

THE COON RALLY.

Hung When the Heavens in Black When the Oil Inspector Tapped a Fresh Barrel.

The Man and Brother, Twenty-five of Him, Processed and Straggled, Dripping and Plunged Whopping 'er up for Blaine and Logan.

The colored Republican rally advertised transpired last evening and afforded the world the greatest more chance before the public. It was inaugurated by a torchlight procession and terminated with speeches from local talent at the club room corner of Jackson and Sixth streets.

Shortly after dark the man and brother began to assemble and each grasped the torch that was already trimmed and burning, but as the committee was more enthusiastic than the coon rank and file there were about three torches to one coon and they were vainly to supply the deficiency with whites.

Arrived at the hall the business of the evening began by the escape of one of the chief animals, who was led out of the cage by Frederick D. Parker (coon), president of the club. Before he opened the door of the cage he made an apology for the Republican nominee for congress, whose lungs were weak, he said, and whom he regretted was absent, but who might possibly arrive yet.

The tariff next received his attention, which, he said, enabled the American laborer to purchase more food and clothing for $1 than he could in any foreign country. He did not state that the usurious policy of the Republican party had so crippled manufacturing enterprises that the American laborer was forced to remain idle so large a share of his time could not begin to give the value of his services.

Major John Espy followed, saying that he regarded the great decisive battle as having been fought, and also that the coons that they would have to have the Republican party. He then went into the congressional matter, and as he desired what he said kept quiet, his wishes were respected.

Col. J. H. Davidson was then called out and threw himself into the bloody shirt just as soon as he got his feet over the top of the platform of the campaign he blamed Cleveland first for keeping his mouth closed and then for talking. Eulogizing Blaine he quoted him as the friend of each successive president from Lincoln down, except Hayes whom he entirely ignored.

Margaret Mather. The engagement of this gifted young actress commences at the Grand Opera house to-morrow evening, on which occasion Miss Mather will present "Romeo and Juliet," appearing in the title role, her favorite character.

Madame Kytegger won the highest encomiums of recognition and applause as a pianist at a concert in Sherman hall last evening by the power and purity of touch with which she rendered a fantasia by Chopin, and the expression and mastery displayed by her in "Capriccio" by Mendelssohn.

A Runaway Horse Shot.

While J. R. Boxwell left his horse unhitched to go into a store near the Seven corners at about 8 o'clock last evening the animal became frightened and ran with the buggy to which he was attached, and ran as far as the rear of the Church of the Assumption on Exchange street, where he fell, breaking a fore leg on the two places. He was immediately shot by Officer Schaffer and put out of misery.

OLD WORLD NEWS.

THE UNITED KINGDOM.

CHICAGO.

[Special Telegram to the Globe.] Chicago, Oct. 28.—The dull monotony on 'change was relieved by a little boom in wheat. It wasn't much of a boom, to be sure, but there was increased activity and higher prices and even those on the wrong side voted it better than nothing.

There was very little confidence shown, said A. M. Wright. "Should the weather continue cool and clear any material improvement seems unlikely, as every day like the present adds to the demand for wheat, and the condition for market. Large deliveries to-day on October contracts also indicate that the bulls have lost faith in a material advance in November."

Though the range of fluctuations was narrow oats were fairly active, there being quite a good demand from investors. The visible supply showed a decrease of 259,375 bushels, and there were reports circulated of a poor yield in Kansas and Nebraska. W. G. Press was a large buyer and is a believer in high prices. October oats advanced 1/4 cent yesterday's close to 25 1/4 and May oats 1/4 to 25 1/4.

Provisions generally were a shade stronger, year pork showing an advance of 2 1/2 cents, November 5c, October ribs 5c. The October option of lard remained unchanged, and November option of lard advanced 1 cent to 25 1/2. The closing quotations of the afternoon board were November wheat 75 1/4, November corn 42 1/4, year oats 29 1/4, year pork 111 1/4, November lard 26 1/2, October ribs 29 1/4.

