates, charging them to make full proof of their ministry; to preach the word—the word only, not men's notions or fancies, not superstitions, not sciences, not art, nor literature, and emphasize the point—not securities or partisan politics, because they mock the wants of the soul, degrade the church, chaining her with bowed head to Caesar's chariot wheels, desecrate the holy day and desk, sow the wind that reaps the whirlwind, kindles the fire that burns out Christian charity, presses the wedge that drives through and disrupts whole denominations of Christian, and uses the sword that rends in twain its own people. He exhorts and hails the perfect body of Christ. The doctor closed his most eloquent and solemn charge by exhorting them to be ministers of one Book, and one theme, to preach "The Word, the Logos, Christ."

The O'Brien Suits. James S. O'Brien publishes a card in last night's Gazette effectually exploding the attempted sensation of the Messenger and St. Paul Dispatch, relative to his suit against Comptroller Cannon. He says he has begun no suit against Mr. Cannon, personally. The facts are these: When the Lumberman Printing company was conducted by E. D. Taylor, the Car company paid him $2,300 in advance for job printing. A new company, of which Mr. O'Brien was a prominent member, bought the printing office and did the work, but when the new company called for their pay, the Car company showed that they had advanced the amount to Taylor. Mr. O'Brien is contemplating bringing suit against the old stockholders of the paper, of whom Mr. Cannon was one, to see whether they produced the money, or whether the $2,300 or whether the Car company will be obliged to pay it over again. It was a very weak and silly sensation and which the Dispatch endeavored to palm off but is on a par with most of its alleged "news."
