

MRS. BURNER CONVICTED.

W. Woodward, assistant assessor, and D. A. McArthur, a newspaper solicitor, have offered to sacrifice their names. Mac is said to be laboring indefatigably and the others cry out that he intends to pack the caucus, and one says, "I tell you the fur will fly, and there will be no more fighting than a Doany brood-fair."

The Defense Painfully Deficient, After a Day Devoid of Sensational Developments.

"I begin to believe that the fifth ward is the banner prohibition ward, although the eighth has always claimed that distinctive characteristic," said a Democrat of that locality. "The only candidates I have heard of for aldermen are prohibitionists."

The Scramble of Minneapolis Politics and Gossip of the Numerous and Various Aldermanic Candidates.

The speaker in question is referred to as Ald. Parker, the present incumbent, and Mr. Downes, an uncompromising cold water advocate. "Who do you favor for Democratic aldermanic candidate?" was asked of a lay member of the party.

Current Comment of Municipal Affairs and Spicy Sayings of Some Well-Known Citizens.

"Who do you favor for Democratic aldermanic candidate?" was asked of a lay member of the party. "F. B. Winston is my choice, first and last," was the answer.

Doings of the Wicked—Some Sporting Notes—An Abduction—A Variety of Minneapolis News.

MINNEAPOLIS POLITICS.

Talk About the Coming Election.

The aldermanic campaign in Minneapolis presents extraordinary and exceedingly interesting features. The principal issue is upon the liquor question—the patrol limits commonly designated as the "dead line," and the iron-clad or high license ordinance.

Politics in the Seventh Ward are Badly Mixed.

Preliminary meetings have been held at which fiery speeches have been made in the interests of the laboring men. Ald. Roberts says he will not run again, and the Republicans seem at a loss who to place in the field.

IN THE EIGHTH WARD

It is war to the knife and the knife to the hilt. The prohibition element controls a strong following, and the other two parties threaten to combine against it. Capt. E. C. Babb is perhaps the most promising Republican candidate, while the second is undecided.

MATTERS OF SPORT.

The Driving Park Association—Doings of the Base Ball Club—General Notes.

The Minneapolis Driving Park association will meet in the parlors of the Nicollet house this evening for the purpose of arranging for the summer campaign. It is expected to give a series of trotting and pacing matches on the old fair ground track just as soon as it can be put in condition.

THE FIRST WARD.

Up to the present writing there appears to be very little political agitation in the old first ward. For years that section of the city was relied upon to send none but Democratic aldermen, and recently certain rumors have been a war with each other and as a result two of the aldermen in the city council at the present time are Republicans.

THE SECOND WARD.

There is a decided middle in the Republican camp in the second ward. It has invariably cast a Republican majority, but in the war of factions which is now being waged in that locality, the ward will probably give its Republican prestige.

THE THIRD WARD.

There is no life in the Third Ward Democracy, although there are several candidates in the field for nomination. Or if there is any life, it is of the most friendly character, the men who fall to get a majority in the nominating caucus having signified their willingness to take of their coats and work for the lucky man on election day.

THE FOURTH WARD.

Politically speaking all is not serene in the north ward, as there is a probability of a tie between the Republican candidates going the polls for an aldermanic election.

THE BURNER WOMAN CONVICTED.

The Defense Falls Through and She is Found Guilty—Yesterday's Points of Interest.

Mrs. Burner was found guilty. The jury came in, after an absence of less than fifteen minutes, with a verdict which convicted her of administering poison in the form of morphine, to the child, Lottie J. Headley. Quiet expressions of approval were heard in the court-house and all quarters of the city were rattled what was universally denominated a righteous verdict.

THE MORBID CROWD.

The salacious details of the case, hinted at as delicately as possible by the press, had the effect of crowding the court house yesterday morning. The court ordered the doors closed when the room was filled, but enough got in on various pretexts to jam the room.

THE MURPHY CLUB AT HOME.

The presentation of its rooms the occasion of a jubilee at Century Church.

The Murphy club, a first-class school of oratory. It has developed powers of no small degree in many of its members, by calling them to the front to give their experience and to urge others to join, and this school of oratory developed itself remarkably last night at the club's anniversary.

