Mr. Edwards entertained the Young People's association of the Dayton avenue church at his home. Mr. F. B. Smith, agent of Estey & Co., of Chicago, returned to St. Paul on Friday night, after a week's absence at Fargo and other points. The social that it was intended to give on Friday evening in the First Methodist church was postponed on account of the Moody meetings. Mr. R. O. Warde, the popular vocal culture teacher, is still to go to sing the offertory at St. Mary's; he will, however, sing in the near future. Mr. Neel C. Murray, of Minnewakon, D. T., arrived in St. Paul last Thursday. He will spend the winter a guest of his father, W. P. Murray. A children's dress matinee, under the direction of Prof. Beggs, occurs next Saturday afternoon. Tuesday evening the first of the series of select parties, under the management of Prof. Beggs, occurs at Turner hall. It will be a full dress occasion, or nearly so. Major C. H. Whipple and wife have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Clarke, of Summit avenue. Major Whipple is paymaster in the army at Fort Keogh. It was rumored on the street last evening that Mr. W. H. Fredericks would play violin obligatos to the songs which will be sung at the Gospel meeting this afternoon. The Catholic temperance societies of St. Paul will give an entertainment at Pfeiffer's hall Monday evening. Good speakers and a good musical programme are assured. Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Hendrickson, of Larimore, will go to New Orleans about the 1st of January for the remainder of the winter. They will visit St. Paul friends en route. Owing to the large amount of work to be done on the new rink on Fourth street, opposite the Globe building, the dedication will be deferred to Saturday, the 20th inst. The fair under the management of the ladies of St. Paul's Episcopal Mission, Dayton bluff, that has been held in the Portland block during the week, was fairly successful. Gerald's mass, "Solemnis in B flat," will be rendered at the cathedral Christmas morning, under direction of Prof. Maenner, with an augmented chorus and Seibert's orchestra. Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Minnie, daughter of A. B. Wilgus, to Dr. J. W. Welch, of this city, in St. Paul's church on Tuesday evening at 5 o'clock. Hayes, the efficient director of St. Mary's choir, is still studying the baritone solos of Hayden's Second Mass. Those having the pleasure of hearing him at his rehearsals speak very highly of his magnificent voice. He has for years past been leading tenor in the Cathedral at Manchester, England. The German club will be entertained by Miss Kelly on the evening of December 22nd, the inaugural party for the present winter. A particularly delightful euchre party was given by Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gribble at their home on Western avenue last Friday evening. The Standard club gave a very pleasant musical and dramatic entertainment at the club hall, on the corner of Eighth and Jackson streets, on Thursday evening last, which closed up with a supper and dance. J. H. Hirst, of the St. Paul Bicycle club, will have a race against Frank Barron, champion fast skater of the northwest, for one mile, on Wednesday evening next, at the roller rink on Jackson street. All charter members are requested to be present. Mr. Frank W. Terry, son of J. C. Terry, of St. Paul, was married at Milwaukee on the 13th of November to Miss Della G. Ryan. After the ceremony they left for Chicago and other eastern cities. They are now at home at 523 St. Paul street. Next Wednesday evening the "Once a Week Dancing Club" will give its sixth and last party before the holidays, at Turner hall. Rogers, traveling salesman for Lewis, Durkee & Co., left St. Paul last Sunday afternoon bound for Carlsbad, Bohemia, where he is going in search of health. On his way he intends visiting his mother in the "Old Dart." He will probably be absent about six months. Anyone wishing to buy Christmas cards, fancy articles, or bric-a-brac, will bear in mind the Christmas sale by the ladies of Unity church, on Friday, the 19th, commencing at 10 a. m., and continuing through the afternoon and evening. Supper served from six to eight. Cards are out for the marriage of Mr. John S. Watson to Miss Lizzie Wells on Wednesday evening, December 17th, at the Presbyterian church, Jamestown, Dakota. After the ceremony a reception will be held at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Wells, from 8 till 10 o'clock. On Friday evening Acker post held a meeting and elected the following officers: commander, R. V. Pratt; senior vice commander, E. H. Stevens; junior vice commander, Benj. Brack; surgeon, Dr. C. G. Higby; chaplain, John Way; quartermaster, Geo. Walker; officer of the day, T. W. Forbes, officer of the guard, Edward Cummings. One of the features of the concert by Seibert's orchestra to-night, at Turner hall, will be an oboe solo by Mr. Henry Wuerz. The oboe is one of the most ancient wind instruments in use, and with its quaint and tender tone it is very difficult in its execution. It is used only in the larger concert orchestras, and there are but few experts