

MINNEAPOLIS NEWS

The Minneapolis office of the DAILY GLOBE has been removed to 213 Hennepin avenue, S. J. Clark, business manager of the department.

The Daily Globe can be found on sale every morning at the following news stands: The Union Depot, Nicollet House News Stand, St. James Hotel News Stand, J. W. Ayers, South Third Street between Nicollet and Hennepin avenue, W. E. Gerrish, 601 South Washington avenue, W. H. Stickey, 517 Cedar avenue, Geo. A. Mearns, 206 Central avenue, C. R. Taylor, 226 Hennepin avenue, C. R. Murphy, 206 Hennepin avenue, H. Hoefner, 1221 Washington avenue north, and Heedley & Co., 55 Central avenue.

MINNEAPOLIS GLOBES.

The Press club will meet this afternoon. There are fifty-eight printers in the county jail. The Park commissioners did not meet yesterday.

The north side tunnel has been completed fifty feet. It is now business.

The Plymouth conferences will elect officers at the annual meeting to-morrow evening.

Last night Officer Harvey collared a fellow for stealing a buffalo overcoat and a con skin overcoat.

Judge Tourgey will deliver his lecture, "Give Us a Rest," at the Westminster church next Wednesday evening.

The annual ball of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers will be given at new Harmonia hall on Thursday evening, December 18.

Mr. Bowen proprietor of the Minnesota Batting works, yesterday returned from a deer hunt on Rum river. He shot a buck which weighs 310 pounds, the heaviest ever seen in this parish.

The Scotchmen and their descendants, resident in the city, will have a meeting in the Nicollet house to-morrow, Monday evening, at 8 o'clock in the gentlemen's parlors, to organize a Scottish society. A large attendance is expected.

The second annual ball of North Star Division No. 1, Uniform Rank, K. of P., will be given at Knights of Pythias hall on Wednesday evening, December 24. The division will appear in full uniform, and all members of the order are cordially invited to be present.

The Hennepin county school exhibit for the New Orleans exposition was shipped last evening. It contains, among other things, the competitive papers handsomely bound, specimens of map drawing, pictures of the different school buildings, models showing the log school house of '56 and the modern frame school house of '84, etc.

The escape of a prisoner from the county jail Thursday night has attracted considerable criticism. It seems that the county commissioners are alone to blame. The sheriff is allowed $120 a month with which to hire a watchman and turnkey. During the day it takes two men to attend to the jail, and as the commissioners refuse to allow pay for a night watchman, a prison containing at times nearly a hundred prisoners is unguarded at night.

GRAND ARMY RELIEF NOTES.

The past has been an unusually busy week for the various committees in charge of the Grand Army fair. The several committee meetings during the week have been well attended and the reports exhibit increased interest.

Our people, when properly approached, have responded favorably as a rule. There has been one feeling with those who understand the object of the fair, and with few exceptions a cheerful response has been given. Those who have borne the battle deserve and will ever be solicitedly cared for by our loyal people. The committees have not felt it necessary that any one give largely. In a city as large as this there is no call for it. A little as a token of offering at this Christmas season for the relief of the man who wore the Union blue, whose dependent family is all that is required and all that is desired. It will greatly encourage the Women's Relief corps, however, if they see every man, old and child in Army hall sometime during the fair, and if he is happy, and the wives of the city will respond to this desire by informing their husbands that on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday that dinner will be served in Army hall with a free motor ride thrown in.

The committee in charge have courteously agreed that the drills of the carnival guard and an brigade may be continued every afternoon during the week in order that they may reach proficiency by the opening of the carnival.

There will be a meeting of the general, advisors, and several subcommittees at Army hall on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

New England dinners will be placed on sale at convenient points on Monday in order that business men may secure them and the free motor ride before going to the hall.

Dinners will be served from 12 to 2 on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Twenty-five sacks of flour have been donated by the mills.

Ice cream and other refreshments will be served every night.

All goods for the fair shall be sent to the hall on Monday for cataloguing and marking.

Jesse G. Jones has already landed the lumber for the booths at the hall and the Northwestern Fuel company and Grove & Rowe will drop the necessary coal for heating on Monday morning.

Carpenters will be at the hall at 8 a. m. Monday with hammer and saw to build booths.

HEAVY STORM.

Terrific Wind and Rain Storm in the East—Much Damage Done.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6.—A terrific wind and rain storm passed over western Pennsylvania at 6 o'clock this evening, and although it lasted but a few minutes great damage to property was done. In this city the telegraph wires, swinging signs, chimneys, etc., suffered severely. One sign four feet high and covering the entire length of a business block on Seventh avenue was carried away, falling on a woman named Pfaff and her two children, Willie, aged six, and Gertrude, three years old, who accompanied her. The boy was killed instantly, and the mother and little girl seriously, but it is thought not fatally injured. There were rumors of accidents in other parts of this city and Allegheny, but nothing definite is yet received. At Greensburg, West Moreland county, the roof of the court house was carried off, but no one injured. No reports of damage is received from other towns. The wires are down in all directions and telegraph companies are experiencing great difficulty in handling business.