MINNEAPOLIS REAL ESTATE.

Twenty-six warrants and three quitclaim deeds were yesterday filed with the register of deeds as follows:

YESTERDAY'S TRANSFERS.

Lot 4, block 27, Miller's subdivision of lot "B," Babbitt's outlots; E. N. Darrow to Frank Gollon. $1,200

IN THE AFTERNOON.

When County Attorney Davis addressed the jury, speaking for about thirty minutes eloquently and forcibly. The attorneys for the defense, he said, had talked glibly about an arch conspiracy, a conspiracy, an injured woman, etc. This was all very well, but what was the defense made for?

FOR THE DEFENSE.

Mr. Fannellor, the young St. Paul attorney who had undertaken Mrs. Burner's defense, followed Mr. Davis and spoke over two hours. He indulged in a great deal of invective concerning the police, the county attorney and the philanthropic ladies who have interested themselves in the case, and showered a perfect torrent of epithets upon them, calling them "hyenas," "bloodhounds of the law," etc.

THE PROHIBITIONISTS AT WORK.

The Democratic central city committee met in the Nicollet house parlors last night and discussed the local situation in an informal way, but nothing of importance was developed. The troubles in the seventh ward were mentioned, and it was decided that the vote at the regular caucus to be held on Lake street one week from next Saturday evening would prove the only solution.

THE WORK OF CROOKS.

Capt. Chase yesterday found a trunk in Conant's scrap iron yard on North Third street. The trunk had been broken open and evidently filled with all valuables. Several packages of letters, some clothing and small articles were left. The letters are addressed to Richard H. Williams, Minneapolis.

THE DEMOCRATIC CITY COMMITTEE.

The Democratic central city committee met in the Nicollet house parlors last night and discussed the local situation in an informal way, but nothing of importance was developed.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE BURNER WOMAN CONVICTED.

The Defense Falls Through and She is Found Guilty—Yesterday's Points of Interest.

Mrs. Burner was found guilty. The jury came in, after an absence of less than fifteen minutes, with a verdict which convicted her of administering poison in the form of morphine, to the child, Lottie J. Headley. Quiet expressions of approval were heard in the court-house and all quarters of the city were rattled what was universally denominated a righteous verdict.

THE MORBID CROWD.

The salacious details of the case, hinted at as delicately as possible by the press, had the effect of crowding the court house yesterday morning. The court ordered the doors closed when the room was filled, but enough got in on various pretexts to jam the room.

THE MURPHY CLUB AT HOME.

The presentation of its rooms the occasion of a jubilee at Century Church.

The Murphy club, a first-class school of oratory. It has developed powers of no small degree in many of its members, by calling them to the front to give their experience and to urge others to join, and this school of oratory developed itself remarkably last night at the club's anniversary.

MINNEAPOLIS REAL ESTATE.

Twenty-six warrants and three quitclaim deeds were yesterday filed with the register of deeds as follows:

YESTERDAY'S TRANSFERS.

Lot 4, block 27, Miller's subdivision of lot "B," Babbitt's outlots; E. N. Darrow to Frank Gollon. $1,200

IN THE AFTERNOON.

When County Attorney Davis addressed the jury, speaking for about thirty minutes eloquently and forcibly. The attorneys for the defense, he said, had talked glibly about an arch conspiracy, a conspiracy, an injured woman, etc. This was all very well, but what was the defense made for?

FOR THE DEFENSE.

Mr. Fannellor, the young St. Paul attorney who had undertaken Mrs. Burner's defense, followed Mr. Davis and spoke over two hours. He indulged in a great deal of invective concerning the police, the county attorney and the philanthropic ladies who have interested themselves in the case, and showered a perfect torrent of epithets upon them, calling them "hyenas," "bloodhounds of the law," etc.

THE PROHIBITIONISTS AT WORK.

The Democratic central city committee met in the Nicollet house parlors last night and discussed the local situation in an informal way, but nothing of importance was developed.

THE WORK OF CROOKS.

Capt. Chase yesterday found a trunk in Conant's scrap iron yard on North Third street. The trunk had been broken open and evidently filled with all valuables. Several packages of letters, some clothing and small articles were left. The letters are addressed to Richard H. Williams, Minneapolis.