with it. Mr. Wuerz has had many years of experience in large European concert orchestras and the opera. He handles that difficult instrument with skill and dexterity. Notwithstanding under the rules of the department, only three members of each company were allowed to go to the fire department ball, No. 6 boys, in the Sixth ward, did not lose much, for they had a little dance of their own. Some of the ladies of West St. Paul took hold of the matter and went to the engine house with music and gentlemen escorts, and improvised a dance for the boys. There were twenty-eight couples altogether and they had a right nice, pleasant time of it. The entertainment of the Standard club at the hall on the corner of Jackson and Eighth streets on Thursday evening last was rendered more than usually pleasant by the part taken by Mr. Louis Haas. This gentleman is developing unusual ability and natural talent for imitation and negro minstrelsy. For the time being and for this entertainment on Thursday evening, he assumed the garb of a minstrel and made a stump speech, which bristled all over with good sharp points and bright strokes which kept the audience in a roar of laughter from the beginning to the end. Mr. Haas has evidently missed his calling in sticking to the shop. The Choral Society. I had the pleasure of attending the rehearsal of the St. Paul Choral society last Monday evening and was not only delighted with the exercises but gratified with the manifest improvement since the last season. The evening was entirely appropriated to the choral passages in Handel's grand oratorio of "the Messiah." Sig. Jannatta, if possible, was more enthusiastic than on ordinary occasions and the same spirit prevailed throughout the assemblage. Every passage was taken up with most commendable decision and promptness, no jarring in time, or misapprehension of sentiment was apparent, and what was most to be applauded, no distinction of pronunciation. On the whole I have never witnessed a rehearsal presenting more conclusive evidence of the dictation of its masterly director. I understand that on the 30th inst. "the Messiah" will be presented at the Davidson roller skating rink with an array of professional attraction and local choral accomplishment that I hope will command a degree of patronage which will give stability to the organization which has so materially labored for our enjoyment. HARMONIA. Dayton Bluff Mission Fair. The Dayton Bluff Ladies' Industrial society fair, held in the Portland block, closed last evening, and was a financial success, although they have a good many nice articles left which they will dispose of at some future time. The ladies extend their thanks to all who aided them in their enterprise, and especially to Mr. Horace E. and Mrs. Thompson, for their kindness in donating the use of one of the stores in the Portland block. The easy chair voted to the most popular clergyman was presented to Dr. E. S. Thomas, he receiving the greatest number of votes. An elegant table spread was voted to Mrs. S. E. Finch, as the most popular married lady on the bluff. Florence Brainerd won the big doll, as the most popular little girl. The foot rest, mounted on deer horns, was voted Mr. S. E. Finch, as the most popular gentleman. Altogether the ladies deserve a good deal of credit for their management of the fair, and should be proud of their success. Woodland Park Baptist Church Fair. On Thursday afternoon the ladies of Woodland Park Baptist church opened a very pleasant and attractive fair which was continued into the evening for the sale of articles from 6 to 10. One of the attractions was the preparation of an elegant supper of turkey, oysters, ice cream, etc. The fair is held under the auspices of the ladies society, of which Mrs. J. C. Green is president, and the young ladies club, of which Miss Anna Beck is president. A table of toys and puzzles was contributed by the boys' mission club. The table of paper flowers was in charge of the Misses Bishop and Walters. The ladies fair table was presided over by Mrs. Bushnell, and it had many attractive articles upon it, among which were specimens of hand painted tiffins, mats and banners, tidies and cushions. There was also a large collection of dolls and floral fans. Among the most attractive articles were two pieces of "Reposse work" made by Mrs. F. W. Davis which were very handsome and universally admired. This is work in sheet brass and works up into very handsome designs. One piece, 17x14, was that of an Egyptian warrior's head, and the other piece, 12x12, a horse's head surrounded by a wreath of ivy, mounted respectively in red and blue plush frames. Lecture by Hon. John B. Brislin. Hon. John B. Brislin has prepared a very elaborate and interesting lecture on "Moses, the Justifier," which he has kindly consented to deliver at Plymouth church, for the benefit of the Gospel Temperance union of St. Paul, on Friday evening, December 19. Mr. Brislin has found in Moses a character that has impressed him very deeply in various ways. As a very natural, the judicial phase of the great Hebrew law giver's character attracted Mr. Brislin's attention more particularly, and