New York, Dec. 6.—Pedestrians out last evening realized that one of the severest storms of the season was raging over the city, and those whose kind fortune kept indoors could congratulate themselves with the reason. It began to rain about 2 o'clock, and continued steadily during the afternoon and evening. At 8 the wind increased in velocity and was blowing a gale over the house tops, while it scurried through the streets in sheets that rattled against the windows and jolted buildings with its force. The streets were swept clean and the pavements fairly scored. The effect of the storm in this city was marked. The streets became deserted after 8 p. m., and even the Bowery, which is generally thronged all night, Saturdays was generally deserted at a late hour. The electric lights and illuminated signs called but few visitors within the doors where they shed their glare. The theatres suffered from the storm, and the usual large Saturday night audiences were wanting. The Times notes that the principal points were reached, however, through roundabout routes, from northern circuits. Little trouble is reported from wires near this city. The low lands about town are submerged, and many cellars along the river streets flooded.

OLD WORLD NEWS.

THE UNITED KINGDOM.

LONDON, Dec. 6.—The Liberal associations and electoral agents still continue to protest against the division of boroughs into sections under the new redistribution bill. The managers of the London association of workmen's clubs protest against section A representation. They say it will destroy caucus organization, and split the popular vote. Chamberlain advises the Liberals of Glasgow to make municipal contests political and so prepare the way for a parliamentary contest. The Conservative papers are devoting much attention to the revolt of the Radicals against the single seat principle. The Parnellites calculate they will be able to return eighty-five members to the house as soon as a bill goes into effect. The United Ireland declares the bill will produce the most momentous change in the British constitution that has ever been proposed in Parliament, and says it will lead to the final triumph of the Nationalist cause.

SATURDAY'S MARKETS.

The Unfavorable Weather Having a Depressing Effect Both on Quotations and the Spirits of the Speculators.

The Enormous Visible Supply, Increasing Thousands of Bushels Every Day, a Steady Check to Any Advance in Wheat.

Trading in Corn, Oats and Provisions Very Light and Prices Almost Unchanged—No Disposition to Trade in Shares.

CHICAGO.

[Special Telegram to the Globe.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—The grain markets today were generally heavy, and lower prices were the rule on all leading options. Wheat was especially weak, the supporting features seeming to be entirely lacking, and the bears made the most of the situation, pounding the market mercilessly. The result was a sharp decline of from 1/4 to 1/2 c, and a close at the lowest figures of the day. Corn shared in the heaviness of wheat, but only to a slight degree in the decline, near options being but 1/8 c lower at the close and May unchanged. Oats joined the downward procession, and closed 1/4 c lower for December, and 3/4 c for May, while provisions varied the market by remaining fairly steady, pork closing 2 1/2 c higher for unsmoked, lard 5 c higher all around, and ribs 3 1/2 c higher. Closing quotations were: January wheat, 72 1/2 c, year corn, 36 1/2 c, May oats, 27 1/2 c, January pork, $11.42 1/2, January lard, 66.80, January ribs, 65.75.

There was not much activity in the wheat pit, and the outlook for believers in higher prices was decidedly gloomy. All the influences seem adverse, including receipts for the week much larger than any week for several years past, while in other points the deliveries were heavy, and the prospect is good for a 2,000,000 bushel increase in next Wednesday's statement. New York was weak at 71 1/2 c, and cables reported Liverpool at 70 c, steady and Mark Lane the same, with a decline of 6 c per bushel for red winter of coast. On top of all this was the gloomy weather, which had enough in itself to make everybody take the most despondent views possible. January opened 1/2 c lower at 70 c, went up to yesterday's close and then with slight fluctuations, 3/4 c, closing at the lowest point of the day, 73 1/2 c. There were some outside orders for January at 73 c and some for May at 80 c, but they were not numerous enough to check the decline materially. The latter option opened at 80 c, and went up 1/2 c, but declined pretty steadily from that point to a close of 79 1/2 c.

C. A. King & Co., of Toledo, says: "The present export surplus of wheat in this country, over a total crop of 510,000,000 bushels, is over 50,000,000 bushels larger than the probable export requirements for the remainder of the present crop year, and over 30,000,000 larger than the entire import wants of the United Kingdom during the balance of this crop year. The depression in business will affect any increase in consumption, which would otherwise occur from the low price. If it does not, the reserves from the previous crop of 40,000,000 undoubtedly would. Present prices are exceptionally low, and may revive speculation, but there is plenty of wheat, and only disaster to the growing crop here or war abroad is liable to cause any decided permanent advance."