THE DEMOCRATIC CITY COMMITTEE.

The Democratic central city committee met in the Nicollet house parlors last night and discussed the local situation in an informal way, but nothing of importance was developed.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE BURNER WOMAN CONVICTED.

The Defense Falls Through and She is Found Guilty—Yesterday's Points of Interest.

Mrs. Burner was found guilty. The jury came in, after an absence of less than fifteen minutes, with a verdict which convicted her of administering poison in the form of morphine, to the child, Lottie J. Headley. Quiet expressions of approval were heard in the court-house and all quarters of the city were rattled what was universally denominated a righteous verdict.

THE MORBID CROWD.

The salacious details of the case, hinted at as delicately as possible by the press, had the effect of crowding the court house yesterday morning. The court ordered the doors closed when the room was filled, but enough got in on various pretexts to jam the room.

THE MURPHY CLUB AT HOME.

The presentation of its rooms the occasion of a jubilee at Century Church.

The Murphy club, a first-class school of oratory. It has developed powers of no small degree in many of its members, by calling them to the front to give their experience and to urge others to join, and this school of oratory developed itself remarkably last night at the club's anniversary.

MINNEAPOLIS REAL ESTATE.

Twenty-six warrants and three quitclaim deeds were yesterday filed with the register of deeds as follows:

YESTERDAY'S TRANSFERS.

Lot 4, block 27, Miller's subdivision of lot "B," Babbitt's outlots; E. N. Darrow to Frank Gollon. $1,200

IN THE AFTERNOON.

When County Attorney Davis addressed the jury, speaking for about thirty minutes eloquently and forcibly. The attorneys for the defense, he said, had talked glibly about an arch conspiracy, a conspiracy, an injured woman, etc. This was all very well, but what was the defense made for?

FOR THE DEFENSE.

Mr. Fannellor, the young St. Paul attorney who had undertaken Mrs. Burner's defense, followed Mr. Davis and spoke over two hours. He indulged in a great deal of invective concerning the police, the county attorney and the philanthropic ladies who have interested themselves in the case, and showered a perfect torrent of epithets upon them, calling them "hyenas," "bloodhounds of the law," etc.

THE PROHIBITIONISTS AT WORK.

The Democratic central city committee met in the Nicollet house parlors last night and discussed the local situation in an informal way, but nothing of importance was developed.

THE WORK OF CROOKS.

Capt. Chase yesterday found a trunk in Conant's scrap iron yard on North Third street. The trunk had been broken open and evidently filled with all valuables. Several packages of letters, some clothing and small articles were left. The letters are addressed to Richard H. Williams, Minneapolis.

THE DEMOCRATIC CITY COMMITTEE.

The Democratic central city committee met in the Nicollet house parlors last night and discussed the local situation in an informal way, but nothing of importance was developed.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE BURNER WOMAN CONVICTED.

The Defense Falls Through and She is Found Guilty—Yesterday's Points of Interest.

Mrs. Burner was found guilty. The jury came in, after an absence of less than fifteen minutes, with a verdict which convicted her of administering poison in the form of morphine, to the child, Lottie J. Headley. Quiet expressions of approval were heard in the court-house and all quarters of the city were rattled what was universally denominated a righteous verdict.

THE MORBID CROWD.

The salacious details of the case, hinted at as delicately as possible by the press, had the effect of crowding the court house yesterday morning. The court ordered the doors closed when the room was filled, but enough got in on various pretexts to jam the room.

THE MURPHY CLUB AT HOME.

The presentation of its rooms the occasion of a jubilee at Century Church.

The Murphy club, a first-class school of oratory. It has developed powers of no small degree in many of its members, by calling them to the front to give their experience and to urge others to join, and this school of oratory developed itself remarkably last night at the club's anniversary.

MINNEAPOLIS REAL ESTATE.

Twenty-six warrants and three quitclaim deeds were yesterday filed with the register of deeds as follows:

YESTERDAY'S TRANSFERS.

Lot 4, block 27, Miller's subdivision of lot "B," Babbitt's outlots; E. N. Darrow to Frank Gollon. $1,200

IN THE AFTERNOON.