it is to this that the lecturer has directed his attention. The well known literary and legal ability and acquirements of Mr. Brislin enable him to treat the subject in a new and interesting way, that cannot fail to entertain in a very high degree any who hear the lecture. Tickets at fifty cents each can be had at the rooms of the society, No. 58 Syndicate block, East Seventh street, corner of Cedar and Seventh, at the door of the church, at Myer & Finch's jewelry store, and at Allen's drug store. The Concert to-night. A fine programme has been arranged for the concert to-night at Turner hall. Among the attractions will be an overture by Suppe, selections from the "Boggar Student" a violin solo by Paul Slovling, the "Merry Wives of Windsor" overture, and an oboe solo. The following is the programme: March "Frontier".....Seibert Overture, "Ein Morgen, Mittag und Abend in Wien".....Suppe Sacred Song, "The Song of Editha".....Millschneider Potpourri, "Die Welt um die Welt in 15 Minuten".....Schreiner In 15 Minutes.....Schreiner Violin solo, "Zigeunerweisen".....Sarasate Overture, "The Merry Wives of Windsor".....Nicolaï Oboe solo, "Arie aus der Oper der Prætorien".....Kuecken Krennau-Marsch, a. d. O. "Der Prophet".....Meyerbeer Esmeralda. A comedy drama in four acts, will be given at the High School hall, Thursday and Friday evenings, December 18 and 19, and Saturday matinee, December 20, under the auspices of the High School Dramatic society, by kind permission of the authors, Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett and Mr. W. H. Gillette, under the direction of Miss Lenora Austin, teacher of elocution at the High school. The proceeds are to be used in improving the High school library. CAST. Mr. John D. Miller Lydia Ann, his wife.....Miss Fannie Larkin Esmeralda, their daughter.....Miss Editha Estabrook a man of leisure.....Mr. Fred E. Powers Jack Desmond.....Mr. James D. A new green called fir-green is very fashionable. Basques are trimmed around the edge again. Ribbons still continue a prominent feature in dress garniture. Velvet in all dark shades is fashionable for street wear. Double and single breasted close fitting jackets are both in good form. Many skirts are made without puffs or drapery. Tan is the favorite color for gloves, whether of kid or silk. A bow of ribbon tied to the watch instead of a chain is the latest "fad" for a lady. Demi-tinted dresses, for carriage and home wear are again in style. Large loose cloaks, easily put off and on, are in high favor. High or low bodices are worn, to suit the taste of the wearer, for evening toilets. A pretty smoke colored satin costume, with a flight of swallows embroidered up the front, was shown at a New York opening last week. Tufts of ostrich feathers decorate the skirts and draperies of many elaborate evening dresses. Bronze, green and pomegranate red form a pretty combination of colors. A large velvet bow is worn on the instep of the new Moliere house shoe. White bonnets, trimmed with white plume, will be the bonnet for dressy occasions this winter. A rough braid, tufted like Astrakhan cloth and about two inches wide, is used for trimming the new rough surfaced suitings this winter. The new long wristed gloves of cashmere or Austrian wool, with ribbed tops like the Jersey cuff, are in all shades to match street costumes. Instead of the orange flower wreath for the veil, brides now use diamond, or Rhine crystal pins, one or more for the fastening; the orange flowers being used to loop the draperies. Tucks are still fashionable for both skirt and drapery. Many grateful hearts bless the fashion of little bonnets for opera and theater, with their narrow brims and sensible amount of trimming, which do not impede the view of those behind them. The fashion of the epaulet of ribbon or passementerie very pretty, and is addressed with good effect to many dresses, on one side only of course. Wool fabrics are so beautiful in fabric and coloring this winter that combined with silk, velvet or plush they are found in most elegant suits for driving walking costumes. Rich dark colors, the leading shades of which are royal blue, the wine and current shades, and green in many shades and tones, golden brown is a favorite also. The popular waterfall drapery at the back of the walking costume, requires the support of the tournure of boucled hair cloth and reel of steel to give it the required "French effect." The plan of lining the cloth jacket with the satin merveilleux now comes for that purpose, or the cheaper grades of American silk, which intrinsically wears well, enables one to slip in and out of them with ease, which cannot be done when they are not lined with silk. Nuns veiling is not so much used as it has been, English repon and crepe de Chine are used instead for elegant evening dresses. A new button that needs no button hole, having a hook at the back with a corresponding eye or loop on the opposite side, is shown and will be popular. The mushroom tints are very noticeable in winter millinery, and these, varying as they do from a pale cream to a dark brown, give shades enough, combined with any of the bright tints in red, blue