What was tame enough early in the session, but about 7:30 the state of affairs changed markedly. The market became active and the price of wheat rose to 75 1/4. The arrival of wheat off coast were small, and of corn none. Our receipts (for two days) were proportionately the same of winter, but less of spring. Reports from New York said that French dealers at Marseilles were largely buying our wheat flour.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 28.—The New York market was 1/4 higher on wheat, and 1/2 higher on corn. The arrivals of wheat off coast were small, and of corn none. Our receipts (for two days) were proportionately the same of winter, but less of spring. Reports from New York said that French dealers at Marseilles were largely buying our wheat flour.

MILWAUKEE. [Special Telegram to the Globe.] Milwaukee, Wis., 28.—Wheat is higher to-day but without change in the situation. Cable telegrams report weak markets in England and our receipts continue liberal. There is nothing to make higher prices, but the Chicago bulls are making a strong effort to get the market up.

NEW YORK. [Special Telegram to the Globe.] New York, Oct. 28.—The stock market is emphatically without other feature than its extreme dullness. Trading is limited to occasional parcels of sales between brokers in the Exchange room for small profits. The rumor of a deflation on the street are unimportant, and have little or no effect on prices, and the fluctuations of a day are in most cases kept within a range of a percent.

S. H. Wood & Co. S. H. Wood & Co., in their letter to-night, say: The grain markets to-day have been higher, and we believe the May options of oats and corn will be for a time, at least, held in reserve for an immediate advance. We still have some puts on Lake Shore, Northern Pacific, Northwestern and St. Paul, which we believe will pay the investor well.

Shot Their Partner. DENVER, Oct. 28.—A Tucson Republican special from Good Hope, N. M., a mining camp says: The Hiale well and favorable conditions were shot dead by a miner this afternoon. At the recent morning examination it is said Hickman's partner Frank Beck and Tom Welch determined to murder Beck, another miner, for $500 which they knew he possessed. They insisted upon Hickman joining them, and he did so, and they shot him and fired. Excitement among the miners runs high. Large numbers are in hot pursuit and lynching is inevitable if they are caught.

Hon. J. W. Axtell, of Granite Falls. [Special Correspondence of the Globe.] Office of City Marshal, GRANITE FALLS, Oct. 25. On Oct. 21st, in the afternoon, while J. W. Axtell was making his way from the court house to the hotel, he became very dry, and on looking across the street discovered that he was just opposite Fred Remewant's saloon, and in a minute later he was inside of the place. He was taken back by seeing Cleveland and Hendricks photos placed behind the bar. He immediately fled, and hid behind the bar and talking possession of the pictures, but was forbidden by Mr. Fritz. A minute later while Fritz was attending to some business in the rear of the saloon, J. W. Axtell went behind the counter took the pictures and tore them up. He was informed by Harry Stone that he, Stone, had two like them in his office, and if he would come down and serve them likewise he would break a chair on his noble head.

A Big Thing for the Grand Old Party. To the Editor of the Globe: MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 26.—A Republican rally was held at Shafter's hall on last Friday evening, where the bloody scenes of the war were re-enacted and fierce and sanguinary battles fought over again, and all without the assistance of a single Democrat. Well, Democrats fought well enough during the war, but when the rebels laid down their arms and acknowledged themselves whipped back into the Union, they were willing to return to their homes and turn their swords into plowshares and pruning hooks and allow the south a chance to bind up its wounds, repair and build up the havoc and places laid waste, made so by its own rashness.

Mankato Note.

Register. The Mankato dairy and produce exchange meets at 11 a. m. to-day. J. H. Ray, Esq., Minneapolis, an old citizen of Mankato, who has yesterday shaking hands with his many friends.

A special meeting of the board of trade was held yesterday morning, and the report of the committee on the World's fair received and approved. Hon. J. J. Thornton, St. James, Democratic candidate for Second district congressional honors, was here yesterday shaking hands with the voters.

Dave Evans has accepted a position with C. R. Presley, taking the place of Chas. Signs, who is now in the employ of Patterson, Hatfield & Zimmerman. Catherine Thomas, a young lady twenty years of age, working for John P. Jones, in the town of Judson, this county, was suddenly taken sick Monday and died yesterday morning.