Optional trading in corn today was very light outside of the movement in year, and the range of fluctuation in that was covered by 3/4 c. Liverpool was strong on corn and sold a penny per cent, and our receipts were only 165 cars, with ten rail cars, but for all that persons cannot find those who are willing to put up the price of corn in the face of the big crop. The present scarcity is caused by a tussle between producers, shippers and speculators, with high freights standing in the foreground as an obstacle to a free movement. But the corn is in existence, and people know it and they will not bid up the market or take on any more than is wanted for immediate uses, and so the speculative corn trade on 'change is nearly at a standstill for the want of healthy and normal conditions. Year opened at 36 1/2 c, yesterday's last figures, and, under purchase by Sam Adams, went up to 37 1/2 c, but declined 1/2 c after that support had been withdrawn, and closed 3/4 c lower than yesterday, at 36 1/2 c. January opened at 35 c, declined to 34 1/2 c, and closed at 34 1/2 c, while May fluctuated 1/2 c either way from 37 1/2 c, opening and closing at that figure.

"This weather is bad," said Jim Love, "but it will probably be followed by a sharp freeze, and corn will grade much better after that. Corn has started to go down, and it is good for a decline of a bushel. Freight rates on the Union Pacific have been reduced 2 1/2 c, and corn on track is higher than it was a few weeks ago. Here's an advance of nearly 7c. Two weeks ago we were getting 800 cars of corn a day. This 7c more a bushel will start a corn movement that will result in receipts of 1,000 cars of corn a day within the next fortnight."

C. E. Gilver, as receiver, said that he expected 1,500 cars of corn to arrive daily about the last of December.

Wheat was fairly active, but the feeling was heavy and prices showed a lower level. Eldridge, Jones, Callin and Press were selling mostly on short account. The sales of Jones amounted to 500,000. Press says May oats are good for a decline of 3c. December opened 1/2 c lower, at 24 c, went up 1/2 c, and then down to 23 1/2 c, closing at 23 1/2 c. May opened 1/2 c lower, at 27 1/2 c, and sold down to a close of 27 1/2 c.

Provisions attracted less attention, but the price was firmly sustained by the Packing company, who appear to be sure of their position. Pork opened unchanged, sold up 7 1/2 c, then off, closing at $11.42 1/2, or 2 1/2 c above yesterday. Lard opened 2 1/2 c better for January, sold up 10 c, and closed 5 c higher than yesterday at $8.80. Ribs improved 1/2 c, closing at $5.75 for January and $5.85 for February.

The stock market was active considering the bad weather and the last day of the week. Receipts of cattle were fair, mainly made up of low grade Texas that sold at very low figures. Natives were scarce and a shade higher.

Receipts of hogs were rather above the average for Saturday. The market opened rather weak and 50 to 10c lower, but closed firm, with the loss of the morning regained. Receipts of cattle for the week were about 44,000 and of hogs 276,000, and for the coming week the estimates are from 200,000 to 230,000.

CHICAGO FINANCIAL.

[Special Telegram to the Globe.]

CHICAGO, Dec. 6.—General business at the banks was very quiet, owing partially to the extremely unfavorable weather. New York exchange was 25 cents discount to par, with a large outside demand. Orders for currency shipments were fair and receipts the same. Sterling exchange was $4.82 1/2 at 46. Government bonds were unchanged. Trade in local bonds and stocks was quiet. Bank clearings were $5,571,300 against $5,437,000 yesterday, and for the week $45,019,998 against $44,594,699 for the corresponding week of last year.

NEW YORK.

[Special Telegram to the Globe.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The stock market opened weak, all of the active stocks registering a decline of from 1/4 to 1/2 per cent. The principal bear influence was the announcement that the Reading refused to stand with the coal combination and restrict production in order to keep prices up by limiting the amount of production. The coal combination has heretofore been able to keep the price steady, while everything else has declined one-third. The tone of the market was weak, and it was rumored that the bull syndicate of room traders, including the public unwilling to buy at present prices, have begun selling to each other. Mr. White was a large seller of Lackawanna, Mr. Elliott and Mr. Bell forced the fight in St. Paul, and Drzel, Morgan & Co. were very bullish. They are credited with having been the bankers in the recent rise of the New York Central, their object being to sell the new issue of debenture bonds. It is announced, on what is deemed good authority, that Lake Shore will pass its next dividend, and bets were offered to-day that the stock would sell down ten points before it sold up five points. New York Central officials tell their friends that the rent earned at the rate of 1 1/2 per cent. on