or green to suit every complexion with the latest color. The new wool lace is only the revival of an old favorite (yak) and is used on bonnets as well as dresses; and comes in all fashionable colors. Bonnets for winter have a good deal of lace as garniture, arranged on a full jabot, has a good effect, if the trimming is gracefully disposed, as only a milliner can do. A new inexpensive trimming for heavy out of door garments is a Polarian plush, presenting a very stylish appearance. Wanted! Everybody to call at 59 East Third street and examine Gerlands stock of holiday goods, consisting of hats, traveling, club and shopping bags, watches, pocket-books, purses and cases, dressing cases, cuff and collar boxes, cigar and cigarette cases, pocket-knives, etc., etc. Mr. Randall's Contemplated Trip. WASHINGTON, Dec. 13.—Ex-Speaker Randall will soon start on a trip to the west and south. He will leave Washington immediately upon the receipt of appointment as congressman going first to Louisville, where he will remain two or three days and then go to Nashville, and from there to Birmingham, Alabama.

A LIVELY WEEK. GLASSWARE AND CROCKERY. JEWELRY. Street Car and Gribble Libel Damages in the District Court. Two Struck Juries to Decide the Amounts—The Finish of Jury Cases in the Supreme Court Calendar. The hearing in two cases in the district court, before struck juries, this week, will finish up the set cases in the September term calendar. On Monday morning Judge Brill will take up the case of Lizzie Crosby vs. the St. Paul City railway, at which time, and to sit on which case, the following struck jury is returnable to the court at that time: T. A. Abbott, S. L. Davis, Irving C. Albertson, C. C. Decker, Ernst Albrecht, Wm. J. Dyer, Ed. H. Briggs, Thad. C. Field, Edgar C. Bowen, Nathan Ford, Edgar A. Brown, Chas. Friend, Wm. M. Bushnell, R. Gordon, Thomas B. Campbell, P. L. Hardenburgh. This action is for $2,594 damages, claimed to have been sustained by the plaintiff, Feb. 16, 1884, while attempting to alight from a street car on the corner of Seventh and Jackson streets, after having given the proper signal to stop the car, its stopping, and her exit to the rear platform. At that point the plaintiff claims that the driver suddenly started up the car without warning, throwing her over the rail into the street, causing great damage to her nervous system and permanent disabling her. S. K. Crosby, Esq., will appear as counsel for the plaintiff, and H. J. Horn, Esq., for the road. On Thursday morning next the court will enter upon the trial of what is known as the "Pioneer Press" case, vs. the "Edwin Gribble, Esq., vs. the Pioneer Press," to sit in hearing of which the following struck jury has been drawn and is returnable to the court that morning: John O. Adams, Crawford Livingston, John H. Allen, S. R. McMaisters, Geo. L. Becker, Jas. E. Middleton, John B. Cook, J. Ross Nichols, Geo. L. Farwell, Geo. Palmer, E. G. Hemingway, Wm. Perkins, Geo. W. Dawson, Kingland Smith. This first of this series was heard at the last term of court and was for $10,000, a jury awarding $4,000 damages which was appealed by the defendant to the supreme court which sustained the verdict given below. This second suit is for the sum of $15,000 damages, the libel complained of being claimed to be uttered in the issue of the "Pioneer Press," August 24, 1882, which article reads as follows: "Edwin Gribble, attorney and counsellor at law, has undertaken to sue the Pioneer Press for libel, laying his damages at $10,000, for calling him a 'half imbecile slyster, the butt of the town.' When the Pioneer Press found it necessary to make a personal reference to Mr. Gribble, it understood very well that it was treading on dangerous ground, and it therefore selected its descriptive terms with great prudence and discretion, so as to say nothing about him that could not be proved. The delicate appropriateness of his characterization may be judged from the fact that this distinguished luminary of the law, who says in his complaint that he has been for ten years a practicing attorney and counsellor at law in St. Paul, has not yet been able to learn so elementary a matter of procedure as how to make sure a summons. His legal adviser, Capt. Castle, announces that in order to make sure that the papers were properly served, Mr. Gribble served them in person upon the editor of the P. P. The familiar fact that the statute requires such service to be made by the sheriff, or his deputy, or by some person not a party to the action, authorized by the judge of the district court, was evidently not known to either of these legal luminaries. The proposition to be proved is that Mr. Gribble is 'half imbecile slyster.' By his first step in the prosecution of his great suit against the P. P., he has conclusively shown that this is an error, and that he is in fact almost as wholly imbecile as the slyster his legal adviser, Capt. Castle himself." The plaintiff will be represented by Hon. J. B. Brislin, as counsel, and the defendant by W. D. Cornish, Esq. Genuine Alligator and Seal shopping bags in large variety at Gerlands', 59 East Third street. A Fine Display.