The Catholic fair opens to-day and will continue through the week. The upper story of the city hall is being beautifully decorated and arranged. Extravagant augurs wait for the success of the project. James Sullivan paid $35 and costs in the municipal court for selling liquor at the West Mankato saloon on Sunday, October 19. There was no arrest or warrant made in this case, the amount being voluntarily paid.

Walker & Ryan's minstrel's arrived in this city yesterday noon and paraded the streets for some time, making a good impression. In the evening the performance at the Opera house was good, far beyond the ordinary minstrel's. A Small Racket. On Monday evening between the hours of eleven and twelve, while Chief Welch and Officer Blake were passing the saloon of Martin Methoffer, on North Front street, they heard a big racket inside, and Chief Welch surveyed the place and selected John Baker, a quarryman, as the man who was making the disturbance, and went in to arrest him. Immediately after he was taken into the mob in the saloon pitched onto the chief and threw him to the floor. The parties in the saloon did all in their power to keep Welch from doing his duty, and three or four spittoons, beer glasses and other articles at him. They also tried to get him out of the room and then lock the door, but were unsuccessful. The officers managed to get Bauer out of the saloon and take him to the lockup, after necessarily battering the heads of some of the characters who were in the saloon. Baker was brought before the municipal court yesterday morning and fined $5 and costs for his night's spree. But for his family, now in a destitute condition, he would have been fined four times that amount, but the court decided leniently.

Gov. Benjaff and Peter Hettle, two of the party that assaulted Chief Welch in the saloon, was brought before Judge Porter and fined $20 and costs for hindering the officer in the discharge of his duty. The warrants were taken against five other men, and they, no doubt, apprehended and dealt with in a like manner.

For considerable time the saloon of Methoffer has been known as a resort for hard characters, and one of the worst places in town. Last Saturday night a number of men in the saloon, contrary to all promises made by Methoffer. It is a place where more fights and rows occur than in any other place and last spring the council refused to grant Methoffer a license, he having time and time again begged one. A special meeting of the council was called, and upon the most stringent promises he was granted a license. Yesterday Mayor Palmer did a commendable thing in revoking Methoffer's license, and it is to be hoped that it will not be reissued to him.

The Escaped Prisoners. The prisoners who escaped from the county jail Monday afternoon by overpowering Jailor Latin, eluded their pursuers and passed the Osborn house, on the agency road, about 4 o'clock. Mr. Latin received a telegram yesterday that the Eltinger was seen about a half a mile from the jail. The following is his description: Mike McCarty, dark hair and mustache, scar on back of neck on right side, about three inches; five foot ten or eleven inches high, about twenty-seven years of age. Hair black, eyes blue, nose straight, lips pale, pants, lined brown shirt with fine red stripes; sewed shoes with heavy soles, plain gold ring on little finger on left hand. Weight 180 pounds.

John Eltinger, Pennsylvania Dutch, speech broken, about five feet nine or ten inches high, brown jean pants, fleece lined gray shirt, no coat when escaped. Hair out from sickness, coming in places; small brown mustache; weighs about 180 or 190 pounds. Aged thirty-five or forty years. Had on shoes that buckle; soft black slouch hat; heavy set.

Cuticura. Miss Boynton's Case of Skin and Blood Disease. The Most Remarkable Cure on Record. I have been afflicted for one year and nine months with what the doctors called lupia. I was taken with dreadful pain in my head and eyes, and feet became so swollen that I was perfectly helpless, sore broke out on my body and night, my appetite left me. I could not sleep nights. I lost flesh, and soon became so wretched that I found it difficult to take a bath. I tried various remedies, I engaged two homoeopathic physicians, Dr. —, and Dr. —, and was under their treatment for one year and nine months, while I was in temporary relief. My disease grew worse; my sufferings became terrible. I tried "faith cure," but it was unsuccessful. Kind friends then advised me to use Cuticura. I did so, and the superintendent, after seeing me, decided to admit such a case as mine there, and said I would not live six weeks unless it was relieved. The result was that I was cured in ten days. My appetite and strength have returned; I am free from pain, my flesh is increasing, and I can do almost and enjoy life. My restoration to perfect health is now only a matter of a few weeks. My friends think my cure miraculous, and I shall never cease to feel that the CUTICURA REMEDIES have saved my life.