When County Attorney Davis addressed the jury, speaking for about thirty minutes eloquently and forcibly. The attorneys for the defense, he said, had talked glibly about an arch conspiracy, a conspiracy, an injured woman, etc. This was all very well, but what was the defense made for?

FOR THE DEFENSE.

Mr. Fannellor, the young St. Paul attorney who had undertaken Mrs. Burner's defense, followed Mr. Davis and spoke over two hours. He indulged in a great deal of invective concerning the police, the county attorney and the philanthropic ladies who have interested themselves in the case, and showered a perfect torrent of epithets upon them, calling them "hyenas," "bloodhounds of the law," etc.

THE PROHIBITIONISTS AT WORK.

The Democratic central city committee met in the Nicollet house parlors last night and discussed the local situation in an informal way, but nothing of importance was developed.

THE WORK OF CROOKS.

Capt. Chase yesterday found a trunk in Conant's scrap iron yard on North Third street. The trunk had been broken open and evidently filled with all valuables. Several packages of letters, some clothing and small articles were left. The letters are addressed to Richard H. Williams, Minneapolis.

THE DEMOCRATIC CITY COMMITTEE.

The Democratic central city committee met in the Nicollet house parlors last night and discussed the local situation in an informal way, but nothing of importance was developed.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE BURNER WOMAN CONVICTED.

The Defense Falls Through and She is Found Guilty—Yesterday's Points of Interest.

Mrs. Burner was found guilty. The jury came in, after an absence of less than fifteen minutes, with a verdict which convicted her of administering poison in the form of morphine, to the child, Lottie J. Headley. Quiet expressions of approval were heard in the court-house and all quarters of the city were rattled what was universally denominated a righteous verdict.

THE MORBID CROWD.

The salacious details of the case, hinted at as delicately as possible by the press, had the effect of crowding the court house yesterday morning. The court ordered the doors closed when the room was filled, but enough got in on various pretexts to jam the room.

THE MURPHY CLUB AT HOME.

The presentation of its rooms the occasion of a jubilee at Century Church.

The Murphy club, a first-class school of oratory. It has developed powers of no small degree in many of its members, by calling them to the front to give their experience and to urge others to join, and this school of oratory developed itself remarkably last night at the club's anniversary.

MINNEAPOLIS REAL ESTATE.

Twenty-six warrants and three quitclaim deeds were yesterday filed with the register of deeds as follows:

YESTERDAY'S TRANSFERS.

Lot 4, block 27, Miller's subdivision of lot "B," Babbitt's outlots; E. N. Darrow to Frank Gollon. $1,200

IN THE AFTERNOON.

When County Attorney Davis addressed the jury, speaking for about thirty minutes eloquently and forcibly. The attorneys for the defense, he said, had talked glibly about an arch conspiracy, a conspiracy, an injured woman, etc. This was all very well, but what was the defense made for?

FOR THE DEFENSE.

Mr. Fannellor, the young St. Paul attorney who had undertaken Mrs. Burner's defense, followed Mr. Davis and spoke over two hours. He indulged in a great deal of invective concerning the police, the county attorney and the philanthropic ladies who have interested themselves in the case, and showered a perfect torrent of epithets upon them, calling them "hyenas," "bloodhounds of the law," etc.

THE PROHIBITIONISTS AT WORK.

The Democratic central city committee met in the Nicollet house parlors last night and discussed the local situation in an informal way, but nothing of importance was developed.

THE WORK OF CROOKS.

Capt. Chase yesterday found a trunk in Conant's scrap iron yard on North Third street. The trunk had been broken open and evidently filled with all valuables. Several packages of letters, some clothing and small articles were left. The letters are addressed to Richard H. Williams, Minneapolis.

THE DEMOCRATIC CITY COMMITTEE.

The Democratic central city committee met in the Nicollet house parlors last night and discussed the local situation in an informal way, but nothing of importance was developed.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.

THE CHARGE.

It was 5 o'clock and after when he finished and Judge Cook commenced his charge to the jury. The charge was brief and impartial, in which the court cautioned the jury that they should consider only evidence introduced and the credibility of the witnesses, and not allow the attacks of counsel upon the police, the ladies or anybody else to influence them.